[Order 14 Under § 1499.19a of GMPR]

MUROC CLAY CO. ET AL.

ORDER AUTHORIZING ADJUSTABLE PRICING

Petitions have been filed by Muroc Clay Company, 5509 Randolph Street, Los Angeles, California; Vermont Talc Company, Chester Vermont; Georgia Talc Company, Asheville, North Carolina; Southern Talc Company, Asheville, North Carolina; and Western Carolina Talc Company, Asheville, North Carolina, for an amendment to Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, as amended, to increase the presently established maximum prices under that regulation for talc. This order shall be applicable only to the manufacturers herein specified.

It has been shown that authority to use adjustable pricing pending action on the petitions for amendment is necessary to promote the production and distribution of talc products and that such authority will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders Numbers 9250 and 9328. Therefore, in accordance with § 1499.19a of the General Maximum Price Regulation which is made a part of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, as amended, by incorporation, It is hereby ordered:

(a) Pending final determination by the Office of Price Administration on the petitions for amendment now on file the above-specified manufacturers of talc and their dealers are hereby authorized to sell and deliver, and to offer to sell and deliver, talc at prices not in excess of the maximum prices established in accordance with Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 (for manufacturers) or the General Maximum Price Regulation (for dealers). Provided however, That offers to sell, sales, and deliveries may be made at prices adjustable to those resulting from final action taken by the Office of Price Administration upon the petitions for amendment now on file.

Manufacturers and dealers who avail themselves of the adjustable pricing authority permitted under this order may not receive and purchasers may not pay an amount in excess of maximum prices permitted by Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 or the General Maximum Price Regulation unless and until final action is taken by the Office of Price Administration establishing maximum prices in excess of those presently in effect.

(b) This order shall be automatically revoked upon the establishment by the Office of Price Administration of maximum prices for talc produced by the manufacturers described herein, higher than the maximum prices now prevailing, or upon denial of the petitions for amendment.

This order may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

This Order No. 14 shall become effective February 1, 1944.

[Haulage Request TR-2, as Amended Jan. 29, 1944]

TRANSPORTATION OF ESSENTIAL MATERIALS

It is requisite to the prosecution of the war that the maximum amount of essential materials be delivered to essential war industries with a minimum dislocation of the general economy, with a minimum of delay and with a minimum of strain upon transportation facilities already severely taxed. This can best be accomplished through voluntary arrangements which permit materials to be consumed as near as may be to their source. Now, therefore, it is hereby requested that:

SECTION 1. Purchases, sales, exchanges, and common use of facilities. All persons engaged in producing, supplying or distributing the materials listed on Schedule X hereto annexed (herein referred to as "Schedule X materials"), may arrange for such purchases, sales, exchanges or loans of Schedule X materials and for such common use of transportation and storage facilities as may be requisite or necessary in order to attain the most efficient utilization of such facilities. All such arrangements shall remain subject to review and adjustment by the War Production Board to the end (1) that no producer, supplier or distributor of any Schedule X material shall be deprived of an opportunity to share equitably in the available supply of such material and the use of transportation and storage facilities, (2) that no consumer shall be inequitably treated in the distribution of Schedule X materials by reason of such arrangements, and (3) that such arrangements shall not go beyond the purpose and objective of this request.

SEC. 2. Reports. All persons who effect arrangements for purchases, sales, exchanges or loans of Schedule X materials and for common use of transportation and storage facilities, pursuant to section 1 hereof, shall inform the War Production Board thereof by letter, giving the following information:

1. Names and addresses of parties, including names and adresses of persons to whom inquiries concerning the report should be directed.

2. Effective date and duration of arrangement.

3. Kind and quantity of material involved.

4. Location of points of origin and destination of Schedule X materials to be shipped or location of storage facilities to be jointly used.

5. A statement that to the best of the informant's knowledge and belief, no supplier, distributor or producer of the material involved in the arrangement is or will be deprived by the arrangement of an opportunity to share equitably in the available supply and use of transportation and storage facilities.

6. A statement that to the best of the informant's knowledge and belief, no consumer of the material involved in the arrangement is or will be treated inequitably in the distribution of such material by reason of the arrangement.

A separate letter for each Schedule X material involved shall be filed, and if in furnishing the information called for by subparagraphs 3 and 4 above, the quantity of the material involved and the actual location of points of origin and destination or of storage facilities are estimated, supplemental information giving the exact, rather than the estimated, quantity and location, shall be furnished by letter to the War Production Board monthly throughout the duration of the arrangement. Further information may be specifically requested in particular cases.

SEC. 3. Revocation of Transportation Request No. 1. This request superseded and revoked Transportation Request No. 1 issued January 9, 1943,[1] covered by Certificate No. 27,[2] pursuant to Public Law No. 603, 77th Congress, but any action taken pursuant to the provisions of said Transportation Request No. 1 and said Certificate No. 27, prior to the date of the issue of this request (July 10, 1943), has the protection thereof.

SEC. 4. Certification of this request. Having consulted with the Attorney General, the Chairman of the War Production Board issued a certificate under section 12 of Public Law No. 603, 77th Congress (56 Stat. 357), with respect to this Haulage Request TR-2. (Certificate No. 93)

SEC. 5. Communications. All communications concerning this request and all information filed hereunder shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Washington (25), D. C., Reference TR-2 (Specify Material).

Issued this 29th day of January 1944.

In case of death beyond the jurisdiction of the decedent's regular post, camp, station, or other command, the commanding officer of the post, camp, station, or other command nearest the place of death, who is responsible for preparation of remains under the provisions of Army regulations, will send the notification of death to the nearest relative or other person designated to be notified in case of emergency. Such notification will include the fact, date, place, and cause of death, and will, when early shipment of the remains is practicable, request the person notified to reply by telegraph whether it is desired to have the remains shipped home, and if such shipment is desired, to designate the destination and the name of the person to whom the remains are to be consigned. For shipment of remains, see AR 55-155[1]. Under no circumstances will the notification include a statement relative to line of duty or misconduct. In view of the importance and urgency of telegraphic reports of death, a definite address, including street number when known, will be given in all cases in order that prompt and correct delivery may be made. [Procurement Reg. 2]

PART 81—PROCUREMENT OF MILITARY SUPPLIES AND ANIMALS

GENERAL PURCHASE POLICIES

In § 81.223 (c) (1) and (d) (3) regulations pertaining to Group III labor areas are amended as follows:

§ 81.223 Factors governing placement of contracts. * * *

(c) Labor supply policy. (1) The War Manpower Commission has divided the country into twelve Regions and from time to time classifies localities in each Region according to their labor supply conditions and on this basis designates them as:

* * * * *

Group III—Areas in which a slight labor surplus will remain after six months.

* * * * *

(d) Labor shortage areas. In accordance with paragraph (c) of this section the following policies will be observed with respect to the placing of contracts in Group I, II, or III labor areas:

* * * * *

(3) Group III: In these areas there may be placed any contract (whether representing new or continuation business) which will not require the employment of labor in addition to that normally or currently employed by the contractor. In addition, any contract may be placed in a Group III area which is of such character that it might properly be placed in a Group I or II area under the provisions of subparagraphs (1) and (2).

Section 81.243 is rescinded and a new § 81.243 is substituted therefor:

§ 81.243 Contractors' proposals—(a) Information to be furnished by contractors; methods of obtaining it. (1) In simple procurements for small amounts where effective competition exists and where it is, accordingly, expected that awards will be made to the lowest bidders (subject to the principles set forth in §§ 81.220–81.228 of this part), information to be obtained from contractors may ordinarily be confined to quotations of prices. These quotations are frequently invited on W. D. Contract Form No. 5, § 81.1317d.

(2) In other cases—where the procurements are complex, or are for large amounts, or are to be carried out in the absence of effective competition—additional information is ordinarily required in order to base a judgment as to the awards. Detailed contractors' proposals are an important method of obtaining such information. As a general rule, such proposals should contain the following types of data:

(i) Separate quotations for the basic (or major) item, essential extra parts and assemblies, initial and extra equipment, and the costs of additional facilities required by the contractor.

(ii) Proposed delivery schedule.

(iii) Summary of the approximate number, amount and extent of completion of other oustanding Government contracts.

(iv) Itemized estimate of costs of production with adequate explanation of the basis used for allocating overhead, etc.

(v) Statement showing the cost experience for the same or similar items under other recent contracts.

(vi) Statement as to labor needs and supply, contemplated hours of work and number of shifts.

(vii) Contemplated method of financing the contract.

(viii) Statement of material to be furnished by the Government and disposition of scrap therefrom.

(ix) Summary of types and extent of subcontracting.

(x) Requirements for additional equipment and facilities.

(xi) Statement of any optional clauses desired in the contract.

(xii) Statement in detail of taxes included in the price and their estimated amount, and of any taxes to be excluded from the price for which contractor will claim reimbursement or a tax exemption certificate.

(3) Contractors' proposals are particularly useful when presented on standardized proposal forms. These proposal forms assist in obtaining all necessary information from the contractor at the same time, and facilitate the comparison and evaluation of proposals from several producers by insuring a uniform basis of statement. They facilitate selection of the appropriate contractor in accordance with §§ 81.220–81.228 of this part and provide a basis for negotiation with the contractor in accordance with this section.

(b) Standard proposal forms prescribed for use in certain cases. (1) In conformity with subparagraphs (2) and (3) of paragraph (a) of this section, certain standard proposal forms have been prepared in collaboration with the technical services and published as War Department Standard Procurement Forms (No. 1—Request for Proposal, § 81.1327 (a); No. 2—Contractor's Proposal, § 81.1327 (b); and Instructions for Filling Out Standard Procurement Form No. 2, § 81.1327 (c)).

(2) Whenever, in the opinion of the technical service involved, detailed cost or price information is necessary or desirable as an aid to the adequate negotiation of contracts for supplies (other than construction), the technical service will use the Standard Procurement Forms for this purpose. Except as permitted under subparagraph (3) below, the Standard Procurement Forms will be used in all such cases without deviation or addition, and no substitute or supplementary proposal forms will be used. Where necessary, however, information obtained through use of the Standard Procurement Forms may be clarified or amplified through correspondence or personal negotiation.

(3) Upon request and justification by the technical service involved, the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, may, in particular cases or classes of cases, permit deviations from or additions to the Standard Procurement Forms, or otherwise grant partial or complete exemptions from the requirements of subparagraph (2) above.

(4) The Standard Procurement Forms have considerable internal flexibility. The procurement office is required, by the terms of Form No. 1, to select and specify (within established limits) the data which the prospective contractor is requested to furnish on Form No. 2. Thus the procurement office has latitude to accommodate the Forms to the necessities of particular procurements; for example, it may relieve the contractor of the task of compiling data which are not pertinent to the procurement, or which are already known to the procurement office.

PART 81—PROCUREMENT OF MILITARY SUPPLIES AND ANIMALS

CONTRACTS

In § 81.302 (c) subparagraph (5) is redesignated (6) and a new subparagraph (5) is added, as follows:

§ 81.302 Definitions. * * *

(c) Contracting officer. * * *

(5) Any person duly appointed a contracting officer in accordance with subparagraph (1) above, with authority to execute contracts on behalf of a particular technical service, service command or the Army Air Forces may execute contracts on behalf of any other service when the necessary funds, if any, have been made available.

(6) All action heretofore taken which would have been valid if this paragraph (c) had then been in effect, is hereby ratified and confirmed.

In § 81.303 (e) subparagraph (2) (i) is amended as follows:

§ 81.303 General requirements for contracts.

(e) Numbering and distribution of contracts. * * *

(2) Distribution of purchase orders. * * *

(i) If the purchase order was preceded by a written quotation signed by the contractor, or if the contractor delivered some written instrument evidencing the contractor's assent, the original of such written quotation or instrument should be forwarded to the appropriate Army Audit Branch of the General Acounting Office and a copy thereof attached to the copy of the purchase order furnished the disbursing officer.

* * * * *

In § 81.318b paragraphs (c) (1) (x) and (e) are amended as follows:

§ 81.318b Contract procedure. * * *

(c) Service Command Contracts. * * *

(1) * * *

(x) Contracts for furnishing local transportation to Government and other personnel, executed in accordance with Circular No. 80, War Department, 1943, and Memorandum No. W55–15–43, issued by the Office of the Adjutant General, will be numbered in accordance with § 81.309 (b) as Transportation Corps contracts. This subparagraph is applicable to contracts for furnishing transportation to Army Air Forces installations and to plants of Army Forces contractors, as well as to contracts for the furnishing of transportation to other War Department installations and to the plants of other War Department Contractors. Any contracts for furnishing local transportation which, in accordance with any previous instructions, may have been numbered in a manner inconsistent with this subdivision (x) should, if practicable, be renumbered.

* * * * *

(e) Numbering of service command contracts. (1) Contract numbers will be placed in the upper right-hand corner of service command contracts and will consist of the following in the order named:

(i) The capital letter "W", representing the War Department, followed by a hyphen.

(ii) The station number, that is, the station or office as published in the War Department Fiscal Code. There may be added to the station number a capital letter or other designation to indicate the branch by which the contract was executed. The following symbols will be used to designate the respective branches set opposite each symbol;

Q—Quartermaster
S—Signal
T—Transportation
O—Ordnance
E—Engineer
M—Medical
C—Chemical
U—Repairs & Utilities Branch
Tng—Training Branch

If any symbols or designations other than those enumerated in the preceding sentence are being used, or if it is proposed to adopt any such symbols or designations, the Legal Branch, Office of Director of Matériel, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, should be advised and that branch in turn will advise the Contract Service Section, Audit Division, General Accounting Office, Washington, D. C. It is to be emphasized that the use of the additional symbols authorized by this subdivision (ii) is for the convenience of the post, camp or station and, accordingly, is optional. The use of these branch symbols may be dispensed with or, if desired, a single branch symbol (and one series of contracts) may be used for more than one, but less than all, branches at a given post, camp or station.

(iii) A symbol in parentheses to indicate the service commands, this symbol will consist of the capital letters S. C. in parentheses followed by a hyphen and a Roman numeral indicating in which service command the contract was executed. It is important that capital letters followed by periods and by the Roman numeral be used in order that no confusion will arise with Signal Corps contracts which bear the symbol "sc". In the case of the Northwest Service Command and the Military District of Washington, this symbol will respectively consist of the capital letters S. C. N. W. and M. D. W., the symbol to be in parentheses.

(iv) A serial number separated from the above by a hyphen, commencing with the number "1" and continuing in succession indefinitely without regard to the fiscal year.

(2) It is to be emphasized that the numbering procedure set forth in this paragraph is applicable only to service command contracts (as the term is defined in paragraph (c)). When technical service contracts are executed within a service command (see paragraph (c), particularly subparagraphs (6) to (8)), such contracts should be numbered as technical service contracts in accordance with the provisions of § 81.309 (b).

(3) Serial numbers. It is desirable that separate series be commenced for service command contracts (as defined in paragraph (c)). This should be done as promptly as possible. By adding the branch symbols authorized by subdivision (ii) of subparagraph (1) above, separate series may be maintained for each branch of a post, camp or station.

(4) Effect of War Department Fiscal Code. See § 81.309 (d).

(5) Contract of sale. Reference is made to § 83.706. As indicated therein when a contract of sale, as distinguished from a contract of purchase, is executed, the letter "s" will be added after the parenthesis of the symbol specified in subparagraph (1) (iii) of this paragraph (e).

* * * * *

In § 81.324 paragraphs (a) and (b) are amended as follows:

§ 81.324 Termination—(a) At option of the Government. (1) There is set forth in subparagraph (7) below the new termination article prescribed by the Office of War Mobilization for use in lump sum supply contracts. This article will be referred to hereafter in this paragraph as the "new article."

(2) The new article may be inserted in any lump sum supply contract.

(3) Every lump sum supply contract executed on and after 20 February 1944, except:

(i) Contracts to be completed in six months or less for an amount of less than $500,000 and

(ii) Contracts for an amount of less than $50,000, regardless of the date of completion, will contain the new article without deviation.

(4) As provided in § 88.15–107 (a) the chief of any technical service, without approval of higher authority, may amend any existing lump sum supply contract to insert therein the new article. Such amendments will take place wherever possible prior to giving formal notice of termination. Inasmuch as it is in the interest of both the contractors and the Government that termination be effected under a uniform article, a vigorous policy will be pursued of promptly inserting by amendment the new article in existing contracts (other than those within the exceptions of subdivisions (i) and (ii) of subparagraph (3) above) not now containing it. This policy will be applied with special emphasis in the case of contracts for large amounts and contracts calling for deliveries over long periods of time.

(5) Prior to the adoption of the new article by the Office of War Mobilization there was in use by the War Department a standard termination article for lump sum supply contracts which was contained in this § 81.324. The instructions contained in Procurement Regulation No. 15 are based upon the former article. To the extent that such instructions are inconsistent with the new article they are to be deemed inapplicable to contracts containing it. The paragraphs of Procurement Regulations No. 15 containing such instructions will shortly be amended to conform to the new article.

(6) Simultaneously with the issuance of the new article the Office of War Mobilization published a "Statement of Principles for Determination of Costs Upon Termination of Government Fixed Price Supply Contracts". It will be noted that this statement is incorporated by reference by subparagraph (h) of the new article. The statement is set forth in full in §§ 88.15–481 to 88.15–486. For convenience the new article has been printed in § 88.15–901, as well as in subparagraph (7) of this paragraph.

(7) Article concerning termination at the option of the Government.

ARTICLE ___. Termination at the option of the Government. (a) The performance of work under this contract may be terminated by the Government in accordance with this Article in whole, or from time to time in part, whenever the contracting officer shall determine any such termination is for the best interests of the Government. Termination of work hereunder shall be effected by delivery to the contractor of a Notice of Termination specifying the extent to which performance of work under the contract shall be terminated, and the date upon which such termination shall become effective. If termination of work under this contract is simultaneous with, a part of, or in connection with, a general termination (1) of all or substantially all of a group or class of contracts made by the War Department for the same product or for closely related products, or (2) of war contracts at, about the time of, or following, the cessation of the present hostilities, or any major part thereof, such termination shall only be made in accordance with the provisions of this Article, unless the contracting officer finds that the contractor is then in gross or wilful default under this contract.

(b) After receipt of a Notice of Termination and except as otherwise directed by the contracting officer, the contractor shall (1) terminate work under the contract on the date and to the extent specified in the Notice of Terminations; (2) place no further orders or subcontracts for materials, services or facilities except as may be necessary for completion of such portions of the work under the contract as may not be terminated; (3) terminate all orders and subcontracts to the extent that they relate to the performance of any work terminated by the Notice of Termination; (4) assign to the Government, in the manner and to the extent directed by the contracting officer, all of the right, title and interest of the contractor under the orders or subcontracts so terminated; (5) settle all claims arising out of such termination of orders and subcontracts with the approval or ratifications of the contracting officer to the extent that he may require, which approval or ratification shall be final for all the purposes of this Article; (6) transfer title and deliver to the Government in the manner, to the extent and at the times directed by the contracting officer (i) the fabricated or unfabricated parts, work in process, completed work supplies and other material produced as a part of, or acquired in respect of the performance of, the work terminated in the Notice of Termination, and (ii) the plans, drawings, information and other property which, if the contract had been completed, would be required to be furnished to the Government; (7) use his best efforts to sell in the manner, to the extent, at the time, and at the price or prices directed or authorized by the contracting officer, any property of the types referred to in subparagraph (6) of this paragraph Provided, however, That the contractor (i) shall not be required to extend credit to any purchaser and (ii) may retain any such property at a price or prices approved by the contracting officer; (8) complete performance of such part of the work as shall not have been terminated by the Notice of Termination; and (9) take such action as may be necessary or as the contracting officer may direct for protection and preservation of the property, which is in the possession of the contractor and in which the Government has or may acquire an interest.

(c) The contractor and the contracting officer may agree upon the whole or any part of the amount or amounts to be paid to the contractor by reason of the total or partial termination of work pursuant to this Article, which amount or amounts may include a reasonable allowance for profit, and the Government shall pay the agreed amount or amounts. Nothing in paragraph (d) of this Article prescribing the amount to be paid to the contractor in the event of failure of the contractor and the contracting officer to agree upon the whole amount to be paid to the contractor by reason of the termination of work pursuant to this Article shall be deemed to limit, restrict or otherwise determine or affect the amount or amounts which may be agreed upon to be paid to the contractor pursuant to this paragraph (c).

(d) In the event of the failure of the contractor and contracting officer to agree as provided in paragraph (c) upon the whole amount to be paid to the contractor by reason of the termination of work pursuant to this Article, the Government, but without duplication of any amounts agreed upon in accordance with paragraph (c), shall pay to the contractor the following amounts.

(1) For completed articles delivered to and accepted by the Government (or sold or retained as provided in paragraph (b) (7) above) and not theretofore paid for, forthwith a sum equivalent to the aggregate price for such articles computed in accordance with the price or prices specified in the contract;

(2) In respect of the contract work terminated as permitted by this Article, the total (without duplication of any items) of (i) the cost of such work exclusive of any cost attributable to articles paid or to be paid for under paragraph (d) (1) hereof; (ii) the cost of settling and paying claims arising out of the termination of work under subcontracts or orders as provided in paragraph (b) (5) above, exclusive of the amounts paid or payable on account of supplies or materials delivered or services furnished by the subcontractor prior to the effective date of the notice of termination of work under this contract which amounts shall be included in the cost on account of which payment is made under subdivision (i) above; and (iii) a sum equal to ____% (Note 1),[1] of the part of amount determined under subdivision (i) which represents the cost of articles or materials not processed by the contractor, plus a sum equal to ____% (Note 2),[1] of the remainder of such amount, but the aggregate of such sums shall not exceed 6% of the whole of the amount determined under subdivision (i), which for the purpose of this subdivision (iii) shall exclude any charges for interest on borrowings;

(3) The reasonable cost of the preservation and protection of property incurred pursuant to paragraph (b) (9) hereof; and any other reasonable cost incidental to termination of work under this contract, including expense incidental to the determination of the amount due to the contractor as the result of the termination of work under this contract.

The total sum to be paid to the contractor under subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph (d) shall not exceed the total contract price reduced by the amount of payments otherwise made and by the Contract price of work not terminated. Except for normal spoilage and to the extent that the Government shall have otherwise expressly assumed the risk of loss, there shall be excluded from the amounts payable to the contractor as provided in paragraph (d) (1) and paragraph (d) (2) (i), all amounts allocable to or payable in respect of property, which is destroyed, lost, stolen or damaged so as to become undeliverable prior to the transfer of title to the Government or to a buyer pursuant to paragraph (b) (7) or prior to the 60th day after delivery to the Government of an inventory covering such property, whichever shall first occur.

(e) The obligation of the Government to make any payments under this Article: (1) shall be subject to deductions in respect of (i) all unliquidated partial or progress payments, payments on account theretofore made to the contractor and unliquidated advance payments, (ii) any claim which the Government may have against the contractor in connection with this contract, and (iii) the price agreed upon or the proceeds of sale of any materials, supplies or other things retained by the contractor or sold, and not otherwise recovered by or credited to the Government, and (2) in the discretion of the contracting officer shall be subject to deduction in respect of the amount of any claim of any subcontractor or supplier whose subcontract or order shall have been terminated as provided in paragraph (b) (3) except to the extent that such claim covers (i) property or materials delivered to the contractor or (ii) services furnished to the contractor in connection with the production of completed articles under this contract.

(f) In the event that, prior to the determination of the final amount to be paid to the contractor as in this Article provided, the contractor shall file with the contracting officer a request in writing that an equitable adjustment should be made in the price or prices specified in the contract for the work not terminated by the Notice of Termination, the appropriate fair and reasonable adjustment shall be made in such price or prices.

(g) The Government shall make partial payments and payments on account, from time to time, of the amounts to which the contractor shall be entitled under this Article, whether determined by agreement or otherwise, whenever in the opinion of the contracting officer the aggregate of such payments shall be within the amount to which the contractor will be entitled hereunder.

(h) For the purposes of paragraphs (d) (2) and (d) (3) hereof, the amounts of the payments to be made by the Government to the contractor shall be determined in accordance with the Statement of Principles for Determination of Costs upon Termination of Government Fixed Price Supply Contracts approved by the Joint Contract Termination Board, December 31, 1943. The contractor for a period of three years after final settlement under the contract shall make available to the Government at all reasonable times at the office of the contractor all of its books, records, documents, and other evidence bearing on the costs and expenses of the contractor under the contract and in respect of the termination of work thereunder.

(b) Termination for convenience of the Government. Every lump-sum construction contract regardless of subject matter except:

(1) Contracts to be completed in six months or less for an amount of less than $500,000 and

(2) Contracts for an amount of less than $50,000 regardless of the date of completion, will contain the following clause without deviation:

ARTICLE ___. Termination for Convenience of the Government. (a) The Government may terminate this contract in whole or in part at any time by a notice in writing from the Contracting Officer to the Contractor, specifying the date upon which such termination shall become effective and the extent to which the performance of such contract shall be terminated. Termination shall be effective upon the date and to the extent specified in said notice.

(b) Upon receipt of the notice of termination the Contractor shall except insofar as the notice directs otherwise with respect to this contract, or, in the event of partial termination, with respect to the part thereof covered by the notice:

(1) Discontinue all work and the placing of all orders for materials and facilities otherwise required for the performance thereof;

(2) Cancel all existing orders and subcontracts to the extent such orders and subcontracts are chargeable to the performance thereof;

(3) Transfer to the Government, in accordance with the directions of the Contracting Officer, all materials, supplies, work in process, facilities, equipment, machinery or tools acquired by the Contractor in connection with the performance thereof, and all plans, drawings, working drawings, sketches, specifications and information for use in connection therewith, if and as the Contracting Officer so directs or authorizes, the Contractor shall sell at a price approved by the Contracting Officer, or retain at a price mutually agreeable, any such materials, supplies, equipment, machinery, tools, or other things: Provided, however, That the Contractor may retain any such equipment, machinery and tools as of right if he so elects in writing, stating that he will forego reimbursement therefor. The proceeds of any such sale, or the agreed price, shall be paid or credited to the Government in such manner as the contracting officer may direct so as to reduce the amount payable by the Government under this Article;

(4) Take such action as may be necessary to secure to the Government the benefits of any rights remaining in the Contractor under orders or subcontracts chargeable thereto to the extent that such orders or subcontracts are so chargeable;

(5) Take such action as the Contracting Officer may prescribe for the protection and preservation of all property in the possession or control of the Contractor, title to which is transferable to the Government under the provisions of this Article.

Should the notice of termination cover only a portion of this contract, the Contractor will proceed to completion of such portions as are not terminated.

(c) Upon compliance by the Contractor with the above provisions of this Article and subject to deductions or credit for payments previously made, and without duplication of any such payments, the Government shall pay to the Contractor such sum as the Contracting Officer and the Contractor may agree by Supplemental Agreement is reasonably necessary to compensate the Contractor for his costs, expenditures, liabilities, commitments and work with respect to this contract, other than the expenditures and costs referred to in paragraph (e) of this Article. The Contracting Officer shall include in such sum such allowance for profit with respect to the contract as is reasonable under all the circumstances.

(d) If the Contracting Officer and the Contractor, within 90 days from the effective date of the notice of termination referred to in paragraph (a), or within such extended period as may be agreed upon between them, cannot agree upon the sum payable under the provisions of paragraph (c), the Government shall instead compensate the Contractor in the following manner, subject to deductions or credit for payments previously made, and without duplication thereof, and upon compliance with the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this Article:

[1] NOTES 1 and 2. The chief of each technical service may provide for determining the percentages to be inserted at Note 1 (which in no event will exceed 2%) and at Note 2 (which may be greater or less than or equal to 6%). The general use of 2% and 8%, respectively, as arbitrary figures is recommended in the interest of expediting the execution of contracts. Where the use of arbitrary figures is not desired for any reason, the methods to be used in arriving at the percentage to be inserted at Note 2 shall be the same as those now used in price analysis. When the intended rate of profit on the finished article covered by the contract is lower than 8%, the insertion of a lower figure at Note 2 will of course be desirable.

(1) By reimbursing the Contractor for all actual expenditures and costs certified by the Contracting Officer as having been made or incurred with respect to this contract, including expenditures and costs made or incurred in connections with any portions of the contract which may have been completed prior to termination, as well as expenditures and costs made or incurred after termination in completing those portions of the contract which the Contractor may have been required by the notice of termination to complete.

(2) By reimbursing or providing for the payment or reimbursement of, the Contractor for all expenditures made or costs incurred with the prior written approval of the Contracting Officer in settling or discharging any outstanding contractual obligations or commitments incurred or entered into by the Contractor with respect to this contract; and

(3) By paying the Contractor, as a profit on this contract, insofar as a profit is realized hereunder, an amount to be computed by the Contracting Officer in the following manner:

(A) Estimate the profit which would have been realized on this contract if the contract had been completed and labor and materials costs prevailing at the date of terminations had remained in effect.

(B) Estimate, from a consideration of all relevant factors, the percentage of completion of the contract including any work performed after termination. In estimating the percentage of completion, the Contracting Officer shall estimate the percentage of the total work required by the contract which the work actually accomplished represents.

(C) Multiply the profit determined under (A) by the percentage determined under (B). The product is the amount to be paid the Contractor as profit.

(e) The Government shall pay to the Contractor such sum as the Contracting Officer and the Contractor may agree upon for expenditures made and costs incurred with the approval of the Contracting Officer (a) after the date of termination for the protection of Government property, and (b) for such other expenditures and costs as may be necessary in connection with the settlement of this contract, and in the absence of such agreement as to the amount of such expenditures and costs shall reimburse the Contractor for the same.

(f) The obligation of the Government to make any of the payments required by this Article shall be subject to any unsettled claim for labor or material and to any claim which the Government may have against the Contractor under or in connection with this contract, and payments under this Article shall be subject to reasonable deductions by the Contracting Officer on account of defects in materials or workmanship.

(g) The sum of all amounts payable under this Article, plus the sum of all amounts previously paid under this contract, shall not exceed the total contract price, adjusted in the event that this contract contains an article providing for price adjustment, on the basis of the estimate of the Contracting Officer, to the extent which would have been required by such article if this contract had been completed and labor and materials costs prevailing at the date of termination had remained in effect.

(h) Should the above provisions of this Article not result in payment to the Contractor of at least $100, then that amount shall be paid to the Contractor in lieu of any and all payments hereinbefore provided for in this Article.

(i) The Government shall promptly make partial payments to the Contractor.

(1) On account of the amounts due under paragraphs (c), (d) and (e) of this Article to the extent that, in the judgment of the Contracting Officer, such payments are clearly within the amounts due under such paragraphs, and

(2) Of such amounts as the Contracting Officer may direct, an account of proposed settlements of outstanding obligations or commitments, to be made by the Contractor pursuant to paragraph (d) (2) of this Article, if such settlements shall have been approved by the Contracting Officer and subject to such provisions for escrow or direct payment to the persons entitled to receive such settlement payments as the Contracting Officer may require.

(j) Any disputes arising out of termination under this Article shall be decided in accordance with the procedure prescribed in Article ------ of this contract.

(k) Upon the making of the payments called for by this Article, all obligations of the Government to make further payments or to carry out other undertakings hereunder shall cease forthwith and forever, except that all rights and obligations of the respective parties under the Articles, if any, of this contract applicable to patent infringements and reproduction rights shall remain in full force and effect.

(l) The Government shall terminate this contract only in accordance with this Article, except as otherwise provided by law or by Article ------ (Delays-Damage). Notwithstanding Article ------ (Delays-Damages) and any defaults of the Contractor, the Government shall terminate this contract only in accordance with this Article if such termination is simultaneous with or part of or in connection with a general termination of war contracts at, about the time of, or following the cessation of the present hostilities or the end of the present war, unless the Contracting Officer finds that the defaults of the Contractor (1) have been gross or wilful and (2) have caused substantial damage to the Government.

The foregoing clause may be inserted in any contract as to which its inclusion is not mandatory. (See also paragraphs (c), (d) and (e) of this section.) In connection with the Termination Article set forth in this paragraph, see section IX of Procurement Regulation No. 3.

In § 81.395 paragraph (d) is amended as follows:

§ 81.395 Contracts within section 9, Military Appropriation Act, 1944. * * *

(d) Compensation limited. The following interpretations of the statute above-quoted have been made by the Office of The Judge Advocate General:

(1) The statute is applicable only to contracts under which the technical or professional service procured is the primary purpose of the contracts, and is not merely incidental to the furnishing of other work or services, construction, or supplies which may also be procured under those contracts.

(2) The limitation of compensation to $25 per day for individuals applies to contracts otherwise within the statute made by the Government,

(i) With individuals who are to furnish their technical or professional service direct to the Government;

(ii) With firms or corporations which are to employ individuals who furnish their technical or professional service to the firms or corporations, when the contracts between the Government and the firms or corporations are on a cost reimbursable basis.

In the cases mentioned in subparagraph (2) (i) and (ii) above, the contracts will expressly limit the compensation payable to the individuals to not more than $25 per day.

FOREIGN PURCHASES

In § 81.506 paragraphs (c) and (d) are amended and (e) is rescinded.

§ 81.506 Drawback. * * *

(c) General rule and exception in case of contracts for cigars, cigarettes, and other tobacco products. Whenever the Government purchases articles, with respect to which there might arise a claim to a drawback, the price paid shall include the customs duties, and accordingly the manufacturer will have no claim to a drawback. An exception to this rule may be made in the case of Government contracts for the purchase of cigars, cigarettes, and other tobacco products.

(d) Right to drawback under standard tax articles. Since customs duties are not Federal taxes from which exemption is available, such duties will, under the standard tax articles set forth in paragraphs (a) and (b), of § 81.357 be deemed to be included in the contract price. Therefore, in the case of contracts for the purchase of cigars, cigarettes, and other tobacco products by the Government, when it is desired to reserve to the manufacturer the claim to a drawback, it will be necessary to insert in the contract an express statement that the price does not include the customs duties.

(e) Exceptions to War Department policy. [Rescinded]

PART 81—PROCUREMENT OF MILITARY SUPPLIES AND ANIMALS

FEDERAL, STATE AND LOCAL TAXES

Section 81.821 is amended as follows:

§ 81.821. Transportation of property—(a) Freight tax. Section 3475 of the Internal Revenue Code (inserted by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942, and amended by Public Law 180, 78th Congress) imposes a tax of 3% upon the amount paid within the United States on and after 2 December 1942 for transportation of property on or after 1 December 1942 by rail, motor vehicle, wafer, or air from one point in the United States to another. In the case of coal, the rate of tax is four cents per short ton. The tax applies only to amounts paid to pesons engaged in the business of transporting property for hire, including freight forwarders and express companies, but not including amounts paid to forwarders and express companies for transportation for which a tax has previously been paid under the section. The tax is imposed upon the person making the payment subject to the tax. [See Treasury Regulations 113, 1943 ed., 8 F.R. 1433; T.D. 5312, 8 F.R. 16925.]

(b) Exemptions from the tax. The following payments are exempt:

(1) Amounts paid for transportation originating prior to 1 December 1943. An amount paid for the transportation of property, where such transportation originated prior to 1 December 1943 is exempt from the tax (i) if paid directly to a carrier by the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof, or by a State, or political subdivision thereof, or (ii) if paid to the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof. In either case an exemption certificate is not required.

(2) Amounts paid for transportation originating on and after 1 December 1943 An amount paid on or after 1 December 1943 for the transportation, originating on or after such date, of property to or from the Government of the United States, or any State, Territory, or political subdivision thereof, or the District of Columbia, is exempt from the tax. Where the shipping papers show the consignor or consignee to be the Government of the United States, or any State, Territory, or political subdivision thereof, or the District of Columbia, or an agency or instrumentality of any of the foregoing, such papers may be accepted by the carrier as proof of the exempt character of the shipment. A United States Government bill of lading may likewise be accepted as evidence of the exempt character of the shipment. In any case covered by the two preceding sentences, a certificate of exemption is not required. Amounts paid to the Post Office Department for the transportation of property are exempt from the tax.

(3) Exports. Amounts paid for transportation shown to be intended for export are also exempt, irrespective of the date when the transportation originates. No exemption certificate or certificate of exportation is necessary if the property is shipped directly from a point within the United States to a point outside the United States under a through bill of lading, or a through export bill of lading, showing a consignee and destination outside the United States. The term "United States", for this purpose, means the states, the territories of Alaska and Hawaii, and the District of Columbia.

(c) Cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts. (1) Prior to the amendment of section 3475 of the Internal Revenue Code by Public Law 180, 78th Congress, the Commissioner of Internal Revenue ruled informally that the tax was applicable to amounts paid by cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors for transportation of property even though the Government was bound to reimburse the contractor.

(2) Under the amendment referred to in subparagraph (1) the mere fact that the amount of transportation charges was paid by, or that the shipment was to or from, a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractor does not make such amount or shipment exempt from the tax. Of course, if the shipment is made to or from such a contractor, from or to the Government, or if, for any other reason, the amount in question is exempt (see subparagraphs (2) and (3) of paragraph (b)), the mere fact that the shipment is made in connection with a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract does not make such shipment or amount taxable.

(3) Shipments to or from a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractor are, in any case, exempt when made on a Government bill of lading.

(4) Contracting officers in administering cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts need not for the sole purpose of avoiding the payment of the transportation tax arrange to have the shipment made on a Government bill of lading, or made with the Government or an agency or an officer thereof (acting in his official capacity) as consignor or consignee. Cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors paying this transportation tax on transportation charges incurred in the performance of their contracts will be reimbursed for the amount of the tax so paid. However, cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors will not be authorized to reimburse their suppliers for the payment of this transportation tax under existing contracts or purchase orders, unless such existing subcontracts or purchase orders as presently written expressly authorize an adjustment of the price of the item in the event a tax is imposed on transportation.

LABOR

Eight-Hour Law of 1912

In § 81.905 paragraph (d) is added as follows:

§ 81.905 Applicability. * * *

(d) Dredge workers; basic law not applicable. The Attorney General has expressed the opinion that the basic law is not applicable to the employment of members of the crew of a dredge or like floating plant (38 Op. A. G. 150 (1934)).

Wage and Salary Stabilization

In § 81.976a paragraph (1) of § 4001.1 quoted therein has been amended as follows:

§ 81.976a Definitions. (Section 4001.1). When used in these regulations, unless otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent thereof—

(1) The term "agricultural labor" shall mean persons who are employed in farming in any of its branches, including among other things the cultivation and tillage of the soil, dairying, the production, cultivation, growing and harvesting of agricultural or horticultural commodities, and the raising of livestock, bees or poultry: Provided, however, That the term "agricultural labor" shall not include any person whose salary payments, exclusive of bonuses and additional compensation and without regard to the contemplated adjustment, are at a rate, computed on an annual basis, which exceeds $5,000 per annum.

The War Food Administrator, by regulation, may issue such interpretations of the definition in this paragraph as he finds necessary.

In § 81.979 paragraphs (e), (f) and (k) to (r) are amended as follows:

§ 81.979 Jurisdiction and procedure of Regional War Labor Boards. * * *

(e) The handling of preliminary inquiries about jurisdiction. (1) An employer or a union (or an employee, or a group of employees not represented by a union) directly concerned in a proposed wage or salary adjustment, may, jointly or separately, ask the nearest designated officer of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Division of the United States Department of Labor in the region (hereinafter referred to as the Wage and Hour Office) for a ruling as to whether the proposed adjustment may be made without Board approval. The request for a ruling, if filed by the employer alone, shall state whether there is a duly recognized or certified collective bargaining agent for any or all of the affected employees which has not joined with the employer in the request for the ruling, and if so, the name and address of such collective bargaining agent. If filed by a union, or on behalf of any or all of the employees, without joinder by the employer, the request for ruling shall state the name and address of the employer. If the request for a ruling affects any employees represented by a duly recognized or certified collective bargaining agent, and the employer or the collective bargaining agent has not joined in the request, a copy of the request for the ruling and the ruling shall, after the ruling has been made, be sent to the employer or the collective bargaining agent, whichever has not joined in the request, and to the appropriate regional attorney by the Wage and Hour Office.

(2) If said ruling is that the proposed wage or salary adjustment may be made without approval of the Board:

(i) The ruling shall be deemed to be authoritative and shall remain in effect unless reversed as provided below.

(ii) If, on receipt of the ruling from the Wage and Hour Office, it is reversed by the regional attorney (after consultation, where necessary, with the regional wage stabilization director), the Wage and Hour Office shall be notified promptly, and it shall immediately notify the person or persons who made the inquiry that the adjustment requires approval. If in the meantime the employer has made the adjustment, relying upon the ruling by the Wage and Hour Office that it did not need approval:

(a) The adjustment may be continued in effect for a period of ten days following the notification by the Wage and Hour Office, within which period the employer may file with the Wage and Hour Office (jointly with a duly recognized collective bargaining agency, or by himself, as subsequently provided), an application for approval of the adjustment and

(b) If such an application is so filed, the adjustment may be further continued in effect until and unless it is finally disapproved. Such disapproval shall take effect only from the date of the issuance of the order of disapproval.

(iii) If the Wage and Hour Office to which an inquiry has been addressed rules that the proposed adjustment cannot properly be made without approval, the ruling shall be deemed to be authoritative. The person or persons who made the inquiry may seek from the regional attorney, by written petition filed within 10 days after the ruling of the Wage and Hour Office, a reversal of the ruling. The regional attorney's ruling (after consultation, where necessary, with the regional wage stabilization director) on the question so submitted shall be final and shall be transmitted to the applicant and to the other parties, if any, required by subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, through the Wage and Hour Office.

(f) The filing of applications for approval of wage or salary adjustments. (1) Each application for approval of proposed voluntary wage or salary adjustments (other than those described in paragraph (c)) shall be filed with the nearest Wage and Hour Office in the region. All applications shall be made upon appropriate forms prepared by the National War Labor Board.

(2) Such applications may be of two kinds. The first kind, in which approval is sought of an adjustment agreed upon by the parties, may be signed by any party (or jointly by any or all the parties) to the contract. The application shall state whether all the parties to the contract have signed the application and shall state the name and address of each party who has not signed the application. If there be any such party who has not signed, the Wage and Hour Office at which the application was filed shall, as agent of the Board, before acting on the application, send said party a notice of the application. The notice shall request the party to state whether he contests the fact of the contract having been made. If, within seven days of the sending of the notice, he has not filed a statement contesting such fact or if he files a statement admitting it, the application will then be acted upon. If he contests the fact of the contract having been made, the matter will be determined to be a dispute case and the application Form 10 will be returned to the party which filed the application, and a copy of the letter returning the application will be sent to the contesting party, unless (i) the contract was in writing, (ii) the writing or a certified or otherwise authenticated copy thereof has been produced, and (iii) the Wage and Hour Office is satisfied that no substantial question exists as to the party being a party thereto. Where the Wage and Hour Office is so satisfied, it shall rule accordingly and proceed with the handling of the application. The ruling may be reviewed (on petition of the protesting party) by the regional attorney when the application is transmitted to the regional war labor board under subparagraph (7) of this paragraph. His ruling shall be final.

(3) The second kind of application, in which an employer on his own initiative wishes to make a wage or salary adjustment, shall be signed either (i) jointly by the employer and a duly recognized collective bargaining agent for any or all of the employees who are to be effected by the proposed wage or salary adjustment, or (ii) by the employer alone. In either case the application shall state whether or not there is a duly recognized collective bargaining agent (for any or all of the affected employees) which has not joined with the employer in the application. If it appears that there is such an organization which has not so joined, the Wage and Hour Office at which the application was filed shall, before acting on the application, send to the appropriate local officials of such organization a notice of the application, requesting the organization, if it has any objections to the application being acted upon, so to inform the office. If no such objections are filed within seven days of the sending of the notice, or if the organization in question states that it has no objections, the application will then be acted upon. If objections are made within said period, the matter will be determined to be a dispute case and the application Form 10 will be returned to the party which filed it and a copy of the letter returning to the application will be sent to the contesting party. No action shall, however, be taken by the Regional Board on any application after the National Labor Relations Board or a similar State agency has ordered the holding of an election to determine the status of a labor organization as the collective bargaining agent of any of the employees involved in the application. As used here the term "duly recognized collective bargaining agent" referred either to a labor organization which has actually been recognized by the employer for the purpose of collective bargaining or to a labor organization which has been certified by the National Labor Relations Board or a similar State agency where the legal result of such certification is that the employer is obligated to bargain with the union. Where a labor organization has not been duly recognized or certified, it may not receive a copy of the application, but upon inquiry it shall be told whether or not an application has been filed.

(4) In cases where the employer has signed or joined in signing an application for approval of a wage or salary increase he shall state in the application whether he intends to make the proposed increase, if approved, the basis of the application to the Office of Price Administration for an adjustment of his maximum prices or for an amendment of the regulations establishing those prices.

(5) In cases where the employer has not signed or joined in signing an application for approval of a wage or salary increase, he shall be requested in the notice of the filing of the application sent to him by the Wage and Hour Office to state whether he intends to make the proposed wage or salary increase, if approved, the basis of an application to the Office of Price Administration for an adjustment of his maximum prices or for an amendment of the regulations establishing those prices. He shall be asked to make this statement (i) within seven days of the sending of said notice or (ii), if (as described in subparagraph (2) above) he contests the fact of the agreement or arbitration award having been made, within seven days of any ruling by the Wage and Hour Office finding him to be a party to said agreement.

(6) If the employer states that he intends to make the proposed wage or salary increase, if approved, the basis of an application to the Office of Price Administration for an adjustment of his maximum prices or for an amendment of the regulations establishing those prices, (i) his statement shall be entered in an appropriate place on the application before the application is acted on by the regional wage stabilization director as director as provided below, and (ii) the employer will be required to furnish further information, the nature and effect of which will be set forth under paragraph (j) of this section.

(7) When an application has been submitted to a Wage and Hour Office and no preliminary inquiry about jurisdiction has been made under paragraph (e) of this section, the office shall first make certain that the application needs approval. If the office believes that approval is not or may not be required by the applicable regulations and orders, the office shall proceed exactly as if the applicant had asked for a preliminary ruling on jurisdiction. If no jurisdictional question is involved or if such a question has been cleared up under paragraph (e) of this section, the Wage and Hour Office shall see that appropriate forms are fully and accurately filled out and shall transmit them to the regional wage stabilization director of the appropriate regional war labor board.

(8) Upon receipt of the application, the regional wage stabilization director, acting in collaboration with the regional attorney, shall first make certain that the application requires Board approval (unless this question has already been ruled upon and determined under paragraph (e) of this section). If it is determined by the regional attorney that the application does not require Board approval, a written ruling to that effect shall be made and copies sent to the applicant or applicants. If it is determined that the application requires Board approval, it shall be acted upon as provided in paragraph (i) of this section. In any case, the regional wage stabilization director may, before acting, obtain further needed information informally from the applicant or applicants, from the Wage and Hour Office, from the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics, or any other source or refer the application back to the Wage and Hour Office for such information as he may specify. In cases where the application reveals that the employer intends to make the proposed increase the basis of an application to the Office of Price Administration for an adjustment of his maximum prices or for an amendment of the regulations establishing those prices, the Regional Wage Stabilization Director shall send a copy of the application to the Office of the Economic Advisor, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.

(k) Authority of Regional War Labor Boards. A description and the extent of this authority is set forth in paragraphs, (l) to (r), inclusive, of this section.

(l) Applications for approval of voluntary wage or salary adjustments, (1) Each Regional War Labor Board shall have authority to approve or disapprove applications for voluntary wage or salary adjustments.

(2) Each such ruling shall be final, subject only to the National War Labor Board's right to review on its own initiative, or on a petition for review, as provided for in paragraph (n) of this section. Any reversal or modification of such ruling by the National War Labor Board shall take effect only from the date of its issuance, Provided, however, That if a ruling denying an application for permission to make a wage or salary adjustment is overruled, the final ruling of the National War Labor Board shall incorporate as the effective date of the adjustment the date specified in the application or such other date as the National War Labor Board shall specify.

(3) Copies of all such rulings and of any accompanying opinions (together with such other material as the Wage Stabilization Division may require) shall, when issued, be filed with the National War Labor Board.

(4) Rulings of the Regional Board on voluntary applications for approval of wage or salary adjustments shall take effect when issued to the parties. Such rulings may be issued to the parties when made, except that if any member of the Regional Board who votes upon a ruling which is not unanimous requests that it be stayed, such ruling shall forthwith be transmitted by the Regional Board to the National War Labor Board and may be issued to the parties only upon the expiration of ten days after its receipt in Washington, unless (i) the ruling is earlier approved by the Board or (ii) within such ten-day period the National War Labor Board sets the case down for review. In the latter event the Executive Assistant to the National War Labor Board shall notify the Regional Board, and the issuance of the ruling to the parties shall be stayed until the case is finally disposed of.

(m) Directive orders in dispute cases. (1) Regional War Labor Boards are authorized to issue directive orders in dispute cases in conformity with the policy of the National War Labor Board. Each such directive order shall bear the date of its actual issue and shall be issued to the parties when made. If after the issuance of such an order no timely petition for review is filed (as provided in paragraph (n) of this section), and if the National War Labor Board within such a period does not review the order on its own motion, the order shall on the day following the last day for filing such a petition stand confirmed as the order of the National War Labor Board and shall immediately be effective according to its terms: Provided, That the National War Labor Board may at any time prior to the expiration of the time for the filing a petition for review make such an order, or any part thereof, immediately effective pending any further proceedings. If a timely petition for review of a directive order of a Regional Board is filed by a party, or if the National War Labor Board reviews such an order on its own motion, the entire order shall be suspended, unless the National War Labor Board directs, or has directed, otherwise, or unless the parties otherwise agree. However, the date of expiration of the escape period fixed in a directive order of a Regional Board granting a maintenance of membership provision shall not be affected by the filing of a petition for review of this or any other provision of the order.

(2) Copies of all directive orders and of any accompanying opinions (together with such other material as the Wage Stabilization Division may require) shall, when issued, be filed with the National War Labor Board.

(n) Petitions for review. (1) Within 14 days after a Regional Board issues a ruling denying or modifying a voluntary application for approval of a wage or salary adjustment or issues a directive order in a dispute case, any party to the case may file with the Board at Washington, D. C., an original and four copies of a petition, including supporting documents, seeking review by the Board of such ruling or directive order. The petition shall (i) state the petitioner's reasons for believing that one or more of the criteria set forth below is satisfied, (ii) set forth fully and in detail the contentions of the petitioner with respect to the merits of each issue raised by the petition, with specific references to any pertinent portions of the record in the case, and (iii) state that a copy of the petition has been served upon the other parties to the case and upon the Regional Board whose ruling or order is sought to be reviewed and the dates of each such service.

(2) No such petition shall be granted unless the petitioner has demonstrated by substantial proof that (i) the order exceeds the National War Labor Board's justification, or (ii) the order contravenes the established policies of the National War Labor Board, or (iii) a novel question is involved of such importance as to warrant national action, or (iv) the procedure resulting in the order was unfair to the petitioner and has caused substantial hardship. The party filing a petition shall at the same time serve a copy thereof, together with any supporting documents, upon each of the other parties to the proceeding and upon the Regional Board.

(o) The answer. Any party desiring to file an answer must do so within 14 days after receipt of the petition. An original and four copies of the answer shall be transmitted to the National War Labor Board in Washington, D. C., a copy shall at the same time be served upon the Regional Board and upon each of the other parties to the case. Such an answer shall include a statement that a copy thereof has been served as required above, and shall show the date of such service. An answer may not contain a request for review of an order or any part thereof; such a request must be filed, if at all, in the form of a petition for review in the manner and within the time limit provided in paragraph (n) of this section. Each answer should state fully but concisely the respondent's reasons for believing (1) that the petition ought not to be entertained, and (2) that, if the National War Labor Board decides to entertain the petition, the petition should be denied on the merits. The Regional Board may, within the same period, file comment on the petition with the National War Labor Board, copies of which shall be served upon the parties.

(p) Decisions of the Board. The National War Labor Board will make its decision on a petition for review upon the basis of the record before the Regional Board and on the basis of the petition, the answer, if any, the recommendations of the Appeals Committee, and such further argument and proof as the National War Labor Board may require. If the petition for review is denied because the grounds for review set forth therein are deemed to be sufficient, the National War Labor Board shall issue an appropriate directive order or ruling adopting as its own the ruling or order to which the petition relates. If the petition for review is granted, the National War Labor Board will issue an appropriate directive order or ruling adopting, reversing, or modifying the order or ruling to which the petition relates or remanding the case to the Regional Board for such further actiton as is specified in the order or ruling of the National War Labor Board.

(q) Review by the Board on its own motion. The National War Labor Board may, on its own motion, assume jurisdiction over any case at any stage of the proceedings either before or after the issuance of the final order or ruling of the Regional Board.

(r) Reconsideration of directive orders and rulings. (1) Regional War Labor Boards may reconsider directive orders or rulings on their own motion or on petition, except, while the case is under consideration by the National Board following the granting of a petition for review, or the taking of review by the National Board on its own motion.

(2) The party petitioning for reconsideration shall serve a copy of the petition on all other parties at the same time that it is filed with the Regional Board. The filing of such petition does not preclude the filing of a petition for review, but shall not extend the time for filing with the National War Labor Board a petition for review nor change the date when the directive order takes effect.

(3) The Regional Board shall not act on any petition for reconsideration of a directive order or ruling unless (i) the petition is filed within fourteen days after issuance of the order or ruling in question and sets forth with particularity the grounds upon which the petition is based, or, (ii) the petition is filed promptly upon the petitioner's discovering material and substantial evidence which the petitioner was unable, despite due diligence, to discover in time to present to the Regional Board before it issued its order or ruling, and sets forth with particularity such evidence, or (iii) the petition is filed promptly upon the occurrence of events after the date of the order or ruling which make the order or ruling harsh or unfair, and set forth with particularity such events. If a petition for reconsideration is filed under subdivision (ii) or (iii) of this subparagraph, and the Regional Board deems that the evidence submitted warrants reconsideration of the directive order or ruling, it shall provide the parties a hearing on such new matters.

(4) Regional Boards may adopt rules further restricting reconsideration. Refusal of reconsidefation by a Regional Board shall have no bearing on the validity of a petition for review.

PART 81—PROCUREMENT OF MILITARY SUPPLIES AND ANIMALS

PLANT FACILITIES EXPANSIONS

Section 81.1004 is amended as follows:

§ 81.1004 Tax amortization. Under the provisions of section 124 of the Internal Revenue Code the cost of facilities may, for the purpose of computing taxable income, be amortized over a period of 60 months (or under certain circumstances, a shorter period) when a certificate has been issued by the Secretary of War or the Secretary of the Navy that the acquisition or construction of such facilities is necessary in the interest of national defense during the emergency period. Said section 124 is inapplicable to the acquisition or construction of facilities financed under a plan of the type described in Plans III, IV, or V in § 81.1006. In order to obtain the benefits of such amortization the applicant must obtain a certificate of necessity. The appropriate place to file an application for such a certificate and the procedure for processing such an application are outlined in §§ 81.1016 to 81.1019 of this Procurement Regulation No. 10.

Section 81.1015b is added as follows:

§ 81.1015b Transfer to the War Production Board of authority to issue certificates of necessity. Under date of 17 December 1943 the functions, powers and duties of the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy with respect to certification, pursuant to section 124 of the Internal Revenue Code (see § 81.1004), were transferred to the Chairman of the War Production Board. This Executive Order specified that the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy should act upon

(a) All applications for necessity certificates filed before 5 October 1943 (see §§ 81.1016 to 81.1019 for procedure for filing and processing), and

(b) Applications for necessity certificates filed between and including 5 October 1943 and 17 December 1943 describing facilities, the beginning of the construction, reconstruction, erection, installation or the date of acquisition of which was prior to 5 October 1943 (see §§ 81.1016–81.1019 for procedure for filing and processing; see also § 81.1020). All other applications will be governed by the regulations of the War Production Board (8 F.R. 16964). In general these regulations contemplate that the application will be filed with the War Production Board and not with any agency of the War Department.

The introductory paragraph of § 81.1016 is amended as follows:

§ 81.1016 Information to be submitted in application. Applications for Necessity Certificates (of the type described in paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 81.1015b) should contain the information and be executed in the manner indicated in the following publications:

Section 81.1017 is amended as follows:

§ 81.1017 Place of filing application. (a) Applications for certificates of necessity (of the type described in paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 81.1015b) should ordinarily be filed with the Tax Amortization Branch, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, Washington, D. C. In some instances, taxpayers, unfamiliar with the procedure, may file applications with officers of the technical services. An original and one copy of applications thus filed, will be promptly forwarded by the officer, through the chief of the technical service concerned to the Tax Amortization Branch, Headquarters, Army Service Forces. The third copy will be retained in order to enable the officer to make investigation and report pursuant to § 81.1018 (e).

(b) As to all other applications see § 81.1015b.

The introductory paragraph of § 81.1018 is amended as follows:

§ 81.1018 Procedure for processing applications. The following procedure will govern the processing of applications (of the type described in paragraph (a) and (b) of § 81.1015b):

* * * * *

Section 81.1020 is added as follows:

§ 81.1020 Memorandum of the Under Secretary of War. Under date of 5 October 1943 the Under Secretary of War issued the following memorandum:

On 5 October 1943 the regulations governing the issuance of Necessity Certificates under section 124 of the Internal Revenue Code were amended by the following addition:

3 (d) The construction, reconstruction, erection, installation, or acquisition of a facility shall not be deemed necessary unless (1) the beginning of the construction, reconstruction, erection, installation, or the date of acquisition of such facility, was prior to October 5, 1943; or (2) an application for a Necessity Certificate describing such facility was filed before October 5, 1943; or (3) the Secretary of War or the Secretary of the Navy, in exceptional cases, has determined prior to the beginning of such construction, reconstruction, erection, installation, or the date of such acquisition that there is a shortage of facilities for a supply required for military or naval uses and that it is to the advantage of the Government that additional facilities for such supply be privately financed.

It will be noted that unless the beginning of construction, reconstruction, erection or installation, or the date of acquisition, of the facility was prior to 5 October 1943, Necessity Certificates will not be granted unless decision to that effect has been made before the facility was begun or acquired.

Every effort will be made to avoid the creation of additional facilities by requiring full use of existing facilities. Where additional facilities are required by a company or individual which is unable or unwilling to finance them privately without the benefit of a Necessity Certificate, efforts will be made to supply the need from Government facilities presently owned. In cases where this is impossible or impracticable, contactual arrangements for Governmental financing should be made.

In the exceptional case where this cannot be done, a full report and recommendation will be submitted to the Under Secretary of War, explaining the reasons for determining (a) that there is a shortage of facilities for the supply required and (b) that such facilities should be privately financed. The Tax Amortization Branch, Purchases Division, Army Service Forces, is designated as the agency which will receive such reports on behalf of the Under Secretary of War.

You will bring this to the attention of all procurement agencies promptly.

MISCELLANEOUS PURCHASE INSTRUCTIONS

In § 81.1133 paragraph (b) is amended as follows:

§ 81.1133 Procedure for obtaining exemption under developmental and secret contracts and emergency purchases or for relief from a price regulation. * * *

(b) Procedure under secret contracts. To obtain exemption of the sale or delivery of any commodity manufactured or service supplied pursuant to a secret contract or subcontract it is necessary that it be certified as such to the OPA by the purchasing agency. Such certification need only set forth the date of the secret contract and its number or other designation, not including the commodity covered or the name or address of the supplier. This certification should be sent to the Chief, Office Services Branch, Security Officer, Office of Price Administration, Federal Office Building No. 1, Washington (25), D. C.

granted to contracting officers by this paragraph to exempt from renegotiation (1) contracts, letter contracts, letter purchase orders or letters of intent of which notice of termination for the convenience of the Government has been given, or (2) any agreement making a negotiated settlement of the whole or any part of the amount due from the Government in connection with any such instrument. This revocation of authority takes effect 3 February 1944.

(j) Exemption of short-term, fixed price contracts from renegotiation. (1) With the approval of the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, any contract which meets the following conditions may be exempted from statutory renegotiation:

(vi) The price is fair and reasonable in the circumstances of the particular procurement; and

(vii) The profit and margin of profit are relatively low.

(2) Every request for the approval of an exemption shall contain

(i) An opinion that the contractor's cost accounting system is adequate for the purpose of meeting the requirements of the exemption, such opinion to be given by a qualified representative of the technical service submitted the request;

(ii) An analysis of past and prospective costs sufficient to show that the particular contract meets the requirements specified in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, and

(iii) An adequate showing that all the other conditions set forth in subparagraph (1) are satisfied.

WAR DEPARTMENT

Instructions for Filling Out Contractor's Proposal, Standard Procurement Form Number 2.

Read all instructions carefully before filling out form

Fill out the Contractor's Proposal in------

When spaces on that form are insufficient for a complete answer, use separate sheets. Start each answer with the number or letter of the title or portion thereof which is being answered.

Heading: (At (A) insert the contractor's name, and on right-hand side of page 1 fill in date in space provided therefor.

Paragraph (B): Insert short description of item(s). Examples: "Radio TGR508"; Shell, H.E. 20mm, MK.1."

Paragraph (C): Insert date of Request for Proposal.

Paragraph (E): Insert proper contract form number and list of optional clauses to be included in contract. See first paragraph of Request for Proposal. If contractor is not familiar with the contract form, he may obtain a copy from the contracting officer.

Paragraph (F): Insert number of last title required to be answered (see last paragraph of Request for Proposal) and number of supplementary sheets attached to Contractor's Proposal.

Signature (G): Fill in contractor's name. Contractor or duly authorized representative is to sign on third line, and his title is to be shown on fourth line.

Title I

(a) Indicate by "X" whether contractor is corporation, partnership, or individual, and give the other pertinent information requested.

(b), (c), and (d) Self-explanatory.

Title II—Scope of Proposal

(A) In filling out the table, refer to Request for Proposal and follow (1) the item numbers, (2) description of items, (3) quantities, and (4) units. As to each item show in the appropriate column (5) unit price and (6) total prices. If any entry in the first four columns does not follow the Request for Proposal, state on the first line of the table "Differs from Request."

(B) On line 1 fill in the total of column (6) of the table. On line 2 fill in amount of additional facilities which contractor proposes to manufacture or acquire for the Government's account, to be used in connection with the production covered by the proposal. This figure should be the total of the cost of additional facilities referred to in paragraph 7 (a) of Title IV. If additional facilities are necessary, answer paragraph 7 (a) of Title IV. Do not include any part of these costs in the unit prices. Show the total of lines 1 and 2 on line 3.

(C) Taxes: Except as otherwise expressly directed in any instance:

1. Contractor shall exclude from his proposed prices:

(a) All Federal excise taxes enumerated in Chapters 25 and 29, Internal Revenue Code, applicable to the completed supplies or work covered hereby; and

(b) All Federal excise taxes enumerated in Chapters 25 and 29, Internal Revenue Code, applicable to the component parts, articles or units of the completed supplies or work of which the contractor himself is the manufacturer, importer, or producer; and

(c) All State and local taxes from which an exemption is available for purposes of this procurement.

2. Contractor shall include in his proposed prices:

(a) All Federal excise taxes enumerated in Chapters 25 and 29, Internal Revenue Code, applicable to the materials or component parts to be incorporated in the completed supplies or work (other than those mentioned in paragraph 1 (b) above; and

(b) All other Federal taxes, charges, or duties of any nature whatsoever, including without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Federal excise tax on the transportation of property imposed by Chapter 30, Internal Revenue Code; and

(NOTE: If the completed supplies are taxable articles under Chapters 25 and 29, Internal Revenue Code, contractor's purchase of materials to be incorporated in the supplies is exempt from tax under Section 3442 (1), Internal Revenue Code, and credits or refunds may be obtained under Section 3443 (a) (1). No tax on such materials shall be included in the price.)

(c) All State or local taxes other than those mentioned in paragraph 1 (c) above.

3. Tax Exemption Certificates, where applicable, will be issued for the amount of any tax excluded from the price, as to which an exemption is available. In making application therefor, list all pertinent data in support of the application.

(D) Complete by inserting the description and amount of Government-furnished material which is specified in the Request for Proposal or which is essential for performance of proposed contract. If this list does not follow the Request for Proposal, write after the word "Government," "Differs from Request."

(E) Strike "will" or "will not" in order to show contractor's intention. If contractor will take title to scrap from Government-furnished material, enter the amount by which the unit prices listed in the table have been reduced.

(F) Insert unit costs of packaging and boxing each of the items, identifying those costs for each of the items.

Title III—Delivery Schedule

Insert f. o. b. delivery point, writing in "Differs From Request" if the delivery point differs from that contained in the Request for Proposal.

The delivery schedule should be completed in the same manner as that appearing in the Request for Proposal. If the delivery dates specified in the Request for Proposal cannot be met, insert the earliest possible delivery dates, and state on first line of table "Differs from Request."

(NOTE: Before giving information called for by Titles IV to IX, read the last paragraph of the Request for Bid, for a listing of portions of such Titles which are to be answered. For many contracts it will not be necessary to complete the entire proposal.)

Title IV

1. If actual figures are not readily available, give approximate figures.

2. Give approximate average number of employees in 1940. This figure may be obtained by taking the average number per day period, or the average of the quarterly figures reported to the Bureau of Internal Revenue and the Bureau of Old Age and Survivors Insurance on Form SS 1a. An estimate of need of additional employees may be used.

3. If proposed contract is not to be financed from contractor's working capital or through usual commercial channels, contractor should make inquiry as to the possibility, manner, and extent of any other method of financing before it is checked in the Proposal. This office will assist contractor with respect to such inquiry. Fill in amount if a Government-guaranteed loan is contemplated, and percent of total contract price if advance payment is to be formally requested.

4. (a) Strike "has" or "has not." Insert in first blank name of Board or Section which renegotiated contract, and in second blank the fiscal period covered by the renegotiation. (b) Include summary in supplementary sheets, identifying the question answered. (c) Insert in the blank a brief statement showing state of progress of any pending renegotiation.

(NOTE: Submit answers to the remaining paragraphs of this Title on numbered, plain white sheets of approximately the same size as the Proposal, except as to paragraphs where the answer is "None," in which cases that word may be inserted at the end of such paragraphs on the form itself. Give the number of the title or portion thereof at the beginning of each answer.)

5. Subcontractors, as that term is used in the Proposal, are suppliers of parts and components, completely or partially fabricated, and of materials which are fabricated to meet individual specifications for use in performance of proposed contract. List proposed subcontractors for the larger components and parts only. When several subcontractors are being considered for the same part, list all of them as alternative suppliers, together with the quantities which may be purchased from each. Indicate which, if any, of the proposed suppliers is an affiliate, subsidiary, division of, or is otherwise legally related to the contractor, or is controlled by an officer or major owner of contractor. Indicate the nature of such relationship.

6. List each separately: (a) Land, (b) buildings, (c) machinery and equipment, (d) tools, jigs, and fixtures, and (e) rehabilitation expense.

7. List each item of equipment or other facilities separately under (a) Government-owned facilities and (b) contractor-owned facilities for performance of proposed contract. Supply information under the following headings: (1) Name of Item, (2) Size and Type, (3) Operation for Which Required, (4) Use by Prime or Subcontractor, (5) New or Used, (6) Total Cost, including price, transportation and installation.

8. (a) Describe agreements to pay commissions, etc., giving names and addresses of other parties to agreement, amounts and bases of calculation of such fees, and conditions upon which they are proposed to be paid. (b) Where contractor has information concerning similar agreements in connection with one or more subcontracts, that information should be furnished in like detail to the extent possible.

9. State amount of patent royalties per unit and total, describe method for calculating these amounts, list licensors, the particular feature or features of the subject items which are covered by the royalty agreement, and numbers and dates of patents or applications involved.

10. Describe any manufacturing operations which in contractor's judgment have any special significance for an understanding of the costs under the proposal. At contractor's request such information may be used as basis for a special provision in the contract relating to the production process and the machine tools used in the production.

Title V

Before supplying information under Titles V to IX check the last paragraph of the Request for Proposal to ascertain whether and what part of those titles need be completed.

Carefully read and follow the notes appended to Title V.

Follow the classifications listed unless the contractor's regular accounting system requires another type of breakdown, in which case that breakdown should be substituted.

The cost breakdowns are required to give the contracting officer as complete an understanding of the contractor's operations as possible. The inclusion or exclusion of individual cost elements under this form does not indicate the propriety or impropriety thereof.

When the proposed contract covers more than one item (not including spares) supply a separate breakdown for each of such items. Specify in the space provided, the item covered by each breakdown. In such case column C need be filled out in only one of the cost breakdowns.

When entries are made on lines 10 to 14 for Selling Expenses, Contingencies, and Other Expenses, specify and describe on separate sheets the nature of the expenses and the basis of their calculation.

Column B. Fill out heading. Insert contract number, dates when production was started and completed under the contract, and the quantity of production.

Column C. Fill in date of end of fiscal year covered.

Fill in dollar amounts for each line required. For each item of cost, calculate percentage of total costs and enter on appropriate lines.

Title VI—Indirect Factory Expenses

Follow the classifications listed unless the contractor's regular accounting system requires another type of breakdown, in which case that breakdown should be substituted.

Where entry is made on line 6, Taxes and Other Expenses, or on the following lines, specify and describe on the separate sheets the nature of such taxes and other expenses and the reasons for their inclusion.

Title VII—General Expenses

Follow the classifications listed unless the contractor's regular accounting system requires another type of breakdown, in which case that breakdown should be substituted. When Other Administrative Expenses are included specify and describe on separate sheets.

Title VIII—Accounting Methods

The information called for under Title VIII should be given in sufficient detail to enable the contracting officer to understand the accounting methods employed by the contractor.

Title IX—Other Costs

1. Costs of Spare Parts: See instructions under Title V. Show costs of preparation and boxing as one item of cost. Submit a list of the prices which the contractor paid or proposes to pay for important subcontracted items.

2. Cost of Packaging and Boxing of Spare Parts: Submit a cost breakdown that seems clearest to the contractor. When special packaging constitutes a substantial part of total costs, the explanation might start with the cost of regular packaging and then proceed with an explanation of the differences between the cost of regular packaging and that of special packaging.

3. Cost of packaging and Boxing of Major Items: The cost of packaging and boxing of items other than spare parts is to be included in the costs shown under Title V (when an answer to that title is required) and is to be shown separately under this title. Submit a cost breakdown that seems clearest to the contractor. See suggestion in the next preceding paragraph.

PART 83—DISPOSAL OF SURPLUS AND UNSERVICEABLE PROPERTY

DISPOSITION OF PROPERTY

Section 83.705a is added:

§ 83.705a Federal excise taxes on property sold. Where property which is subject to Federal excise tax is sold, provisions governing the collection of such taxes found in § 81.314 of these Procurement Regulations will be observed.

[Procurement Reg. 15]

PART 88—TERMINATION OF CONTRACTS

TERMINATION OF CONTRACTS

Section 88.15–211 is amended as follows:

§ 88.15–211 Settlement of contracts containing no termination article. (a) When the Government desires to terminate contracts containing no termination article, the prompt termination and final settlement of such contracts are in the interest of the Government. Such action will assist materially in enabling contractors affected by terminations to undertake other war work or other productive enterprise at an early date in a manner consistent with the public interest. Accordingly, pursuant to the First War Powers Act, 1941, and Executive Order 9001, there is hereby delegated to the chiefs of the several technical services the authority set forth in subparagraphs (1), (2) and (3) below. It is determined that the execution of supplemental agreements in accordance with the authority so delegated will facilitate the prosecution of the war.

(1) Contracts containing no termination article may be terminated and finally settled by supplemental agreement where such termination is to the interest of the Government. Pending the execution of such a supplemental agreement work may be suspended.

(2) Usually it will be desirable to provide for stopping work on such contracts well in advance of making a settlement. In such cases the contracting officer will attempt to amend the contract by supplemental agreement with the contractor so as to include in the contract the standard termination article for use in the type of contract involved (e. g. § 81.324). Once the amendment to include such an article is made, any termination may proceed in accordance with its provisions.

(3) If the contractor will not agree to include a standard termination article in the contract by amendment, the chief of any technical service, without the approval of higher authority, may make an agreement for the discontinuance of performance and settlement of such a contract, or provide for its settlement by reason of such termination, in such form as he may deem for the best interests of the Government.

(b) If no satisfactory agreement for the termination of such a contract can be made, the chief of the technical service concerned, acting personally or through the settlement review committee designated pursuant to § 88.15–220 (b), may authorize the contracting officer to order the contractor to discontinue further performance. Where speed is essential such authority may be granted by teletype or telegraph. The contractor may thereafter present his claim, if any, for damages arising out of this order, to the General Accounting Office or to the courts for settlement. Where such action is taken special care will be taken to record and preserve the circumstances and reasons leading to such action, together with a statement of the grounds on which it was determined that such action was in the interests of the Government. It is not consistent with War Department policy for the Government to commit breaches of contract and such action will be taken only in unusual cases and where all other reasonable efforts to prevent the incurring of unnecessary expense for the Government have been exhausted. In any such case, even after the issuance of the order to stop performance, if the contractor is willing to agree to terminate the contract and to make a reasonable settlement thereof, such a settlement agreement (subject to the provisions of § 81.308g) may be made in the manner permitted by paragraph (a) (3) of this section.

Sections 88.15–480 to 88.15–496, inclusive, are rescinded and the following §§ 88.15–480 to 88.15–486 are prescribed:

§ 88.15–480 Necessity for determining costs. In connection with termination settlements, it will frequently be necessary to determine costs. In §§ 88.15–481 to 88.15–486, inclusive, is reproduced the "Statement of Principles for Determination of Costs upon Termination of Government Fixed Price Supply Contracts approved by the Joint Contract Termination Board, 31 December 1943" referred to in paragraph (h) of the new termination article (see §§ 81.324 and 88.15–901).

§ 88.15–481 Statement of principles for determination of costs upon termination of Government fixed price supply contracts.

§ 88.15–482 General principles. The costs contemplated by this statement of principles are those sanctioned by recognized commercial accounting practices and are intended to include the direct and indirect manufacturing, selling and distribution, administrative and other costs incurred which are reasonably necessary for the performance of the contract, and are properly allocable or apportionable, under such practices, to the contract (or the part thereof under consideration). The general principles set out in this statement are subject to the application of any special provisions of the contract. Certain costs are specifically described below because of their particular significance, and, as in the case of other costs, should be included to the extent that they are allocable to or should be apportioned to the contract or the part thereof under consideration.

(a) Common inventory. The costs of items of inventory which are common to the contract and to other work of the contractor.

(b) Common claims of subcontractors. The claims of subcontractors which are common to the contract and to other work of the contractor.

(c) Depreciation. An allowance for depreciation at appropriate rates on buildings, machinery and equipment and other facilities including such amounts for obsolescence due to progress in the arts and other factors as are ordinarily given consideration in determining depreciation rates. Depreciation as defined herein shall not include loss of useful value of the type covered by paragraph (f) of this section.

(d) Experimental and research expense. General experimental and research expense to the extent consistent with an established pre-war program, or to the extent related to war purposes.

(e) Engineering and development and special tooling. Costs of engineering and development and of special tooling; provided that the contractor protects any interests of the Government by transfer of title or by other means deemed appropriate by the Government.

(f) Loss on facilities; conditions on allowance. In the case of any special facility acquired by the contractor solely for the performance of the contract, or the contract and other war production contracts, if upon termination of the contract such facility is not reasonably capable of use in the other business of the contractor having regard to the then condition and location of such facility, an amount which bears the same proportion to the loss of useful value as the deliveries not made under the contract bear to the total of the deliveries which have been made and would have been made had the contract and the other contracts been completed, Provided, That the amount to be allowed under this paragraph shall not exceed the adjusted basis of the facility for Federal income tax purposes immediately prior to the date of the termination of the contract, and Provided further, That no amount shall be allowed under this paragraph unless upon termination of the contract title to the facility is transferred to the Government, except where the Government elects to take other appropriate means to protect its interests.

(g) Special leases. (1) Rentals under leases clearly shown to have been made for the performance of the contract, or the contract and other war production contracts, covering the period necessary for complete performance of the contract and such further period as may have been reasonably necessary; (2) costs of reasonable alteration of such leased property made for the same purpose; and (3) costs of restoring the premises, to the extent required by reasonable provisions of the lease; less (4) the residual value of the lease; provided that the contractor shall have made reasonable efforts to terminate, assign, or settle such leases or otherwise reduce the cost thereof.

(h) Advertising. Advertising expense to the extent consistent with a pre-war program or to the extent reasonable under the circumstances.

(i) Limitation on costs described in paragraphs (d), (e), (f), (g), and (h). In no event shall the aggregate of the amounts allowed under paragraphs (d), (e), (f), (g), and (h) exceed the amount which would have been available from the contract price to cover these items, if the contract had been completed, after considering all other costs which would have been required to complete it.

(j) Interest. Interest on borrowings.

(k) Settlement expenses. Reasonable accounting, legal, clerical and other expenses necessary in connection with the termination and settlement of the contract and subcontracts and purchase orders thereunder, including expenses incurred for the purpose of obtaining payment from the Government only to the extent reasonably necessary for the preparation and presentation of settlement proposals and cost evidence in connection therewith.

(l) Protection and disposition of property. Storage, transportation and other costs incurred for the protection of property acquired or produced for the contract or in connection with the disposition of such property.

§ 88.15–483 Initial costs. Costs of a non-recurring nature which arise from unfamiliarity with the product in the initial stages of production should be appropriately apportioned between the completed and the terminated portions of the contract. In this category would be included high direct labor and overhead costs, including training, costs of excessive rejections and similar items.

§ 88.15–484 Excluded costs. Without affecting the generality of the foregoing provisions in other respects, amounts representing the following should not be included as elements of cost:

(a) Losses on other contracts, or from sales or exchanges of capital assets; fees and other expenses in connection with reorganization or recapitalization, anti-trust or federal income-tax litigation, or prosecution of federal income tax claims or other claims against the Government (except as provided in § 88.15–432 (k)); losses on investments; provisions for contingencies; and premiums on life insurance where the contractor is the beneficiary.

(b) The expense of conversion of the contractor's facilities to uses other than the performance of the contract.

(c) Expenses due to the negligence or willful failure of the contractor to discontinue with reasonable promptness the incurring of expenses after the effective date of the termination notice.

(d) Costs incurred in respect to facilities, materials or services purchased or work done in excess of the reasonable quantitative requirements of the entire contract.

(e) Costs which, as evidenced by accounting statements submitted in renegotiation under section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended, were charged off during a period covered by a previous renegotiation, may not be subsequently included in the termination settlement if a refund was made for such period, or to the extent that such charging off is shown to have avoided such refund.

§ 88.15–485 Accounting practices. To the extent that they conform to recognised commercial accounting practices and the foregoing statement of principles, the established accounting practices of the contractor as indicated by his books of account and financial reports will be given due consideration in the preparation of statements of cost for the purposes of this article.

§ 88.15–486 Item not mentioned. The failure specifically to mention in this statement any item of cost is not intended to imply that it should be included or excluded.

§ 88.15–487 Advertising. [Rescinded].

§ 88.15–488 Experimental and research expense. [Rescinded].

§ 88.15–489 Excise taxes. [Rescinded].

§ 88.15–490 Common items. [Rescinded].

§ 88.15–491 Settlement expenses. [Rescinded].

§ 88.15–492 Mitigation of losses. [Rescinded].

§ 88.15–493 Interest. [Rescinded].

§ 88.15–495 Excluded costs. [Rescinded].

§ 88.15–496 Allocation of starting load costs. [Rescinded].

Sections 88.15–551 and 88.15–658 are rescinded:

§ 88.15–551 Exemption from statutory renegotiation on terminated lump sum contracts. [Rescinded].

§ 88.15–658 Exemption from renegotiation on terminated cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts. [Rescinded].

Section 88.15–658a is added as follows:

§ 88.15–658a Assignment to Government of premiums due under policies written under War Department insurance rating plan upon termination or completion of cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts. (See § 81.484.)

Sections 88.15–800 to 88.15–806, inclusive, are amended as follows:

§ 88.15–800 Monthly contract termination status report. Each procurement office (except those reporting to the Commanding General of a Service Command) will prepare a Monthly Contract Termination Status Report.

§ 88.15–801 Report form. The report will be prepared on W.D., A.G.O. Form No. 505 (Monthly Contract Termination Status Report). This report is carried in stock at the Adjutant General Pentagon Depot, Washington 25, D. C. and will be ordered by reference to W.D., A.G.O. Form No. 505. The Control Approval Symbol is PDE–10.

§ 88.15–802 Matters to be covered. The report will cover all terminations of contracts for the convenience of the Government, regardless of the type or amount of the contract. It will cover all such terminations completed during the month and those still in process. If no such terminations have been completed and none are in process, a negative report will be made. When a final settlement has been made with a contractor and reflected in a monthly report, it will not be reflected in subsequent reports. Cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract terminations will be reported separately. "Cost-plus-a-fixed-fee" will be typed immediately below the report title of such reports. Any portion of a supply contract pertaining to facilities to be acquired for Government account will be excluded from each column of the report. (If no definite segregation is made in the contract, this instruction may be waived as to Column 7).

§ 88.15–803 Date for submitting reports. The report will be submitted monthly and will be filed with the office of the chief of the service (the Assistant Chief of Staff MM&D for Army Air Forces) on or before the 10th day of the month following that for which the report is made, or on any earlier date specified by the chief of the service.

§ 88.15–804 Number of copies. The number of copies of the report to be filed will be prescribed by the chief of the service.

§ 88.15–805 Report to Contract Termination Branch, Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces. On or before the 15th day of the month following that for which the report is made, the chief of each technical service (the Assistant Chief of Staff MM&D for Army Air Forces) will file with the Chief, Contract Termination Branch, Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, the original and one copy of each monthly contract termination status report filed with him.

§ 88.15–806 Instructions with respect to the report form—(a) Successive partial terminations. In the event that successive partial terminations are effected in regard to one prime contract, each such termination will be treated as a separate transaction (see paragraph (d) (1) of this section). When a settlement is made completing more than one such transaction, the date and amount of settlement will be shown opposite the termination with the oldest effective date. A cross reference to this fact will be shown in place of the date and amount of settlement opposite other terminations completed by the same action.

(b) Dollar amounts and dollar symbols. The sums shown in the amount columns will be to the nearest dollar. Fractions of a dollar will not be shown. Likewise no dollar symbols will be used in the amount columns.

(c) Order of listing terminations. (1) Terminations completed during the month will be listed first in chronological order (based on the effective date of termination). Above these, centered, there will appear the heading "Terminations Completed". Columns 8, 10, 12, 14, 15, 17, 18, 19, 20 and 21 are to be added individually and the totals entered in the respective columns.

(2) Terminations rescinded or transferred will then be listed in chronological order (based on the effective date of termination). Above these, centered, there will appear the heading "Terminations Rescinded or Transferred". Columns 8, 10, 12, 14 and 15 are to be added individually and the totals entered in their respective columns. This grouping is to represent cases previously reported as "Terminations in Process" which will not require completion of settlement action because of the reinstatement of the contract, or because of the transfer of administration to another procurement office. A termination transferred will not be so reported until the office to which the transfer was made has acknowledged receipt, and has stated that the termination will be picked up on its next report. Offices to which transfers are made will acknowledge receipt, advise the transferring office, and pick up the transferred case as authorized during the month (see paragraph (f) of this section).

(3) Terminations in process will then be listed in chronological order (based on the effective date of termination). Above these, centered, there will appear the heading "Terminations in Process". Columns 8, 10, 12, 14, and 15 are to be added individually and the totals entered in their respective columns.

(d) Columnar information. There are set forth in the succeeding subparagraphs instructions with respect to the information to be contained in the various columns of the report form. Subparagraph (1) contains instructions with respect to Column 1. Subparagraph (2) contains instructions with respect to Column 2 and so forth.

(1) Column 1. Insert contract or other identification number. In the event that a contract under termination has more than one partial termination, the contract number will be entered for each of the additional partial terminations.

(2) Column 2. Name of contractor. Because of limited space, the full name of the contractor need not be given. Sufficient information will be given to permit identification.

(3) Column 3. Item. Because of limited space, the full description of the items need not be given. Sufficient information will be given to permit identification of the item being manufactured under the contract.

(4) Column 4. Partial or complete. Indicate by the symbol "P" or "C" whether the termination is partial or complete. A partial termination is one in which only a part of the uncompleted portion of the contract is terminated and the balance is to be continued after the effective date of termination. A complete termination is one in which the entire uncompleted balance of a contract is terminated. From a practical standpoint, it may be said that a complete termination is one in which the contract price of items cancelled is equal to the entire remaining balance of the contract.

(5) Column 5. Date termination authorized. The date of termination authorization will be the date on which the authorization of termination was written in the office of the chief of the service. There may exist, however, certain cases wherein termination proceedings are initiated prior to approval from the office of the chief of the service. In such cases, the date on which the termination action was initiated by the contracting officer will be used as the date of termination authorization.

(6) Column 6. Effective date of termination. This is the date designated in the notice of termination as the effective date of termination. With particular reference to partial termination, this is the date the contractor is required to take action to stop work and cancel subcontracts with respect to the terminated portion of the contract. This is not to be construed as meaning the estimated date of completion of the continued portion of the contract unless no action is to be taken by the contractor until the continued portion of the contract is completed. In the event of successive partial terminations affecting the same contract, effective dates for each will be shown. In all instances where the effective date of termination is changed from that shown on the previous month's report, the revised date will be prefixed by "R". The reason for such changes will be explained in the space provided for status of settlement action.

(7) Column 7. Amount of contract. Enter the total amount of the contract and all supplements as of the date of termination authorization.

(8) Column 8. Total contract price of items cancelled. This column is to reflect the dollar value of the terminated portion of the contract. In some instances it may not be possible to determine accurately the exact contract price of items cancelled. In such cases the best possible estimate will be used until correct figures can be ascertained. In all instances where the total contract price of items cancelled is changed from that shown on the previous month's report, the revised amount will be prefixed by "R".

(9) Column 9. Contractor's proposal. Date of filing. Enter the date on which the contractor's proposal was received. In the event of partial proposals or revisions of proposals previously submitted due to post termination expenses, etc., carry the original date until the case has been completed. Dates of revised claims will be shown below the original date prefixed by "R".

(10) Column 10. Contractor's proposal. Amount exclusive of subcontractors. This column is to reflect the dollar amount representing the contractor's proposal for settlement of the terminated contract. The amount will be exclusive of (i) charges submitted by subcontractors to the prime contractor and (ii) the contract price of all completed units which have been or will be accepted under the contract. Thus this amount will represent the prime contractor's statement of charges with respect to the uncompleted portion of the contract (prior to negotiation), and therefore the difference between this amount and the amount entered in Column 17 will represent the net change resulting from negotiations. In the event of contractor's revision of preliminary or partial proposals, exclusive of reductions arising from negotiation, the amount of the most recent revision will be shown opposite the most recent revision date (see Column 9). Previous claim figures will be omitted, but the dates for such previous claims will continue to be shown. Explanation of the revision will be made in space provided for explanations of status.

(11) Column 11. Subcontractors' claims. Number of claims submitted. Enter number of first tier subcontractor's claims submitted by the prime contractor to the office administering the termination. This includes claims of suppliers and vendors of standard articles.

(12) Column 12. Subcontractors' claims. Total amount. Enter the total dollar value of all first tier subcontractors' claims submitted by the prime contractor to the office administering the termination. This column is intended to represent the amounts approved by the prime contractor, and is not necessarily the same as the amount approved by the contracting officer in final settlement as shown in Column 18.

(13) Column 13. Subcontractors' claims. Number of claim approved. Enter the number of first tier subcontractors' claims which have been approved by the contracting officer as of the date of preparation of the report.

(14) Column 14. Partial payments. For the benefit of prime contractor. Enter the total amount of partial payments made to the prime contractor covering amounts intended solely for the use and benefit of the prime contractor. Advance payments or payments made as reimbursement for costs under a CPFF contract will not be included. Advance payments are to be noted in the space provided for explanations of status of incomplete cases.

(15) Column 15. Partial payments. For benefit of subcontractors. Enter the total amount of partial payments made for the use and benefit of subcontractors whether such amounts are paid to the prime contractor for the account of the subcontractors or are paid direct to subcontractors.

(16) Column 16. Details of final settlement. Date. Enter the date on which the supplemental agreement incorporating the final settlement is received by the contracting officer, signed by both the contractor and the contracting officer. For those services requiring approval by the office of the chief, the transaction must be considered as pending until this approval is received.

(17) Column 17. Details of final settlement. Gross amount excluding subcontractors. This represents the gross amount of the settlement agreement including expenses subsequent to termination but excluding that portion of the contractor's settlement represented by payments to subcontractors. Differences between Columns 10 and 17 represent negotiated reductions between the contractor's claim and the final settlement.

(18) Column 18. Details of final settlement. Amount subcontractors. Enter the amount of payments made to subcontractors by the prime contractor and thus included in his final settlement. Differences between Columns 12 and 18 represent any negotiated reductions made by the contracting officer in subcontractor's settlements previously approved by the prime contractor and submitted to the contracting officer for approval.

(19) Column 19. Details of final settlement. Disposal credits. The amount credited to the Government by the prime contractor for receipts from sales or retention of property included in his gross settlement proposal. Sales to the Government under purchase orders will be included in this column and will not be confused with the amount allowed for property taken over by the Government as reported in Column 21.

(20) Column 20. Details of final settlement. Net amount of settlement. The net payment to the contractor in settlement of the proposal. This is Column 17 plus 18 minus 19.

(21) Column 21. Details of final settlement. Amount allowed for property taken over by the Government. The amount which is allowed to the contractor for property taken over by the Government will be shown in this column. This is the amount included in the net settlement, shown in Column 20, required to reimburse the contractor for the cost of his inventory taken over by the Government. When an exact allowance can not be assigned to this property, as in some settlements on a total cost basis, the best possible estimate will be given.

(e) Special instructions with respect to Columns 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, and 21. These columns will be filled in only for terminations which have been completely settled during the month. In the case of "Terminations in Process," the space occupied by these columns will be used to explain briefly the status of settlement action. Such explanations will include such information as "Awaiting Contractor's Claim," "Property Disposal," "Contractor's Settlement Proposal Being Audited," "In Process of Negotiation" ("In Process of Negotiation" is considered to apply only to such cases in which audit and property disposition is completed), "Awaiting Final Agreement" and so on. In terminations involving subcontractors, it is desirable to show the total number of first tier subcontractors from whom claims are expected, so as to provide a comparison between probable subcontractors' claims and subcontractors' claims submitted as shown in Column 11.

(f) Reconciliation; number of terminations. A reconciliation of the number of terminations received, completed and on hand is to be shown on the last sheet of each report in the following form:

Terminations pending per last report.
Terminations authorized during month.
Total terminations to be accounted for.
Terminations settled during month.
Terminations rescinded or transferred during month.
Terminations pending end of month.
Terminations pending 0–6 months.
Terminations over 6 months.

Cases reported as rescinded or transferred must be completely explained so that the proper correction may be made in the consolidated War Department reports. Any further aging of cases pending less than 6 months will be as determined by the chief of the service.

(g) Optional reporting of terminations involving less than $10,000 in contract price of items cancelled. If so directed by the chief of the service concerned, terminations involving less than $10,000 in contract price of items cancelled may be reported in total only. The method of such reporting will be as follows:

(1) Terminations completed. Enter totals of Columns 7, 8, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 17, 18, 19, 20 and 21 for such terminations involving settlement of contractors' claims completed during the month, as the first line of "Terminations Completed" (see paragraph (c) (1) of this section). Enter the number of such cases completed in Column 1 and "Cases Under $10,000" in Column 2. Enter totals of Columns 7 and 8 for such terminations involving no contractors' claims completed during the month as the second line of "Terminations Completed". Enter the number of such cases completed in Column 1 and "Cases Under $10,000" in Column 2.

(2) Terminations rescinded or transferred. Enter totals of Columns 7, 8, 10, 12, 14 and 15 of any such cases rescinded or transferred, as reported on the preceding month's report for "Terminations in Process", as the first line of "Terminations Rescinded or Transferred". Enter the number of such cases in Column 1 and "Cases Under $10,000" in Column 2.

(3) Terminations in process. Enter totals of Columns 7, 8, 10, 12, 14 and 15 for such terminations still in process as the first line of "Terminations in Process". Enter the number of such cases in Column 1 and "Cases Under $10,000" in Column 2.

(4) All such cases must be accounted for in the reconciliation provided in paragraph (f) of this section.

Section 88.15–901 is amended as follows:

§ 88.15–901 Lump sum supply contract. The following is the new termination article:

ARTICLE ___ Termination at the Option of the Government.

(a) The performance of work under this contract may be terminated by the Government in accordance with this Article in whole, or from time to time in part, whenever the contracting officer shall determine any such termination is for the best interests of the Government. Termination of work hereunder shall be effected by delivery to the contractor of a Notice of Termination specifying the extent to which performance of work under the contract shall be terminated, and the date upon which such termination shall become effective. If termination of work under this contract is simultaneous with, a part of, or in connection with, a general termination (1) of all or substantially all of a group or class of contracts made by the War Department for the same product or for closely related products, or (2) of war contracts at, about the time of, or following, the cessation of the present hostilities, or any major part thereof, such termination shall only be made in accordance with the provisions of this Article, unless the contracting officer finds that the contractor is then in gross or willful default under this contract.

(b) After receipt of a Notice of Termination and except as otherwise directed by the contracting officer, the contractor shall (1) terminate work under the contract on the date and to the extent specified in the Notice of Termination; (2) place no further orders or subcontracts for materials, services or facilities except as may be necessary for completion of such portions of the work under the contract as may not be terminated; (3) terminate all orders and subcontracts to the extent that they relate to the performance of any work terminated by the Notice of Termination; (4) assign to the Government, in the manner and to the extent directed by the contracting officer, all of the right, title and interest of the contractor under the orders or subcontracts so terminated; (5) settle all claims arising out of such termination of orders and subcontracts with the approval or ratifications of the contracting officer to the extent that he may require, which approval or ratification shall be final for all the purposes of this Article; (6) transfer title and deliver to the Government in the manner, to the extent and at the times directed by the contracting officer (i) the fabricated or unfabricated parts, work in process, completed work, supplies and other material produced as a part of, or acquired in respect of the performance of, the work terminated in the Notice of Termination, and (ii) the plans, drawings, information and other property which, if the contract had been completed, would be required to be furnished to the Government; (7) use his best efforts to sell in the manner, to the extent, at the time, and at the price or prices directed or authorized by the contracting officer, any property of the types referred to in subdivision (6) of this paragraph: Provided, however, That the contractor (i) shall not be required to extend credit to any purchaser and (ii) may retain any such property at a price or prices approved by the contracting officer; (8) complete performance of such part of the work as shall not have been terminated by the Notice of Termination; and (9) take such action as may be necessary or as the contracting officer may direct for protection and preservation of the property, which is in the possession of the contractor and in which the Government has or may acquire an interest.

(c) The contractor and the contracting officer may agree upon the whole or any part of the amount or amounts to be paid to the contractor by reason of the total or partial termination of work pursuant to this Article, which amount or amounts may include a reasonable allowance for profit, and the Government shall pay the agreed amount or amounts. Nothing in paragraph (d) of this Article prescribing the amount to be paid to the contractor in the event of failure of the contractor and the contracting officer to agree upon the whole amount to be paid to the contractor by reason of the termination of work pursuant to this Article shall be deemed to limit, restrict or otherwise determine or affect the amount or amounts which may be agreed upon to be paid to the contractor pursuant to this paragraph (c).

(d) In the event of the failure of the contractor and contracting officer to agree as provided in paragraph (c) upon the whole amount to be paid to the contractor by reason of the termination of work pursuant to this Article, the Government, but without duplication of any amounts agreed upon in accordance with paragraph (c), shall pay to the contractor the following amounts:

(1) For completed articles delivered to and accepted by the Government (or sold or retained as provided in paragraph (b) (7) above) and not theretofore paid for, forthwith a sum equivalent to the aggregate price for such articles computed in accordance with the price or prices specified in the contract;

(2) In respect of the contract work terminated as permitted by this Article, the total (without duplication of any items) of (i) the cost of such work exclusive of any cost attributable to articles paid or to be paid for under paragraph (d) (1) hereof; (ii) the cost of settling and paying claims arising out of the termination of work under subcontracts or orders as provided in paragraph (b) (5) above, exclusive of the amounts paid or payable on account of supplies or materials delivered or services furnished by the subcontractor prior to the effective date of the notice of termination of work under this contract which amounts shall be included in the cost on account of which payment is made under subdivision (1) above; and (iii) a sum equal to _____% (Note 1)[1] of the part of the amount determined under subdivision (i) which represents the cost of articles or materials not processed by the contractor, plus a sum equal to _____% (Note 2)[1] of the remainder of such amount, but the aggregate of such sums shall not exceed 6% of the whole of the amount determined under subdivision (1), which for the purpose of this subdivision (iii) shall exclude any charges for interest on borrowings;

(3) The reasonable cost of the preservation and protection of the property incurred pursuant to paragraph (b) (9) hereof; and any other reasonable cost incidental to termination of work under this contract, including expense incidental to the determination of the amount due to the contractor as the result of the termination of work under this contract.

The total sum to be paid to the contractor under subdivisions (1) and (2) of this paragraph (d) shall not exceed the total contract price reduced by the amount of payments otherwise made and by the contract price of work not terminated. Except for normal spoilage and to the extent that the Government shall have otherwise expressly assumed the risk of loss, there shall be excluded from the amounts payable to the contractor as provided in paragraph (d) (1) and paragraph (d) (2) (i), all amounts allocable to or payable in respect of property, which is destroyed, lost, stolen or damaged so as to become undeliverable prior to the transfer of title to the Government or to a buyer pursuant to paragraph (b) (7) or prior to the 60th day after delivery to the Government of an inventory covering such property, whichever shall first occur.

(e) The obligation of the Government to make any payments under this article: (1) shall be subject to deductions in respect of (i) all unliquidated partial or progress payments, payments on account theretofore made to the contractor, and unliquidated advance payments, (ii) any claim which the Government may have against the contractor in connection with this contract, and (iii) the price agreed upon or the proceeds of sale of any materials, supplies or other things retained by the contractor or sold, and not otherwise recovered by or credited to the Government, and (2) in the discretion of the contracting officer shall be subject to deduction in respect of the amount of any claim of any subcontractor or supplier whose subcontractor or order shall have been terminated as provided in paragraph (b) (3) except to the extent that such claim covers (i) property or materials delivered to the contractor or (ii) services furnished to the contractor in connection with the production of completed articles under this contract.

(f) In the event that, prior to the determination of the final amount to be paid to the contractor as in this article provided, the contractor shall file with the contracting officer a request in writing that an equitable adjustment should be made in the price or prices specified in the contract for the work not terminated by the Notice of Termination, the appropriate fair and reasonable adjustment shall be made in such price or prices.

(g) The Government shall make partial payments and payments on account, from time to time, of the amount to which the contractor shall be entitled under this article, whether determined by agreement or otherwise, whenever in the opinion of the contracting officer the aggregate of such payments shall be within the amount to which the contractor will be entitled hereunder.

(h) For the purposes of paragraphs (d) (2) and (d) (3) hereof, the amounts of the payments to be made by the Government to the contractor shall be determined in accordance with the Statement of Principles for Determination of Costs upon Termination of Government Fixed Price Supply Contracts approved by the Joint Contract Termination Board, December 21, 1943. The contractor for a period of three years after final settlement under the contract shall make available to the Government at all reasonable times at the office of the contractor all

TITLE 16—COMMERCIAL PRACTICES

Chapter I—Federal Trade Commission

[File No. 21-380]

PART 158—MUSICAL INSTRUMENT AND ACCESSORIES INDUSTRY

PROMULGATION OF TRADE PRACTICE RULES

At a regular session of the Federal Trade Commission held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 1st day of February, A. D. 1944.

Due proceedings having been held under the trade practice conference procedure in pursuance of the Act of Congress approved September 26, 1914, as amended (Federal Trade Commission Act), and other provisions of law administered by the Commission;

It is now ordered, That the trade practice rules of Group I and Group II, as hereinafter set forth, which have been approved and received, respectively, by the Commission in this proceeding, be promulgated as of February 2, 1944.

Statement by the Commission

Trade practice rules for the Musical Instrument and Accessories Industry, as hereinafter set forth, are promulgated by the Federal Trade Commission under its trade practice conference procedure.

The rules are directed to the prevention of various unfair competitive methods or practices and to the protection of members of the industry and the public from their harmful effects.

The industry's products consist of musical instruments of all kinds played by the individual or musician, and accessories therefor. Embraced therein are band or orchestra instruments, stringed, wind, or percussion instruments, pianos, organs, and other musical instruments, played by the individual or musician, either publicly or privately, in groups or otherwise. Members of the industry are persons or concerns who manufacture, distribute, or sell such products. The aggregate annual volume of business is estimated to approximate, in normal times, $80,000,000 retail value.

With the cooperation of industry members a trade practice conference under the auspices of the Commission was held at Cincinnati, Ohio, and drafts of proposed rules were duly considered. In the further proceedings the rules under consideration were published by the Commission in appropriate form and made available to all industry members and interested or affected parties upon public notice whereby they were afforded opportunity to present their views, including such pertinent information, suggestions, amendments or objections as they desired to offer, and to be heard in the premises. Such public hearing was accordingly held in Washington, D. C., and all matters presented, or otherwise received, in the proceeding were duly considered by the Commission.

Thereafter, and upon full consideration of the entire matter, final action was taken by the Commission whereby it approved and received, respectively, the following trade practice rules in Group I and Group II:

The Rules

These rules promulgated by the Commission are designed to foster and promote the maintenance of fair competitive practices in harmony with law and the public interest. They are not to be used, directly or indirectly, as part of, or in connection with, any unlawful combination or agreement to fix prices, or to suppress competition, or otherwise to restrain trade.

Group I

The unfair trade practices embraced in the Group I rules herein are considered to be unfair methods of competition, unfair or deceptive acts or practices, or other illegal practices, prohibited under laws administered by the Federal Trade Commission; and appropriate proceedings in the public interest will be taken by the Commission to prevent the use, by any person, partnership, corporation, or other organization subject to its jurisdiction, of such unlawful practices in commerce.

AUTHORITY: §§ 158.1 to 158.17, inclusive, issued under 38 Stat. 717, as amended, and pursuant to other provisions of law administered by the Commission.

§ 158.1 Misrepresentation and misbranding. In the course of or in connection with selling, distributing, or promoting the sale or distribution of any industry products, it is an unfair trade practice to use or cause to be used any trade promotional literature, advertising matter, guarantee, warranty, mark, brand, label, designation or representation, however disseminated or published, which directly, or by implication or otherwise, has the capacity and tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving purchasers or prospective purchasers in respect to the grade, quality, quantity, substance, character, make, type, price, nature, size, tone, origin, use, endorsement, appearance, performance, construction, specifications, finish, material content, or preparation of such product, or in any other material respect. [Rule 1]

§ 158.2 Deceptive testimonials. In the course or or in connection with selling, distributing, or promoting the sale or distribution of any industry product, it is an unfair trade practice to use or cause to be used any testimonials, written or oral, which are false, misleading, or deceptive as to the merits or qualities of such industry product, or which are false, misleading, or deceptive in any other material respect.

NOTE: Under this section, the following types of testimonials are among those which should not be used, namely:

(a) Testimonials previously given in respect of a product of a manufacturer or distributor but which are receptive by reason of being so old as no longer to be applicable to the products or instruments currently produced by such manufacturer or sold by such distributor.

(b) Testimonials which deceptively purport to be in support of the merits of the instruments or products endorsed but which were in fact given because of advertising benefits and other considerations and not because of the merits of such instruments or products or the testifier's good-faith belief in the merits thereof.

(c) Testimonials which deceptively purport or imply that the testifier regularly or principally uses the instrument or make of instrument endorsed, when in fact the testifier does not use the instrument, or uses it only to a minor or insubstantial extent and not regularly or principally.

(d) Testimonials which deceptively represent, purport, or imply, directly or indirectly, that the endorsement therein is or has been given by the testifier as his unbiased, unsubsidized, or bona fide endorsement of the instrument, when in fact such testimonial was procured by or given solely because of a financial or other consideration or subsidy received by or for the benefit of such testifier.

(e) Testimonials which in any respect are untrue, or which contain inferences or implications not fully justified by the facts, or which are in any other way deceptive or misleading by reason of undisclosed facts or circumstances or for any other reason.

§ 158.3 Misrepresentation as to the designing, use, or endorsement of musical instruments. In the course of or in connection with selling, distributing, or promoting the sale or distribution of any industry product, it is an unfair trade practice to represent, directly or indirectly, through advertising or otherwise, that a musician, composer, orchestra leader, or other person or organization, designed, uses or endorses a particular musical instrument or instruments or other products of the industry, when such is not the fact. [Rule 3]

§ 158.4 Misrepresentation as to price reductions. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry to represent, in advertising or otherwise, that the price of any industry product has been reduced from what is in fact a fictitious price, or that such price is a reduced or a special price when it is in fact the regular selling price of such product, or that the regular price thereof is higher when such is not the fact, or otherwise to falsely or deceptively represent the past or current price of any industry product. [Rule 4]

§ 158.5 Use of "bait" advertising. (a) In the course of or in connection with selling, distributing, or promoting the sale or distribution of any industry product, it is an unfair trade practice to publish or use advertising, or other representations written or oral, which have the capacity and tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving purchasers or prospective purchasers into the belief that a larger supply of such products is available to purchasers at the advertised or stated price or prices than is in fact so available, or that industry products so offered for sale or sold under such representations or conditions are of high grade or quality when such is not true in fact.

(b) It is also an unfair trade practice to advertise, represent or describe the prices at which any musical instruments or accessories are offered for sale as being the "balance due" or unpaid portion on a previous sale under a conditional or time-payment contract, when such is not true in fact, or when such advertisement, representation or offer is otherwise false, misleading or deceptive. [Rule 5]

§ 158.6 Deception as to rebuilt, used, converted, reconstructed, restyled, repossessed, or secondhand products. (a) It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry to sell, offer for sale, advertise or otherwise represent any musical instrument or accessory (1) as being new when it is in fact rebuilt, used, repossessed, or secondhand; or (2) as being of new design or new style when it has been converted, reconstructed, or restyled from a used instrument or accessory and such fact is deceptively concealed.

(b) It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry to advertise or otherwise represent, directly or indirectly, that he owns or has in his possession for sale new, rebuilt, used, repossessed, or secondhand musical instruments or accessories of a particular type, make, or description, when such is not true in fact.

(c) In the sale or distribution of musical instruments or accessories which are rebuilt, used, repossessed, or secondhand, it is an unfair trade practice to fail or refuse to make full and nondeceptive disclosure of the fact that such instruments or accessories are not new, but are rebuilt, used, repossessed, or secondhand, as the case may be, such failure or refusal to disclose having the capacity and tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving purchasers or prospective purchasers. [Rule 6]

§ 158.7 Misrepresentation as to being manufacturer, importer, wholesaler, jobber, distributor, or retailer, and prices in relation thereto. (a) It is an unfair trade practice for any person, partnership, corporation or organization, by trade or corporate name or otherwise, to represent or to hold himself or itself out as being the manufacturer, importer, wholesaler, jobber, distributor, or retailer of any industry product advertised, offered for sale, sold or distributed, when such is not the fact.

(b) It is an unfair trade practice to use any other deceptive or misleading device, method or representation respecting the character, nature or status of the business of any person, concern or organization engaged in selling or promoting the sale of any industry product.

(c) It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry, whether selling as manufacturer, importer, wholesaler, jobber, distributor, or retailer, to misrepresent his prices as being either wholesale or retail prices when such is not true in fact, or to otherwise misrepresent his prices. [Rule 7]

§ 158.8 Deception as to origin. In respect to musical instruments or accessories made wholly or partially in a foreign country, or from parts manufactured in a foreign country and assembled into the finished product in the United States, it is an unfair trade practice:

(a) To offer for sale, sell, or distribute any such musical instruments or accessories under marks, stamps, brands, labels, or representations which have the capacity and tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving purchasers or prospective purchasers into the erroneous belief that such products were produced wholly within the United States; or

(b) To offer for sale, sell, or distribute any such musical instruments or accessories without the same being conspicuously marked, stamped, branded, or labeled so as to indicate clearly and nondeceptively the country of origin of such products, the failure, refusal, or omission to so mark, stamp, brand, or label such products having the capacity and tendency or effect of thereby promoting, abetting, or effectuating the marketing of such products under conditions which are misleading or deceptive to purchasers or prospective purchasers.

(Nothing in this section shall be construed as relieving any member of the industry or other party of the necessity of complying with the requirements of the customs laws or regulations, or other applicable provisions of law or regulations, relating to the marking of imported articles.) [Rule 8]

§ 158.9 Misrepresentation as to installment sales contracts, their terms or conditions, etc. It is an unfair trade practice to make or publish or cause to be made or published, directly or indirectly, any false, misleading, or deceptive statements or representations, through advertising or otherwise, concerning installment sales contracts used or their terms or conditions, including down payments, interest, carrying charges, etc., or respecting any other matter relative to such contracts or their terms or conditions. [Rule 9]

§ 158.10 Deception in respect of keyboard or number of keys. (a) It is an unfair trade practice to cause any piano having less than the standard or 88-note keyboard to be represented or passed off, directly or indirectly, as and for a piano having such standard or 88-note keyboard.

(b) It is an unfair trade practice to cause any other musical instrument having less than the full or standard keyboard or number of keys to be represented or passed off, directly or indirectly, as and for a musical instrument having such full or standard keyboard or number of keys. [Rule 10]

§ 158.11 Defamation of competitors or disparagement of their products. The defamation of competitors by falsely imputing to them dishonorable conduct, inability to perform contracts, questionable credit standing, or by other false representations, or the false disparagement of the grade, quality, quantity, substance, character, make, type, price, nature, size, tone, origin, appearance, performance, construction, specifications, finish, material content, or preparation of the products of competitors, or of their business methods, selling prices, values, credit terms, policies or services, is an unfair trade practice. [Rule 11]

§ 158.12 Inducing breach of contract. Inducing or attempting to induce the breach of existing lawful contracts between competitors and their customers or their suppliers by any false or deceptive means whatsoever, or interfering with or obstructing the performance of any such contractual duties or services by any such means, with the purpose and effect of unduly hampering, injuring, or prejudicing competitors in their business, is an unfair trade practice. [Rule 12]

§ 158.13 "Push money," "gratuities," etc. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry to bribe by giving or contracting to give or causing to be given, or by loaning or causing to be loaned, directly or indirectly, to any orchestra leader, band leader, official, singer, musician, music teacher, or any other person, employed by another, or to the agent or representative of, or to any one else on behalf of, such orchestra leader, band leader, official, singer, musician, music teacher, or other person, any "push money," gift, bonus, fee, gratuity, payment, discount, refund, rebate, royalty, service, musical instrument, favor or other thing or act of value, as an inducement to such individual to play or use or cause to be played or used, in a public performance, any musical instrument or accessory of such industry member in either of the following cases:

(a) Without the knowledge and consent of said employer; or

(b) With or without the knowledge and consent of said employer, where the effect may be substantially to lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly or unreasonably restrain trade in the marketing of such musical instruments or accessories, or where the effect is to be mislead or deceive purchasers or prospective purchasers. [Rule 13]

§ 158.14 Misuse of word "free," etc. The use of the word "free," or the equivalent thereof, when the article is in fact not free, with the capacity and tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving purchasers or prospective purchasers, is an unfair trade practice. [Rule 14]

§ 158.15 Selling below cost. The practice of selling industry products below the seller's cost with the intent and with the effect of injuring a competitor and where the effect may be substantially to lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly or unreasonably restrain trade is an unfair trade practice; all elements recognized by good accounting practice as proper elements of such cost shall be included in determining cost under this rule. The costs, however, which are referred to in the rule are actual costs of the respective seller and not some other figure or average costs in the industry determined by an industry cost survey or otherwise. [Rule 15]

§ 158.16 Discrimination—(a) Prohibited discriminatory prices, or rebates, refunds, discounts, credits, etc., which effect unlawful price discrimination. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry engaged in commerce,[1] in the course of such commerce, to grant or allow, secretly or openly, directly or indirectly, any rebate, refund, discount, credit, or other form of price differential, where such rebate, refund, discount, credit, or other form of price differential effects a discrimination in price between different purchasers of goods of like grade and quality, where either or any of the purchases involved therein are in commerce, and where the effect thereof may be substantially to lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly in any line of commerce, or to injure, destroy, or prevent competition with any person who either grants or knowingly receives the benefit of such discrimination, or with customers of either of them: Provided, however:

(1) That the goods involved in any such transaction are sold for use, consumption, or resale within any place under the jurisdiction of the United States;

(2) That nothing herein contained shall prevent differentials which make only due allowance for differences in the cost of manufacture, sale, or delivery resulting from the differing methods or quantities in which such commodities are to such purchasers sold or delivered;

(3) That nothing herein contained shall prevent persons engaged in selling goods, wares, or merchandise in commerce from selecting their own customers in bona fide transactions and not in restraint of trade;

(4) That nothing herein contained shall prevent price changes from time to time where made in response to changing conditions affecting either (i) the market for the goods concerned, or (ii) the marketability of the goods, such as, but not limited to, actual or imminent deterioration of perishable goods, obsolescence of seasonal goods, distress sales under court process, or sales in good faith in discontinuance of business in the goods concerned.

(b) Prohibited brokerage and commissions. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry engaged in commerce, in the course of such commerce, to pay or grant, or to receive or accept, anything of value as a commission, brokerage, or other compensation, or any allowance or discount in lieu thereof, except for services rendered in connection with the sale or purchase of goods, wares, or merchandise, either to the other party to such transaction or to an agent, representative, or other intermediary therein where such intermediary is acting in fact for or in behalf, or is subject to the direct or indirect control, of any party to such transaction other than the person by whom such compensation is so granted or paid.

(c) Prohibited advertising or promotional allowances, etc. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry engaged in commerce to pay or contract for the payment of advertising or promotional allowances or any other thing of value to or for the benefit of a customer of such member in the course of such commerce as compensation or in consideration for any services or facilities furnished by or through such customer in connection with the processing, handling, sale, or offering for sale of any products or commodities manufactured, sold, or offered for sale by such member, unless such payment or consideration is available on proportionally equal terms to all other customers competing in the distribution of such products or commodities.

(d) Prohibited discriminatory services or facilities. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry engaged in commerce to discriminate in favor of one purchaser against another purchaser or purchasers of a commodity bought for resale, with or without processing, by contracting to furnish or furnishing, or by contributing to the furnishing of, any services or facilities connected with the processing, handling, sale, or offering for sale of such commodity so purchased upon terms not accorded to all purchasers on proportionally equal terms.

(e) Inducing or receiving an illegal discrimination in price. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry engaged in commerce, in the course of such commerce, knowingly to induce or receive a discrimination in price which is prohibited by the foregoing provisions of this section.

(f) Purchases by schools, colleges, universities, public libraries, churches, hospitals, and charitable institutions not operated for profit. The foregoing provisions of this section relate to practices within the purview of the Robinson-Patman Antidiscrimination Act, which act and the application thereunder of this section are subject to the limitations expressed in the amendment to such Robinson-Patman Antidiscrimination Act, which amendment was approved May 26, 1938, and reads as follows:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That nothing in the Act Approved June 19, 1936 (Public, Numbered 692, Seventy-fourth Congress, second session), known as the Robinson-Patman Antidiscrimination Act, shall apply to purchases of their supplies for their own use by schools, colleges, universities, public libraries, churches, hospitals, and charitable institutions not operated for profit. (52 Stat. 446; United States Code, Title 15, sec. 13c)

§ 158.17 Aiding or abetting use of unfair trade practices. It is an unfair trade practice for any person, firm, or corporation to aid, abet, coerce, or induce another, directly or indirectly, to use or promote the use of any unfair trade practice specified in these rules. [Rule 17]

Group II

Compliance with trade practice provisions embraced in Group II rules is considered to be conducive to sound business methods and is to be encouraged and promoted individually or through voluntary cooperation exercised in accordance with existing law. Nonobservance of such rules does not, per se, constitute violation of law. Where, however, the practice of not complying with any such Group II rules is followed in such manner as to result in unfair methods of competition, or unfair or deceptive acts or practices, corrective proceedings may be instituted by the Commission as in the case of violation of Group I rules.

RULE A. Publication of price lists. The industry approves the practice of each individual member of the industry independently publishing and circulating to the purchasing trade his own price lists fully setting forth his terms of sale.

A Committee on Trade Practices is hereby created by the industry to cooperate with the Federal Trade Commission and to perform such acts as may be legal and proper to put these rules into effect.

Promulgated and issued by the Federal Trade Commission February 2, 1944.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter IX—War Production Board

Subchapter B—Executive Vice-Chairman

AUTHORITY: Regulations in this subchapter issued under sec. 2 (a), 54 Stat. 676, as amended by 55 Stat. 236 and 56 Stat. 176; E.O. 9024, 7 F.R. 329; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; W.P.B. Reg. 1 as amended March 24, 1943, 8 F.R. 3666, 3696; Pri. Reg. 1 as amended May 15, 1943, 8 F.R. 6727.

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATION OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

[Priorities Reg. 3, Direction 6]

SPLIT RATINGS

The following direction is issued pursuant to Priorities Reg. 3:

(a) The War Production Board has fixed a base rating which it will assign for use in ordering production materials for each product group. The same base rating will be assigned to each authorized production schedule covering the same product group. Higher ratings may be assigned by the War Production Board to a part of a production schedule to the extent that the application shows that higher ratings are merited. Two or more ratings assigned to a single production schedule are referred to as split ratings.

(b) Split ratings must be applied on a class-of-item basis; that is, ratings must be split with respect to each class of production material. For example: if it is decided that $100,000 worth of bolts and nuts and $50,000 worth of wiring devices will be needed to be put into production during a quarter, and the preference ratings assigned to the schedule are 60% AA-2 and 40% AA-3, the AA-2 rating may be used to buy $60,000 worth of bolts and nuts and $30,000 worth of wiring devices and the AA-3 rating may be used to buy $40,000 worth of bolts and nuts and $20,000 worth of wiring devices.

Issued this 1st day of February 1944.

For example: if it is decided that $100,000 worth of bolts and nuts and $50,000 worth of wiring devices will be needed to be put into production during a quarter, and the preference ratings assigned to the schedule are 60% AA-2 and 40% AA-3, the AA-2 rating may be used to buy $60,000 worth of bolts and nuts and $30,000 worth of wiring devices and the AA-3 rating may be used to buy $40,000 worth of bolts and nuts and $20,000 worth of wiring devices.

GENERAL ALLOTMENT PROCEDURE

(c) This paragraph explains the general allotment procedure.

Allotments by Requirements Committee to Claimant Agencies

(1) The Requirements Committee of the War Production Board will distribute the available supply of controlled materials by making allotments to the Claimant Agencies or Industry Divisions for each quarter, designating the amount of each form of controlled material available, during the quarter, to each Claimant Agency or Industry Division for allotment to its prime and secondary consumers.

Allotments by Claimant Agencies to prime consumers producing Class A products

(2) Each Claimant Agency will distribute the allotments received by it by making further allotments to the prime consumers who produce Class A products for it. Such allotments will designate the amount of each form of controlled material available to each such prime consumer, during the quarter, for use by it or allotment to the secondary consumers producing Class A products as parts or sub-assemblies for it. A prime consumer producing Class A products for several Claimant Agencies shall obtain separate allotments from each. A Claimant Agency, may, in particular cases, make allotments through an Industry Division.

Allotments by Industry Divisions to producers of Class B products

(3) Unless otherwise specifically directed, allotments to producers of Class B products will be made only by Industry Divisions, both in the case of Class B products which are end-products and in the case of Class B products which are incorporated in other products whether Class A or Class B. Allotments made by the Requirements Committee may be made available to the Industry Divisions for this purpose by the Claimant Agencies. Each Industry Division will make allotments to the prime consumers producing Class B products under its jurisdiction. Such allotments will designate the amount of each form of controlled material available to each such prime consumer, during the quarter, for use by it or allotment to secondary consumers producing Class A products for it. A manufacturer of several Class B products coming under the jurisdiction of different Industry Divisions shall obtain separate allotments from each. A consumer producing Class B products is always a prime consumer with respect to such production.

Allotments by Prime and Secondary Consumers

(4) Each prime consumer receiving an allotment may use that portion of the allotment which he requires to obtain controlled materials as such for his authorized production schedule, and shall allot the remainder to his secondary consumers producing Class A products for him, to cover their requirements for controlled materials. Allotments by secondary consumers to secondary consumers supplying them may be made in the same fashion. A secondary consumer producing Class A products for several other consumers shall obtain separate allotments from each.

Advance Allotments

(5) Advance allotments by Claimant Agencies or Industry Divisions to prime consumers may be made within specified limits before receipt of allotments from the Requirements Committee in order to assure fulfillment of long term programs and schedules. Prime consumers receiving such advance allotments may, in turn, make allotments to their secondary consumers, and secondary consumers may make further allotments, in the same manner as in the case of ordinary allotments, but no consumer shall make any allotment in advance of receiving his own allotment.

Allotment Numbers

(6) (i) Allotments to prime consumers shall be identified by allotment numbers consisting of a Claimant Agency letter symbol and seven digits. The Claimant Agency symbol is indicated after the name of each Agency in paragraph (b) (4) of this regulation. The first four digits identify the authorized program of the Claimant Agency. The next three digits identify the authorized production schedule of the prime consumer. The numerical identification of months and quarters as previously required is abolished. Allotments must show the quarter for which the allotment is valid—for example, "3rd quarter 1943" instead of "19". This may be abbreviated as "3Q43" and should appear immediately following the allotment number. Orders for controlled materials must indicate the month delivery is required instead of a month number—for example, "July, 1943." The change from the numerical system shall take effect on July 1, 1943, but shall not apply to orders placed, or allotments made, before then.

(ii) Allotments to secondary consumers shall be identified by an abbreviated allotment number consisting only of a major program identification. The major program identification shall consist of the Claimant Agency letter symbol followed by the first digit only of the program number (omitting the last three digits of the program number and the entire schedule number). For example, in the case of an allotment to a prime consumer for the third quarter of 1943, designated W-2345-687, the allotment to a secondary consumer will be simply W-2-3Q43 denoting an allotment for major program number 2 of the War Department for delivery of controlled materials in the third quarter of 1943.

BILLS OF MATERIALS AND APPLICATIONS FOR ALLOTMENTS

(d) This paragraph explains the use of bills of materials, applications for allotments and other information, in making allotments.

General

(1) The basis for an allotment to a consumer shall be his actual requirements for controlled materials in connection with the fulfillment of an authorized production schedule. The production schedule shall be authorized as provided in paragraph (n) of this regulation. Information as to requirements shall be in the form of a bill of materials, an application for allotment and/or other information as provided below in this paragraph (d).

Bills of Materials

(2) A bill of materials shows the amounts of controlled materials required by a consumer and his secondary consumers, irrespective of time of delivery and inventory, for production of one unit or a specified number of units of his product. Bills of materials shall be prepared in the manner specified in "General Instructions on Bills of Materials," on forms CMP-1, CMP-2 and CMP-3 or on such other forms as may be prescribed. No consumer shall be required to furnish a bill of materials on any form which is not officially prescribed (as indicated by a Bureau of Budget number), but in cases where another form is in use which gives the same information as the official form, the Claimant Agency, Industry Division or consumer to whom a bill of materials is to be furnished may accept it on such other form.

Application for Allotment

(3) An application for allotment shows the aggregate amount of each form of controlled material required (after taking inventories into account to the extent required by CMP Regulation No. 2) by a consumer and his secondary consumers during each quarter for his entire production of a specified product or class of products for the same customer, in the case of Class A products, or for all customers (unless otherwise directed) in the case of Class B products. Applications are to be made by manufacturers of Class A products on Form CMP-4A as issued by the appropriate Claimant Agency, and by manufacturers of Class B products on Form CMP-4B as issued by the War Production Board, or on such other forms as may be prescribed. Allotments are to be made on a quarterly basis and applications for allotments are also to be made on a quarterly basis, in lieu of a monthly basis as originally prescribed, except as may otherwise be required in any allotment or by the applicable application form.

Class B Components Not Included

(4) A bill of materials or application for allotment shall not include controlled materials required for manufacture of Class B products which will be incorporated in the product with respect to which the bill of material or application is submitted, although information as to the number or value of such Class B products is to be given in bills of materials to the extent required by the instructions.

MRO Excluded

(5) Requirements for maintenance, repair or operating supplies shall not be included in bills of materials or applications for allotment. Requirements for such purposes are to be obtained separately as provided in CMP Regulation No. 5, CMP Regulation No. 5 A and orders in the P and U series.

Where and When to File

(6) Bills of materials and applications for allotments shall be filed with the Claimant Agency, Industry Division or other consumer by whom the allotment is to be made, as indicated in paragraph (c) of this regulation. Bills of materials shall be filed only when and as called for by such Claimant Agency, Industry Division or other consumer. Manufacturers of Class A products shall file applications for allotments only when and as called for by the Claimant Agency or other consumer for whom they make their products. Manufacturers of Class B products who will require controlled materials from controlled materials producers (or whose secondary consumers will require the same) must file applications for allotments on Form CMP-4B by such date as may be designated or approved by the appropriate Industry Division (or in special cases by a Claimant Agency). Those manufacturers of Class B products who will obtain their requirements of controlled materials entirely from warehouses or retailers, and whose secondary consumers will do the same, need not file any applications for allotments. Procedures for obtaining controlled materials from warehouses or retailers, and limitations on the amount which may be obtained are provided in CMP Regulation No. 4. Manufacturers of Class A products who sell them for use as maintenance, repair or operating supplies, or deliver them to distributors, shall obtain allotments on Form CMP-4B as provided in paragraph (k-1) of this regulation.

Additional Information

(7) Each person making an allotment may require such other information in lieu of, or in addition to, a bill of materials or application for allotment as is required to enable him to make the allotment requested or to furnish any bill of materials, application for allotment or other information that may be required of him. If the consumer from whom such other information is requested is of the opinion that compliance with such request would be unreasonably burdensome he may appeal for relief as provided in paragraph (z) of this regulation.

Waiver

(8) Any consumer making an allotment may waive the furnishing of a bill of materials or application for allotment, or both, if he has other information as to actual requirements of his secondary consumers (taking into account the inventory restrictions of CMP Regulation No. 2) which is sufficiently accurate and detailed to enable him to make the allotment and to furnish any bill of materials, application for allotment or other information that may be required of him.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR STATEMENTS OF REQUIREMENTS

(e) (1) The furnishing of any bill of materials, application for allotment or other information as to requirements by a consumer, shall constitute a representation by him to the person to whom it is furnished, to the appropriate Claimant Agency and to the War Production Board, that the statements contained therein are complete and accurate, to the best of his knowledge and belief, not only with respect to such consumer's own requirements but also with respect to those of his secondary consumers.

(2) Any person who ascertains that he has substantially overstated (whether by inadvertence or otherwise) his requirementss, or those of his secondary consumers, for any form of controlled material, shall immediately report such error to the person to whom the statement of requirements was furnished. If he has already received an allotment based on such overstatement, he shall immediately cancel or reduce the same (or an equivalent amount of other allotments received for the same authorized production schedule) to the extent of such excess, and report such cancellation or reduction to the person from whom the allotment was received; or if he is unable for any reason to make such cancellation, he shall immediately make a full report to the person from whom he received the allotment, and shall send a copy of such report to the appropriate Claimant Agency or Industry Division, if the allotment was received from another consumer.

(3) If any consumer receives any statement of requirements which he knows or has reason to believe to be substantially excessive (whether by inadvertence or otherwise), he shall withhold any allotment based thereon (either entirely or in an amount sufficient to correct the maximum excess) until satisfied that the statement is not excessive or that it has been appropriately modified. If unable to obtain sufficient information or an appropriate modification, he shall promptly report the matter to the appropriate Claimant Agency or Industry Division. Failure to withhold allotments or to make such report shall be deemed participation in the offense.

(4) If, after making any allotment, a consumer ascertains or has reason to believe that the allotment was substantially in excess of actual requirements, he shall either (i) correct the excess by cancelling or reducing the allotment or other allotments made by him to the same consumer, or (ii) report the matter promptly to the appropriate Claimant Agency or Industry Division. Failure to make such correction or report shall be deemed participation in the offense.

(5) An inadvertent overstatement of requirements shall be deemed substantially excessive for purposes of subparagraphs (2), (3), and (4) of this paragraph (e) if, but only if, it exceeds actual requirements by either (i) one-third or more of actual requirements or (ii) the minimum mill quantity specified in Schedule IV attached, whichever is less.

FORMS IN WHICH ALLOTMENTS MADE

(f) Each allotment, whether made by a Claimant Agency, an Industry Division or a prime or a secondary consumer, shall specify the form of the controlled material allotted. Allotments of steel shall be in terms of (1) carbon steel (including wrought iron) and (2) alloy steel, without further breakdown. Allotments of copper and aluminum shall be broken down as indicated in Schedule I. A consumer may make allotments only in the same forms of controlled materials in which he has received his allotment.

ALLOTMENTS BY CONSUMERS

(g) (1) No consumer shall make any allotment in an amount which exceeds the related allotment received by him, after deducting all other allotments made by him and all orders for controlled materials placed by him pursuant to his related allotment.

(2) No consumer shall make any allotment in excess of the amount required, to the best of his knowledge and belief, to fulfill the related authorized production schedule of the secondary consumer to whom the allotment is made (including the schedules of any secondary consumers supplying the latter).

(3) No consumer shall make any allotment for the production of Class B products and no person shall accept any allotment from a consumer for the production of Class B products, except as permitted by Direction 36 to CMP Regulation No. 1.

(4) No consumer who has received his allotment for an authorized production schedule shall place any delivery order (other than small orders placed pursuant to paragraph (l) of this regulation) for any Class A product required to fulfill said schedule, unless concurrently therewith, he makes an allotment to the person with whom the order is placed, in the amount required by such person to fill said order (taking such person's inventory into account to the extent required by CMP Regulation No. 2); Provided, however, That if he purchases a Class A product from a distributor under the conditions specified in paragraph (k–1) of this regulation, he need make no allotment.

METHODS OF ALLOTMENT

(h) (1) A consumer may make an allotment to his secondary consumer on such form (including Form CMP–5 set forth in Schedule II) as may be prescribed for the purpose. Allotments may be made by telegraphing the information required by the appropriate form and confirming the same with such form.

2. Every consumer shall place on each allotment made by him the allotment number which is on the related allotment received by him, and shall indicate the quarter for which the allotment is valid, except that if the full allotment number described in subdivision (i) of paragraph (c) (6) of this regulation is on the allotment received by him, he need only place on related allotments made by him the abbreviated allotment number described in subdivision (ii) of paragraph (c) (6). If a consumer places a delivery order for which he has made an allotment by separate instrument, he shall place the appropriate number on said order, and shall indicate the quarter for which the allotment is valid.

METHOD OF CANCELLING OR REDUCING ALLOTMENTS

(i) A person who has made an allotment may cancel or reduce the same by notice in writing to the person to whom it was made. A person who has received an allotment may cancel or reduce the same by making an appropriate notation thereon and notifying the person from whom he received it. In either case, if an allotment received by a person is cancelled he must cancel all allotments which he has made, and all authorized controlled material orders which he has placed, on the basis of the allotment; and, if an allotment received by a person is reduced, he must cancel or reduce allotments which he has made, or authorized controlled material orders which he has placed, to the extent that the same exceed his allotment as reduced. If such cancellation or reduction is not practicable, he may make equivalent cancellations or reductions with respect to other allotments received by him for the same production schedule. Where such course of action is not practicable he may use or dispose of controlled materials or Class A products which he gets with an allotment in the way explained in paragraph (u) of this regulation.

ASSIGNMENT OF ALLOTMENTS

(j) (1) No consumer shall transfer or assign any allotment in any way unless:

(i) Delivery orders placed with him, in connection with which the allotment was made to him, have been transferred or assigned to another consumer;

(ii) The authorized production schedules of the respective consumers have been duly adjusted; and

(iii) The transfer or assignment is approved in writing by the person who made the allotment.

(2) Transfers or assignments of allotments may be made without complying with paragraph (j) (1) of this regulation in connection with the transfer or assignment of a business as a going concern where the transferee continues to operate substantially the same business in the same plant. The transferee may use the allotment and ratings of the transferor but the transferee must notify the War Production Board of the details of the transaction, giving the names of the persons involved.

GROUPING OF ALLOTMENTS AND SCHEDULES BY MAJOR PROGRAMS

(k) A consumer operating under several authorized production schedules may combine in a single allotment to a secondary consumer requirements for any number of different production schedules which are identified by the same major program number as provided in paragraph (c) (6) (ii), and he may authorize a single production schedule for the secondary consumer in connection with such allotment. If the secondary consumer has filed separate applications, and the consumer making the allotment acts on such applications separately, the secondary consumer may nevertheless treat such allotments and authorized production schedules bearing the same major program number as a single allotment and a single authorized production schedule.

CLASS A PRODUCTS SOLD TO DISTRIBUTORS OR FOR MRO

(k–1) (1) A distributor of Class A products who receives physical delivery thereof may, unless otherwise specifically ordered, buy and sell the same without making or receiving allotments. A manufacturer of Class A products selling them directly or indirectly to such distributors may obtain an allotment for such manufacture from the appropriate Industry Division pursuant to application on Form CMP–4B in the same manner as if they were Class B products. If physical delivery is made directly by the manufacturer to a distributor's customer, the latter (unless he is also a distributor) shall make an allotment directly to the manufacturer in the same manner and subject to the same conditions as if the distributor had no part in the transaction.

(2) A manufacturer of Class A products who sells them for use as maintenance, repair or operating supplies (except items directly purchased and programmed by a Claimant Agency) shall, unless otherwise specifically ordered, obtain allotments for such manufacture in the same manner as provided in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (k–1) for delivery to distributors. Applications pursuant to said subparagraph (1) and this subparagraph (2) may be combined in a single application on Form CMP–4B.

(3) A manufacturer who also sells purchased Class A products to round out his line, which do not represent more than 10% of his total sales, shall be deemed the manufacturer of such products and not a distributor for purposes of this paragraph (k–1).

SMALL ORDER PROCEDURE

(l) This paragraph explains how orders for Class A products requiring small quantities of controlled materials may be placed without making an allotment.

Definition of Small Order

(1) A "small order" for purposes of this regulation is a delivery order for a Class A product placed with a manufacturer where the amount of any controlled material required to fill the order does not exceed the following:

Carbon steel (including wrought iron)	3 tons.
Alloy steel	1,200 pounds.
Copper and copper base alloys	300 pounds.
Aluminum	500 pounds.

The small order procedure may not be used to get from all suppliers more of the same Class A product for use in the same authorized production schedule during the same calendar quarter than can be made out of the quantities of controlled materials shown above. A person may place small orders for delivery in any one calendar quarter for any number of different Class A products, provided the quantities of controlled materials for each Class A product are within these limits.

(2) A Class A product is considered different from another Class A product if it differs from the other product by reason of one or more of its specifications such as width, thickness, temper, alloy, finish, and the like. A person must not, however, vary a minor specification just for the purpose of using the small order procedure. For example, if a person is purchasing several different kinds of springs, he may treat each different type or size of spring as a separate Class A product, and orders placed for each type or size which require controlled materials for their production within the quantity limits specified in paragraph (1) above constitute small orders, but he must not vary the specifications of the springs just to be able to place small orders.

Persons Entitled to Use the Small Order Procedure

(3) Only a prime consumer who has received an authorized production schedule from a Claimant Agency or the War Production Board, or a secondary consumer who has received an authorized production schedule from a prime consumer or from another secondary consumer, can use the small order procedure to get Class A products needed as production material to fill the authorized production schedule. A Claimant Agency may use the small order procedure to purchase Class A products for its own use.

How to Place Small Orders for Class A Products

(4) A person placing a small order does not have to make an allotment and therefore does not have to show any allotment number or quarterly designation on his order. He must endorse his order with the symbol SO, the preference rating assigned his production schedule, and either the certification set out in CMP Regulation No. 7 or the one set out in CMP Regulation No. 3. Since he does not make an allotment he does not have to account for controlled materials purchased to fill the order and does not need to make any deduction from his own allotment. A person, in filing an application for allotments, need make no adjustment for controlled materials needed to make Class A products which he may buy under the small order procedure.

(5) Where a person places orders for a particular Class A product under the small order procedure believing his total requirements for the product during the quarter will be within the small order limits and later discovers that, due to circumstances he could not reasonably have foreseen, his total requirements for the product during the quarter will not be within the small order limits, he may still use the small order procedure, but must charge his allotment account with the total quantity of controlled materials needed to fill all orders for the product to be delivered in the quarter. However, if he does not have enough controlled materials in his allotment account to cover all of his orders for the product, he must not use the small order procedure to buy the addjtional quantity, but may apply for an allotment to make up the difference.

How to Obtain Production Materials to Fill Small Orders

(6) A manufacturer of Class A products who receives small orders may get controlled materials needed to fill them by endorsing his purchase orders for controlled materials with the allotment symbol SO and the certification set out in paragraph (s) (3) of this regulation or the certification set out in CMP Regulation No. 7. An order so endorsed is an authorized controlled material order. The manufacturer does not have to show any quarterly designation, or preference rating on the order. He must show the date or month when he needs to have the controlled material delivered to him either for the production of the product ordered under the small order procedure or to replace in inventory controlled material so used. If a manufacturer uses controlled materials from inventory in filling small orders, he may place authorized controlled material orders, endorsed with the SO symbol, calling for delivery of controlled materials after the small orders were delivered to his customer. He may use the SO symbol and extend his customers' ratings to get Class A products needed to fill small orders. A manufacturer of Class A products may, in buying controlled materials or Class A products to be used in filling small orders for his product, combine the requirements to fill all small orders received by him. Where, in combining requirements for Class A products to fill small orders, the total amount of controlled materials required for their production is greater than the amounts shown in subparagraph (1) above, he should let his supplier know that this results from combining requirements, by endorsing on his order a statement substantially as follows:

The Class A products covered by this purchase order represent the combined requirements to fill SO orders received by me.

(7) Materials other than controlled materials, and Class B products required to fill small orders may be purchased subject to the same limits as apply to an authorized production schedule, that is they may only be ordered for delivery at the time and in the quantities necessary to meet the delivery dates specified on the small orders, subject to the inventory limits set forth in Priorities Regulation No. 1. The rating applied to deliveries of Class A products covered by a small order may be used to buy Class A products, Class B products and materials other than controlled materials, needed to fill the order. The symbol SO must be endorsed together with the rating on all orders for such production materials.

(8) If a customer placing a small order makes an allotment to cover it instead of using the symbol SO, the manufacturer who receives the order may treat the order as a small order just as though it had been endorsed with the symbol SO and no allotment had been made. He must not, however, use the allotment in such a case. In other words, a manufacturer of a Class A product receiving an allotment of controlled materials which is within the small order controlled material quantity limits has the option of either using the allotment and allotment number, or the small order procedure, but not both. A manufacturer who receives a small allotment which he chooses to treat as a small order, does not have to return the allotment or keep any record of its receipt.

Production Records

(9) A manufacturer of Class A products must keep records which will show the amount of controlled materials ordered by the use of the SO symbol, and his production records must be accurate enough to show that the quantity of Class A products produced to fill small orders is reasonably related to the amount of controlled materials bought by the use of the SO symbol.

Bill of Materials Not Required

(10) A manufacturer of a Class A product does not have to furnish his customer with a bill of materials, application for allotment, or equivalent information as to the amount of controlled materials needed to fill any particular small order. He must, however, if requested, tell his customer the number of units of the Class A product ordered which he can manufacture within the limits of the quantities of controlled materials set forth in subparagraph (1) above, or he must, at the option of his customer, inform the customer that the amount of each controlled material needed to fill the order is within the permitted small order limits.

RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN ALLOTMENTS AND PRODUCTION SCHEDULES

(m) Every allotment made by a consumer must include or be accompanied by authorization of a production schedule with respect to the products to be supplied to him, and no consumer shall authorize a production schedule for a secondary consumer unless he concurrently allots the controlled materials required to fulfill the schedule; provided, however, that this paragraph shall not apply to any delivery order bearing a symbol (such as a small order bearing the symbol SO) which may be placed without making an allotment as expressly permitted by any regulation or order of the War Production Board.

MANNER OF AUTHORIZING PRODUCTION SCHEDULES

(n) (1) A production schedule for each prime consumer producing a Class A product shall be authorized by the appropriate Claimant Agency on such form as may be prescribed. A Claimant Agency may, in particular cases, authorize a production schedule through an Industry Division.

(2) A production schedule for each secondary consumer producing a Class A product shall be authorized by the consumer for whom such Class A product is to be produced, on such form as may be prescribed; provided, however, that the delivery date specified on a delivery order shall constitute an authorization of the minimum production schedule required to permit delivery on such date.

(3) A production schedule for each consumer producing a Class B product shall be authorized by the appropriate Industry Division (or in special cases by a Claimant Agency) on such form as may be prescribed.

(4) A consumer receiving allotments from several persons shall obtain separate authorized production schedules from each.

(5) Prior to authorizing a production schedule, a Claimant Agency, Industry Division or consumer may furnish a tentative production schedule to be used as a basis in submitting requirements, but such action shall not constitute authorization of a schedule.

AUTHORIZED PRODUCTION SCHEDULES MUST BE FILLED

(o) (1) Each consumer receiving an authorized production schedule shall fulfill the same unless prevented by circumstances beyond his control, except that a manufacturer of Class B products need not produce more than required to fill orders bearing preference ratings.

(2) No consumer who has received an authorized production schedule shall exceed such schedule in any month, except that (i) a deficiency in meeting an authorized production schedule during any month may be made up in any subsequent month or months, (ii) production authorized for any month may be completed at any time after the 15th of the preceding month and, (iii) where a delivery order calls for deliveries, on several dates, of Class A products in quantities which are less than the minimum practicable production quantity, and compliance with monthly production schedules would result in substantial interruption of production and consequent interference with production to fill other delivery orders, the consumer may produce (and his customer may order and receive) at one time the minimum practicable quantity which may be made without such interference. A person shall be deemed to exceed an authorized production schedule if his completion of finished products exceeds the limits authorized, or if his rate of fabricating, assembling, or otherwise processing, or acquiring raw materials or parts, exceeds the practicable working minimum required to meet the authorized production schedule.

(3) [Deleted October 4, 1943]

PROTECTION OF CLASS A PRODUCT SCHEDULES

(p) (1) No person shall accept an allotment for the manufacture of a Class A product, regardless of the accompanying preference rating, if he does not expect to be able to fulfill the related authorized production schedule, subject to unexpected contingencies and to any period of grace which may be specified by the person who offers the allotment and the authorized schedule.

(2) No person who has accepted an allotment and an authorized production schedule for a Class A product shall thereafter accept any delivery order (except an order rated AAA) for any Class A, Class B or other product manufactured by him, regardless of the accompanying preference rating or allotment number or symbol, unless he expects that, subject to unexpected contingencies, he can fill the order without interfering with the fulfillment of such previously accepted authorized production schedule.

(3) A person making Class B products to fill unrated or low rated orders must accept higher rated orders to the extent and subject to the exceptions provided in Priorities Regulation No. 1, unless he is also making a Class A product on an authorized production schedule, with which such higher rated orders would interfere contrary to the provisions of subparagraph (2) above.

(4) If a person whose allotment or delivery order is rejected pursuant to this paragraph (p) is unable to find another supplier who is in a position to accept it, he should report the facts to the appropriate Claimant Agency or Industry Division. The War Production Board (or the appropriate Claimant Agency, if only orders bearing its symbol are involved, or if all Claimant Agencies concerned have stipulated a single Claimant Agency for the purpose) may make exceptions to the provisions of this paragraph (p) where necessary to assure the filling of orders bearing high preference ratings.

(5) The provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1 with respect to the acceptance and filling of rated orders and the sequence of deliveries shall remain applicable except as otherwise specifically provided in this regulation, CMP Regulation No. 3, or any other applicable regulation or order of the War Production Board.

RECONCILIATION OF CONFLICTING SCHEDULES

(q) In any case where, for any reason, a manufacturer of Class A or Class B products is unable to fulfill conflicting authorized production schedules which he has accepted from different persons, he shall immediately report to the appropriate Industry Division for directions, except that such report shall be made to a Claimant Agency if all conflicting schedules bear its symbol or if all Claimant Agencies whose schedules conflict have stipulated a single Claimant Agency for such purposes. (See Interpretation No. 15 to CMP Regulation No. 1.)

ALTERNATIVE PROCEDURE FOR SIMULTANEOUS ALLOTMENTS

(r) A prime or secondary consumer who has several secondary consumers in different degrees of remoteness and finds it impracticable to determine the exact allotments to be made to each of his immediate secondary consumers, for their needs and those of their secondary consumers, may, at his option, make simultaneous direct allotments to each secondary consumer, of all degrees of remoteness, by adopting the following procedure:

(1) The consumer who is to make the allotment (hereafter in this paragraph (r) called the originating consumer) shall maintain a complete list of all secondary consumers making Class A products for incorporation in his product. He shall keep this list current at all times by requiring each of his immediate secondary consumers to report promptly to him any change with respect to the source of each secondary consumer's Class A purchased products.

(2) Immediately upon receiving an allotment, the originating consumer shall notify each secondary consumer on the list (either directly or through intervening secondary consumers) of the authorized schedule for which the allotment has been made to him. Such notice shall not include an allotment number. It shall identify the product to be delivered by the secondary consumer to whom the notice is sent and state the quantity to be delivered and the time when delivery is required.

(3) Promptly upon receipt of such preliminary notice, each secondary consumer shall report to the originating consumer directly (not through intervening secondary consumers), the amount of each form of controlled material required by him each month in order to make the deliveries indicated. Each such secondary consumer shall include only his own requirements of controlled materials, not those of his secondary consumers. No form is prescribed for such statement.

(4) The originating consumer shall then determine the total requirements of all his secondary consumers under the schedule, checking the list to make certain that a preliminary statement of requirements has been received from each secondary consumer.

(5) If such summary shows that the aggregate requirements of the originating consumer and all his secondary consumers for each form of controlled material do not exceed the allotment made to him for the schedule he may then allot directly to each secondary consumer on the list the amount indicated in the preliminary statement of requirements. No form is prescribed for such allotment, and it may be made by telegram, but it must include the allotment number required by paragraph (c) (6) (ii) of this regulation and must show the quarter for which the allotment is valid, and a statement substantially as follows: "This allotment is made in accordance with the alternative procedure for simultaneous allotments provided in paragraph (r) of CMP Regulation No. 1." Such allotment shall constitute authorization of a production schedule for the secondary consumer in the amount specified in the notice sent to him pursuant to subparagraph (2) of this paragraph (r). If aggregate requirements do not exceed his allotment, the originating consumer shall be under no obligation to check the accuracy of the preliminary statements received from his secondary consumers before making allotments to them, but otherwise he and his secondary consumers shall remain subject to the provisions of paragraph (e) of this regulation regarding responsibility for statements of requirements.

(6) If the summary shows that the aggregate requirements of the originating consumer and all his secondary consumers exceed the allotment made to him with respect to any form of controlled material, the originating consumer shall not make any allotment or place any authorized controlled material order for the production schedule covered by his allotment until and unless:

(i) Requirements have been revised by himself or by one or more of his secondary consumers to the extent necessary to eliminate such excess, or

(ii) With the express permission of the appropriate Claimant Agency or Industry Division after he has reported the facts to it, he withholds an amount sufficient to cover all adjustments which must be made in the requirements of his secondary consumers in order to bring them within his allotment.

HOW TO PLACE ORDERS WITH CONTROLLED MATERIALS PRODUCERS

(s) (1) A delivery order placed with a controlled materials producer for controlled material shall be deemed an authorized controlled material order if, but only if, it complies with the provisions of this paragraph (s) or is specifically designated as an authorized controlled material order by any regulation or order of the War Production Board.

(2) A consumer who has received an allotment may place an authorized controlled material order with any controlled materials producer, unless otherwise specifically directed. An allotment to a prime consumer may include a direction to place delivery orders for controlled materials with one or more designated controlled materials producers. In such event the consumer shall use the allotment only to obtain controlled materials from the designated controlled materials producer or producers or to make allotments to secondary consumers, designating therein only producers named in the allotment received by him. Except as required by the allotment which he has received, no consumer shall impose any such restriction in any allotment made by him.

(3) Every authorized controlled material order must be identified by an endorsement including an allotment number or symbol. Unless another form of endorsement is specifically prescribed by an applicable order or regulation of the War Production Board, such endorsement shall be in substantially the following form (or in the form prescribed in CMP Regulation No. 7), signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7:

The undersigned certifies, subject to the criminal penalties of Section 35 (A) of the U. S. Criminal Code, that he has received an allotment or allotments of controlled materials (or delivery orders not requiring allotments) authorizing him, pursuant to CMP Regulation No. 1, to place an authorized controlled material order in the amount herein indicated for delivery in the month specified, and that he is authorized to use the allotment number -------

The allotment number included in such endorsement shall be the abbreviated allotment number prescribed by paragraph (c) (6) (ii) of this regulation. Each such order must indicate a specific delivery month in the quarter for which the allotment is valid and need not show the month number as originally prescribed. For example, if a consumer receives an allotment bearing the number W-2-3Q43 and places an authorized controlled material order calling for delivery in August, 1943, the order shall bear the number W-2-3Q43. An authorized controlled material order placed under paragraph (l) of this regulation, relating to small orders, should be endorsed in the way described in paragraph (l) (6) of this regulation.

(4) A delivery order for controlled material must be in sufficient detail to permit entry on mill schedules and must be received by the controlled materials producer at such time in advance as is specified in Schedule III attached, or at such later time as the controlled materials producer may find it practicable to accept the same, provided that no controlled materials producer shall discriminate between customers in rejecting or accepting late orders.

(5) [Deleted October 4, 1943. Obsolete.]

(6) [Deleted Sept. 17, 1943.]

(7) No person shall place an authorized controlled material order unless the amount of controlled material ordered is within the related allotment received by him, after deducting all allotments made by him and all orders for the controlled material placed by him pursuant to the same allotment, or unless he is expressly authorized to place such an order by any applicable regulation or order of the War Production Board.

RESTRICTIONS ON PLACING AUTHORIZED CONTROLLED MATERIAL ORDERS

(s-1) In no event shall a consumer request delivery of any controlled material in a greater amount or on an earlier date than required to fill his authorized production schedule, or in an amount so large or on a date so early that receipt of such amount on the requested date would result in his having an inventory of controlled materials in excess of the limitations prescribed by CMP Regulation No. 2 or by any other applicable regulation or order of the War Production Board. No consumer shall, however, be required by the provisions of this paragraph (s-1) to reduce a delivery order below the minimum mill quantity specified in Schedule IV.

CONTROLLED MATERIALS PRODUCERS

(t) This paragraph deals with the obligations of controlled materials producers under the Controlled Materials Plan.

Production Directives

(1) Each controlled materials producer shall comply with such production directives as may be issued from time to time by the War Production Board.

Acceptance and Rejection of Orders

(2) A controlled materials producer shall accept authorized controlled material orders in the order in which received by him except:

(i) He may reject orders for less than the minimum mill quantities specified in Schedule IV attached, but shall not discriminate between customers in rejecting or accepting such orders.

(ii) In any case where he is of the opinion that the filling of the order would substantially reduce his over-all production owing to the large or small size of the order, unusual specifications, or otherwise, he shall apply to the appropriate Controlled Materials Division. The War Production Board may direct that the order be placed with another supplier or take other appropriate action.

(iii) He shall refuse any order for shipment of any product in any month if such order, together with all his authorized controlled material orders already on hand for delivery during that month and any orders carried over from the preceding month, plus such amounts as he may be directed by the War Production Board to deliver or set aside for delivery to warehouses or nonintegrated mills or otherwise, total 110% of the production of such product specified in his production directive, or, if no production directive is currently in effect with respect to such product, total 105% of his expected production. As soon as such limits of 110% and 105% respectively have been reached, each controlled materials producer shall promptly notify the appropriate Controlled Materials Division in writing, unless he has received contrary instructions from the War Production Board.

(iv) He shall reject orders to the extent required by specific direction of the War Production Board.

(3) A controlled materials producer must reject any new order for any controlled material unless he is permitted to fill it under this paragraph. A controlled materials producer shall not deliver any controlled material except to fill:

(i) An authorized controlled material order;

(ii) A sample order. A sample order must be supported by the purchaser's certificate that he will use the material solely for testing purposes (in connection with war production). On orders for steel (except stainless steel, tool steel and steel castings) the purchaser must also certify that the total amount received and on order for delivery within any calendar quarter does not exceed 1,000 pounds of any composition nor a total of 3,000 pounds of all compositions. On orders for other controlled materials (including stainless steel, tool steel and steel castings) the aggregate amount of any item delivered by any producer to any one purchaser in any one month shall not exceed 1% of the minimum mill quantity prescribed with respect to such item in Schedule IV of this regulation;

(iii) An order which he is authorized or required to fill by any written direction of the War Production Board.

If a controlled materials producer takes controlled materials which he has produced and processes them into a form other than a controlled materials form, such processing shall be considered a delivery for the purposes of this paragraph (t). In addition, if a controlled materials producer takes aluminum produced by him and processes it into certain other forms of controlled material as provided in Direction 8 under this regulation, delivery for such processing (or such processing if there is actually no delivery) shall also be considered a delivery for the purposes of this paragraph (t).

Time for Delivery—Postponed Deliveries

(4) A controlled materials producer shall make delivery on each authorized controlled material order as close to the requested delivery date as is practicable in view of the need for maximum production and compliance with production schedules. He may make delivery during the 15 days prior to the requested delivery month, but not before then, provided such delivery does not interfere with delivery on authorized controlled material orders calling for shipment in such preceding month, or earlier months and provided production to meet such delivery would not violate any production directive. If a producer, after accepting an order within the limits of paragraph (t) (2) (iii) finds that, due to contingencies which he could not reasonably have foreseen, he is obliged to postpone the delivery date, he must promptly advise his customer of the approximate date when delivery can be scheduled, and keep his customer advised of any changes in that date. Delivery of any such carry-over order for steel or copper must be scheduled and made in preference to any order for similar material originally scheduled for a later month. The time of production and delivery of any such carry-over order for aluminum is covered in Direction No. 23 to this regulation. When the new date for delivery on a carry-over order falls within a later quarter than that indicated on the original order, the producer must make delivery on the basis of the original order even if that order shows that the allotment was valid for a quarter earlier than the one in which delivery is actually to be made. When directed by the War Production Board, a controlled materials producer must promptly notify the appropriate Controlled Materials Division of all carry-over orders on his books, giving allotment numbers, names of customers and material covered by the carry-over orders.

Tentative Acceptance of Authorized Controlled Material Orders

(5) If a producer is unable to accept an order for the month requested because of the restrictions of paragraph (t) (2) (iii), but has open space available in either of the two following months, the producer must accept and schedule the order for delivery as early as possible in either of the two following months and must promptly notify the customer of the proposed delivery date and tell him that the order has been accepted subject to written confirmation within seven days. If the customer does not have written confirmation of the new delivery date in the producer's hands within seven days after the date on which the notice of tentative acceptance was sent, the producer must cancel the order. If the new delivery date falls within a later quarter than that shown on the original authorized controlled material order the confirmation has no effect unless it is accompanied by the customer's certification that he has an allotment valid for the new quarter, in which case the customer must charge the order against that allotment. The confirmation and certification may be by letter or telegram. If made by letter, the letter must be signed by a person authorized to sign the form of certification required on authorized controlled material orders and if made by telegram a copy must be signed by such a person and held in the customer's file.

Directions by the War Production Board

(6) All directions to controlled materials producers affecting production and distribution of controlled materials shall be issued by the War Production Board.

Commercial Tolerances

(7) If the controlled material delivered pursuant to an authorized controlled material order varies from the exact amount specified in the authorized controlled material order, the making and acceptance of such delivery shall not be deemed a violation of this regulation or any other CMP Regulation by the controlled materials producer or his customer, provided such variation does not exceed the commercially recognized shipping tolerance, or allowance for excess or shortage.

Authorized Controlled Material Order Is Not an Allotment

(8) An authorized controlled material order shall not constitute an allotment of controlled material to the controlled materials producer with whom it is placed. If a controlled materials producer requires delivery of controlled materials from other controlled materials producers, to be processed by him and sold to his customers in another form or shape constituting a controlled material, such delivery may be made or accepted only pursuant to a specific direction as provided in subparagraph (3) (iii) of this paragraph (t) or pursuant to allotment as provided in CMP Regulation No. 8. Specific instructions will inform a controlled materials producer whether to apply for a direction by letter or for an allotment pursuant to CMP Regulation No. 8.

RESTRICTIONS ON USE OF ALLOTMENTS AND MATERIALS

(u) This paragraph explains the restrictions on the use of allotments and controlled materials or Class A products obtained with an allotment.

Use of Allotments

(1) A consumer must not use an allotment to buy any controlled materials or Class A products except (i) what he needs to fill the authorized production schedule for which the allotment was made or (ii) what he needs to fill any of his other authorized production schedules, within the same plant or operating unit, which bear the same Claimant Agency letter symbol, or (iii) to replace in inventory controlled materials or Class A products used to fill any of such authorized production schedules. The symbols W and O are considered the same Claimant Agency letter symbol for purposes of this paragraph. However, each of the other letter symbols are considered separate Claimant Agency letter symbols. In no case may a consumer use an allotment for any purpose which would interfere with filling the schedule for which the allotment was made. Where an allotment made for one schedule is used in filling another schedule in the same plant or operating unit and identified by the same Claimant Agency letter symbol, no charge need be made against the allotment account of the second schedule, but an appropriate record must be made, on the allotment accounts or otherwise, describing the circumstances.

Return of Allotments

(2) If a consumer's needs for a controlled material or Class A product are reduced before he has ordered or received delivery of them and he does not need to use his allotment for another one of his authorized production schedules bearing the same Claimant Agency letter symbol, or for inventory replacement, as permitted in subparagraph (1) above, he must immediately return the allotment as explained in paragraph (w). If he has already placed authorized controlled material orders or made allotments on the basis of his allotment at the time he learns of the reduction in his needs, he must cancel them. If it is too late to cancel the orders, he may receive delivery of the controlled materials and Class A products, in which case his use of them is covered by subparagraph (3) below.

Use of Materials and Products Obtained With Allotments

(3) If a consumer has received physical delivery of controlled materials or Class A products pursuant to an allotment, he may use them for the same purposes for which he is permitted to use the allotment as provided in subparagraph (1) above. Also, if it develops, after he has actually received delivery, or when it is too late to prevent delivery, that he does not need them for a purpose permitted under subparagraph (1) above he may (i) sell them under Priorities Regulation No. 13, relating to sales of idle or excess stocks, or under WPB Directive 16, relating to aircraft inventory transfers, or (ii) use them on any of his other authorized production schedules having an unused allotment big enough to cover the amount of materials involved. If he uses the materials on another authorized production schedule he must, unless the second schedule is filled in the same plant or operating unit and is identified by the same Claimant Agency letter symbol, charge the quantity transferred from the first schedule against the allotment account of the second schedule and an appropriate record must be made, on the allotment accounts or otherwise, describing the circumstances.

Specific Instructions

(4) If, before using or selling controlled materials or Class A products in a way permitted by this paragraph (u), the consumer receives directions from the War Production Board as to disposition or use of the same, he must comply with such directions. Also, he must comply with any directions he receives from a Claimant Agency with respect to his use of controlled materials or Class A products which he got by use of an allotment from that Claimant Agency, in any program of the same Claimant Agency, or with respect to their sale to any other person for use in a program of the same Claimant Agency, subject always to whatever rights he may have to reimbursement.

Common Inventories

(5) A consumer need not segregate inventories of controlled materials or Class A products which he gets by use of his allotments, even though different allotment numbers are used in ordering them, nor does he have to earmark them for a particular schedule. Although a consumer must charge the appropriate allotment account when placing an authorized controlled material order or making an allotment, he may keep all controlled materials and Class A products received in a common inventory and in withdrawing from inventory he does not have to charge the withdrawal against the allotment account. A consumer who is operating under several authorized production schedules need not maintain separate records of the production obtained from the allotment received for each schedule if the records which he normally keeps show that his use of material for his respective schedules is substantially proportionate to the amounts of material allotted for each and that his aggregate production of any product does not exceed the aggregate of the production schedules authorized for that product.

ADJUSTMENTS FOR PURCHASES UNDER PRIORITIES REGULATION 13

(v) A consumer must charge his allotment account with the amount of materials purchased under Priorities Regulation 13 unless that regulation says he does not have to do so.

WHAT TO DO IF REQUIREMENTS CHANGE

(w) This paragraph explains what to do if requirements increase or decrease.

Supplementary Applications

(1) If a consumer's requirements for controlled materials or Class A products needed to fill a schedule are increased after he receives his allotment, he may apply for an additional allotment to the person who made the allotment for that schedule.

Periodic Check-up on Allotments and Return of Excess

(2) As explained in paragraph (e), if a consumer finds that he has been allotted substantially more than he needs, he must return the excess. As of the first of each month, each consumer must check up on his anticipated requirements for the quarter and determine whether he has been allotted substantially more than he anticipates he needs. If he has, he must return the excess by the tenth of the month. He need not take a physical inventory for this purpose, but must merely check up on the effect of known changes in his requirements or errors which he has discovered in his statement of requirements. As of the end of each quarter, he must determine whether he has used his entire allotment by placing authorized controlled material orders or making allotments to his secondary consumers and, if he has any excess, however small, he must return it by the tenth day after the close of the quarter.

To Whom Returns Made—Form CMP–32

(3) The return of an unneeded allotment must be made to the person from whom the allotment was received. The return of unused allotment balances to be made within ten days after the end of the quarter must be made to the Claimant Agency or Industry Division originating the allotment. Form CMP–32, available at all War Production Board offices, should be used for this purpose, but if it is impractical to get this form, the return may be made by letter. Attention is called to Direction No. 26 to CMP Regulation No. 1, which explains when allotments may be returned by a secondary consumer directly to a Claimant Agency or Industry Division rather than to the person making the allotment. The Direction also gives the addresses to which returns to Claimant Agencies or the War Production Board should be sent.

OTHER WAR PRODUCTION BOARD REGULATIONS AND ORDERS

(x) Nothing in this regulation (or any other CMP regulation) shall be construed to relieve any person from complying with any applicable priorities regulation or any order of the War Production Board (including orders in the "E", "L," "M" and "P" series). In case compliance by any person with the provisions of any such regulation or order would prevent fulfillment of an authorized production schedule, he should immediately report the matter to the appropriate Industry Division, and to the Claimant Agency whose schedule is affected. The War Production Board will thereupon take such action as is deemed appropriate, but unless and until otherwise expressly authorized or directed by the War Production Board, such person shall comply with the provisions of such regulation or order.

RECORDS AND REPORTS

(y) (1) Each consumer making or receiving any allotment of controlled materials shall maintain at his regular place of business accurate records of all allotments received, of procurement pursuant to all allotments, and of the subdivision of all allotments among his direct secondary consumers. Such records shall be kept separately by abbreviated allotment numbers, as provided in paragraph (c) (6) (ii) of this regulation, and shall include separate entries under each number for each customer, Claimant Agency or Industry Division from whom allotments are received under such number.

(2) Each controlled materials producer shall report to the appropriate Controlled Materials Division, on the forms and for the periods prescribed, such information on production, consumption and distribution of controlled materials as may be prescribed by the War Production Board.

(3) Each prime or secondary consumer and each controlled materials producer shall retain for two years at his regular place of business all documents on which he relies as entitling him to make or receive an allotment or to deliver or accept delivery of controlled materials or Class A products, segregated and available for inspection by representatives of the War Production Board, or Claimant Agencies, or filed in such manner that they can be readily segregated and made available for such inspection.

APPEALS AND APPLICATIONS FOR RELIEF

(z) (1) Any person who is subject to any requirement of any regulation, direction, order or other action under the Controlled Materials Plan, may appeal for relief by filing a letter in triplicate with the appropriate authority specified below in this paragraph (z), setting forth the pertinent facts and the reasons why such person considers that he is entitled to relief.

(2) Except as provided in subparagraphs (3) and (4) of this paragraph (z) or as otherwise specifically directed, an appeal by a producer of Class A products should be filed with the appropriate Claimant Agency, and an appeal by a producer of Class B products should be filed with the appropriate Industry Division, unless the matter affects only production schedules of a single Claimant Agency or where a single Claimant Agency has been stipulated for the purpose by all Claimant Agencies whose schedules are affected, in which case the appeal should be filed with such Claimant Agency.

(3) An appeal concerning the operations of a controlled materials producer (whether filed by such producer, by a consumer, or by a Claimant Agency) should be filed with the appropriate Controlled Materials Division.

(4) A producer of Class B products may apply for permission to be treated as a producer of Class A products. A producer of Class A products making a large variety of items which are sold to many customers and whose allotments originate from several Claimant Agencies, may make application to be treated as a producer of Class B products, but such permission will not be granted with reference to component parts or sub-assemblies, unless the necessary adjustments in bills of materials which include such component parts or sub-assemblies can be made without difficulty. Application for reclassification should be filed with the CMP Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., and may be filed either directly by the producer or by a Claimant Agency on his behalf.

(5) In case of any disagreement between any persons as to the interpretation of any provisions of this regulation or any other regulation, direction, or order under the Controlled Materials Plan, the matter should be referred to the CMP Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C.

PENALTIES

(aa) Any person who willfully purports to make any allotment of controlled materials or to place authorized controlled material orders in excess of the amount allotted to him, or violates any other provision of this regulation, or any other regulation, direction or order under the Controlled Materials Plan, or who knowingly or willfully makes any false or fraudulent statement or representation with respect to requirements for controlled materials or in any other matter under the jurisdiction of any agency of the United States under the Controlled Materials Plan, is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by a fine up to $10,000 or by imprisonment or both. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries or allotments of controlled material or from making or obtaining any further deliveries of, or from processing or using, any material under priorities control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 2d day of February 1944.

INTERPRETATION 1—DISCRIMINATION

Questions have arisen as to what constitutes discrimination between customers within the meaning of paragraphs (s) (4) and (t) (2) (i) of CMP Regulation No. 1. These provisions prohibit producers of controlled materials from discriminating between customers in rejecting or accepting orders which are filed later than the prescribed time or which call for deliveries of less than the minimum mill quantities. These provisions mean that, in similar situations, different customers must receive similar treatment. A controlled materials producer who has rejected a late order or small order from one customer, is not prohibited from accepting such an order from another customer if the difference in treatment of the two orders is based in good faith on differences in the practicability of filling the orders in view of the nature of the material ordered, the condition of the production schedule at the time the orders are received, or similar factors. (Issued March 8, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 2—PROHIBITION AGAINST DUPLICATING ORDERS

The question has been raised as to whether a consumer may place authorized controlled material orders or make allotments exceeding in the aggregate the total amount of his allotment if he intends to cancel the excess before delivery.

Under CMP Regulation No. 1 a consumer is prohibited from duplicating authorized controlled material orders or allotments even though he intends to cancel or reduce his delivery orders to the allotted amount prior to delivery. (Issued March 22, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 3—CONTROLLED MATERIALS FOR USE IN METAL GUNS, WIRE STITCHERS, ETC.

A manufacturer of equipment who also sells controlled materials merely for use in the operation of such equipment may include such controlled materials in his application for allotment as manufacturer of the equipment, but such requirements must be separately indicated. For example, a manufacturer of a metal gun or a wire stitcher who sells rod or wire for use with his product (whether he makes such sales with the product or separately) may include his requirements for such rod or wire in his application for controlled materials needed to manufacture the gun or stitcher, but he should indicate separately on his application or in an attached note the amount of controlled material required for such purposes as distinct from the manufacture of the gun or stitcher. (Issued April 5, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 4—"SAME CLASS A PRODUCT" AS USED IN PARAGRAPH (1) (2)

NOTE: Deleted October 4, 1943. Now covered by (1) (2).

INTERPRETATION 5 AS AMENDED—CONVERSION OF ORDERS NOT RETROACTIVE

NOTE: Deleted Oct. 4, 1943. See Interpretation 22—Rejection of Orders.

INTERPRETATION 6 AS AMENDED—ALLOTMENTS NOT REQUIRED IN ORDERING CLASS A PRODUCTS IN CERTAIN CASES

NOTE: Deleted Feb. 2, 1944. Obsolete.

INTERPRETATION 7—CLASS A REPAIR PARTS

(a) A manufacturer of Class A products who sells them for use as maintenance, repair or operating supplies is required to obtain an allotment for their manufacture from the appropriate Industry Division pursuant to application on Form CMP-4B, except where they are directly purchased and programmed by a Claimant Agency—(paragraphs (d) (6) and (k-1) (2) of CMP Regulation No. 1). Such items, with the exception noted, are handled exactly as though they were Class B products. A manufacturer is therefore prohibited by paragraph (g) (3) of CMP Regulation No. 1 from accepting an allotment from his customer, and his customer is prohibited by the same paragraph from making an allotment, for their manufacture. A variation from this rule is indicated in paragraph (b) of this interpretation.

(b) In some cases manufacturers buy class A parts such as springs, screw machine parts and stampings, for incorporation in their products and also resell some of the parts as repair parts. In such cases, if it is impracticable for the manufacturer of the part to segregate those sold for resale as repair parts from those sold for production, he should secure an allotment from his customer covering his requirements for the manufacture of both. For example, a manufacturer of electric motors (a Class B product) purchases screw machine parts (a Class A product) from another manufacturer. He uses some of the screw machine parts for building motors and resells others as repair parts. He normally orders the screw machine parts without distinction as between those which he needs for production or for resale. The motor manufacturer should make an allotment to the manufacturer of the screw machine parts to cover all the parts purchased from him. (Issued May 20, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 9—ALLOTMENTS FOR MINIMUM PRODUCTION QUANTITIES

(a) Paragraph (o) (2) (iii) of CMP Regulation No. 1 permits a manufacturer to exceed his authorized production schedule "where a delivery order calls for delivery, in successive months, of Class A products in quantities which are less than the minimum practicable production quantity, and compliance with monthly production schedules would result in substantial interruption of production and consequent interference with production to fill other delivery orders." In such a case the manufacturer may "produce (and his customer may order) in the first month, the minimum practicable quantity which may be made without such interference."

(b) A manufacturer is entitled to apply for (and his customer is entitled to make) an allotment during a single quarter of the quantity of controlled materials required to produce a minimum practicable production quantity even though the customer's requirements for the finished product may run over several quarters.

In illustration of the above, a customer's requirements of screw machine parts for the third and fourth quarters of 1943 constitutes a minimum practicable production quantity. The manufacturer of the screw machine parts may apply for an allotment for the third quarter of 1943 of all of the controlled materials required to produce the parts. The customer should include the quantity in his application for an allotment and if an allotment is made to him, he should make a third quarter allotment to the screw machine manufacturer for the entire quantity, and should charge the total quantity so allotted to his third quarter allotment account. (Issued June 11, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 10—CHANGES MADE BY CUSTOMERS IN ORDERS PLACED WITH PRODUCERS

(a) This interpretation deals with the procedure to be followed when a customer, having placed an authorized controlled material order with a producer, wishes to make changes in that order.

(b) The general rule is that any change in a customer's order constitutes a cancellation of the earlier order and must be considered as a new order received on the date of the change, if (but only if) the change necessitates alteration of the producers' production schedule to a point which would interfere with production. For example:

(1) The mere substitution of one allotment number for another which does not require alteration of the producer's schedule is not considered to constitute the placing of a new order. The customer must, of course, have an allotment identified by the substituted allotment number to support the change.

(2) A change in shipping destination does not constitute the placing of a new order.

(3) An increase in the total amount ordered constitutes the placing of a new order to the extent of the increase.

(4) An advancement or deferment of delivery, when made by the customer, will constitute entry of a new order.

(5) A reduction in the total amount ordered will presumably not require a change in the producer's schedule and will not constitute a new order. Of course, if the quantity is reduced below a minimum mill quantity, the producer may reject the order and remove it from his schedule, as provided in paragraph (t) (2) (i) of CMP Regulation No. 1, though he must not discriminate between customers in so doing.

(6) When the customer directs the producer to hold or suspend production on an order, without specifying a new delivery date, the order will not be considered as on a producer's books for the purpose of determining his obligation to accept other orders. When the customer instructs the producer to reinstate a suspended order, it shall be considered a new order as of the date of such instruction.

(7) Where minor variations in size, shape, gauge, etc., are requested by the customer and can be arranged by the producer without interfering with his production, such changes do not constitute a new order.

(c) In the case of changes which constitute a new order under this interpretation, the acceptance or rejection of the new order and its place on the producer's schedule shall be governed by conditions existing at the time the changes are received.

(d) This interpretation, as amended, supersedes Interpretation 12 of CMP Regulation

No. 1 and CMPL letter 414, which are hereby revoked. (Issued Jan. 10, 1944.)

INTERPRETATION 11—USE OF ALLOTMENTS TO REPLENISH INVENTORY

(a) An allotment may be used to replace in inventory controlled materials used to manufacture the product for which the allotment was made. This is specifically covered in paragraph (u) (1) (iii) of CMP Regulation No. 1 [§ 3175.1]. It is not necessary for a manufacturer to delay production until he receives delivery of controlled materials ordered on the basis of the allotment.

(b) A manufacturer of Class A products need not accept an order unless he receives an allotment of enough controlled materials for its manufacture even though he has enough in inventory to fill the order. However, if his inventory is excessive (more than a practicable working minimum or the limit specified in CMP Regulation No. 2) he must fill the order out of the excess. This follows from the fact that he must take inventories into account in applying for an allotment. (However, see Direction 27—Right To Specify Allotment Quarter).

(c) It is not necessary that the quarter for which an allotment is made and the quarter in which delivery of the Class A product is to be made be the same. The allotment may be for an earlier or a later quarter depending on when the manufacturer needs the allotment.

In illustration of the above, the X Company receives an order on July 1, 1943, calling for delivery of 100 transmission assemblies on September 1, 1943. Ten tons of carbon steel and two tons of alloy steel are required to fill the order. The X Company has a sufficient quantity of steel on hand to fill the order but it is, nevertheless, entitled to an allotment of ten tons of carbon steel and two tons of alloy steel from its customer, assuming its inventory is not more than a practicable working minimum or the limit specified in CMP Regulation No. 2. The X Company may fill the order from stock on hand and obtain a fourth quarter allotment which it may use to replenish its inventory. If, in the above case, the X Company did not have controlled materials on hand to fill the order it would not be able to accept the order for delivery on September 1, 1943. If the date for delivery of the Class A products were changed to February 1, 1944, the allotment quarter would precede the quarter in which delivery of the product would be made. (Issued July 14, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 12—REDUCTION OF QUANTITY ORDERED DOES NOT CONSTITUTE PLACING OF NEW ORDER

NOTE: Deleted Jan. 10, 1944. See Interp. 10.

INTERPRETATION 13—ALLOTMENT PROCEDURE DETERMINES CLASSIFICATION OF PRODUCT IN CERTAIN CASES

(a) When the B product allotment procedure is followed in making allotments for the manufacture of a Class A product, all of the provisions of CMP regulations governing B products apply. A good example of this is Class A repair parts which are handled on the B product basis. Under paragraph (p) of CMP–1 (§ 3175.1), an order for a Class A product, once accepted, cannot be displaced by an order received at a later time even though the later order bears a higher preference rating. However, if the product is a Class A repair part which is handled on a Class B basis, this provision does not apply. Paragraph (g) (3) provides that no consumer may make an allotment for the production of Class B products. In the case of a Class A repair part which is handled on a Class B basis, this provision does apply.

(b) On the other hand, when the A product allotment procedure is followed for making allotments for the manufacture of a Class B product, all of the provisions of CMP regulations governing A products apply. In such a case, the provision of paragraph (p) mentioned above does apply, and the provision of paragraph (g) (3) does not apply. (Issued Aug. 16, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 14—USE OF QUARTERLY IDENTIFICATION

(a) It is not necessary to show the quarterly identification in rating orders for B components or other production materials, other than controlled materials. For example, "Preference rating AA–1, Allotment number W–1" is sufficient. Where an A product is ordered requiring an allotment, the quarterly identification must, of course, be shown.

(b) The quarterly identification, showing the quarter for which an allotment is valid, must be shown on all authorized controlled material orders, except as described in paragraph (c) below, and on all allotments, immediately following the abbreviated allotment number—for example, W–1–3Q43. The abbreviated allotment number is the same thing as the major program number, that is, the Claimant Agency symbol followed by the first digit of the program number. In the case of an allotment to a prime consumer designated W–1234–567, the abbreviated allotment number is W–1. The quarterly identification is not a part of the allotment number.

(c) It is not necessary to show any quarterly identification on orders for controlled materials where they are being bought under a blanket symbol (such as the MRO symbol assigned by CMP Regulation No. 5) where the use of the symbol is not limited to any particular quarter. This is also true in the case of orders bearing the SO symbol. (Issued Aug. 23, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 15—CONFLICT IN PRODUCTION SCHEDULES OF CLASS A CIVILIAN TYPE END PRODUCTS

(a) Paragraph (q) of CMP Regulation No. 1 provides that where a manufacturer discovers a conflict between accepted production schedules received from different persons, he should report the matter to the appropriate Industry Division (or Claimant Agency under certain circumstances) for instructions.

(b) Under the provisions of this paragraph, a manufacturer of a Class A Civilian Type End Product who has received allotments and an authorized production schedule from various Claimant Agencies and from an Industry Division of the War Production Board, and who discovers, because of labor shortage, lack of capacity, delays in delivery of material, or other causes, that he is unable to meet all authorized production schedules, should report the details of this conflict to the appropriate Industry Division so it can furnish directions. (Issued Aug. 28, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 16—FURNISHING MATERIALS TO SUBCONTRACTORS

(a) Instead of making an allotment of controlled material to a manufacturer of Class A products, a manufacturer operating under the Controlled Materials Plan may use any of the following alternatives with the consent of his supplier:

(1) He may sell the material to his supplier from his own inventory.

(2) He may furnish the material to his supplier on toll or processing agreement, retaining title in himself.

(3) He may place an authorized controlled material order for delivery to himself and trans-ship the material to his supplier, either by sale or under toll or processing agreement.

(4) He may place an authorized controlled material order for delivery direct to the supplier.

(b) In each of the above cases, the customer does not make any allotment, and the supplier does not have to keep any allotment records. The supplier must, however, keep sufficiently accurate records to show that he is using the material for the purpose for which it was received. The customer furnishing the material includes it in his own requirements in the same way as if he were going to allot it, and he may not furnish it to his supplier except under conditions where he could make an allotment under CMP Regulation No. 1.

(c) The making of allotments by customers to suppliers of Class B products is forbidden by paragraph (g) of CMP Regulation 1, since these allotments are made directly to the Class B producers by the War Production Board and duplicating allotments would make inaccurate the Board's figures as to requirements and supply. For the same reason, a customer may not furnish any controlled material to the producer of a Class B products in any of the ways mentioned in paragraph (a) above without getting special permission from the War Production Board. (Issued Sept. 11, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 17—COPPER FLAKE POWDER

NOTE: Deleted Feb. 2, 1944. Obsolete.

INTERPRETATION 18—ANALYSIS OF ORDERS BY CLAIMANT AGENCY SYMBOLS—SECTION A OF FORM CMP–4B

(a) A person applying for an allotment on Form CMP–4B is required to show in Section A of the form an analysis of his orders or shipments by Claimant Agency symbols. The applicant must analyze his orders on the basis of the Claimant Agency symbols appearing on his customers' orders. Where no Claimant Agency symbol appears on a customer's order, the order must be reported under "unidentified".

(b) An applicant must not, in any case, attempt to trace the ultimate end-use of his product for the purpose of filling out Section A of Form CMP–4B. For example, if he receives an order with a preference rating bearing the symbol "B–1", he should report this under the symbol "B" even if he knows that that particular order is for a component of a product that eventually will be sold to the Navy. Or, if he receives an order with a preference rating but no Claimant Agency symbol, he should report this under "unidentified", even if he knows that that particular order is for a component of a product that eventually will be sold to the Navy.

(c) A person who receives a rated order must accept and fill it in accordance with Priorities Regulation No. 1 whether it is identified by a Claimant Agency symbol or not. He does not have the right to assume that his customer is required to show a symbol on his order since in many cases it is not necessary to show a Claimant Agency symbol in applying or extending a rating. There is no reason, however, why a person should not inform his customers of the provisions of paragraph (f) of CMP Regulation No. 3 (see Interpretation No. 3 to CMP Regulation No. 3) and paragraph (z) of CMP Regulation No. 6 which require the compulsory use of Claimant Agency symbols for purposes of identification on certain rated orders. (Issued Sept. 14, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 19—PROPER ALLOTMENT NUMBER MUST BE USED IN IDENTIFYING ORDERS

(a) A manufacturer of a Class B product, in ordering production materials (whether controlled materials, Class A or B products, or other materials and products) needed to make the Class B product, must not use the allotment number appearing on orders placed with him by his customers. This is true because a person may use only the allotment number which appears on the allotment made to him with his authorized production schedule. Thus a manufacturer of a Class B product, such as electric motor controls, receives an allotment of controlled material and a preference rating from the War Production Board which, in the case of electric motor controls, will be identified by the allotment number J–3. When he orders the production material he needs to make electric motor controls, he will use the symbol J–3 on his orders. Orders for electric motor controls from his customers will bear such allotment symbols as B–4, W–3, G–6, U–1, etc. The electric motor control manufacturer may not use these symbols on his own orders for production materials for the manufacture of electric motor controls.

(b) On the other hand, a manufacturer of a Class A product receives his allotments from his customers and therefore uses the allotment numbers appearing on his customers' orders when he orders materials needed to make the Class A product. Thus, a manufacturer of a Class A product who receives an order from a customer and an allotment identified by the allotment number O–5 will use the allotment number O–5 in placing his orders for production materials needed to fill the order.

(c) An allotment number or symbol alone never constitutes an allotment of controlled materials. In making an allotment a consumer must specify the controlled material and the exact quantity allotted. Attention is called to the fact that under paragraph (f) of CMP Regulation No. 1, allotments of controlled material must be made only in the form and shape in which they are allotted to the consumer. (Issued Oct. 8, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 20—PROCURING CLAIMANT AGENCIES

(a) The "procuring" Claimant Agencies under the Controlled Materials Plan are:

(1) War Department (including Ordnance).
(2) Navy Department.
(3) Maritime Commission.
(4) Aircraft Resources Control Office.
(5) Office of Lend-Lease Administration.

(b) The other Claimant Agencies are sometimes referred to as "non-procuring" Claimant Agencies. (Issued Oct. 26, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 21—TEMPORARY LOANS

(a) Paragraph (u) of CMP Regulation No. 1 (§ 3175.1), which places restrictions on the use of controlled materials and Class A products obtained pursuant to an allotment, does not forbid a short term "loan" of controlled materials or Class A products to another manufacturer for his use in filling an authorized production schedule. Whenever a loan is made, the consumer must make certain that the material loaned will be returned to him when he needs it. A loan for more than three months would generally be considered equivalent to a transfer of the materials and therefore unauthorized except as provided in paragraph (u). A consumer must never make such a loan when lending the material would prevent fulfillment of the consumer's authorized production schedule.

(b) A consumer borrowing controlled materials or Class A products does not have to reduce his allotment account under paragraph (v) of the regulation, relating to adjustments on account of controlled materials or Class A products obtained without use of allotments, since the loan is made on a temporary basis and he must be in a position to use his allotment to return, in kind, the material borrowed.

(c) Full records of the loan transaction must be kept by both persons lending and persons borrowing. (Issued Nov. 3, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 22—REJECTION OF ORDERS

(a) Paragraph (t) (3) of CMP Regulation No. 1 [§ 3175.1] requires a controlled materials producer to reject any order other than an authorized controlled material order, a sample order or an order which he is required or authorized to fill by the War Production Board. This provision does not require a producer to refuse to receive a piece of paper on which an order is written. It does require the producer to refuse to fill an order or schedule it unless it is an order which he is specifically authorized to fill. The order must be specifically rejected and the producer may either return the paper on which the order is written or file it, as he sees fit. In any case he must let his customer know that he cannot schedule the order and that his customer should not expect delivery against it.

(b) Customers who place with a producer orders which the latter is prohibited from filling cause an unnecessary increase in the volume of paper work. It is therefore suggested that purchasers should refrain from placing unauthorized orders, even if they intend to validate the orders later.

(c) While the placing of a delivery order before an allotment is received is discouraged, it is recognized that in certain cases customers will find it necessary to place orders before they have received their allotments. This may happen, for example, in the case of long-term contracts extending beyond the period for which advance allotments have been made. In such a case, a delivery order may be converted into an authorized controlled material order either by furnishing a copy of the order conforming to the requirements of paragraph (s) of the regulation or by furnishing, in writing, the requisite information clearly identifying the order and bearing the certification required by subparagraph (3) of paragraph (s). Such an order must be treated as an authorized controlled material order as of the date on which the necessary information and certificate (including the allotment number) are received by the producer. (Issued Nov. 10, 1943.)

[CMP Reg. 1, Interpretation 8 as Amended Feb. 2, 1944]

PERIOD DURING WHICH ALLOTMENT VALID (REVISED)

The following interpretation is issued with respect to CMP Regulation 1:

(a) An allotment of controlled materials under the Controlled Materials Plan is only valid for the quarter (or other specifically designated period) for which it is made as indicated in the allotment certificate. An allotment which is valid for one quarter cannot be used for placing authorized controlled material orders calling for delivery in any other quarter.

(b) A consumer in placing an order for a controlled material must specify the month in which delivery is requested and the requested delivery month must be within the quarter for which the allotment is valid. Controlled materials producers are required to make delivery as close to the requested delivery date as is practicable and are prohibited from accepting authorized controlled material orders in excess of a specified percentage of their production directive or expected production as provided in paragraph (t) (2) (iii) of CMP Regulation No. 1.

(c) If a controlled materials producer is unable to accept an authorized controlled material order for delivery during the delivery month specified, and delivery is required in that month, the consumer may appeal, either directly or through his Claimant Agency or Industry Division, to the appropriate Controlled Materials Division for relief.

(d) The rules governing postponed deliveries of steel or copper are set out in paragraph (t) (4) of the regulation and those governing postponed deliveries of aluminum are covered in Direction No. 23 to the regulation. Rules governing the tentative acceptance of authorized controlled material orders are set out in paragraph (t) (3) of the regulation. The rules on these subjects as stated in paragraphs (c), (e) and (f) of the interpretation before this revision are obsolete.

Issued this 2d day of February, 1944.

Recording Secretary.

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

[CMP Reg. 5A as Amended Feb. 1, 1944]

MAINTENANCE, REPAIR AND OPERATING SUPPLIES FOR GOVERNMENTAL AGENCIES AND INSTITUTIONS

§ 3175.5a CMP Regulation 5A—(a) Purpose and scope. (1) The purpose of this regulation is to provide for governmental agencies and for institutions a uniform procedure for obtaining maintenance, repair and operating supplies, both in the case of controlled materials obtained by use of allotment symbols under the Controlled Materials Plan and in the case of materials or products obtained by preference ratings. Any agency or institution affected by this regulation requiring maintenance, repair and operating supplies, in any form, in such quantities as are available from warehouses or distributors under CMP Regulation No. 4 or at retail without preference ratings or allotments, may obtain the same without using the procedure provided in this regulation, but subject to all applicable limitations in War Production Board regulations and orders.

(2) The provisions of this regulation shall not apply to any governmental agency or to any institution to the extent that it is engaged in the following services or industries: gas, light, power, water, central heating, or the operation of a sanitary sewerage system or a storm sewerage system combined with a sanitary sewerage system for general use by the public, or to communications (in so far only as communications are provided for in Orders U-3 and U-4).

(3) Governmental agencies and institutions in the Dominion of Canada. The provisions of this regulation shall be available to those governmental agencies and institutions in the Dominion of Canada which may on application by the Department of Munitions and Supply, Ottawa, Canada, be authorized by the War Production Board to operate under it subject to such conditions as may be set out in the authorization. Any such agency or institution in Canada receiving such authority shall use the following certification instead of any certification prescribed in this regulation, and shall not use the alternative form of certification prescribed in CMP Regulation No. 7:

The undersigned purchaser certifies, subject to the penalties of section 15 of the Canadian Wartime Industries Control Board Regulations, to the seller, to the Canadian Priorities Officer, and to the War Production Board, that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, the undersigned is authorized, under applicable Canadian orders, and under applicable War Production Board regulations or orders, to place this delivery order, to receive the item(s) ordered for the purpose for which ordered, and to use any preference rating or allotment number or symbol which the undersigned has placed on this order.

(4) The provisions of this regulation shall not apply to Claimant Agencies as defined in CMP Regulation No. 1, except to such extent as may be specifically provided by order of the War Production Board. Any Claimant Agency which desires that this regulation be made applicable to any of its departments or activities may make application therefor by letter in triplicate addressed to the Government Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref: CMP Regulation 5A.

(b) Definitions. The following definitions shall apply for the purpose of this regulation.

(1) "Governmental agency" means any governmental agency in the United States, its territories or possessions, federal, state, county, municipal or local except any agency specifically excluded from this regulation by order of the War Production Board. The term also includes any governmental agency in the Dominion of Canada which has been authorized to operate under this regulation pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (a) (3) hereof.

(2) "Institution" means any institution within the United States, its territories or possessions, public or private, including but not limited to, schools, colleges, libraries, hospitals, welfare establishments and churches, and also includes any institution in the Dominion of Canada which has been authorized to operate under this regulation pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (a) (3) hereof.

(3) "Educational institution" (see Schedule II) means, (i) any elementary or secondary school, and any college or university maintained and operated by any state or any political subdivision thereof, including school districts and cities, or by any agency of the Federal Government, its territories or possessions, or the District of Columbia;

(ii) Any other school, college or university which offers a curriculum substantially the same as that offered by a school, college or university maintained and operated by any state or any political subdivision thereof or the District of Columbia;

(iii) Any school, college, or university which is conducting one or more of the following programs as established and supervised by the United States Office of Education:

(a) Vocational Education for War Production Workers,

(b) Engineering, Science and Management War Training,

(c) Rural War Production Training;

(iv) Any school, college or university, which pursuant to letter of intent from, or contract with, the Army or Navy of the United States is engaged in housing, feeding or training any unit of military personnel;

(v) Any school, college or university which is specifically authorized by the War Production Board to operate under this regulation as an educational institution. Application for such authorization shall be by letter in triplicate stating the relevant facts addressed to the Government Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref: CMP Regulation 5A.

(4) "Maintenance" means the minimum upkeep necessary to continue a facility in sound working condition, and "repair" means the restoration of a facility to sound working condition when the same has been rendered unsafe or unfit for service by wear and tear, damage, failure of parts or the like: Provided, That neither maintenance nor repair shall include the improvement of any plant, facility or equipment, by replacing material which is still usable, with material of a better kind, quality or design, except as provided in paragraph (b) (6) of this regulation.

(5) "Operating supplies" means any material or product which (i) is essential for conducting any activity or rendering any service by any governmental agency or by any institution and (ii) is consumed in the course of conducting such activity or rendering such service and (iii) does not constitute capital equipment. Materials included in any finished product produced by a governmental agency or an institution which are normally chargeable to operating expense may also be treated as operating supplies.

(6) Minor capital additions may be obtained under the procedures provided for in this regulation for obtaining maintenance, repair and operating supplies where the cost of the minor capital addition does not exceed $100 (excluding the purchaser's cost of labor) for any one complete capital addition. The term "one complete capital addition" includes a group of items customarily purchased together and all items which would normally be purchased as part of a single project or plan. No capital addition shall be subdivided for the purpose of coming within this paragraph, and where the capital addition involves construction, authorization to construct must be obtained to the extent required by Conservation Order L-41 or by any other applicable order or regulation of the War Production Board.

(7) Production material required by a governmental agency or an institution for physical incorporation in products manufactured by it, which products it sells for use as maintenance, repair or operating supplies, may be obtained as provided in CMP Regulation No. 1 and in CMP Regulation No. 3, and such production materials shall not be deemed maintenance repair or operating supplies, as to such agency or institution.

(c) Controlled materials—(1) Steel and copper. Subject to the quantity restrictions contained in paragraph (f) of this regulation, any governmental agency or any institution engaged in any activity or rendering any service listed in Schedule I or Schedule II attached to this regulation, requiring delivery after March 31, 1943, of any controlled material (as defined in CMP Regulation No. 1) except aluminum, for maintenance, repair or operating supplies in the conduct of such activity or service, may obtain the same by placing on or accompanying its delivery order with substantially the following certificate (or the alternative form of certification provided in CMP Regulation No. 7) signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7:

CMP allotment symbol MRO 5A—The undersigned certifies, subject to the criminal penalties for misrepresentation contained in section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, that the controlled materials covered by this order are required for essential maintenance, repair or operating supplies, to be used for a purpose listed in Schedule I or Schedule II of CMP Regulation No. 5A and that delivery thereof will not result in a violation of the quantity restrictions contained in paragraph (f) of said regulation.

An order bearing such certification shall constitute an authorized controlled material order.

(2) Aluminum. Any governmental agency or any institution engaged in any activity, or rendering any service listed in Schedule I or II, requiring aluminum in any of the forms or shapes constituting a controlled material, for essential maintenance, repair or operating supplies, where the use of other materials for the purpose is impracticable, may obtain the same from a controlled materials producer or from a distributor specifically authorized by the War Production Board to engage in the business of receiving aluminum for sale or resale, in an amount of not to exceed 500 pounds from all sources during any one calendar quarter: Provided, That any order placed pursuant to this paragraph (c) (2) shall be endorsed with or accompanied by substantially the following certificate (or the alternative form of certification provided in CMP Regulation No. 7) signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7:

CMP allotment symbol MRO-5A—The undersigned certifies, subject to the criminal penalties for misrepresentation contained in section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, that the materials covered by this order are required for essential maintenance, repair or operating supplies to be used for a purpose listed in Schedule I or Schedule II of CMP Regulation No. 5A; that the use of other materials for such purpose is impracticable; and that the amount of aluminum covered by this order, together with all other amounts received by, or on order for delivery to, the undersigned, from all sources, for such purpose during the same quarter, will not exceed 500 pounds.

Any producer or warehouse receiving an order bearing such certificate shall be entitled to rely thereon and may fill the order, unless he knows or has reason to believe the certificate to be false. An order bearing such certification shall constitute an authorized controlled material order.

(3) Any governmental agency or any institution engaged in any activity or rendering any service listed on Schedule I or II, which needs aluminum in any of the forms or shapes constituting a controlled material in amounts aggregating more than 500 pounds from all sources during any one calendar quarter for use as essential maintenance, repair or operating supplies where the use of other material for such purpose is impracticable, may apply for an allotment of the amount thereof in excess of 100 pounds during any one calendar quarter by letter addressed to the Aluminum and Magnesium Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: MRO. The letter should contain substantially the information called for by paragraphs (d) (1) to (6) of Supplementary Order M-1-i, as amended March 10, 1943. If the application is granted, the applicant will receive an allotment number or symbol, and may place an authorized controlled material order by endorsing an order with such allotment number or symbol and the certification prescribed in paragraph (s) (3) of CMP Regulation No. 1 or in CMP Regulation No. 7, executed as provided in such regulations.

(d) Preference ratings for maintenance, repair and operating supplies. (1) Subject to the quantity restrictions contained in paragraph (f) of this regulation, orders by any governmental agency or institution calling for delivery after March 31, 1943, of maintenance, repair or operating supplies other than controlled materials (regardless of whether such supplies be Class A products, Class B products, or other products or materials) are hereby assigned preference ratings as follows:

(i) AA-1 for maintenance or repair of facilities required for any activity or service listed in Schedule I or for necessary operating supplies for such activity or service;

(ii) AA-2 for maintenance or repair of facilities required for any activity or service listed in Schedule II or for necessary operating supplies for such activity or service;

(iii) AA-5 for necessary maintenance or repair of facilities required for any activity or service not listed in Schedule I or Schedule II or for necessary operating supplies for any such purpose.

(iv) For maintenance, repair and operating supplies for any building devoted primarily to any service or activity listed in Schedule I or Schedule II, the rating assigned to that service is hereby assigned.

(2) Any agency or any institution which maintains a central stores system where it is impracticable to charge purchases for inventory against a particular service or activity, may establish a scale of percentages for each rating, for each class of items, based upon withdrawals from the central stores system during the calendar year 1942 (or its fiscal year ending nearest to December 31, 1942) by the various agencies and institutions (and departments thereof) and may apply the appropriate percentage of each rating to its purchases for the central stores system. In the alternative, any such agency or institution may apply to the War Production Board, pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (k) for the assignment of ratings for such stores system.

(3) A preference rating assigned under this paragraph (d) shall be applied only by use of the following certification (or the alternative form of certification provided in CMP Regulation No. 7) signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7:

Preference rating ——— (specify rating): MRO 5A. The undersigned certifies, subject to the criminal penalties for misrepresentation contained in section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, that the items covered by this order are required for essential maintenance, repair or operating supplies; that this order is rated and placed in compliance with CMP Regulation No. 5A and that the delivery requested will not result in a violation of the quantity restrictions contained in paragraph (f) of said regulation.

(4) A person with whom a delivery order is placed bearing a preference rating assigned by this regulation may, subject to the limitations contained in CMP Regulations Nos. 1 and 2, extend the rating in the manner provided in CMP Regulation No. 3 (using the endorsement therein specified or the alternative form of certification provided in CMP Regulation No. 7).

(e) Departments engaged in several activities. If any governmental agency or any institution, or any department or unit thereof, is engaged in several activities which are not assigned the same preference rating and if it is impracticable to apportion maintenance, repair and operating supplies between such activities, the principal activity alone shall be considered for the purpose of determining whether controlled materials may be obtained under paragraph (c) of this regulation, and also for determining which preference ratings may be applied under paragraph (d).

(f) Quantity restrictions. (1) No governmental agency and no institution which uses the allotment symbol or preference ratings assigned by this regulation to obtain any maintenance, repair and operating supplies shall order for delivery during any calendar quarter maintenance, repair or operating supplies in an aggregate amount exceeding 30 percent of its aggregate expenditures for maintenance, repair and operating supplies during the calendar year 1942 (or its fiscal year ending nearest to December 31, 1942), except that any governmental agency or any institution engaged in an activity which normally requires a greater amount of maintenance, repair or operating supplies during certain seasons than others may use such allotment symbol or preference ratings to order for delivery during any calendar quarter up to, but not in excess of, its aggregate expenditures for maintenance, repair and operating supplies during the corresponding quarter of 1942 (or of such fiscal year). In neither case, however, shall any governmental agency or any institution use such allotment symbol or preference ratings to obtain maintenance, repair and operating supplies during the 12 months ending March 31, 1944, in an amount exceeding its aggregate expenditures for maintenance, repair and operating supplies during the calendar year 1942 (or such fiscal year). In determining the dollar amount of expenditures for maintenance, repair and operating supplies permitted under this paragraph (f) there shall be included not only expenditures for supplies obtained by use of the allotment symbol or preference ratings hereby assigned, but also expenditures for supplies which are obtained without the use of such symbol or ratings plus amounts expended in acquiring minor capital additions under paragraph (b) (6) of this regulation. Expenditures during the base period shall be computed in the same way except that amounts expended in acquiring minor capital additions during the base period shall not be included.

(2) A governmental agency or institution which has several departments, branches or units which maintain separate records of maintenance, repair and operating supplies, shall treat each of them separately for purposes of complying with the provisions of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (f).

(3) In the case of a governmental agency or an institution or any department thereof which was not in operation during the base period specified in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (f), such agency, institution or department may take, as a base, its expenditures for maintenance, repair and operating supplies during the first quarter of 1943, or during the portion thereof when such agency, institution or department was in operation, reasonably adjusted for seasonal or other variable factors: Provided, That it first notifies the War Production Board in writing of the base which it is taking, the reasons therefor, and the nature of any adjustments made. In the case of a governmental agency, or institution or department thereof starting operations after February 28, 1943, maintenance, repair and operating supplies may be acquired pursuant to this regulation in the minimum amounts necessary for operation, without other restrictions, up to $500 per quarter. If more than this amount is required, application shall be made to the War Production Board for a specific quota. In any case where the base provided in subparagraph (1) or by this subparagraph (3) is deemed too low for necessary operations, application may be made for modification thereof by filing a letter in triplicate with the Government Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., stating the relevant facts.

(4) The restrictions contained in this paragraph (f) shall apply in addition to any quantitative restrictions contained in any order in the "P" series, unless the particular P order expressly provides that the restrictions of this regulation shall be inapplicable.

(5) The quantity restrictions in this paragraph (f) shall not apply to any governmental agency or any institution which during the calendar year 1942 (or fiscal year ending closest to December 31, 1942) used for maintenance, repair and operating supplies, materials of the aggregate value of not exceeding $1,000 and whose estimated requirements for material to be used for maintenance, repair and operating supplies during any calendar year (or corresponding fiscal year) does not exceed $1,000 provided that a practical working minimum inventory is not exceeded. If the actual requirements for maintenance and repair and operating supplies for such year should prove to be in excess of $1,000 such agency or institution shall not, during such year, accept any deliveries of material to be used for maintenance, repair or operating supplies if such deliveries when taken together with other deliveries within such year would in the aggregate exceed $1,000. In such case such agency or institution may apply for a specific quota pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (k) of this order.

(6) The War Production Board may, by further regulations or orders, require specified persons or classes of persons, to file applications or reports regarding their requirements of maintenance, repair and operating supplies and may prescribe specific quantitative limits for the same either larger or smaller than the limits provided in this paragraph (f).

(g) Form WPB-837 (PD-408) discontinued. Form WPB-837 (PD-408) has been discontinued as of September 30, 1943. Orders placed before that date to which the ratings or MRO symbol assigned on that form were applied may nevertheless be filled.

(h) Special provisions relating to use of MRO symbol and preference ratings. (1) Any person (such as the operator of a toll bridge or a contract garbage collector) who, pursuant to franchise from, or contract with, any governmental agency, performs any service for such agency may use the same allotment symbol and preference rating to obtain maintenance, repair and operating supplies required for such service, which such governmental agency would be entitled to use if it performed such service itself. In computing quantity restrictions under paragraph (f) hereof such service shall be treated as if it were performed by a single department of such governmental agency.

(2) Any person (such as a service repair shop) engaged in the business of doing maintenance or repair work for any governmental agency or any institution may use the same allotment symbol and preference rating to obtain materials needed in the performance of the work which such governmental agency or institution would be entitled to use if it did the work itself. The cost of materials used in the performance of maintenance or repair work shall be treated as expenditures of such agency or institution for the purpose of computing its quantity restrictions under paragraph (f). A person engaged in such business may, instead, request an allotment of controlled materials and a preference rating by applying to the War Production Board, on Form CMP 4-B, but if he does so he must use that method exclusively and may not use such customer's rating or symbol.

(3) Any governmental agency or any institution or any department, branch or unit thereof which is engaged in producing any product or conducting any business listed in Schedule I or Schedule II of CMP Regulation No. 5 may, to the extent, but only to the extent, that it is so engaged use the applicable rating assigned by CMP Regulation No. 5 and the symbol MRO-5A to obtain maintenance, repair and operating supplies required in conducting such business, but in so doing such agency or institution shall be deemed to operate under this regulation and shall be subject to all of the terms and provisions hereof.

(4) When any building is leased to a governmental agency or institution the landlord may use the same allotment symbol and preference rating to obtain maintenance, repair and operating supplies required for such building, which such governmental agency or institution would be entitled to use if it owned and maintained such building itself; but if the building is occupied by several tenants and the supplies are not for the benefit of a single tenant, the landlord may use a tenants' rating and symbol only if 75 per cent or more of the leased property is used in activities or services on Schedule I or II of this regulation, and in such case, unless all of such activities and services are listed in Schedule I, only the AA-2 rating may be used. In computing quantity restrictions under paragraph (f) hereof, such building shall be treated as if it were maintained by a single department of a governmental agency or institution.

(i) Penalties for misrepresentation or diversion. (1) The placing of any order bearing a certification or symbol as provided by this regulation shall constitute a representation, subject to the criminal penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code (18 U. S. C. 80), that the person placing the order is entitled, under the terms of this regulation to the use of the symbol or preference rating indicated thereon.

(2) No person shall use for any purpose other than essential maintenance, repair or operations, any supplies obtained pursuant to this regulation, or use any supplies obtained under a preference rating assigned by this regulation for a purpose to which a lower rating, or no rating, is assigned. Any such use shall constitute a crime punishable by fine or imprisonment or both. Physical segregation of inventories is not required, provided the restrictions applicable to any specific lot of material or product are observed with respect to an equivalent amount of the same material or product.

(j) Inventory restrictions. Nothing in this regulation shall be deemed to authorize any governmental agency or any institution to receive any delivery of maintenance, repair or operating supplies if acceptance thereof would increase its inventory above a practicable working minimum as provided in § 944.14 of Priorities Regulation No. 1, or would exceed the inventory limitations prescribed for such person by CMP Regulation No. 2 or by any other applicable regulation or order of the War Production Board.

(k) Additional assistance in individual cases. Any governmental agency or any institution requiring maintenance, repair or operating supplies which is unable to obtain them with the rating assigned to it by this regulation, and any such agency or institution requiring any controlled material, except aluminum, for maintenance, repair or operating supplies which is not listed in Schedule I or II and which is unable to obtain it from a warehouse or distributor under CMP Regulation No. 4 may apply to the War Production Board on Form PD-1A for a higher rating, or the right to use the MRO symbol to obtain controlled materials, other than aluminum. Such form shall bear a notation to the effect that the material applied for is required for maintenance, repair or operating supplies and that applicant is operating under CMP Regulation 5A. Application for an increase in the quantity of expenditures for maintenance, repair and operating supplies permitted by paragraph (f) of this regulation, shall, however, be made by filing a letter in triplicate with the Government Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref: CMP Regulation 5A, stating the relevant facts.

(l) Effect on other orders and procedures. (1) The preference ratings assigned by this regulation shall supersede the preference ratings assigned by all orders in the "P" series for maintenance, repair and operating supplies with respect to materials or products to be delivered after March 31, 1943, except as may be otherwise provided by amendments of such orders specifically providing to the contrary.

(2) Subject to paragraph (l) (1) of this regulation, all of the terms, provisions and restrictions contained in all orders in the "P" series, including definitions, requirements for making applications and filing reports and other restrictions, except as otherwise provided in paragraph (f) (4) of this regulation shall, subject to the inventory restrictions of CMP Regulation No. 2, remain in full force and effect until modified or revoked, except that this regulation shall be wholly inapplicable to any activity or service covered by any "P" order if such "P" order specifically so provides.

(3) In addition, each governmental agency or institution which, in accordance with existing priorities procedures not covered by "P" orders, is required to file applications or reports with respect to its requirements for, or use of, maintenance, repair or operating supplies, or is limited in the amount of such supplies, which it is permitted to acquire or use, shall continue to comply with such procedures until the same are modified or revoked.

(4) When an order in the "E," "L" or "M" series assigns a specific preference rating to deliveries of any particular material to be used by a particular industry or for a specific purpose, such preference rating shall control and the preference ratings hereby assigned may not be applied. For example, Order M-41 assigns a rating of A-10 to deliveries of chlorinated hydrocarbon solvents for use in the fumigation of stored products, including grain. A person who needs a chlorinated hydrocarbon solvent for such purpose may apply a rating of A-10 to its delivery and must not apply a rating assigned by this regulation.

(5) Nothing in this regulation shall be construed to relieve any governmental agency or institution from complying with any applicable priorities regulation or order of the War Production Board (including orders in the "E", "L," and "M" series) or with any order of any other competent authority.

(m) Reclassification of activities. Any governmental agency or any institution which is of the opinion that any activity in which it is engaged should be listed in Schedule I, if it is listed in Schedule II, or should be listed in either Schedule I or Schedule II, if it is not listed in either of such schedules, may apply to have such activity so listed by filing a letter, in triplicate, with the Government Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: CMP Regulation 5A setting forth the relevant facts and the reasons why it considers such request should be granted. The War Production Board may cause such activity to be listed in one of the schedules attached to this regulation or, in special cases, may permit the applicant to operate under this regulation to the same extent as though its activity were included in one of such schedules.

(n) Records. Each governmental agency and institution or other person acquiring maintenance, repair or operating supplies pursuant to this regulation, shall keep and preserve for a period of not less than two years, accurate and complete records of all such supplies so acquired, and used, which shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(o) Communications. All communications concerning this regulation should be addressed to: Government Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: CMP Regulation No. 5A.

(p) Restrictions on use of ratings. The preference ratings assigned by this regulation shall not be used to get any of the items shown on List A or B of Priorities Regulation No. 3.

Issued this 1st day of February 1944.

Subchapter D—Office of Rubber Director

PART 4600—RUBBER, SYNTHETIC RUBBER, BALATA AND PRODUCTS THEREOF

[Rubber Order R-1, Appendix III as Amended Feb. 1, 1944]

Introductory. Appendix III to Rubber Order R-1 as amended is a compilation of supplementary orders and directives of general applicability which affect rubber and rubber products. In the past, these orders and directives have involved principally the conversion of products from crude rubber to synthetics and have been issued individually to the manufacturers of the particular products. The purpose of Appendix III is to issue these directives and miscellaneous supplementary orders in printed form.

The material in Appendix III is arranged in accordance with the following product classifications:

Mechanical goods: Wire and cable; Tires and tubes; Footwear; Heels and soles; Proofing and combining of fabrics; Medical, surgical, dental, drug sundries; and Miscellaneous.

Each of these product classifications has been assigned a section number commencing with § 4600.51. Supplementary orders and directives in each group are designated by letter.

§ 4600.50 Applicability of Rubber Order R–1. Supplementary orders and directives which appear in Appendix III shall govern in case of inconsistency with other provisions of Rubber Order R–1. These orders and directives may be incorporated in the Rubber Order from time to time, at the discretion of the War Production Board.

§ 4600.51 Mechanical goods. The following supplementary orders and directives are applicable to mechanical goods:

(a) Vibration mount and shock absorber. No crude rubber or natural latex may be consumed in the manufacture of compression type mountings or insulations of Shore Durometer hardness of 40 and above. Crude rubber may, however, be used for bonding cements and for use in tie-gum compounds which shall not exceed 1/32" in thickness.

No crude rubber or natural latex may be consumed after March 1, 1944, in the manufacture of compression types of mountings or insulators having a Shore Durometer hardness of less than 40. Crude rubber may, however, be used for bonding cements and for use in tie-gum compounds which shall not exceed 1/32" in thickness.

No crude rubber or natural latex may be consumed after March 1, 1944, in the manufacture of plate, sandwich, tubular, or other types of shear mountings or insulations. This restriction covers mountings or insulations where the temperatures of applications are minus 40° F. and above. Aircraft engine and instrument mounts may be considered as falling in the applications functioning below minus 40° F. Crude rubber may be used for bonding cements and tie-gum compounds which shall not exceed 1/32" in thickness.

Torsional vibration dampers may be manufactured from crude rubber until further notice.

(b) [Deleted Jan. 12, 1944]

(c) Pipe rings. After February 1, 1944, no crude rubber or natural latex may be consumed in the manufacture of pipe rings.

(d) Milking machine inflations. After February 1, 1944, no crude rubber or natural latex may be consumed in the manufacture of milking machine inflations.

(e) [Deleted Jan. 12, 1944]

(f) Street car sandwich wheels. After February 1, 1944, no crude rubber may be consumed in the manufacture of street car sandwich wheels.

§ 4600.52 Wire and cable. The following supplementary orders and directives are applicable to wire and cable:

(a) [Deleted Jan. 12, 1944]

(b) [Deleted Jan. 12, 1944]

(c) [Deleted Jan. 12, 1944]

(d) X-ray cable. After February 1, 1944, no crude rubber or natural latex may be consumed in the manufacture of X-ray cable, high voltage, as shown in List 27, Appendix II, under "Commercial Types".

(e) Long range field wire. After February 1, 1944, no crude rubber or natural latex may be consumed in the manufacture of W–143 long range field wire.

§ 4600.53 Tires and tubes. The following supplementary orders and directives are applicable to tires and tubes:

Size	Ply	Type
47	12	Smooth contour landing.
51	14	Do.
56	16	Do.
55	18	Do.
65	22	Do.
44 x 12	14	High pressure special duty.
46 x 13	16	Do.
17.00 x 20	12	Low pressure landing.
19.00 x 23	16	Do.

(b) Latex treatment on tire cord fabric. Rubber Order R–1, List 24, subdivision (a) (1), requires that, when latex is used in the treatment solution for tire cord fabric, the latex used shall not exceed four percent of the dry weight of tire cord treated in any given period. This restriction shall not become mandatory until February 1, 1944.

(c) Synthetic combat tires. Rubber Order R–1, List 24, subdivision (b) (3), in the "Special Purpose Tire" table, lists two sizes of S–3 combat tires and four sizes of S–6 combat tires. These tires had previously been permitted in the S–5 synthetic construction. This conversion from the S–5 synthetic construction to the S–3 or S–6 synthetic construction shall not become mandatory until February 1, 1944.

(d) Industrial pneumatic single tube tires. Rubber Order R–1, List 24, subdivision (b) (3), no longer lists industrial pneumatic single tube tires in the EF compound. The manufacturer of industrial pneumatic single tube tires is therefore permitted only in the S–3 synthetic construction according to the regulations shown in List 24, subdivision (b) (1). However, this conversion from the EF construction to the S–3 synthetic construction shall not become mandatory until February 1, 1944.

§ 4600.54 Footwear. All outstanding supplementary orders and directives relating to footwear have been superseded by Rubber Order R–1 as amended.

§ 4600.55 Heels and soles. All outstanding supplementary orders and directives relating to heels and soles have been superseded by Rubber Order R–1 as amended.

§ 4600.56 Proofing and combining of fabrics. All outstanding supplementary orders and directives relating to proofing and combining of fabrics have been superseded by Rubber Order R–1 as amended.

§ 4600.57 Medical, surgical, dental, drug sundries. All outstanding supplementary orders and directives relating to medical, surgical, dental and drug sundries have been superseded by Rubber Order R–1 as amended.

§ 4600.58 Miscellaneous. The following supplementary orders and directives are applicable to miscellaneous rubber products or materials:

(a) Pressure sensitive tape. Rubber Order R–1 permits the consumption of general purpose synthetics, reclaimed or scrap rubber in the manufacture of pressure sensitive tape for industrial purposes to fill Government and civilian orders. Schedule A of the order requires certification by the purchaser as to his end use.

(1) Uses which are classified as "industrial" are set forth in the certification.

(2) Certification. With respect to civilian orders no person shall deliver or accept delivery of pressure sensitive tape (except high heat resistant and non-corrosive electric tape) unless the person acquiring the same shall certify to the seller and to the War Production Board in substantially the following form signed by an authorized official either manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7.

The undersigned hereby certifies to_____ (insert name of seller) and to the War Production Board that the pressure sensitive tape specified in the accompanying purchase order and future purchase orders will not be sold or used by him except for one or more of the following purposes:

Certification of the purchaser may be relied upon by the seller unless the seller knows or has reason to believe that the certification is false.

(b) Inflatable or pneumatic mattresses, cushions and pillows. Rubber Order R–1 as amended does not permit the consumption of rubber or synthetic rubber in the manufacture of inflatable or pneumatic mattresses, cushions or pillows, to fill civilian orders.

In addition, the consumption of rubber or synthetic rubber in the manufacture of the foregoing products to fill Government orders is hereby prohibited except upon special authorization in writing by the War Production Board. (This supersedes SA–142.)

(c) Shoe cements. Notwithstanding the provisions of any quota directive 4–A or 4–B, no crude rubber or natural latex shall be consumed in the manufacture of shoe cements after December 31, 1943 without special authorization.

In order to receive adjustments of quota directives for this purpose, manufacturers should address a letter to the Manager of Allocations, Office of Rubber Director, Washington 25, D. C.

In this connection, it should be noted that Rubber Order R–1 as amended permits shoe cements containing crude rubber or natural latex only for shoe repairing.

(d) Shoe cement inventories in hands of shoe manufacturers on January 1, 1944. Shoe manufacturers who hold inventories of shoe cements which contain crude rubber or natural latex on January 1, 1944 are hereby authorized to use the same for the following permitted shoe manufacturing operations until April 1, 1944:

(4) Stock fitting room operations limited to: Cementing welt insole ribs and lips; coating and attaching gem duck to welt innersoles.

(5) Special operations limited to: Joining leather welting.

Shoe manufacturers are hereby granted permission to purchase and sell such cements for use in the foregoing operations prior to April 1, 1944.

Inventories of shoe cements containing crude rubber or natural latex which remain in the hands of any shoe manufacturer on April 1, 1944 shall be reported to the Office of Rubber Director, War Production Board, by letter indicating the amounts of cement by type of operation.

(e) Cements containing Neoprene for wood heels. After February 1, 1944, no person shall deliver or accept delivery of cement containing Neoprene if he knows or has reason to believe that it will be used for covering wood heels. After February 15, 1944, no person shall use any cement containing Neoprene for the covering of wood heels except to fill Government orders.

(f) Definition of light colored carcass scrap. Rubber Order R–1 as amended refers to No. 1 and No. 2 light colored carcass. For the purposes of the order, No. 1 light colored carcass means all-white zinc carcass, and No. 2 light colored carcass means and includes light colored types such as white, pink, light grey, pure gum and light brown carcass.

MAXIMUM PRICES

NOTE: The meaning of certain provisions and terms of this General Maximum Price Regulation is further explained and defined in § 1499.20. The explanations and definitions are set forth in alphabetical order.[1] The terms explained and defined are quoted the first time they appear in the text.

§ 1499.1 Prohibition against dealing in commodities or services above maximum prices. On and after the effective date of this General Maximum Price Regulation, regardless of any contract or other obligation:

(a) No "person" shall "sell" or deliver any "commodity", and no person shall sell or supply any "service", at a price higher than the maximum price permitted by this General Maximum Price Regulation; and

(b) No person in the course of trade or business shall buy or receive any commodity or service at a price higher than the maximum price permitted by this General Maximum Price Regulation.

(c) The provisions of paragraph (b) of this section shall not be applicable to any war procurement agency or any contracting or paying finance officer thereof and any such agency or contracting or paying finance officer shall be relieved of any and every liability, civil or criminal, imposed by this General Maximum Price Regulation or by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. "War procurement agency" as used in this paragraph, includes the War Department, the Department of the Navy, the United States Maritime Commission, and the Lend-Lease Section of the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

[Paragraph (c) added by Am. 7, 7 F.R. 4659, effective 6-25-42]

[1] With exception of definitions added by amendments.

§ 1499.2 Maximum prices for commodities and services; general provisions. Except as otherwise provided in this regulation, the "seller's" maximum price for any commodity or service shall be:

(a) The highest price charged by the seller during March 1942:

(1) For the same commodity or service; or

(2) If no charge was made for the same commodity or service, for the similar commodity or service most nearly like it; or

(b) If the seller's maximum price cannot be determined under paragraph (a), the highest price charged during March 1942 by the "most closely competitive seller of the same class":

(1) For the same commodity or service; or

HIGHEST PRICE CHARGED DURING MARCH 1942

For the purposes of this General Maximum Price Regulation, the highest price charged by a seller during March 1942 shall be:

(a) The highest price which the seller charged for a commodity "delivered" or service "supplied" by him during March 1942 to a "purchaser of the same class"; or

(b) If the seller made no such delivery or supplied no such service during March 1942, his highest "offering price" for delivery or supply during that month to a purchaser of the same class; or

(c) If the seller made no such delivery or supplied no such service and had no such offering price to a purchaser of the same class, the highest price charged by the seller during March 1942 to a purchaser of a different class, adjusted to reflect the seller's customary differential between the two classes of purchasers:

Provided, however, That (1) If before April 1, 1942, the seller raised his prices for a commodity or service to all his classes of purchasers (or to all his classes of purchasers except those to whom he was bound to make delivery or supply during March 1942 pursuant to a firm commitment made before the price rise) and

(2) If during March 1942 he delivered the commodity or supplied the service at the increased price to at least one class of purchasers, then, in order to allow the seller to apply the price rise to any class of purchasers to which no delivery or supply was made during that month after the price rise (except under a firm commitment made before the price rise), the highest price charged during March 1942 shall be deemed to be:

(i) The seller's increased offering price to such class of purchasers for delivery or supply during March 1942, or

(ii) If the seller had no such increased offering price to that particular class of purchasers, the highest price charged during March 1942 to a purchaser of a different class, adjusted to reflect:

(a) The seller's customary differential in price between the two classes of purchasers; or

(b) If the seller had no such customary differential, the actual percentage differential in price between the two classes of purchasers which existed at the time the seller last entered into a commitment, or, if he did not enter into such a commitment, last submitted an offering price, for delivery or supply to a purchaser of that particular class during March 1942.

No seller shall evade any of the provisions of this General Maximum Price Regulation by changing his customary allowances, discounts or other price differentials.

No seller shall require any purchaser, and no purchaser shall be permitted, to pay a larger proportion of transportation costs incurred in the delivery or supply of any commodity or service, than the seller required purchasers of the same class to pay during March 1942 on deliveries or supplies of the same or similar types of commodities or services.

[Above portion of § 1499.2 amended by Am. 23, 7 F.R. 6615, effective 8-26-42 and Am. 38, 7 F.R. 10155, effective 12-10-42]

SIMILAR COMMODITIES OR SERVICES

One commodity shall be deemed similar to another commodity, if the first has the same use as the second, affords the purchaser fairly equivalent serviceability, and belongs to a type which would ordinarily be sold in the same price line. In determining the similarity of such commodities, differences merely in style or design which do not substantially affect use, or serviceability, or the price line in which such commodities would ordinarily have been sold, shall not be taken into account. One service shall be deemed similar to another service if the first has the same use and purpose as the second and belongs to a type which would ordinarily be sold for the same or substantially the same price.

SPECIAL PROVISIONS

The maximum prices established by this section for certain commodities or services or in certain transactions may be modified by supplementary regulation issued under this section.[1]

[Above paragraph added by Am. 15, 7 F.R. 5484, effective 7-15-42]

[NOTE: Revised Supplementary Order No. 34 (8 F.R. 12404) permits special packing expenses to be added to maximum prices on sales to procurement agencies of the United States.]

§ 1499.3 Maximum prices for commodities and services which cannot be priced under § 1499.2. The seller's maximum price for a commodity or service which cannot be priced under § 1499.2 of this General Maximum Price Regulation shall be a maximum price in line with the level of maximum prices established by this General Maximum Price Regulation. Such price shall be determined by the seller in accordance with the following procedures:

(a) In the case of a "sale at wholesale or retail" of a commodity, the seller (1) shall select from the same general classification and price range as the commodity being priced under this section, the comparable commodity for which a maximum price is established under § 1499.2 of this regulation and of which the seller delivered the largest number of units during March 1942; (2) shall divide his maximum price for that commodity by his "replacement cost" of that commodity; and (3) shall multiply the percentage so obtained by the cost to him of the commodity being priced under this paragraph. The resulting figure shall be the maximum price of the commodity being priced. Within ten days after determining such maximum price under this paragraph, the seller shall report such price to the "appropriate field office of the Office of Price Administration" upon a form, duly filled out, copied from the form contained in Appendix A of this regulation. The price so reported shall be subject to adjustment at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

(b) In the case of a sale, other than at wholesale or retail, of a commodity for which a maximum price or pricing method has not been or is not specifically authorized by the Office of Price Administration,[1]

(1) The seller (i) shall select a comparable commodity for which a maximum price has been established under § 1499.2 (a) (1) of this regulation; (ii) shall divide his maximum price for the comparable commodity by its current direct cost; and (iii) multiply the percentage so obtained by the current direct cost of the commodity being priced. All customary discounts, trade practices, and practices relating to the payment of transportation charges in effect with respect to the sale of the comparable commodity shall apply to such maximum price.

"Comparable commodity" as used in this subparagraph (1) means a commodity which is made by the same seller, has the same general use and is recognized in the trade or industry as being of the same general type, even though different materials or construction are used, and has a current direct cost varying by not more than 50% from the current direct cost of the commodity being priced. If more than one commodity can be regarded as comparable, the one whose current direct cost is closest to the current direct cost of the commodity being priced shall be regarded as the "comparable commodity."

"Direct cost" means the sum of direct labor and direct material costs. Direct labor costs shall in no event be computed on wage rates higher than those permitted by law, and direct material costs shall in no event be computed on prices higher than the maximum prices established by the applicable maximum price regulations.

Within ten days after determining a maximum price under this subparagraph (1), the seller shall report such price to the appropriate field office of the Office of Price Administration upon a form, duly filled out, copied from the form contained in Appendix C of this regulation. The price so reported shall be subject to adjustment at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

(2) If the seller is unable to determine a maximum price for a commodity under subparagraph (1) above or if he cannot determine a maximum price under subparagraph (1) without undue hardship, he shall, at least twenty days before offering such commodity for sale, file an application for a maximum price with the appropriate field office of the Office of Price Administration. The application shall set forth (i) a description of the commodity for which a maximum price is sought; (ii) the reasons why such commodity cannot be priced under § 1499.2 or subparagraph (1) above; (iii) the maximum price proposed by the seller together with a detailed explanation of the method by which the seller calculated such price; and (iv) the reasons why the seller believes the proposed price to be in line with the level of maximum prices established by this regulation. The seller shall also submit such additional pertinent information as the field office may require. The proposed price shall be the seller's maximum price, unless the Office of Price Administration specifically disapproves it within twenty days after the application is mailed. Any maximum price established under this subparagraph (2) shall be subject to adjustment by the Office of Price Administration at any time after such twenty day period.

(3) The Price Administrator may, in his discretion, issue orders authorizing maximum prices or pricing methods in those cases where applications under the former § 1499.3 (b) were pending on May 29, 1943. The Price Administrator may also issue orders under this § 1499.3 (b) authorizing maximum prices or price determining methods for groups of sellers, upon application, or on his own motion.

[Subparagraph (3) added and former (3) redesignated (4) and amended by Am. 55, 8 F.R. 8511, effective 6-17-43.]

(4) Any Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration, or such other offices as may be authorized by order issued by the appropriate Regional Office, may approve, disapprove, and make adjustments in prices reported under subparagraphs (1) and (2) above.

[Paragraph (b) amended by Am. 54, 8 F.R. 6962, effective 5-29-43]

(c) In the case of a sale at wholesale or retail of a commodity which cannot be priced under paragraph (a) of this section, the maximum price shall be a price determined by the seller after specific authorization from the Office of Price Administration or any duly authorized officer thereof. A seller who seeks an authorization to determine a maximum price under the provisions of this paragraph shall file with the regional office of the Office of Price Administration for the region in which his principal place of business is located an application setting forth (1) a description of the commodity or commodities for which a maximum price is sought; (2) a statement of the reasons why such commodity or commodities cannot be priced under § 1499.2 or § 1499.3 (a) of this General Maximum Price Regulation; and (3) any other facts which the seller wishes to submit in support of the application. The seller shall also submit such additional pertinent information as the regional office may require. Such authorization will be given in the form of an order prescribing a method of determining the maximum price.

(d) In the case of a sale of a commodity the price for which includes the supply of a service of substantial value and which cannot be priced under paragraph (a) of this section, or in the case of a sale of a service, the maximum price shall be a price determined by the seller by applying the first applicable pricing method of the pricing methods stated in § 1499.102 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 165, as amended.[1]

[§ 1499.3 amended by Am. 25, 7 F.R. 7093, effective 9-9-42 and as otherwise noted]

§ 1499.4 Supplemental regulations. If the maximum prices established for any commodity under the provisions of this General Maximum Price Regulation fail equitably to distribute returns from the sale at retail of such commodity among producers, manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers, the Price Administrator will by supplementary regulation establish such maximum prices for different classes of sellers, or fix such base periods for the determination of their maximum prices, as will insure that each such class of sellers shall receive a fair share of such return.

§ 1499.4a Determination of maximum prices by sellers at retail operating more than one retail establishment. A seller who owns more than one establishment selling commodities at retail and who has had a fixed practice, which prevailed during March 1942, of selling commodities at retail at uniform or at substantially uniform prices in all such establishments or in all such establishments located in a particular area may

This paragraph (b) is not to be used for pricing new commodities which are covered by other price regulations, for example, MPR 188 (Building Materials and Consumers Goods Other Than Apparel), MPR 220 (Certain Rubber Commodities), MPR 300 (Rubber Drug Sundries), MPR 118 (Cotton Products), MPR 136, as amended (Machines and Parts), and others.

C., for authorization to determine and use uniform maximum prices under this General Maximum Price Regulation in all of such establishments in which it has been the practice to charge uniform or substantially uniform prices. Such application shall state (a) the name and address of the principal office of the seller; (b) the number of separate retail establishments owned by the seller and the address of each such establishment; (c) the kind of merchandise carried in such retail establishments; (d) whether commodities are purchased centrally by the seller and distributed by the seller to such retail establishments or are purchased separately by such establishments; (e) a description of the fixed practice of the seller of selling commodities at uniform or substantially uniform prices in all such retail establishments or in all such retail establishments located in particular areas indicating the length of time during which such practice has been in effect and whether uniform selling prices are determined in a central office; (f) the names and addresses of the seller's most closely competitive sellers of the same class on a national or regional basis; and (g) any other facts which the seller wishes to submit in support of the application. If such authorization is given, it will be accompanied by instructions as to the method by which the seller may determine and use uniform maximum prices under this General Maximum Price Regulation.

[§ 1499.4a added by Am. 12, 7 F.R. 5365, effective 7-15-42]

§ 1499.4b Adjustment of maximum prices in cases of special deals. Any seller, other than a seller at retail, whose maximum price for a commodity to purchasers of a particular class is based on a "special deal" given by him to such purchasers which he can demonstrate was to have terminated not more than 123 days from the date on which it first became effective, may adjust his maximum price to such purchasers to the highest price at which such commodity was delivered by him to a purchaser of that class during the 30 days immediately preceding the date on which the special deal first became effective.

A seller at retail whose maximum price for a commodity to purchasers of a particular class is based on a special deal given by him to such purchasers as the result of a special deal given to him by his supplier may adjust his maximum price to such purchasers to the highest price at which such commodity was delivered by him to a purchaser of that class during the 30 days immediately preceding the date on which the special deal given by him first became effective. Such adjusted maximum price shall not apply to the particular commodities purchased by the retailer under the special deal given to him by his supplier.

The words "special deal," as used in this section, mean any reduction in the price of a commodity to purchasers of a particular class from the price in effect for purchasers of that class on the day immediately preceding the date on which the special deal first became effective, including but not limited to a reduction in such price resulting from offers of free goods, combination sales, and increased quantity and other discounts to purchasers of such class.

A seller who makes an adjustment in his maximum price pursuant to this section shall, within 10 days thereafter, submit a statement to the regional office of the Office of Price Administration for the region in which the seller's place of business is located, except that if the seller makes sales of the commodity in more than one region, the statement shall be submitted to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. Such statement shall set forth:

(a) The seller's maximum price for the commodity prior to the adjustment permitted by this section;

(b) A description of the special deal given by the seller including all the terms thereof, the class or classes of purchasers to which it was applicable, the dates during which it was in effect, and copies of price lists, advertisements and trade announcements pertaining to such special deal;

(c) In the case of a seller at retail a description of the special deal given to him by his supplier including all the terms thereof, the dates during which it was in effect and copies of price lists and trade announcements pertaining to such special deal;

(d) In the case of a seller other than a seller at retail, detailed evidence demonstrating that the special deal was to have terminated on or before a date not more than 123 days from the date on which the special deal first became effective;

(e) The adjusted maximum price established by the seller pursuant to this section; and

(f) A description of all prices and terms of payment which the seller has had in effect for the commodity since January 1, 1941.

The adjusted maximum price reported by the seller pursuant to this section shall be subject to adjustment at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

No seller shall make an adjustment of his maximum price under this section after May 31, 1943.

[§ 1499.4b added by Am. 14, 7 F.R. 5565, effective 7-21-42]

§ 1499.5 Transfers of business or stock in trade. If the business, assets or stock in trade of any business are sold or otherwise transferred after April 28, 1942, and the transferee carries on the business, or continues to deal in the same type of commodities or services, in an establishment separate from any other establishment previously owned or operated by him, the maximum prices of the transferee shall be the same as those to which his transferor would have been subject if no such transfer had taken place, and his obligation to keep records sufficient to verify such prices shall be the same. The transferor shall either preserve and make available, or turn over, to the transferee all records of transactions prior to the transfer which are necessary to enable the transferee to comply with the record provisions of this General Maximum Price Regulation.

§ 1499.6 Sales for export. The maximum price at which a person may export any commodity shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Maximum Export Price Regulation [1] issued by the Office of Price Administration on April 28, 1942.

§ 1499.7 Federal and state taxes. Any tax upon, or incident to the sale, delivery, processing, or use of a commodity, or the supplying of a service, imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state or subdivision thereof, shall be treated as follows in determining the seller's maximum price for such commodity or service and in preparing the records of such seller with respect thereto:

(a) As to a tax in effect during March 1942. (1) If the seller paid such tax, or if the tax was paid by any prior vendor, irrespective of whether the amount thereof was separately stated and collected from the seller, but the seller did not customarily state and collect separately from the purchase price during March 1942 the amount of the tax paid by him or tax reimbursement collected from him by his vendor, the seller may not collect such amount in addition to the maximum price, and in such case shall include such amount in determining the maximum price under this General Maximum Price Regulation.

(2) In all other cases if, at the time the seller determines his maximum price, the statute or ordinance imposing such tax does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price, and the seller does state it separately, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased, and in such case the seller shall not include such amount in determining the maximum price under this General Maximum Price Regulation.

(b) As to a tax or increase in a tax which becomes effective after March 31, 1942. If the statute or ordinance imposing such tax or increase does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax or increase separately from the purchase price, and the seller does separately state it, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax or increase actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased: Provided, however, That the tax on the transportation of all property (excepting coal) imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of

1942 shall, for purposes of determining the applicable maximum price of any commodity or service, be treated as though it were an increase of 3% in the amount charged by every person engaged in the business of transporting property for hire. It shall not be treated as a tax for which a charge may be made in addition to the maximum price.

[§ 1499.7 amended, by Am. 7, 7 F.R. 4659, effective 6-25-42 and Am. 39, 7 F.R. 10454, effective 12-17-42.]

§ 1499.8 Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those established by this General Maximum Price Regulation may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

COMMODITIES AND SERVICES EXCEPTED FROM THIS GENERAL MAXIMUM PRICE REGULATION

§ 1499.9 Commodities excepted from this General Maximum Price Regulation. The provisions of this General Maximum Price Regulation shall not apply to such sales and deliveries of commodities as may be specified by supplementary regulations or by any amendments thereto.[2]

RECORDS

§ 1499.11 Base-period records. Every person selling commodities or services for which, upon sale by that person, maximum prices are established by this General Maximum Price Regulation, shall:

(a) Preserve for examination by the Office of Price Administration all his existing "records" relating to the prices which he charged for such of those commodities or services as he delivered or supplied during March 1942, and his offering prices for delivery or supply of such commodities or services during such month; and

(b) Prepare, on or before July 1, 1942, on the basis of all available information and records, and thereafter keep for examination by any person during ordinary business hours, a statement showing:

(1) The highest prices which he charged for such of those commodities or services as he delivered or supplied during March 1942 and his offering prices for delivery or supply of such commodities or services during such month, together with an appropriate description or identification of each such commodity or service; and

(2) All his customary allowances, discounts, and other price differentials.

Any person, other than a person selling at retail, who claims that substantial injury would result to him from making such statement available to any other person, may file it with the appropriate field office of the Office of Price Administration. The information contained in such statement will not be published or disclosed unless it is determined that the withholding of such information is contrary to the purposes of this General Maximum Price Regulation.

§ 1499.12 Current records. Every person selling commodities or services for which, upon sale by that person, maximum prices are established by this General Maximum Price Regulation shall keep, and make available for examination by the Office of Price Administration, records of the same kind as he has customarily kept, relating to the prices which he charged for such of those commodities or services as he sold after the effective date of this General Maximum Price Regulation; and, in addition, records showing, as precisely as possible, the basis upon which he determined maximum prices for those commodities or services.

§ 1499.13 Maximum prices of cost-of-living commodities: statement, marking or posting. For the purposes of this section, a cost-of-living commodity is any commodity designated as such by the Price Administrator. A list of the classes of commodities so designated appears in § 1499.25, Appendix B, of this General Maximum Price Regulation.

(a) On and after May 18, 1942, every person offering to sell a cost-of-living commodity at retail shall mark the maximum price of such commodity in a manner plainly visible to, and understandable by, the purchasing public. The maximum price may be marked on the commodity itself or on the shelf, bin, rack, or other holder or container upon or in which the commodity is kept, or it may be posted at the place in the business establishment where the commodity is offered for sale: Provided, That whichever of the above methods of posting is adopted, the maximum price of each commodity offered for sale shall be plainly visible to the purchaser at the place in the business establishment where the commodity is offered for sale, and shall not be obscured by the posted prices of other commodities, whether by use of price books or catalogs or layers of price lists or otherwise or in any other manner. The maximum price shall be stated as follows: "Ceiling price $-----;" or "Our ceiling $--------." Any person choosing to post by price-lines the maximum prices of commodities in the classifications marked by asterisks in Appendix B, shall post the maximum price by price-line at the place in the business establishment where the commodities in such price-line are offered for sale, and, in addition, shall mark the selling price of each such commodity on the commodity itself.

[Paragraph (a) as amended by Am. 18, 7 F.R. 5783, effective 7-30-42]

(1) Every seller making retail sales on the basis of orders received by mail shall post or mark his maximum prices in all catalogs, flyers, leaflets, circulars, booklets, lists or other printed or similar matter issued and distributed by him after the effective date of this amendment for the purpose of obtaining mail orders. One of the following methods of posting or marking shall be used:

(i) State the maximum price for each cost-of-living commodity listed in each of the publications described above at the place in the publication where such commodity is listed. A change in maximum price, which has occurred after a publication has been printed but before it has been distributed, shall be entered either where the cost-of-living commodity has been listed or upon a correction page inserted and attached inside the front cover of the publication. The maximum price shall be stated substantially as follows: "Ceiling price $----;" or "Our ceiling price $----;" or,

(ii) Print on the front cover of all catalogs, flyers, leaflets, circulars or booklets, or the front page of all lists or publications not having a cover, at the time they are issued, substantially the following statement signed with the name of the seller:

NOTICE TO CUSTOMERS

No price for any article listed or described herein exceeds the ceiling price for that article as determined under the applicable maximum price regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration. As required by that Office, we will, upon request, furnish you with a statement of our maximum prices on any of the commodities listed about which you inquire.

REGISTRATION AND ENFORCEMENT

§ 1499.15 Registration. Every person selling at wholesale, and every person who owns, or hereafter becomes the owner of, any business operating an "establishment selling at retail" any commodity or service for which a maximum price is established by this General Maximum Price Regulation or by any other "price regulation" of the Office of Price Administration, shall register with the Office of Price Administration at such time and in such manner as the Administrator may hereafter by regulation prescribe, on forms which will be made available by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1499.16 Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[11] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation or schedule. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

[§ 1499.16 amended by Am. 20, 7 F.R. 6081, effective 8-8-42; Am. 37, 7 F.R. 9732, effective 11-25-42; Supplementary Order 72, 8 F.R. 13244, effective 10-1-43]

PROCEDURE FOR ADJUSTMENT OR AMENDMENT

§ 1499.18 Adjustment of maximum prices. The Office of Price Administration, or any duly authorized representative thereof, may adjust any maximum price established under this regulation in the following cases:

(a) In the case of any seller at retail who shows:

(1) That such maximum price is abnormally low in relation to the maximum price of the same or similar commodity or service established for other sellers at retail; and

(2) That this abnormality subjects him to substantial hardship.

No application for adjustment filed after November 30, 1942 will be granted under this paragraph (a).

(b) In the case of any seller, other than a seller at retail, who shows:

(1) That such maximum price causes him substantial hardship and is abnormally low in relation to the maximum prices established for competitive sellers of the same or similar commodities; and

(2) That establishing for him a maximum price, bearing a normal relation to the maximum price established for competitive sellers of the same or similar commodities, will not cause or threaten to cause an increase in the level of retail prices.

No application for adjustment filed after November 15, 1942 will be granted under this paragraph (b).

(c) In the case of any seller or group of sellers when it appears:

(1) That there exists or threatens to exist in a particular locality a shortage in the supply of a commodity or service which aids directly in the war program or is essential to a standard of living consistent with the prosecution of the war; and

(2) That such local shortage will be substantially reduced or eliminated by adjusting the maximum prices of such seller and of like sellers for such commodity or service; and

(3) That such adjustment will not create or tend to create a shortage, or a need for increase in prices, in another locality, and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(4) The provisions of this paragraph (c) shall not apply to fluid milk. The provisions for the adjustment of the established maximum prices for fluid milk are set forth in § 1499.75 (a) (9) of Supplementary Regulation No. 15 to the General Maximum Price Regulation.

[Subparagraph (4) added by Am. 59, 8 F.R. 13724, effective 10-4-43]

Each Regional Administrator is authorized to make adjustments or act upon applications for adjustment under this paragraph (c).

(d) In the case of any seller at retail who shows:

(1) That his maximum price for any commodity established under this Regulation is less than the minimum price in effect for such commodity during March 1942 pursuant to a contract entered into in accordance with a Fair Trade Act of any state; and

(2) That the commodity was generally sold at retail during March 1942 at such minimum price within the locality in which his selling establishment is located; and

(3) That he has been permanently enjoined by a court from selling the commodity at less than such minimum price.

In such a case the maximum price of such seller will be increased to such minimum price.

(e) In such other cases as may be specified by supplementary regulation issued under this section.[12]

Applications for adjustment shall be filed in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.[13]

[§ 1499.18 as amended by Am. 33, 7 F.R. 8942, effective 11-4-42]

[Note: Procedural Regulation No. 6 (7 F.R. 5087, 5665; 8 F.R. 6173, 6174) provides for the filing of applications for adjustment of maximum prices for commodities or services under Government contracts or subcontracts. Revised Supplementary Order No. 9 (8 F.R. 6175) makes the provisions of Procedural Regulation No. 6 applicable to all price regulations, excepting those which expressly prohibit such applications and certain specific regulations listed in Revised Supplementary Order No. 9.]

[Note: Supplementary Order No. 28 (7 F.R. 9619; 8 F.R. 7256) provides for the filing of applications for adjustment or petitions for amendment based on a pending wage or salary increase requiring the approval of the National War Labor Board.]

§ 1499.19 Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this General Maximum Price Regulation, may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

[§ 1499.19 as amended by Supplementary Order 26, 7 F.R. 8948]

§ 1499.19a Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration having authority to act upon the pending request for a change in price or to give the authorization. The authorization will be given by order, except that it may be given by letter or telegram when the contemplated revision will be the granting of an individual application for adjustment.

(g) "Most closely competitive seller of the same class." "Seller of the same class" means a seller (1) performing the same function (for example, manufacturing, distributing, retailing, processing, storing, installing, or repairing), (2) of similar type (for example, department store, mail order house, chain store, specialty shop, cut-rate store), (3) dealing in the same type of commodities or services, and (4) selling to the same class of purchaser. A seller's "most closely competitive seller of the same class" shall be a seller of the same class who (i) is selling the same or a similar commodity or service, and (ii) is closely competitive in the sale of such commodities or services, and (iii) is located nearest to the seller.

But "offering price" shall not include a price intended to withhold a commodity or service from the market, or a price offered as a bargaining price by a seller who usually sells at a price lower than his asking price.

(i) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, any other organized group of persons, legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States, any agency thereof, any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, and any agency of any of the foregoing.

(k) "Purchaser of the same class" refers to the practice adopted by the seller in setting different prices for commodities or services for sales to different purchasers or kinds of purchasers (for example, manufacturer, wholesaler, jobber, retailer, government agency, public institution, individual consumer) or for purchasers located in different areas or for different quantities or grades or under different conditions of sale.

[Paragraph (l) amended by Am. 41, 8 F.R. 1204, effective 2-1-43 and revoked by Am. 51, 8 F.R. 4978, effective 4-22-43]

(m) "Records" include books of account, sales lists, sales slips, orders, vouchers, contracts, receipts, invoices, bills of lading, and other papers and documents.

(n) "Replacement cost" shall be the net price paid by the seller after May 18, 1942, or the net price which the seller would have to pay to replace such commodity after such date.

(o) "Sale at retail" or "selling at retail" means a sale or selling to an ultimate consumer other than an industrial or commercial user except that (1) for the purpose of § 1499.3 of this General Maximum Price Regulation a "sale at retail" shall not include any sale by a producer, manufacturer, or fabricator of any commodity produced, manufactured, or fabricated by him, and (2) for the purpose of §§ 1499.11 and 1499.13 of this General Maximum Price Regulation a "sale at retail" shall not include any sale to the United States, any other government or any of its political subdivisions, any religious, educational or charitable institution, any institution for the sick, deaf, blind, disabled, aged or insane, or any school, hospital, library or any agency of any of the foregoing.

[Paragraph (o) as amended by Am. 7, 7 F.R. 4659, effective 6-25-42]

[Paragraph (p) amended by Am. 21, 7 F.R. 6007, effective 8-7-42; Am. 45, 8 F.R. 2346, effective 2-22-43; and Am. 60, effective 2-7-44]

The terms "sale," "selling," "sold," "seller," "buy," "purchase," and "purchaser," shall be construed accordingly. Nothing in this General Maximum Price Regulation shall be construed to prohibit the making of a contract to sell a commodity or service at a price not to exceed the maximum price at the time of delivery or supply.

(s) "Seller" includes the seller of any commodity or service. Where a seller at retail makes sales or supplies services through more than one selling unit, other than salesmen making sales at uniform prices, each such separate place of business of the seller shall be deemed to be a separate seller. Where a seller other than at retail makes sales or supplies services through more than one selling unit, all selling units whose prices for most of the commodities they sell have customarily been determined centrally by the same office, shall be deemed to be a single seller; but where a seller has by charging different prices for a commodity at his selling units established different classes of purchasers, he will have different maximum prices for the different selling units. For the purposes of § 1499.16 of this regulation, the owner of a business shall be considered the seller regardless of the number of separate places of business he owns.

Item 3. (a) Insert general classification (food, hardware, men's clothing, etc.), in which the seller classes the commodity for which a maximum price is reported.

[1] "Net price" (or "net replacement cost") shall be the price paid after deducting all discounts allowed to, and adding transportation and delivery charges paid by the seller filing this form.

Item 6. State the date on which the price was effective for sales to purchasers.

5. Give the unit of production used in the calculations (one, one dozen, one gross, etc.). Must be the same for both articles.

7. Give the total of all entries under Item 6. If semifinished or finished parts purchased from other firms are used, the numbers of parts included in each unit of the article, the price paid per part and the names of the suppliers are to be attached to the report. All material costs are to be your supplier's maximum prices unless current prices charged by your supplier to purchasers of your class are lower, in which case these shall apply.
8. Give the total wage bill paid per unit of product for manual labor expended directly in the production of the article. This total must not include inspection, instruction, or other indirect labor, or factory burden. If necessary for a clear understanding, a breakdown of this item should be attached to the report. In computing unit direct labor cost, use the current wage rates for each class of labor. Wage rates may not be higher than those of Oct. 3, 1942 unless approved by the War Labor Board.
10. Select from the comparable articles being produced by you, and for which maximum prices have already been established, that comparable article whose direct unit cost is nearest that of the article being priced.
11. Give catalog or list number and model name or number. If a catalog is not now on file with the OPA containing a full description of the article, such a catalog or description of the article must accompany the report.
16. Same instructions as 6, above.
17. Give the total of all entries under Item 16. Costs shall be determined as under instruction 7 above.
18. Same instructions as 8, above.
20. State here the maximum price now charged that class of customer to which you expect to sell the largest volume of the new article. This may be lower than the highest price you are now permitted to charge some customers. If the comparable article now has an established maximum price based on a different class of customer, this price must be appropriately adjusted to the class of customer for which the price of the new article is being determined.

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 76 (8 F.R. 14011) provides that the Price Administrator may authorize service suppliers subject to the General Maximum Price Regulation and Maximum Price Regulations Nos. 134, 136, 165, 246 and 251, to apply the provisions of one regulation to services supplied by him which are subject to two or more of the above regulations; and gives the procedure for filing application for such authorization]

NOTE: The reporting and record keeping requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

MILEAGE RATIONING: GASOLINE REGULATIONS

A rationale accompanying this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Ration Order 5C is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1394.7851 (b) (1) (ii) is amended to read as follows:

(ii) To move such a vehicle or boat in connection with a bona fide change of the regular place of residence of the person entitled to the use thereof; or to return such a vehicle or boat to the regular place of residence of the person entitled to the use thereof on December 1, 1942 if such vehicle or boat has been continuously away from such place of residence since that date, except that if such place of residence and such vehicle or boat were, on December 1, 1942, within the limitation area, no such ration shall be issued unless such vehicle or boat has been continuously away from the regular place of residence of the person entitled to the use thereof since August 22, 1942.

However, no special ration for use with such a motor vehicle shall be issued under this subdivision unless any outstanding supplemental ration issued for use with such vehicle is first surrendered to the Board to which application for the special ration is made. If a currently valid supplemental ration is surrendered, the Board may include in the special ration an allowance of gasoline for occupational mileage sufficient to cover the applicant's occupational driving requirements for the period between the date of issuance of the special ration and the change of residence. In such a case, the Board shall not allow gasoline for occupational mileage in excess of the proportionate amount of gasoline allowed to the applicant for that period on the basis of such supplemental ration or in excess of the amount of gasoline represented by the surrendered portion of such ration.

2. Section 1394.7851 (d) is added to read as follows:

(d) If application is made for a special ration for use with a motor vehicle for which a tire inspection record is required to be outstanding, the applicant shall present to the Board the tire inspection record for the vehicle for which the ration is sought.

If a tire inspection record is required to be presented pursuant to § 1394.7851 (d), he shall write on such record the following information:

(i) The date of issuance.
(ii) The purpose for which the ration is issued.
(iii) The gallonage allowed.
(iv) The designation of the issuing Board.

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Section 6.6 (j) is added to read as follows:

(j) Industrial users may apply for an increased allotment for first allotment period of 1944 to be charged as an advance against future allotments. (1) An industrial user may apply at any time before March 16, 1944 for an increase in his allotment for the first allotment period of 1944 to be charged as an advance against his future allotments. The application must be made on OPA Form R-315 to the board with which he is registered, but not before he applies for his regular allotment for the first allotment period of 1944. The industrial user must give the following information in the application:

(i) The amount of the increase requested; and

(ii) The amount of his allotment for the first allotment period of 1944.

(2) The board shall grant the application if it complies with the requirements of subparagraph (1). The increase in allotment granted to the industrial user shall not exceed 100% of his regular allotment for the first allotment period of 1944. (Paragraph (d) of this section applies in determining whether an industrial user who receives an increase in allotment under this paragraph is entitled to a certificate, and determining the amount of the certificate.)

(3) Any certificate issued or increase in allotment granted to an industrial user under this paragraph may be used only for the purpose of acquiring and using frozen processed foods at his industrial user establishment.

(4) Any increase in allotment granted to an industrial user under this paragraph shall be charged against the industrial user's future allotments. The amount of the increase shall be deducted from his allotment for the second allotment period of 1944. If the amount of the increase exceeds the amount of his allotment for the second allotment period of 1944, the excess shall be deducted from his subsequent allotments, and no allotment for any 1944 allotment period may be issued to him until the amount of the increase has been deducted in this way.

This amendment shall become effective February 7, 1944.

PART 1418—TERRITORIES AND POSSESSIONS

[MPR 395,[1] Amdt. 11]

MAXIMUM PRICES IN THE VIRGIN ISLANDS OF THE UNITED STATES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation 395 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 22, Table IX, item 10, is amended by adding the phrase "originating in the continental United States" after the words "Turkeys, hard chilled, dressed but not eviscerated, Grade B, old and young."

2. Section 23, Table XI, item 1, is amended by adding the phrase "adjusted for shrinkage only" after the words "1 lb." in the quantity column.

3. Section 30 is amended to read as follows:

Sec. 30. Maximum prices for locally produced poultry and poultry imported from the West Indies—(a) Commodities and transactions governed by this regulation. (1) This regulation applies to wholesale and retail sales and deliveries of chickens, ducks, geese, guinea fowl, squabs and turkeys, including live, dressed, drawn, when locally produced or imported from the West Indies, except as noted in paragraph (a) (2) below.

(2) This regulation specifically exempts from price control by the Office of Price Administration the following poultry, if sold or delivered in the Virgin Islands of the United States:

Breeding poultry sold by producers to buyers other than food dealers or consumers, when locally produced or imported from the West Indies.

Day-old and baby chickens, nestlings and fledglings of ducks, geese, guinea fowl and turkeys, when locally produced or imported from the West Indies.

All pigeons except squabs as defined in paragraph (b) (5) below.

Undomesticated game fowl (not including guinea fowl) and wild water fowl.

Fighting cock (gamecock).

(3) The prices of poultry and poultry products not specifically covered in paragraph (a) (1) or exempted in paragraph (a) (2) are subject to any applicable regulation or order issued or which shall be issued by the Office of Price Administration. This regulation withdraws from Maximum Price Regulation No. 201 poultry imported from the West Indies; but Maximum Price Regulation No. 201 governs poultry imported from any other place, if the commodity is subject to price regulation in the continental United States, and section 22 of Maximum Price Regulation 395 governs turkeys, hard chilled, dressed but not eviscerated, Grade B, old and young originating in the continental United States.

(b) Definitions. (1) "Locally produced poultry" means poultry raised within the Virgin Islands of the United States to the stage at which the poultry is sold or delivered to a seller at wholesale or at retail or to a final consumer, regardless of where the poultry was originally hatched.

(2) Poultry "raised in accordance with modern commercial poultry raising methods" means poultry systematically raised in accordance with modern hygienic and sanitary standards of high quality and fed strictly on commercial feeds.

(3) "Dressed" poultry means poultry which has been killed and plucked. It may or may not have been bled.

(4) "Drawn poultry" means dressed poultry from which the entrails have been removed without contamination of the body cavity.

(5) "Squab" means any pigeon, except a homing pigeon intended to be raised for its flying habits, which is an unfledged nestling.

(c) Maximum retail prices, live weight. The maximum retail prices, live weight, for certain kinds of poultry sold or delivered in the Virgin Islands of the United States shall be the pertinent price set forth in the following Table XVI.

TABLE XVI—RETAIL POULTRY PRICES, LIVE WEIGHT

Squabs	Pair	.60

(d) Service charges for dressing. The seller may add a service charge not in excess of ten cents per head for dressing chickens, ducks, geese, guinea fowl and turkeys. The charge for dressing squabs may not exceed ten cents per pair.

(e) Maximum prices at wholesale. The maximum wholesale price is subject to agreement between buyer and seller, but in no event may exceed the corresponding maximum retail price including, if applicable, the charge for dressing.

(f) Prices for dressed and drawn poultry and for chilled or frozen poultry sold on the basis of dressed weight. Any person offering for sale dressed and drawn poultry or chilled or frozen poultry priced on the basis of dressed weight shall apply to the Territorial Director for the Virgin Islands for authorization of his maximum price. The Territorial Director may by order authorize a price, and may require such pertinent information from the seller as will assist him in establishing the price.

The price authorized by the Territorial Director shall be subject to adjustment at any time by the Administrator for the Ninth Region.

Any seller who objects to an authorized or adjusted price may obtain review as provided in Revised Procedural Regulation No. 7 issued by the Office of Price Administration.

This amendment shall become effective February 8, 1944.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Rev. SR 14 to GMPR, Amdt. 89]

COMPRESSED GAS CYLINDER DEMURRAGE

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Section 4.20 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 4.20 Compressed gas cylinder demurrage. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of the General Maximum Price Regulation, a seller of a compressed gas who is lawfully required by his supplier to pay demurrage on a compressed gas cylinder may require his purchasers to pay demurrage on such cylinder in the same amount on the same terms as are lawfully imposed on the seller by his supplier.

(1) Any seller who institutes or modifies a cylinder demurrage charge under this paragraph (a) shall, with or prior to the first delivery to each buyer which is subject to such demurrage charge, furnish such buyer with a written notice containing the following:

(i) A full statement as to the amount of and the conditions governing the demurrage charge.

(ii) A statement that the demurrage charge is instituted under the provisions of section 4.20 of Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 14 to the General Maximum Price Regulation together with a copy of this paragraph (a).

(2) Any reseller of a compressed gas who receives from his supplier the notice required by subparagraph (1) shall, so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remained in effect, retain such notice for inspection by the Office of Price Administration or any buyer during ordinary business hours.

(b) Where the seller of a compressed gas who owns the cylinders in which it is sold may not, under the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation, impose any cylinder demurrage charge on sales of such compressed gas to a class of purchasers, he may, on approval of the Office of Price Administration, institute a cylinder demurrage charge on sales of such compressed gas to that class of purchasers which is of an amount and subject to such conditions as are in line with those in effect by competitive sellers of such compressed gas to purchasers of the same class.

(1) A written application for approval of such a demurrage charge and the conditions governing the same shall be made in writing to the appropriate field office of the Office of Price Administration. Such application shall show:

(i) The compressed gas and the class of purchasers to whom it is proposed to institute a cylinder demurrage charge.

(ii) The proposed demurrage charge and proposed conditions to govern the same.

(iii) The names and addresses of the nearest three competitive sellers of such compressed gas, and the cylinder demurrage charges and governing conditions imposed by such sellers on sales of such compressed gas to purchasers of the same class. Where the applicant is unable to furnish the information as to the cylinder demurrage charges and governing conditions imposed by such sellers and so certifies, he may omit this information.

(2) The proposed demurrage charges and governing conditions shall be considered as approved unless the Office of Price Administration specifically disapproves them within thirty days after the application is mailed. They shall be subject to adjustment at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

(3) Any regional office of the Office of Price Administration, or such other offices as may be authorized by order issued by the appropriate regional offices, may approve, disapprove, and make adjustments in demurrage charges and governing conditions reported under this paragraph (b).

(4) Any seller who institutes a cylinder demurrage charge under this paragraph (b) shall, with or prior to the first delivery to each buyer which is subject to such demurrage charge, furnish such buyer with the written notice specified in paragraph (a) (1). Any reseller of a compressed gas who receives such notice from his supplier shall, so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect retain such notice for inspection by the Office of Price Administration or any buyer during ordinary business hours.

This amendment shall become effective February 8, 1944.

NOTE: The record-keeping and reporting requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

FLUID MILK IN MANISTEE COUNTY, MICH.

Correction to Order No. G-13 (formerly designated Order No. G-13) under Maximum Price Regulation No. 329. Purchases of milk from producers for resale as fluid milk.

On December 4, 1943, a general order was duly issued, effective December 4, 1943, by the Cleveland Regional Office of Region III of the Office of Price Administration, adjusting the maximum prices for purchases of milk from producers for resale as fluid milk, applicable to milk distributors in the County of Manistee in the State of Michigan. By inadvertence, said order was erroneously designated Order No. G-13, rather than G-12 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 329. The title of said order is therefore corrected to read as folows: "Order No. G-12 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 329. Purchases of milk from producers for resale as fluid milk."

For the same reason, the title of the opinion accompanying said order is also corrected to read as follows: "Opinion accompanying Order No. G-12 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 329. Purchases of milk from producers for resale as fluid milk."

This eorrection shall beocme effective January 26, 1944.

[Region VI Rev. Order G-96 Under 18 (c)]

FIREWOOD IN UPPER WISCONSIN

Revised Order No. G-96 under § 1499.-18 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. Firewood prices in upper Wisconsin.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration by § 1499.18 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation, it is hereby ordered:

(a) What this order does. This order completely revises the previously existing Order No. G-96, as amended. The new order establishes ceiling prices for all types of sellers of firewood. Sections

(b) (1) and (b) (2) establish dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for sales by producers to consumers and retailers. Ceiling prices for sales by producers to wholesalers are established by a percentage off the table of ceiling prices for sales to retailers. Provision is made for specific deductions and additions determined by the basis of delivery used. Paragraph (c) establishes ceiling prices for wholesalers, and paragraphs (d), (e) and (f), maximum prices for retail dealers. The dealer's maximum prices are in the main based upon current costs plus March 1942 margins. The ceiling price is recalculated from month to month to reflect changes in cost. Paragraph (g) provides special methods for pricing specialty woods, including kindling. No person may sell firewood at prices higher than the ceiling price provided in this order.

(b) Ceiling prices for sales by producers of firewood. The ceiling prices for sales of firewood loaded in freight cars at producer's plant, or delivered within producer's free delivery zone shall be the prices set forth in subparagraphs 1, 2 and 3 of this section. From these amounts shall be deducted, or to these amounts shall be added the deductions or additions applicable to the type of delivery described in subparagraph 4.

(1) Sales to consumers. Ceiling prices for sales by producers to consumers shall be the prices set forth in the following table, Schedule A.

(3) Sales to wholesalers. The ceiling prices for sales by producers to wholesalers shall be the ceiling prices set forth in Schedule B above, less a sum equivalent to 20% thereof with respect to soft woods, and 15% thereof with respect to hard and mixed woods.

(4) Delivery allowances and deductions. Where wood is sold on some basis other than loaded on freight cars at the producer's plant, or delivered within the producer's free delivery zone (as that term is defined in section (e) (14) of this order), the following additions may, and the following deductions must, be made:

(i) Where firewood is picked up by the buyer at the producer's place of business, the following deductions from the ceiling prices above established must be made:

Standard cord of 48" or 8' lengths	$1.00
Single cord of 24" lengths	.55
Single cord of 16" lengths	.40
Single cord of 12" lengths	.30

(ii) For deliveries of a minimum load of 128 cu. ft. of firewood beyond the seller's free delivery zone, if delivery is made by seller's own truck, the following delivery charges may be added:

Distance beyond free delivery zone:	Allowance per minimum load of 128 cu. ft.
Not over 5 miles	$0.75
Over 5 miles but not over 10 miles	1.50
Over 10 miles but not over 15 miles	2.00
Over 15 miles	2.25

(iii) If deliveries of firewood are made in amounts less than 128 cu. ft. the maximum delivery allowance set forth in the table in subparagraph (ii) above shall be reduced in the proportion which the actual load bears to 128 cu. ft.

(iv) If delivery is made by common or contract carrier a seller may add the actual amount paid to such a carrier, but in no event an amount exceeding the lawful maximum rate for such delivery.

(5) Test loads. When a producer sells firewood all of the same size and type by the rail carload, he may weigh one cord of the wood sold and determine the total number of such cords in the carload by dividing the net weight of the carload by the weight of such "test" cord.

(6) Ceiling prices of specialty firewoods. The maximum price which a producer may charge for specialty firewoods shall be a price in line with the prices provided in this order, but in no event higher than the prices arrived at by the following procedure:

(i) The seller shall first take the maximum price established by him under the General Maximum Price Regulation for the longest length of slab wood of the same type of wood as the specialty firewood to be priced, that is, hard wood, mixed wood or soft wood.

(ii) The seller shall next find the maximum price established by this order for slab wood of the same type and lengths as that selected pursuant to subparagraph (i).

(iii) The seller shall next divide the price determined in accordance with subparagraph (ii) by the price determined in accordance with subparagraph (i).

(iv) The seller shall finally use the number obtained as provided in subparagraph (iii) to multiply the maximum price established by him under the General Maximum Price Regulation for the specific specialty firewood item to be priced. The result shall be the maximum price for such specialty firewood item under this order.

(c) Sales to retail dealers by persons other than producers. The ceiling prices for sales by wholesalers and all other persons other than producers, to retail dealers shall be the ceiling prices set forth in Schedule B, (paragraph (b) (2)) subject to the delivery allowances and deductions provided in section (b) (4).

(d) Ceiling prices for retail dealers. The ceiling prices for retail dealers shall be determined as hereinafter set forth:

(1) Where retail dealer performs no processing. The ceiling prices for retail dealers for each kind and type of wood which is purchased by such dealer in substantially the same form as sold, and which is not sawed or otherwise processed by such dealer, shall be prices determined as nearly as possible by adding the margin obtained in March 1942 to current costs. The ceiling price shall be computed from month to month in accordance with the following directions:

(i) Determine the highest price charged in March 1942 for each kind, size and type of firewood.

(ii) Add to this amount, the amount by which the "current net landed cost" (as defined in the next two paragraphs) exceeds the "net landed cost" incurred in the last purchase made prior to March 31, 1942.

(iii) "Net landed cost" means the cost of firewood delivered at retail dealer's yard. Where wood is bought on some other basis, it means the actual cost, f. o. b. place of purchase, plus costs, if any, of loading, transportation and unloading incurred in bringing the wood to the yard. Where wood is bought on a basis other than f. o. b. dealer's yard, records must be preserved and made available for inspection on the basis of which such costs can be determined.

(iv) "Current net landed cost" of any type, size and kind of firewood means the "net landed cost" incurred in the largest purchase of such size, kind and type of firewood made during the month preceding sale, if a purchase was made during such month; if not, then the cost of the largest purchase during the last month preceding the month of sale in which such a purchase was made.

(v) The ceiling price for a kind, size or type of firewood not sold, or offered for sale, during March 1942, shall be the "current net landed cost" of such firewood plus a dollar margin equivalent to the dollar margin (as determined under this order) on that type of firewood, the sales of which represented the largest volume during the month of March 1942.

(2) Ceiling prices for retail dealers who saw or otherwise process firewood. Where a retailer buys some kind and type of firewood and saws such firewood into various lengths or otherwise processes it, he shall use the method of establishing a ceiling price provided in subparagraph (d) (1), if in March 1942 he sold the same kind and type of firewood sawed or processed in the same manner and to the same extent. If his method of sawing or processing is substantially different from the method adopted with respect to wood sold in March 1942, he shall determine his maximum price under subparagraph (d) (3).

(3) Maximum prices for retail dealers who cannot price under subparagraphs (d) (1) and (2). Retail dealers who cannot establish a maximum price for any kind, size or type of firewood under the paragraphs (d) or (e) because they sold no firewood during March 1942 or because they saw or otherwise process firewood in a manner or to an extent substantially different from that in which such sawing or processing was performed during March 1942, or for any other reason, shall apply to the appropriate district office of the Office of Price Administration for ceiling prices or for a pricing method whereby such ceiling prices may be determined. Such applications shall be filed by any dealer now selling firewood on or prior to January 1, 1944, and by any other retail dealer prior to making any sales. Such applications shall state:

(i) The kind, size and type of firewood to be sold.

(ii) The names and addresses of the two retail dealers located closest to applicant's place of business.

(iii) An analysis of transportation, sawing, handling, loading, unloading and other costs, if any, incidental to the sale of each kind, size and type of firewood.

(iv) Such other information as the Office of Price Administration may request.

Upon application, the Office of Price Administration will establish ceiling prices for a method for establishing ceiling prices which will be in line with the general level of ceiling prices established under this order.

(e) Definitions; as used in this order. (1) "Firewood" means body or block wood, slab wood or bundled edgings used as stove or furnace fuel cut in lengths of approximately 48", 24", 16" or 12". "Firewood" shall also include such wood when cut in approximately 8' lengths when sold for use ultimately as fuel.

(2) "Body or block wood" means those types of wood commonly referred to as body, block or chunk wood. "Body or block wood" is distinguished from "slab wood" or "edgings" in that a piece of such wood includes a larger portion of the original piece of wood from which it is cut than does a piece of "slab wood" or "edgings" of equal lengths.

(3) "Slab wood" means wood cut from the sides of a log or bolt.

(4) "Bundled edgings" means wood cut from the side of a piece of lumber and tied into bundles in accordance with accepted trade practices.

(5) "Hard wood" means firewood, at least 90% of which is produced from the botanical species of brown ash (Fraxinum nigra), beech (Fagus americana), rock elm (Ulmus thomasi), hard maple (Acer saccharum), and the commercial species of the genera birch (Betula) soft elm (Ulmus), soft maple (Acer), oak (Querous), and all other hardwood species except aspen (Populus tremuloides Michx) and basswood (Tilia).

(6) "Mixed wood" means firewood, at least 40% of which is produced from the botanical species of brown ash (Fraxinum nigra), beech (Fagus americana), rock elm (Ulmus thomasi), hard maple (Acer saccharum), and the commercial species of the general birch (Betula), soft elm (Ulmus), soft maple (Acer), oak (Querous), and all other hardwod species except aspen (Populus tremuloides Michx) and basswood (Tilia).

(7) "Soft wood" means any firewood which does not qualify as hard wood or mixed wood.

(8) A "producer" means a person who produces firewood:

(a) By removing it from the forest or woodlot, or

(b) As a result of the operation of a sawmill, veneer mill, or any other type of wood working plant.

(9) A "retail dealer" means a seller of firewood who produces no firewood but acquires firewood from producers or from other dealers. Cutting firewood into smaller lengths than the lengths in which it was acquired or purchased shall not be considered to be producing firewood.

(10) A "standard cord of 48" or 8' lengths" means a pile of firewood of approximately 4' lengths piled 4' high and 8' wide, or a pile of firewood of approximately 8' lengths piled 4' high and 4' wide.

(11) A "single cord of 24" lengths" means a pile of firewood of 20" to 28" lengths piled 4' high and 8' wide.

(12) A "single cord of 16" lengths" means a pile of firewood of 14" to 20" lengths piled 4' high and 8' wide.

(13) A "single cord of 12" lengths" means a pile of firewood of 12" to 14" lengths piled 4' high and 8' wide.

(14) A seller's "free delivery zone" is the corporate limits of the city village, if any, in which the seller is located but in no event an area smaller than the area within a radius of one mile of the seller's place of business.

(15) A "specialty firewood" means kindling or wood which is produced as a by-product at a sawmill, veneer mill, flooring mill or other wood-working plant, either in random lengths or uneven shapes and sizes so that it cannot practicably be piled and sold in cords. Examples of "specialty firewood" are flooring clippings and defective bowling pins.

(f) Geographical applicability. This order shall apply to all sales by any persons whose places of business are located within the following counties, all within the State of Wisconsin:

Adams, Barron, Brown, Buffalo, Calumet, Chippewa, Clark, Door, Dunn, Eau Claire, Florence, Forest, Green Lake, Jackson, Juneau, Kewaunee, La Crosse, Langlade, Lincoln, Manitowoc, Marathon, Marinette, Marquette, Monroe, Oconto, Oneida, Outagamie, Pepin, Portage, Price, Rusk, Shawano, Taylor, Trempealeau, Vilas, Waupaca, Waushara, Winnebago, Wood.

(h) Revocability. This order may be amended, modified or revoked at any time.

Chapter XI—War Food Administration (Distribution Orders)

[FDO 79–136]

PART 1401—DAIRY PRODUCTS

FLUID MILK AND CREAM IN AUGUSTA, GA., SALES AREA

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by Food Distribution Order No. 79 (8 F.R. 12426), issued on September 7, 1943, as amended, and to effectuate the purposes of such order, it is hereby ordered as follows:

§ 1401.171 Quota restrictions—(a) Definitions. When used in this order, unless otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent hereof:

(1) Each term defined in Food Distribution Order No. 79, as amended, shall, when used herein, have the same meaning as is set forth for such term in Food Distribution Order No. 79, as amended.

(2) The term "FDO 79" means Food Distribution Order No. 79, issued on September 7, 1943, as amended.

(3) The term "sub-handler" means any handler, such as a peddler, vendor, sub-dealer, or secondary dealer, who purchases in a previously packaged and processed form milk, cream, or milk byproducts for delivery.

(4) The term "industrial user" means a person, as determined by the market agent, in the capacity of a manufacturer of products using as an ingredient therein milk, cream, or milk byproducts, which products are disposed of for resale to consumers off the premises where made.

(5) The term "base" means the total pounds of milk solids delivered by a handler within the sales area during the base period (i) in the form of milk, or (ii) in the form of cream and milk byproducts, minus the milk solids in quota-exempt deliveries of milk, and cream and milk byproducts, as described in (j) hereof. (For the purpose of this order, the milk solids content of milk, milk byproducts, and cream shall be computed as follows: Each hundredweight of milk, cream, or milk byproducts other than cottage, pot, or baker's cheese, shall be considered the equivalent of 9.375 pounds of milk solids plus the number of pounds of milk solids calculated by multiplying the pounds of butterfat in such milk, and cream and milk byproducts by .906; and each hundredweight of cottage, pot, or baker's cheese shall be considered the equivalent of 62.5 pounds of milk solids plus one pound of milk solids for each one percent of butterfat content of such cheese.)

(b) Milk sales area. The following area is hereby designated as a "milk sales area" to be known as the Augusta, Georgia, sales area, and is referred to hereinafter as the "sales area":

The city of Augusta and the militia districts numbered 119, 120, 123, 600 and 1,289, in Richmond County, Georgia, and the townships of Langley and Schultz in Aiken County, South Carolina.

(c) Base period. The calendar month of June 1943 is hereby designated as the base period for the sales area: Provided, That the month of May may be used as the base period for computing base and quota for deliveries to elementary, junior high and high schools; and Provided further, That in the computations set forth in (e) hereof the total deliveries to elementary, junior high, and high schools in the base period shall be divided by the number of days such schools were in session in lieu of the total number of days in the base period as set forth in (e) (1) and the average daily deliveries so determined shall be multiplied by the number of days such schools are in session in each quota period in lieu of the number of days in the quota period as set forth in (e) (2).

(d) The remainder of the calendar month in which the provisions hereof become effective and each subsequent calendar month, respectively, is hereby designated as the quota period for the sales area.

(e) Handler quotas. Quotas for each handler other than a sub-handler or producer-handler shall be determined as follows:

(1) Divide his respective bases by the number of days in the base period;

(2) Multiply the foregoing result by the number of days in the quota period; and

(3) Multiply the aforesaid resulting amounts by 100 percent in the case of the base for milk, and 75 percent in the case of the base for cream and milk byproducts.

(f) Quotas for handlers who are also producers. Quotas for each handler who is also a producer and who purchases no milk shall be computed in accordance with (e) hereof, except:

(1) His base period shall be either June or December, whichever represents his larger total deliveries; and,

(2) The applicable percentages shall be 100 percent in lieu of those specified in (e) (3).

(g) Quota adjustments. Each handler may increase his quota for milk within any quota period by one pound of milk solids for each one pound of milk solids he reduces his quota for cream and milk byproducts.

(h) Cream deliveries. The units of cream delivered subject to quota in any quota period shall not exceed 100 percent of the units of cream in his base, irrespective of the milk solids content of such deliveries.

(i) Handler exemptions. Quota shall not apply to any handler who delivers in a quota period a daily average of less than 200 units of milk, cream and milk byproducts. For the purpose of this order, a unit shall be the equivalent in volume of the following: (1) One quart of milk, buttermilk, or fluid milk byproducts; (2) one-half pint of cream; and (3) one-half pound of cottage, pot, or baker's cheese.

(j) Quota exclusions and exemptions. Deliveries of milk, milk byproducts, or cream (1) to other handlers, except for such deliveries to sub-handlers, (2) to plants engaged in the handling or processing of milk, milk byproducts, cream or other dairy products from which no milk, milk byproducts, or cream, is delivered in the sales area, (3) to industrial users, and (4) to the agencies or groups specified in (d) of FDO 79, shall be excluded from the computation of deliveries in the base period and exempt from charges to quotas.

(k) Transfers of bases. The market agent is empowered to transfer base from one handler to another.

(1) Upon receipt of a request in writing from both handlers; and

(2) Upon application from a handler and written notice to the Director and to both handlers, (i) to permit deliveries to a purchaser not being served by a handler whose quota reflects deliveries to such purchaser in the base period, (ii) to permit a handler to serve an account which customarily rotates among several handlers inclusive of a contract let by a public agency or institution on a bid basis, and (iii) to permit a handler to serve an account which he is serving on the effective date of this order and which was served by another handler during the base period.

(l) Consumer priorities. In the distribution of milk subject to quotas established hereunder, a handler shall give preference in the order listed, taking into consideration the type of purchasers served by him in the base period, to:

(1) The need of children, expectant mothers, and invalids requiring milk;

(2) Homes and retail stores handling milk for consumption off the premises; and

(3) Establishments serving milk for consumption on the premises.

(m) Petition for relief from hardship. (1) Any person affected by FDO 79 or the provisions hereof who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship on him, may file with the market agent a petition addressed to the Director. The petition shall contain the correct name, address and principal place of business of the petitioner, a full statement of the facts upon which the petition is based, and the hardship involved and the nature of the relief desired.

(2) Upon receiving such petition the market agent shall immediately investigate representations and facts stated therein.

(3) After investigation, the petition shall be certified to the Director, but prior to certification the market agent may (i) deny the petition or (ii) grant temporary relief for a total period not to exceed 60 days.

(4) Denials or grants of relief by the market agent shall be reviewed by the Director and may be affirmed, modified, or reversed by the Director.

(n) Reports. Each handler shall transmit to the market agent on forms prescribed by the market agent the following reports:

(1) Within 20 days following the effective date of this order, reports which show the information required by the market agent to establish such handler's quotas;

(2) Within 20 days following the close of each quota period, the information required by the market agent to establish volumes of deliveries of milk, cream and milk byproducts during the preceding quota period; and

(3) Handlers exempt from quotas pursuant to (i) hereof shall, upon the request of the market agent, submit the information required by the market agent to establish volumes of deliveries of milk, cream, and milk byproducts.

(o) Records. Handlers shall keep and shall make available to the market agent such records of receipts, sales, deliveries, and production as the market agent shall require for the purpose of obtaining information which the Director may require for the establishment of quotas as prescribed in (b) of FDO 79.

(p) Expense of administration. Each handler shall pay to the market agent, within 20 days after the close of each calendar month, an assessment of $0.015 per hundredweight of each of milk, milk byproducts, cream, and skim milk equivalent of cottage, pot, or baker's cheese delivered during the preceding quota period and subject to quota regulations under the provisions hereof.

(q) Violations. The market agent shall report all violations to the Director together with the information required for the prosecution of such violations.

(r) Bureau of the Budget approval. The record-keeping and reporting requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942. Subsequent record-keeping or reporting requirements will be subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by Food Distribution Order No. 79 (8 F.R. 12426), issued on September 7, 1943, as amended, and to effectuate the purposes of such order, it is hereby ordered as follows:

§ 1401.172 Quota restrictions—(a) Definitions. When used in this order, unless otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent hereof:

(1) Each term defined in Food Distribution Order No. 79, as amended, shall, when used herein, have the same meaning as is set forth for such term in Food Distribution Order No. 79, as amended.

(2) The term "FDO 79" means Food Distribution Order No. 79, issued on September 7, 1943, as amended.

(3) The term "sub-handler" means any handler, such as a peddler, vendor, sub-dealer, or secondary dealer, who purchases in a previously packaged and processed form milk, cream, or milk byproducts for delivery.

(4) The term "industrial user" means a person, as determined by the market agent, in the capacity of a manufacturer of products using as an ingredient therein milk, cream, or milk byproducts, which products are disposed of for resale to consumers off the premises where made.

(5) The term "base" means the total pounds of milk solids delivered by a handler within the sales area during the base period (i) in the form of milk, or (ii) in the form of cream and milk byproducts, minus the milk solids in quota-exempt deliveries of milk, and cream and milk byproducts, as described in (j) hereof. (For the purpose of this order, the milk solids content of milk, milk byproducts, and cream shall be computed as follows: Each hundredweight of milk, cream, or milk byproducts other than cottage, pot, or baker's cheese, shall be considered the equivalent of 9.375 pounds of milk solids plus the number of pounds of milk solids calculated by multiplying the pounds of butterfat in such milk, and cream and milk byproducts by .906; and each hundredweight of cottage, pot, or baker's cheese shall be considered the equivalent of 62.5 pounds of milk solids plus one pound of milk solids for each one percent of butterfat content of such cheese.)

(b) Milk sales area. The following area is hereby designated as a "milk sales area" to be known as the Columbia, South Carolina, sales area, and is referred to hereinafter as the "sales area":

The city of Columbia and the school districts of Columbia, Hyatt Park, Edgewood, Olympia, and St. Andrews in Richland County, and the township of Congaree in Lexington County, all in the State of South Carolina.

(c) Base period. The calendar month of June 1943 is hereby designated as the base period for the sales area: Provided, That the month of May may be used as the base period for computing base and quota for deliveries to elementary, junior high and high schools; And provided further, That in the computations set forth in (e) hereof the total deliveries to elementary, junior high and high schools in the base period shall be divided by the number of days such schools were in session in lieu of the total number of days in the base period as set forth in (e) (1) and the average daily deliveries so determined shall be multiplied by the number of days such schools are in session in each quota period in lieu of the number of days in the quota period as set forth in (e) (2).

(d) The remainder of the calendar month in which the provisions hereof become effective and each subsequent calendar month, respectively, is hereby designated as the quota period for the sales area.

(e) Handler quotas. Quotas for each handler other than a sub-handler or producer-handler shall be determined as follows:

(1) Divide his respective bases by the number of days in the base period;

(2) Multiply the foregoing result by the number of days in the quota period; and

(3) Multiply the aforesaid resulting amounts by 100 percent in the case of the base for milk, and 75 percent in the case of the base for cream and milk byproducts.

(f) Quotas for handlers who are also producers. Quotas for each handler who is also a producer and who purchases no milk shall be computed in accordance with (e) hereof, except:

(1) His base period shall be either June or December, whichever represents his larger total deliveries; and,

(2) The applicable percentages shall be 100 percent in lieu of those specified in (e) (3).

(g) Quota adjustments. Each handler may increase his quota for milk within any quota period by one pound of milk solids for each one pound of milk solids he reduces his quota for cream and milk byproducts.

(h) Cream deliveries. The units of cream delivered subject to quota in any quota period shall not exceed 100 percent of the units of cream in his base, irrespective of the milk solids content of such deliveries.

(i) Handler exemptions. Quota shall not apply to any handler who delivers in a quota period a daily average of less than 200 units of milk, cream and milk byproducts. For the purpose of this order, a unit shall be the equivalent in volume of the following: (1) One quart of milk, buttermilk, or fluid milk byproducts; (2) one-half pint of cream; and (3) one-half pound of cottage, pot, or baker's cheese.

(j) Quota exclusions and exemptions. Deliveries of milk, milk byproducts, or cream (1) to other handlers, except for such deliveries to sub-handlers, (2) to plants engaged in the handling or processing of milk, milk byproducts, cream or other dairy products from which no milk, milk byproducts, or cream, is delivered in the sales area, (3) to industrial users, and (4) to the agencies or groups specified in (d) of FDO 79, shall be excluded from the computation of deliveries in the base period and exempt from charges to quotas.

(k) Transfers of bases. The market agent is empowered to transfer base from one handler to another.

(1) Upon receipt of a request in writing from both handlers; and

(2) Upon application from a handler and written notice to the Director and to both handlers, (i) to permit deliveries to a purchaser not being served by a handler whose quota reflects deliveries to such purchaser in the base period, (ii) to permit a handler to serve an account which customarily rotates among several handlers inclusive of a contract let by a public agency or institution on a bid basis, and (iii) to permit a handler to serve an account which he is serving on the effective date of this order and which was served by another handler during the base period.

(l) Consumer priorities. In the distribution of milk subject to quotas established hereunder, a handler shall give preference in the order listed, taking into consideration the type of purchasers served by him in the base period, to:

(1) The need of children, expectant mothers, and invalids requiring milk;

(2) Homes and retail stores handling milk for consumption off the premises; and

(3) Establishments serving milk for consumption on the premises.

(m) Petition for relief from hardship. (1) Any person affected by FDO 79 or the provisions hereof who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship on him, may file with the market agent a petition addressed to the Director. The petition shall contain the correct name, address and principal place of business of the petitioner, a full statement of the facts upon which the petition is based, and the hardship involved and the nature of the relief desired.

(2) Upon receiving such petition the market agent shall immediately investigate representations and facts stated therein.

(3) After investigation, the petition shall be certified to the Director, but prior to certification the market agent may (i) deny the petition or (ii) grant temporary relief for a total period not to exceed 60 days.

(4) Denials or grants of relief by the market agent shall be reviewed by the Director and may be affirmed, modified, or reversed by the Director.

(n) Reports. Each handler shall transmit to the market agent on forms prescribed by the market agent the following reports:

(1) Within 20 days following the effective date of this order, reports which show the information required by the market agent to establish such handler's quotas;

(2) Within 20 days following the close of each quota period, the information required by the market agent to establish volumes of deliveries of milk, cream and milk byproducts during the preceding quota period; and

(3) Handlers exempt from quotas pursuant to (i) hereof shall, upon the request of the market agent, submit the information required by the market agent to establish volumes of deliveries of milk, cream, and milk byproducts.

(o) Records. Handlers shall keep and shall make available to the market agent such records of receipts, sales, deliveries, and production as the market agent shall require for the purpose of obtaining information which the Director may require for the establishment of quotas as prescribed in (b) of FDO 79.

(p) Expense of administration. Each handler shall pay to the market agent, within 20 days after the close of each calendar month, an assessment of $0.015 per hundredweight of each of milk, milk byproducts, cream, and skim milk equivalent of cottage, pot, or baker's cheese delivered during the preceding quota period and subject to quota regulations under the provisions hereof.

(q) Violations. The market agent shall report all violations to the Director together with the information required for the prosecution of such violations.

(r) Bureau of the Budget approval. The record-keeping and reporting requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942. Chapter VI—Selective Service System

[Amdt. 208, 2d Ed.]

PART 627—APPEAL TO BOARD OF APPEAL

APPEAL OF REGISTRANT'S CLASSIFICATION

Pursuant to authority contained in the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, as amended, Selective Service Regulations, Second Edition, are amended in the following respect:

1. Amend paragraph (c) of § 627.2 to read as follows:

§ 627.2 Who may appeal registrant's classification to board of appeal under certain circumstances. • • •

(c) The registrant, any person who claims to be a dependent of the registrant, or any person who has filed written evidence of the occupational necessity of the registrant may take an appeal authorized under paragraph (a) above at any time (1) within 10 days after the date when the local board mails to the registrant a Notice of Classification (Form 57) or (2) within 30 days after the date when the local board mails to the registrant a Notice of Classification (Form 57), if, on that date, from information in the registrant's file it appears that the registrant is located in one and the local board which classified the registrant is located in another of the following: the Continental United States, the Territory of Alaska, the Territory of Hawaii, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands of the United States. At any time prior to the date that the local board mails to the registrant an Order to Report for Induction (Form 150), the local board may permit any such person to appeal even though such 10-day period or 30-day period, as the case may be, has elapsed, if it is satisfied that the failure of such person to appeal within the 10-day period or the 30-day period was due to lack of understanding of the right of appeal or to unavoidable delays in communication or some other cause beyond the control of such person. Unless the local board thereafter permits an appeal, the right of such persons to appeal shall expire at the end of the 10-day period or the 30-day period, as the case may be. If such an extension of time to appeal is granted by the local board, a record thereof shall be entered on the Selective Service Questionnaire (Form 40) under the heading "Minutes of Other Actions."

2. Amend paragraph (b) of § 627.24 to read as follows:

§ 627.24 Review by board of appeal. • • •

(b) In reviewing the appeal, the appeal board shall not receive or consider any information which is not contained in the record received from the local board except (1) the advisory recommendation from the Department of Justice under § 627.25, and (2) general information concerning economic, industrial, and social conditions.

3. The foregoing amendments to the Selective Service Regulations shall be effective immediately upon the filing hereof with the Division of the Federal Register.

1. Amend paragraph (a) and add paragraph (e) to § 629.2 to read as follows:

§ 629.2 Order to report for preinduction physical examination. (a) In accordance with instructions of the Director of Selective Service, the State Director of Selective Service will issue to each local board a Call—Preinduction Physical Examination (Form 224) specifying thereon the number of specified registrants to be delivered for preinduction physical examination and the time and place fixed for such delivery.

• • • • • •

(e) At the time the local board prepares the original Order to Report—Preinduction Physical Examination (Form 215), it shall make a copy of such form and shall file the copy in the registrant's Cover Sheet (Form 53).

2. Amend paragraph (a) and paragraph (e) of § 629.4 to read as follows:

§ 629.4 Local board physical examination authorized for registrants who request it. (a) When a registrant believes that he has a disqualifying defect which is manifest, as listed in List of Defects (Form 220), he may present himself for examination at the office of the local board on or before the date specified in the "Important Notice to Registrants" portion of his Order to Report—Preinduction Physical Examination (Form 215). If the registrant claims that he has a disqualifying defect which is manifest, as listed in List of Defects (Form 220), the member or clerk of the local board to whom such registrant presents himself shall, from the information received from the registrant, complete (a) and (b) of Item 18 of Section II of the registrant's Report of Physical Examination and Induction (Form 221) and the registrant shall certify to the correctness of such entries in (c) and (d) of Item 18. The member or clerk of the local board shall then refer the registrant to the local board examining physician for examination. The local board examining physician shall make only such examination as is necessary to determine whether the registrant has one or more of the defects listed in the List of Defects (Form 220). No laboratory work will be authorized except as provided in §§ 629.33 and 629.34. It shall be the duty of the registrant to present himself to the local board examining physician at the time and place designated by the member or clerk of the local board and to submit to such examination by the local board examining physician herein authorized.

• • • • • •

(e) If the local board determines that the registrant has a defect which disqualifies him for military service, it shall:

(1) Classify or reclassify him in Class IV–F or Class I–C under § 623.53 and immediately mail him a Notice of Classification (Form 57), and

(2) Note the fact that he has been found disqualified for service and classified in Class IV–F or Class I–C in column 3 of the Physical Examination List (Form 217).

3. Amend § 629.23 to read as follows:

§ 629.23 Request for immediate induction. (a) A registrant who is in Class I–A or Class I–A–0 may be inducted into service at the induction station upon being found qualified for service: Provided, That (1) he signs and files with his own local board a Request for Immediate Induction (Form 219), (2) an appeal is not pending in such registrant's case, and (3) the period during which an appeal may be taken in such registrant's case has expired. If the registrant is forwarded under this paragraph to the induction station for induction instead of for a preinduction physical examination, he will be listed on a Delivery List (Form 151) and his name will be crossed off any Physical Examination List (Form 217) on which it appears.

(b) When a registrant is inducted under the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, he shall be immediately classified in Class I–C and shall be counted toward filling the next call of the branch of service into which he was inducted.

(c) A registrant who has signed a Request for Immediate Induction (Form 219) shall be forwarded for preinduction physical examination in the usual manner and his Request for Immediate Induction (Form 219) shall be disregarded, if (1) he is in any class other than Class I–A or Class I–A–0, or (2) he is in Class I–A or Class I–A–0 but an appeal in his case is pending, or (3) he is in Class I–A or Class I–A–0 but the period for taking an appeal in his case has not expired.

4. Amend § 629.32 to read as follows:

§ 629.32 Mailing Certificate of Fitness to registrant accepted or rejected. When a Certificate of Fitness (Form 218) indicates that a registrant has been accepted for the Army or the Navy or that a registrant has been rejected, the local board shall immediately mail the original of such certificate to the registrant and shall record the date of mailing of such Certificate of Fitness (Form 218) on the registrant's Selective Service Questionnaire (Form 40).

5. Amend § 629.35 to read as follows:

§ 629.35 Action when it is found that the registrant is disqualified for service. If, in carrying out the provisions of § 629.33 or § 629.34, it is determined, as a result of a spinal fluid survey, that a registrant has cerebrospinal syphilis or, as a result of other examinations, that a registrant has cardiovascular or visceral syphilis and, in either case, a statement to that effect is filed with the local board by a Public Health Officer, State Medical Officer, or a local board examining physician, or if, for any other reason the registrant is found to be completely disqualified for service, his classification shall be reopened and he shall be placed in Class IV–F or Class I–C under § 623.53 and neither he nor his records shall be forwarded for further consideration by the armed forces.

7. Amend § 629.41 to read as follows:

§ 629.41 Director to determine. Notwithstanding any of the provisions of this part, the Director of Selective Service under such procedures as he prescribes and based upon such information concerning the registrant's physical and mental fitness as he specifies, may direct a local board to classify a registrant in Class IV–F or Class I–C under § 623.53 or as available for service. When he does so, the local board shall classify the registrant as directed.

The foregoing amendments to the Selective Service Regulations shall be effective immediately upon the filing hereof with the Division of the Federal Register.

APPLICABLE SCHEDULE OF QUOTAS FOR FARM MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT FOR DOMESTIC FARM USE FOR THE CURRENT QUOTA PERIOD JULY 1, 1944 TO JUNE 30, 1945

§ 1029.17 Schedule B to Limitation Order L–257. In accordance with the provisions of Order L–257, this Schedule B is the "Applicable Schedule" for the current quota period July 1, 1944 to June 30, 1945. With a few minor changes, such as consolidations of certain items, it contains the same items and corresponding item numbers as shown on Schedule A. However, there have been important changes in the quota percentages for the new "current quota period", and also more liberal "bracketing" of many items is permitted.

The production quotas set forth in this Schedule B should be used by producers as the basis for planning their production, establishing production schedules and ordering material under CMP. The War Production Board may establish a final distribution pattern which is not in accord with these quotas. Any additional controls or exemptions which may be desirable with regard to production quotas, and any modifications with respect to final distribution of completed machines, will be issued before the effective date of this schelule, which is July 1, 1944. In figuring his anticipated production, each producer must comply with the provisions of the basic Limitation Order L–257 and the explanatory notes to Schedule A.

PART 1029—FARM MACHINERY

[Limitation Order L-257-a, Export Schedules X-11 Through X-18]

APPLICABLE EXPORT SCHEDULES OF QUOTAS FOR FARM MACHINERY, EQUIPMENT AND REPAIRS FOR EXPORT FOR THE CURRENT QUOTA PERIOD JULY 1, 1944, TO JUNE 30, 1945

§ 1029.18 Export Schedule X-11 through X-18 to Limitation Order L-257-a. In accordance with the provisions of Orders L-257 and L-257-a, the following are the "applicable export schedules" for the current quota period starting July 1, 1944. These are similar to the applicable export schedules for the current quota period ending June 30, 1944, with some minor changes and consolidations, and with certain changes in quota percentages.

The production quotas set forth in these export schedules should be used by producers as the basis for planning their production, establishing production schedules and ordering material under CMP. The War Production Board may establish a final distribution pattern which is not in accord with these quotas. Any additional controls or exemptions which may be desirable with regard to production quotas, and any modifications with respect to final distribution of completed machines, will be issued before the effective date of these schedules, which is July 1, 1944. In figuring his anticipated production, each producer must comply with the provisions of the basic Limitation Orders L-257 and L-257-a.

Quotas for countries listed on Schedules X-11, X-13, X-14, X-15, and X-16, below are expressed as a percentage of one-half the total net shipping weight of the 1940 and 1941 shipments of farm machinery and equipment and repair parts to all the countries in the particular group.

Quotas for countries listed on Schedule X-17 below are expressed as a percentage of one-half the total net shipping weight of the 1940 and 1941 shipments to each such country.

NOTE: A quota percentage is not established for countries listed in Schedule X-12 below. Quotas for these countries will be allocated specifically from time to time under paragraph (c) (4) of Order L-257-a.

PART 3102—NATIONAL EMERGENCY SPECIFICATIONS FOR STEEL PRODUCTS

[Limitation Order L-211, Schedule 15 as Amended Feb. 3, 1944]

HOT-ROLLED CARBON STEEL BARS

§ 3102.16 Schedule 15 to Limitation Order L-211—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this schedule:

(1) "Hot-rolled carbon steel bars" means carbon steel bars in either straight bar or coil form produced from billets or blooms by hot-rolling, without subsequent processing for accuracy of cross-section or to impart special surface finishes. The term does not include tool steel bars or concrete reinforcement bars.

(2) "Bars" means rounds, squares, round-cornered squares, hexagons, ovals, half-ovals, half-rounds, flats ($15/64$ inch or over in thickness and 6 inches and under in width), and bar size shapes (angles, channels, and tees under 3 inches on both legs). Rounds, squares, hexagons and flats having dimensions in excess of those shown in Table 1 of this schedule are classified as forgings or plates and are not within the scope of this definition.

(3) "Carbon steel" means steel other than alloy steel as defined in Order M-21-a.

(b) Restrictions on sizes. No person shall produce or deliver hot-rolled carbon steel bars of any type listed in Table 1 within the range of sizes there listed, except in the sizes listed in that table.

(c) Acceptance of delivery. No person shall accept delivery of any hot-rolled carbon steel bars which he knows or has reason to believe have been produced or delivered in violation of the provisions of paragraph (b) of this schedule.

(d) Exceptions. The provisions of this schedule shall not prevent:

(1) Production, delivery, or acceptance of hot-rolled carbon steel bars for which an order was entered prior to September 30, 1943, provided shipment of the entire order is made on or before December 31, 1943.

(2) Delivery or acceptance of hot-rolled carbon steel bars which because of errors in manufacture do not conform to the requirements of this schedule, providing such requirements are waived by the purchaser.

(3) Production, delivery, or acceptance of hot-rolled carbon steel bars specifically permitted in writing by the War Production Board.

(e) Records. Each person owning or possessing hot-rolled carbon steel bars excepted by the provisions of paragraph (d) shall retain records of such material available for inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

Issued this 3d day of February 1944.

PERMISSIBLE VARIATIONS FOR DIMENSIONS AND WORKMANSHIP

Permissible size variations applicable to this schedule shall be those set forth as Standard Permissible Variations for Dimensions and Workmanship in Section 8, Hot, Rolled Carbon-Steel Bars, of the American Iron and Steel Institute Manual, Revision June 1943. Modification of the prescribed tolerances is not permissible; except that for bars purchased on Army, Navy or Federal Specifications, the tolerances set forth in such specifications may be applied.

[Schedule 15 to Limitation Order L-211, Interpretation 1 as Amended Feb. 3, 1944]

HOT-ROLLED CARBON STEEL BARS

The following amended interpretation is issued with respect to Schedule 15 of Limitation Order L-211:

(a) The term "hot-rolled carbon steel bars" as used in the schedule does not include:

(1) Carbon file steel bars, which are considered to be tool steel bars.

(2) Wrought iron bars.

(b) The restrictions of the schedule apply generally to production and delivery, not to use. For example, although carbon steel bars in the dimensions listed under the heading "Nut-Steel Flats" are chiefly used for the manufacture of nuts, the schedule does not prohibit the production or use for other purposes of sizes permitted under this category.

(c) On the other hand, where a special quality or grade of steel is set forth in Table I, that type of steel may be furnished only in the dimensions listed. For example, the dimensions listed under the headings "Round Edge Flat Spring Steel" and "Automotive Round Edge Leaf Spring Flats" are applicable only to spring steel. Round edge flats in grades other than spring steel may not be produced in these dimensions, but must be produced only in the dimensions listed under the heading "Round Edge Flats." However, the rule stated in paragraph (b) of this interpretation is still applicable; spring steel purchased in accordance with the schedule may be used by the buyer for purposes other than the manufacture of springs.

(d) "Mill Edge" or "Strip Edge Flats" are not listed as such in this schedule but the dimensions listed under the heading "Square Edge Flats" also apply to "Mill Edge" or "Strip Edge Flats."

(e) Attention is called to the note at the end of Table 1, relating to permissible variations. This provides that modification of the prescribed tolerances is not permissible. Hence, an order calling directly or indirectly for a narrower tolerance than is prescribed must not be produced or delivered. The only exception is with respect to flats for cold drawing, and this exception is set forth in the note following the list of permitted sizes of flats in Table 1 of the schedule.

Issued this 3d day of February 1944.

PART 3114—SIMPLIFICATION AND STANDARDIZATION OF PORTABLE TOOLS, CHUCKING EQUIPMENT, MECHANIC'S HAND SERVICE TOOLS, FILES, HACK AND BAND SAWS, VISES, AND MACHINE TOOL ACCESSORIES

[Limitation Order L-216, Schedule V as Amended Feb. 3, 1944]

FILES

§ 3114.6 Schedule V to Limitation Order L-216—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this schedule, including the appendix:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency or any organized group of persons whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Producer" means any person engaged in the manufacture of files.

(3) "File" means any file or rasp including American Pattern, Swiss pattern and straight and curved-tooth milled files and rasps, but excluding rotary files, finning burs and small burs as defined in Schedule IV of this order, and excluding ampoule scorers, surgical rasps, dental files and veterinarian rasps and files.

(4) "Total quarterly production" means the total number of units of all types and sizes of files manufactured by a producer in any given quarter.

(b) Limitations on manufacture and sale. On and after February 3, 1944, no person shall manufacture or sell any file of any size and type other than the sizes and types listed in Appendix A subject to the following provisions:

(1) Any producer may manufacture and sell any size and type of file which is distinguished by some unusual feature of design or manufacture and is used for a special purpose: Provided, however, That the total quantity of such special files to be manufactured by any producer during any quarter shall not exceed five percent of such producer's average total quarterly production for the year 1942.

(2) In addition to the files specified in Appendix A any producer may manufacture for export to foreign countries (other than the Dominion of Canada) any of the types and sizes of files listed in Appendix B. Files listed in Appendix B shall only be sold to fill purchase orders placed by any procurement agency of the United States pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act) or purchase orders which have been approved by the Office of Foreign Economic Administration for export.

(3) The limitations contained in this paragraph (b) shall not be deemed to prohibit the completion and sale of any files for which the producer had material on hand on February 3, 1944, nor to prohibit the sale of any files from inventories on hand as of February 3, 1944.

(c) Tolerance permitted for file dimensions. The following tolerances are permitted in the width and thickness dimensions for finished files shown in the attached appendix:

(1) American pattern files and rasps.

(i) Warding files plus or minus 1/32" in both width and thickness.

(ii) Other American pattern files up to and including 6" in length plus or minus 1/16" in width and 1/32" in thickness.

(iii) Other American pattern files over 6" in length—plus or minus 1/16" in both width and thickness.

(iv) Horse rasps and shoe rasps—plus or minus 1/8" in both width and thickness.

(2) Straight and curved-tooth milled files—plus or minus 1/16" in both width and thickness.

(3) Swiss pattern files. (i) Three square, half-round and crossing files—plus or minus 1/16" in both width and thickness.

(ii) Other Swiss pattern files up to and including 6" in length—plus or minus 1/32" in width and 1/64" in thickness.

(iii) Other Swiss pattern files over 6" in length—plus or minus 1/32" in both width and thickness.

(d) Limitation on steel sizes. On and after July 17, 1943, no producer shall purchase any steel for incorporation into a type and size of file with respect to which the attached appendix indicates that a specified steel size is to be used in such manufacture, other than the size of steel permitted in the appendix for such type and size of file, subject to standard mill tolerances.

(e) Necessity for preference ratings. (1) No producer shall sell or deliver any metal cutting file except in accordance with the provisions of General Preference Order E-6, as amended from time to time.

(2) No producer shall sell or deliver any file other than a metal cutting file pursuant to any purchase order placed prior to July 17, 1943 unless such order bears a preference rating of A-9 or higher, nor pursuant to any purchase order placed subsequent to July 17, 1943 unless such order bears a preference rating of AA-5 or higher, or except pursuant to specific permission of the War Production Board.

Issued this 3d of February 1944.

PART 3293—CHEMICALS

[Allocation Order M-30, as Amended Feb. 3, 1944]

ETHYL ALCOHOL

§ 3293.66 Allocation Order M-30—(a) Definitions. (1) "Ethyl alcohol" means the product of that name, from whatever source derived. The term includes mixtures of ethyl alcohol and denaturants, including the product known as "proprietary solvent". The term does not include ethyl alcohol produced for beverage purposes or ethyl alcohol tax paid and withdrawn for beverage purposes.

NOTE: Subparagraphs (2), (3) and (4), formerly (3), (4) and (5) redesignated Feb. 3, 1944.

(2) "Producer" means any person engaged in the production of ethyl alcohol and includes any importer and any person who has ethyl alcohol produced for him pursuant to toll agreement.

(3) "Distributor" means any person who has purchased or purchases ethyl alcohol for purposes of resale.

(4) "Supplier" means a producer or distributor.

(b) General restrictions on deliveries and use. (1) No person shall accept delivery of ethyl alcohol from a supplier except in accordance with the procedure established by paragraphs (c) and (d) or except upon specific written authorization of the War Production Board issued on application made pursuant to paragraph (e).

(2) No supplier shall deliver any ethyl alcohol except in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (f) or except upon specific written authorization of the War Production Board, issued on application made by the supplier under paragraph (g).

(3) No supplier shall use any ethyl alcohol except upon specific written authorization of the War Production Board issued on application made by him under paragraph (e).

(c) Acceptance of certain deliveries of 7900 gallons or less per quarter. Any person may without specific written authorization of War Production Board accept delivery in any calendar quarter from all sources or not more than 7900 gallons of ethyl alcohol, subject to two conditions. The first condition is that he shall have furnished to each supplier from whom he obtains delivery a certificate substantially in the form set forth in Appendix C. The second condition is that the aggregate amount received (in no case in excess of 7900 gallons) must be within the following additional quantity limitations:

(1) Where the purpose for which delivery is requested is the manufacture of any of the following products, the quantity received in any calendar quarter shall not (without specific written authorization) exceed 100% of the quantity used for the same purpose in the corresponding calendar quarter of the 12-month period ended June 30, 1941:

Adhesives.
Agricultural poisons.
Brake fluids.
Cutting oils.
Drugs and pharmaceuticals (not including rubbing alcohol or products specifically listed in paragraphs (c) (3) or (c) (4)).
Embalming fluids.
Food products (except candy glazes, pectin and vinegar).
Laboratory and experimental.
Photographic materials (including photo engraving).
Natural shellac or shellac substitute.
All other products not classified in paragraphs (c) (2) to (c) (6) inclusive.

(2) Where the purpose is the manufacture of any of the following products, the quantity received in any calendar quarter shall not (without specific written authorization) exceed 50% of the quantity used for the same purpose in the corresponding calendar quarter of the 12-month period ended June 30, 1941:

Candy glazes.
Cleaning and polishing preparations (including shoe and floor polishes).
Deodorant sprays (non-body).
Tooth cleaning preparations.
Witch hazel.
All toiletries and cosmetics including but not limited to:
Bay rum.
Body deodorants.
Face and hand creams and lotions.
Hair and scalp preparations.
Perfume and perfume materials, tinctures and fixatives.
Shampoos.
Toilet soaps (including shaving cream).
Toilet waters.

However, any person who, during the period from July 1, 1942 to June 30, 1943 inclusive, held a permit issued by the Bureau of Internal Revenue and who purchased ethyl alcohol in quantities averaging not in excess of 162 gallons per calendar quarter during such period and who used such ethyl alcohol for the manufacture of toiletries and cosmetics, may continue to purchase and use not more than 162 gallons of ethyl alcohol per calendar quarter for the manufacture of toiletries and cosmetics.

For the purposes of this paragraph (c) (2) all toiletry and cosmetic uses of ethyl alcohol shall be considered as a whole, and the use during the base period of ethyl alcohol in the manufacture of a particular toiletry or cosmetic product may be used to support the acceptance of delivery for use in the manufacture of a different toiletry or cosmetic product. For example, ethyl alcohol used in the manufacture of toilet waters during the base period would support the receipt of ethyl alcohol for the manufacture of after-shave lotions containing ethyl alcohol.

(3) Where the purpose is the manufacture of one of the following products, the quantity received in any calendar quarter shall not (without specific written authorization) exceed 60% of the quantity used for the same purpose in the corresponding calendar quarter of the 12-month period ended June 30, 1941:

Antiseptics for oral uses (including Antiseptic Solution N. F.).
Mouth washes.

(4) Where the purpose is the manufacture of any of the following products, there shall be no further limitation on the quantity received (beyond the requirement that only 7900 gallons may be accepted in a calendar quarter):

NOTE: "Nitrocellulose (dissolving and as a diluent)" deleted Feb. 3, 1944.

The specified maximum quantity of either (but not both) of the following two categories of ethyl alcohol may be accepted from all sources: (i) 972 gallons, which may be comprised of proprietary solvent or completely denatured alcohol, or a portion of each, or, in the alternative (ii) 162 gallons which may be comprised of specially denatured or pure alcohol, or a portion of each. However, in computing the amount which may be so accepted, all other ethyl alcohol delivered or ordered for delivery in the same quarter pursuant to any of the provisions of this order, must be taken into account and only the difference between any amounts so delivered and ordered and either 972 gallons or 162 gallons, as the case may be, may be accepted pursuant to this paragraph. Moreover, specially denatured and pure alcohol may not be accepted under this paragraph for use in the manufacture of rubbing alcohol compound or preparation or for use in the manufacture of toiletries and cosmetics.

(2) Any hospital or scientific institution holding a permit issued by the Bureau of Internal Revenue, permitting it to acquire undenatured alcohol tax free, may, without written authorization of War Production Board and without any limitation based on past use, accept delivery of such quantity of alcohol as it is permitted to acquire tax free by such permit.

The application will be made on Form WPB-2945 (formerly PD-600) in the manner set forth in the general instructions appearing on that form, subject to the special instructions appearing in Appendix A to this order. If there is any inconsistency between the general and special instructions, the special instructions must be followed.

(f) Special provisions governing deliveries by suppliers. (1) A supplier may without specific authorization of the War Production Board deliver to any person, who has filed with him the appropriate certificate substantially in the form either as set forth in Appendix C or in Appendix D, the quantity of ethyl alcohol which such person is entitled to receive under one of the paragraphs (c) (1) to (c) (6), inclusive, or under paragraph (d) (1).

(3) A supplier must not deliver ethyl alcohol where he knows or has reason to believe that the certificate is false, but in the absence of such knowledge or reason to believe he may rely upon it.

(4) If War Production Board issues written directions to suppliers reducing the quantities of ethyl alcohol which may be delivered pursuant to paragraph (f) (1), suppliers will rateably reduce all orders for ethyl alcohol from customers wishing it for the same class of use.

(g) Deliveries by suppliers upon specific authorization. Each supplier requiring specific authorization to deliver ethyl alcohol during any calendar quarter shall file application on or before the 15th day of the last month of the preceding quarter. (2) The restrictions of this order shall govern delivery of ethyl alcohol to and acceptance of delivery of ethyl alcohol by any person for use in the manufacture of anti-freeze preparations, provided that:

(i) Any person may deliver or accept delivery of completed anti-freeze preparations containing ethyl alcohol without specific authorizations under this order; and

(ii) Nothing contained in this order shall be construed to permit the manufacture, delivery or acceptance of delivery of any anti-freeze preparation in violation of § 1100.1, Limitation Order L-51, as from time to time amended.

(3) No person shall deliver or accept delivery of ethyl alcohol or any compound or preparation containing ethyl alcohol for use, whether in its then form or after rectification or other treatment, for beverage purposes.

(c) No person participating in the administration of this order shall act officially in connection with any matter arising under this order wherein, by reason of business interests or relationship by blood or marriage, he is unable to act without bias.

§ 1407.42 Powers and duties. The persons appointed to administer this order or to assist therein shall have such powers and duties as are provided in this order and any subsequent orders issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1407.43 Jurisdiction of Board; transfers. (a) The jurisdiction of each local rationing board shall extend to every consumer, registering unit and establishment registered or required to be registered with it.

(b) If a consumer does not reside in the area assigned to the Board with which he is registered, a written application may be filed with the Board having jurisdiction over the area in which the consumer resides for the transfer to it of his registration file. Such application may be made by the consumer or by his authorized agent. The Board with which such application is filed, after ascertaining that the consumer is residing within the area assigned to it, shall notify the Board with which the consumer is registered. The latter Board shall thereupon transfer the registration file of the consumer to the Board to which such application has been made.

(c) If the owner of a registering unit moves his principal business office from the area in which the registering unit is registered, such owner, at his option, may apply in writing to the Board having jurisdiction over the area to which his principal business office has been moved, for the transfer to it of the registration file of the registering unit.

CONSUMERS

§ 1407.61 Prohibited deliveries. After April 27, 1942, no person may deliver sugar to any consumer and no consumer may accept delivery of sugar from any person except upon giving up stamps, certificates or coupons covering the amount of sugar delivered. However, a consumer who has obtained sugar by the use of his stamps, may give it to another consumer, without receiving stamps, certificates or coupons. He may similarly give such sugar to a religious, charitable, civic, or municipal organization as his agent, to give such sugar to another consumer without receiving stamps, coupons or certificates. (A transaction is not a gift if any charge is made.)

§ 1407.69 Issuance of books to certain consumers who have surrendered their books. (a) A consumer whose book has been surrendered pursuant to §§ 1407.73 or 1407.74 shall, by application to the Board in the way provided by General Ration Order 14,[4] be entitled to receive a book containing, however, no "sugar stamps." If such book has been issued, it shall be surrendered to the Board as a condition precedent to the return of the consumer's book pursuant to §§ 1407.73 or 1407.74.

(b) Before returning a book which has been surrendered to the Board, the Board shall detach therefrom stamps applicable to expired ration periods and all "stamps" required to be detached by any other ration order of the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1407.71 Home processing and preserving for use. (a) A person registered as a consumer may obtain sugar for the purpose of producing processed foods from fresh fruits for use, in accordance with sections 26.2, 26.5, and 26.6 of Revised Ration Order 13[5] (or for making the gifts permitted by those sections).

(b) Sugar for the purpose of producing processed foods (other than jams, jellies, preserves, or fruit butters) from fresh fruits, for such use, may be obtained and used at the rate of not more than one pound of sugar per four quarts (or eight pounds) of finished processed foods. Sugar for the purpose of making jams, jellies, preserves, or fruit butters may be obtained and used by a consumer in an amount not to exceed five pounds.

However, the total amount of sugar which may be obtained by a consumer for both these purposes, for the period from March 1, 1943, to February 29, 1944, inclusive, shall not exceed 25 pounds.

(c) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this order, Stamps Nos. 15 and 16 each authorizes a consumer to obtain sugar on or before October 31, 1943, to be used solely for the purposes stated in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section in an amount not to exceed five pounds. However, in no event shall a consumer use either such stamp to obtain sugar in an amount which, when added to the amount of sugar otherwise obtained by such consumer for such purposes between March 1, 1943, and February 29, 1944, inclusive, would exceed 25 pounds. The use of such stamps by a consumer to obtain sugar shall constitute a representation by the consumer to the Office of Price Administration that he is entitled to obtain such sugar under the provisions of this section.

(d) Applications for sugar needed for the purposes covered by this section, in addition to that which may be obtained on or before October 31, 1943, under paragraph (c) of this section, shall be made, in writing, to the Board for the place where he lives, by one adult member of a family unit for all members of the unit (or, if there is no adult member, by the oldest member or by a responsible person) or by a consumer not a member of a family unit for himself (or, if a minor, not self-supporting, by his parent or guardian or by a responsible adult). The applicant shall either in person or by mail present to the Board the War Ration Books One issued to the persons on whose behalf the application is made. In addition, the applicant shall in his application state (1) the number of quarts (or pounds) of processed foods (other than jams, jellies, preserves, or fruit butters), the applicant, and the members of the family unit of which he is a member for whom application is made, has produced since March 1, 1943, or intends to produce from fresh fruits, for use; (2) the amount of sugar obtained pursuant to this section used or to be used in the making of jams, jellies, preserves, and fruit butters; (3) that he has used or will use any sugar obtained pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section in accordance with this section; and (4) such other information as the Board may require. The Board shall determine the total requirements of sugar of the applicant, for the period from March 1, 1943, to February 29, 1944, for the purposes covered by this section, and shall, to the extent permitted under the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section, issue coupons or a certificate to the consumer in weight value equal to such requirements less ten pounds (since the consumer will be able to obtain ten pounds of sugar for the purposes covered by this section by the use of stamps 15 and 16, as set forth in paragraph (c) of this section). The weight value of the coupons or certificate issued by the Board, however, shall in no event exceed 15 pounds. However, if the Board acts on the application after October 31, 1943, the Board shall determine the total requirements of sugar of the applicant, for the period from March 1, 1943, to February 29, 1944, for the purposes covered by this section, and shall, to the extent permitted under the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section, issue coupons or a certificate to the consumer in weight value equal to such requirements, less five pounds for each stamp 15 or 16 that is not attached to the consumer's War Ration Book One. The weight value of the coupons or certificates issued, however, shall in no event exceed 25 pounds. The Board shall note on the cover of the War Ration Book One of each person for whom application is made the weight value of the coupons or certificate issued to such person under this paragraph and the date of issuance. However, a person who does not have a War Ration Book One may submit, instead of such a book, his War Ration Book Four together with a statement in writing that he does not have a War Ration Book One. He shall also submit in writing a statement of the amount of sugar he has already obtained under paragraphs (c) and (d) of this section. If the Board finds that the statements are true, it shall issue coupons or a certificate to the consumer in weight value equal to his total requirements less any amounts which the consumer has already obtained under paragraphs (c) and (d) of this section. The weight value of the coupons or certificate issued, however, shall in no event exceed 25 pounds less any amounts which the consumer has already obtained under paragraphs (c) and (d). The Board shall note on the cover of the War Ration Book Four of each such person for whom application is made, the weight value of the coupons or certificate issued to such person under this paragraph and the date of issuance.

(e) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this section a consumer whose total requirements of sugar for the purposes covered by this section are from one to four pounds, inclusive, or from six to nine pounds, inclusive, shall apply to the Board pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section. If the total requirements of the applicant, determined by the Board, are from one to four pounds, inclusive, the Board shall detach from the book of the applicant Stamps Nos. 15 and 16; if they are from six to nine pounds, inclusive, the Board shall so detach Stamp No. 15 or 16. The Board shall issue coupons or a certificate for the amount of such requirements less the weight value of any such stamp not so detached. Such issuance shall be noted on the cover of the book, in accordance with paragraph (d) of this section. This paragraph shall not apply to applications acted on by the Board after October 31, 1943.

(f) Sugar obtained pursuant to this section shall be used only in the quantities and for the purposes permitted by this section and the processed foods produced therewith shall be used only as permitted by sections 26.2, 26.5, and 26.6 of Revised Ration Order 13.

§ 1407.71a Home processing for sale. (a) The Board may permit a person registered as a consumer to obtain sugar to be used for the purpose of producing from fresh fruits home processed foods (other than jams, jellies, preserves, or fruit butter) which he intends to transfer for points in accordance with section 26.3 of Revised Ration Order 13. Such sugar may be obtained at the rate of not more than one pound of sugar per four quarts (or eight pounds) of finished home processed foods. However, the total amount of sugar obtained for such purposes, for the period from March 1, 1943 to February 29, 1944, inclusive, shall not exceed 250 pounds and no more than one such allowance shall be granted to a family unit.

(b) Applications for sugar in accordance with this section shall be made on OPA Form R–315. The applicant shall state (1) the number of quarts (or pounds) of home processed foods he intends to produce from fresh fruits; (2) the amount of sugar applied for; (3) the address at which the processing will be done; (4) the type of facilities to be used; (5) whether any member of the family unit of which he is a member has received an allowance under this section; and (6) such other information as the Board may require.

(c) The Board shall grant the application to the extent permitted under the provisions of this section and shall issue a certificate in weight value equal to the amount of sugar allowed.

(d) The applicant shall make the reports and keep the records required of him by Revised Ration Order 13.

(e) Sugar obtained pursuant to this section shall be used only in the quantities, during the period, and for the purposes for which it was allowed and the home processed foods produced with such sugar shall be delivered, sold, or transferred by the applicant only in accordance with the provisions of Revised Ration Order 13.

§ 1407.72 Consumers may use Sugar Stamp No. 40 to get sugar for home processing and preserving for use. Sugar Stamp No. 40 in War Ration Book Four authorizes a consumer to obtain 5 pounds of sugar, before March 1, 1945, to be used solely for the purpose of producing processed foods from fresh fruits for use, in accordance with sections 26.2, 26.5 and 26.6 of Revised Ration Order 13 (or for making the gifts permitted by those sections).

§ 1407.73 Consumer handicapped by transportation difficulties. (a) A registered consumer to whom a War Ration Book has been issued who, because of transportation difficulties, finds it a hardship to take delivery of sugar at the times and in the amounts specified in § 1407.243, may apply for a certificate authorizing him to take delivery of a quantity of sugar not in excess of fifteen (15) pounds. The application therefor shall be made to the Board on OPA Form No. R–315 by the consumer personally, by an adult member of his family unit, by an authorized agent, or by any other person authorized to register for him. The applicant may apply by mail or in person. The Board, in its discretion, may grant the application: Provided, That the amount allowed such consumer shall not exceed fifteen (15) pounds of sugar. Before issuing a certificate in such case, the Board shall detach from the War Ration Book of the consumer stamps having a weight value equal to the amount for which the certificate is issued; if the amount so allowed is greater than the weight value of the unexpired stamps in his War Ration Book to which a weight value has been assigned in § 1407.243 the War Ration Book shall be surrendered to the Board and held until stamps may be detached having a weight value equal to such amount.

§ 1407.74 Growers of sugarcane and sugar beets. A consumer who has delivered sugarcane or sugar beets produced by him to a primary distributor for processing into sugar may apply for a certificate authorizing him to take delivery from that primary distributor of a quantity of sugar not in excess of 25 pounds for himself and 25 pounds for each member of his family unit. The application therefor shall be made to the Board upon OPA Form No. R–315 by the consumer personally or by an adult member of his family unit or by an authorized agent. The Board, in a proper case, shall grant the application: Provided, That such consumer shall surrender to the Board his War Ration Book and the War Ration Books of the members of his family unit for whom such application is made.

§ 1407.75 Illness of consumer. Any person who, by reason of his illness, requires amounts of sugar in addition to that otherwise allowed him may apply for a certificate authorizing him to take delivery of such additional amounts. The application therefor shall be made to the Board upon OPA Form No. R–315 by the consumer personally or by an adult member of his family unit, or by an authorized agent, and shall be accompanied by a doctor's certificate explaining why additional sugar is needed and stating the amount required. The Board in a proper case shall grant the application.

INSTITUTIONAL AND INDUSTRIAL USERS

§ 1407.81 Re-registration between December 15, 1943, and January 5, 1944—(a) Who must re-register. Every industrial user who had registered his industrial user establishment under this order before December 15, 1943, must re-register that establishment by filing OPA Form R–1200 at any time between December 15, 1943, and January 5, 1944, inclusive, in accordance with General Ration Order 16.*

(b) How owner of industrial user establishments re-registers them governs their operation. If an industrial user has more than one industrial user establishment and they are registered separately (on OPA Form R–1200), each of those establishments must be treated and operated separately for all the purposes of this order (including computation of allotments and base period use), just as though the establishments were owned by different persons, and the industrial user is considered as a different industrial user as to each such establishment. If an industrial user has registered his establishments together, they are treated as a unit, for all the purposes of this order. However, deliveries of sugar between such establishments may not be made except in accordance with § 1407.168 and the orders issued by the Director of the Food Rationing Division of the Office of Price Administration under that section.

(c) Industrial user must keep copy of registration. Each industrial user must keep a copy of his registration on OPA Form R–1200. If he has more than one establishment which he registers together, the copy must be kept at his principal business office; otherwise it must be kept at the establishment it covers.

§ 1407.82 Prohibited deliveries. (a) No person may deliver sugar to any industrial or institutional user and no industrial or institutional user may accept delivery of sugar from any person unless such person receives from the industrial or institutional user evidences covering the amount of sugar delivered. However, any sugar which was included, or required to be included, in the opening inventory of an institutional user establishment under General Ration Order 5 may be received without giving up evidences.

(b) Deliveries of sugar from one institutional user establishment to another of the same owner are covered by General Ration Order 5.

§ 1407.86 Industrial user allotments—(a) General. To enable an industrial user to get and use sugar at his industrial user establishment, he is given an allotment for each use or product for which he has established a base-period use in accordance with General Ration Order 16. Allotments are given for fixed periods called allotment periods. The allotment periods are the following quarterly periods:

(1) First quarter: January to March, inclusive;

(2) Second quarter: April to June, inclusive;

(3) Third quarter: July to September, inclusive;

(4) Fourth quarter: October to December, inclusive.

(b) Application for allotments. An industrial user's registration on OPA Form R–1200 is treated as an application for an allotment for his industrial user establishment for the quarterly period beginning January 1, 1944. Application for any other allotment period must be made, in person or by mail, to the Board with which his establishment is registered. No particular form need be used for such application. The application, however, must be in writing and must be made not more than fifteen days before, nor more than five days after, the beginning of the period. However, the Board may permit an application to be made at any time before an allotment period under such circumstances as the Washington Office of the Office of Price Administration may direct. The Board, in its discretion, may also permit an application to be made at any time within the allotment period, but if it is made more than five days after the beginning of the period, the industrial user's allotment shall be reduced by an amount which bears the same proportion to the allotment as the number of days which have elapsed from the start of the period bears to the total number of days in the period.

(c) Amount of allotment. The amount of an industrial user's allotment is determined on the basis of his use of sugar at his industrial user establishment during the quarter in the base period (1941) corresponding to the allotment period. (General Ration Order 16 describes the way in which base-period use for each quarter in the base period is determined.) The amount of sugar used by him during the quarter for which he has established a base-period use is multiplied by the percentage or percentages fixed in § 1407.242, Schedule B, for that use or class of products and the numbers which result are added, and the total is his allotment, stated in pounds, for that use or class.

§ 1407.86a Increases in allotments based on increases in population—(a) The amount of the increases. An industrial user who in 1941 delivered to a county listed in § 1407.244, Schedule D, products for which he may obtain an allotment may, for each allotment period, obtain an increase in the allotment he is entitled to get under § 1407.86. The amount of the increase is determined as follows:

(1) Determine the amount of sugar which he used in products he delivered in 1941 to the listed county.

(2) Determine the amount of sugar which he used in all products he delivered in 1941.

(3) Divide the number obtained in (1) by the number obtained in (2).

(4) Multiply the number obtained in (3) by the percentage shown for that county for such allotment period in § 1407.244, Schedule D. (The result is the percentage by which the industrial user's allotment is increased.)

(5) If he made deliveries to more than one listed county, add together the percentage increases in allotment for all such counties. (This is the total percentage by which his allotment is increased.)

which the industrial user is entitled, under this section, for that allotment period.)

(b) How to determine what to include as deliveries. Only final deliveries, directly or by independent carrier, are covered by this section. Deliveries to the following are not included: the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard of the United States; Army Exchanges, Army Exchange Service, Post Exchanges of the Marine Corps, Ships Service Activities of the Navy or Coast Guard; other activities designated by the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard; Food Distribution Administration, and Ships Service Stores of the Training Organization of the War Shipping Administration, the American National Red Cross, with respect to its acquisitions of food for consumption by members of the armed forces of the United States outside the United States, a naval vessel or naval activity of the United Nations, the Navy, Army and Air Force Institutes (of Great Britain), or for use as ships' or canteen stores in any ocean-going vessel of the United States or of any of the United Nations, or on any neutral vessel, designated by the War Shipping Administration, which is engaged in the transportation of cargo or passengers in foreign, coastal, or intercoastal trade. In determining 1941 deliveries to a listed county, only the following deliveries are to be included: (1) deliveries by the industrial user in 1941 of products in which he used sugar to all places in such county not specified in paragraph (c), and (2) deliveries of such products in 1941, with or without further processing by persons and from places specified in paragraph (c), wherever located, to all places in such county not specified in that paragraph.

(c) Places referred to in paragraph (b). The places referred to in the previous paragraph are the following:

(1) An industrial user establishment of the industrial user, or

(2) A plant or warehouse of the industrial user, or

(3) A plant or warehouse of a person having an exclusive contract to distribute the industrial user's products (with or without processing) in more than one county, or

(4) A plant or warehouse of a person owning more than 50 per cent of the stock of the industrial user corporation, or a plant or warehouse of a corporation or other organization more than 50 per cent of the stock of which is owned by that person or by the industrial user.

(d) How application is made. An industrial user's application for the increase in allotment allowed by this section must be made, in person or by mail, to the Board with which he is registered. The first application for such increase must be made on OPA Form R–315. If an amendment to this order changes the amount of the increase in allotment to which an industrial user is entitled under this section, he must apply on OPA Form R–315 for the increase in allotment as so changed for the first period to which the amendment applies. Applications under this section must state the facts and show the computations required by paragraph (a). Except for these two cases, no particular form need be used in applying for the increase permitted by this section.

(e) When application must be made. Application for the increase for each period must be made at the same time that application for the regular allotment for that period is made and shall be subject to the provisions of § 1407.86 (b) with respect to late application.

(f) Records. An industrial user who applies for an increase in allotment under this section must keep, at his office, available for inspection by the Office of Price Administration, the journals, ledgers, and other records and reports which he used in obtaining or furnishing the information on which such increase was based.

§ 1407.86b Temporary increases in allotments due to military maneuvers. Whenever the Director of the Food Rationing Division of the Office of Price Administration finds that military maneuvers of the armed forces of the United States will cause temporary abnormal demands for sugar-containing products in the area in which such maneuvers are to be held, he may, upon defining such area, authorize such temporary increases in the allotments of industrial users delivering such products within the affected area as he shall deem necessary.

§ 1407.86c Increased allotments for certain industrial users for the period beginning January 1, 1944. (a) An industrial user may apply to the Board for an increase in his allotment for the period beginning January 1, 1944, for the production of the products listed in Class 14 of § 1407.92 (a).

(b) Application must be made prior to March 1, 1944, on OPA Form R–315. The Board shall grant the increase requested in the application. However, the increase in allotment granted to the industrial user must not exceed 25 per cent of the amount of his sugar base for the first quarterly period for the products listed in Class 14 of § 1407.92 (a).

§ 1407.87 Provisional allowances for producing certain products. (a) An industrial user who needs sugar to produce any of the products listed in Tables I, II, IV, V, VII and IX of § 1407.241, Schedule A, may get a provisional allowance of sugar in an amount determined by multiplying the number of units of the product which he estimates he will produce during the quarterly period for which the application is being made, by the amount of sugar which is permitted in § 1407.241, Schedule A, as the maximum amount per unit of the product.

(b) An industrial user who needs sugar to produce cooked beans (canned, bottled, frozen, or dehydrated) may get a provisional allowance of sugar in an amount determined by multiplying the number of units of dried beans which he estimates he will use during the quarterly period for which the application is being made, by the amount of sugar which is permitted in § 1407.241, Schedule A, Table VIII, as the maximum amount per unit of dried beans used.

(c) Only an industrial user who has properly registered on OPA Form R–1200 may apply to the Board for a provisional allowance under this section. He must apply on OPA Form R–314. The application must be signed by the industrial user or by an authorized agent. The application may be made in person or by mail.

§ 1407.87a Provisional allowance for manufacturing condensed milk in containers of over one gallon. (a) An industrial user may apply, in any month, for a provisional allowance to manufacture during the following month condensed milk to be packaged in containers holding more than one gallon.

(b) Application must be made in duplicate on OPA Form R–315 and must show:

(1) The plant capacity of his industrial user establishment.

(2) The amount of milk the industrial user will receive during the month for which the provisional allowance is requested, and

(3) The amount of such milk which cannot be processed into non-sugar-containing products other than evaporated milk, or into condensed milk to be packaged by him in containers holding one gallon or less. The industrial user shall send the original of the application to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., and shall file a duplicate with the Board with which he is registered.

(c) The Washington Office of the Office of Price Administration may grant such provisional allowance in an amount which it considers necessary to prevent the spoilage of milk, on such conditions as it may require.

§ 1407.87b Provisional allowance for feeding bees. (a) An industrial user who needs sugar for feeding bees may get a provisional allowance of sugar for that purpose in an amount determined under Table VI of Schedule A, § 1407.241.

(b) Application for all or part of such a provisional allowance may be made at any time during a calendar year. It must be made on OPA Form R–315.

(c) Any advance which an industrial user got during 1942 on his future provisional allowances for feeding bees must be deducted from the amount of his 1943 provisional allowance for that purpose. If the amount of the advance was more than 10 pounds per colony, the excess must be deducted from the industrial user's 1944 provisional allowance for feeding bees.

(d) An industrial user who gets a provisional allowance for feeding bees, may, in each calendar year, get an additional provisional allowance for that purpose if additional sugar is necessary to prevent the loss of his bees. Application for the additional provisional allowance must be made to the Board on OPA Form R–315 and must state:

(1) The amount of the additional provisional allowance needed;

(2) The number of colonies of bees for which the additional provisional allowance is needed;

(3) That the industrial user has used his full provisional allowance for the calendar year for feeding bees; and

(4) That the additional sugar applied for is necessary to prevent the loss of the industrial user's bees.

The application must also contain the certification of the local United States Department of Agriculture War Board that the additional sugar applied for is necessary to prevent the loss of the industrial user's bees. If the Board finds that the facts stated in the application are true, it will grant the application. The additional provisional allowance granted to any industrial user under this paragraph must not exceed 15 pounds for each colony of bees during any calendar year.

§ 1407.88 Reports of provisional allowance uses. (a) On or before application for a provisional allowance an industrial user who uses sugar in packing or processing any of the products listed in Table II or IX of Schedule A, § 1407.241, must file with the Board a written report showing: (1) the total number of gallons of each fruit juice packed in 1941; (2) the total number of cases, by sizes, of each other product packed during 1941; (3) the total amount of sugar used with each; (4) in the case of each fruit, the total number of cases processed in terms of cases of 24/2½'s on the basis of the conversion table set forth in Table III of Schedule A; (5) in the case of tomato catsup and chili sauce, the total number of cases processed in terms of cases of 6/10's (glass) on the basis of the conversion table set forth in Table X; and (6) the average amounts of sugar used per case on the converted bases.

(c) On or before application for a provisional allowance an industrial user using sugar in the production of cooked beans (canned, bottled, frozen, or dehydrated) must file with the Board a written report showing: (1) the amount of cooked beans produced by him during 1941; (2) the total amount of sugar used by him in such cooked beans in 1941; and (3) the average amount of sugar used per 100 pounds of dried beans processed in 1941.

(d) An industrial user who uses sugar in any month for feeding bees or for packing or processing any of the products listed in §1407.241, Schedule A (other than jams, jellies, preserves, marmalades, or fruit butters (listed in Table VII) or cooked beans (Table VIII)), must, on or before the 15th day of the following month, file with the Board a written report of the use of sugar for each of such products during the past month. The report must show the number of units by sizes of each product packed or processed (and the number of bee colonies fed by weeks) and the amount of sugar used. In the case of products listed in Tables I, II, and IX of Schedule A, § 1407.241, except fruit juices, there must be included as a separate item the number of cases of each product packed or processed in terms of cases of 24/2's, 24/2½'s, and 6/10's (glass), respectively, on the basis of the conversion factors set forth in Tables III and X of Schedule A. In the case of fruit juices the amount packed or processed must be given in terms of gallons.

(e) An industrial user who uses sugar in any month for producing products listed in Table VII must on or before the 15th day of the following month file with the Board a written report showing: (1) the number of pounds of each product produced by him during the past month; (2) the amount of sugar used; and (3) the type of fruit, fruit juices (or tomatoes) used in producing such products.

(f) An industrial user who uses sugar in any month for producing cooked beans (canned, bottled, frozen, or dehydrated) must, on or before the 15th day of the following month file with the Board a written report showing: (1) the amount of sugar used in producing such cooked beans during the past month and (2) the amount in pounds of dried beans he used.

(g) An industrial user who in 1941 used dextrose or corn syrup in packing a product for which he is entitled to get a provisional allowance and who, prior to December 15, 1943, filed the reports required by paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) must, prior to his next application for a provisional allowance, amend those reports to include his use of dextrose and corn syrup on the basis of the conversion factors set forth in § 1407.89 (c).

(h) On or before application for a provisional allowance, an industrial user who uses sugar in the production of jams, jelly, preserves, or marmalade not made with fruit, fruit juice, or tomatoes, must file with the Board a written report showing: (1) the amount of each such product produced by him during 1941; (2) the total amount of sugar used by him in each such product in 1941; and (3) the average amount of sugar used per pound of each such product produced by him in 1941.

§ 1407.88a Industrial users must keep records. Each industrial user must keep for two years, at his office, records showing by months the amounts of sugar received by him, the amount of sugar used for each product and use listed in § 1407.241, Schedule A, and § 1407.242, Schedule B, and the amount of each product processed or produced.

§ 1407.89 Use of provisional allowance. (a) No industrial user may use more sugar in any packing season for packing or processing any product listed in Table I, II, or IX of Schedule A, § 1407.241, than the amount determined by multiplying the number of units of such product actually packed in such season by the allowance per unit of such product specified in Schedule A.

(b) No industrial user may use more sugar for packing or otherwise processing any unit of any product listed in Table IV, V or VII of Schedule A than the amount specified therein as the allowance per unit of such product. No industrial user may use more sugar for producing cooked beans than the allowance specified in Table VIII of § 1407.241 per 100 pounds of dried beans used.

(c) In determining the quantity of sugar used for the packing or processing of any product listed in § 1407.241, Schedule A there shall be included all dextrose and corn syrup used for such product on the basis of 1.1 pounds of dextrose or 1.2 pounds of corn syrup as the equivalent of 1 pound of sugar.

§ 1407.90 Amount for which certificate is to be issued. A certificate shall be issued to the industrial user, after proper application, for the total of the provisional allowance and the allotment or allotments applied for, less any adjustments required to be made by this order and less any excess inventory.

§ 1407.91 Adjustments. (a) In issuing a certificate to an industrial user, the amount of his "excess inventory" must be deducted from the amount for which he may receive a certificate.

(b) "Excess inventory" includes:

(1) The amount by which his "present inventory" (sugar which he had on April 28, 1942, or which was stored for him or in transit to him on that date) exceeds the total of all his prior allotments and provisional allowances.

(2) All sugar (other than sugar which was included in his present inventory) received without giving up evidences.

(3) Sugar which an industrial user used (other than sugar which was included in his present inventory) after April 28, 1942, and prior to registration under this order.

(4) The amount by which a certificate, received as a result of an earlier omission or mistake made in his application or by the Board or other office of the Office of Price Administration, exceeded the amount which the industrial user was entitled to receive.

(5) Any part of a provisional allowance obtained for a preceding period which was not used for the purposes for which the provisional allowance was made.

(6) The portion unused, on January 1, 1944, of any allotment obtained by the industrial user, as the owner of a "registering unit" (as defined in this order on December 14, 1943), for a purpose or product for which a provisional allowance may be obtained on such date.

(7) Any other sugar which the industrial user, as the owner of a "registering unit" (as defined in this order on December 14, 1943), was required under this section on December 14, 1943, to deduct from the amount of the certificate to be issued on the next application for the "registering unit".

(8) Any other amount charged as excess inventory as a result of action taken by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1407.92 Use of allotments on and after January 1, 1944. (a) On and after January 1, 1944, except as may be permitted by the Washington Office of the Office of Price Administration, an industrial user who obtains an allotment under this order may use sugar allotted to him only for the use or for the production of the product on which his base period use was established, or for a use or for the production of a product included in the same class, according to the following classes:

1. Bread and other bakery products.
2. Baking mixes, including batters.
3. Breakfast cereals; and cereal paste products such as spaghetti and macaroni.

15. Pharmaceuticals (external).
16. All other classes: Food.
17. All other classes: Non-food.

(b) No industrial user may use more sugar in any allotment period for any purpose or use for which allotments may be obtained than his allotment for that period plus any unused part of his allotments for earlier periods. Sugar used under an allotment before the beginning of the period for which it was granted shall, for the purposes of this paragraph be considered to have been used in the period for which it was granted.

(c) On and after January 5, 1944, an industrial user may not use sugar for any use or purpose unless he has registered his industrial user establishment on OPA Form R–1200.

§ 1407.93 Use of sugar prior to January 1, 1944. Prior to January 1, 1944, an industrial user may use sugar only in the way permitted by this order on December 14, 1943.

§ 1407.93a Ration banking by industrial users. (a) An industrial user may open an account for his establishment. If he has more than one establishment and they are registered together, he may, at his option, open a separate account for each establishment or for any group of such establishments. However, if an account is opened for any such establishment, all his other establishments which are registered with it must be served by an account or accounts.

(b) Each account shall be opened in the name of the owner, who shall designate the establishment or establishments to be served. All accounts shall be opened in accordance with General Ration Order No. 3A.[7]

(c) An industrial user whose establishments are registered together may transfer ration credits from one of his "industrial user" accounts to another by the issuance of a check without the delivery of sugar.

§ 1407.94 Changes in industrial user accounts as a result of re-registration on OPA Form R–1200. (a) Any industrial user who has more than one establishment and re-registers those establishments on OPA Form R–1200 in a way different from the way in which they were previously registered on OPA Form R–310 (by registering two or more establishments together when they were previously registered separately or by registering them separately when they were previously registered together) must make the appropriate changes in the designation of the establishments served by any ration bank accounts which he has opened. He must also close any account that is no longer needed.

(b) If an industrial user wishes to change the number of establishments which are served by an account and it is necessary that he use some or all of the credits in that account for an establishment that will no longer be served by the account, he may, on or before January 15, 1944, issue the necessary checks to withdraw such credits from the account. Such checks may be deposited in any account serving the establishment for which he wishes to use the credits, or, if he has no account for such establishment, he may use the checks to obtain sugar for that establishment.

(c) Any industrial user who closes an account under this section may (after notifying the district office in the way provided in General Ration Order 3A) on or before January 15, 1944, issue to the board a check for the balance in such account (minus outstanding checks) and receive in exchange a certificate of equal amount.

§ 1407.95 Institutional users. An institutional user shall get allotments of sugar and use sugar only as provided in General Ration Order 5.

RETAILERS AND WHOLESALERS

§ 1407.101 Registering unit. As used in §§ 1407.102–1407.112, such registering unit refers to the retailer[8] or wholesaler[9] establishments which are included within such registering unit.

§ 1407.102 Prohibited deliveries. On and after April 28, 1942, notwithstanding the terms of any contract, agreement, or commitment, regardless of when made, no person shall make delivery of sugar to any registering unit and no registering unit shall accept delivery of sugar from any person except upon the surrender to such person by the registering unit, pursuant to this order, of certificates or stamps having a total weight value equal to the quantity of sugar so delivered; except that any sugar which at the time of registration has been included in present inventory pursuant to § 1407.104, may be received without the surrender of certificates or stamps.

§ 1407.103 Registration and application: Eligibility. (a) Registration and application for certificates shall be made on April 28 or 29, 1942, for each registering unit upon OPA Form No. R–305 (Registration of Retailers and Wholesalers), at a registration site designated for the area in which the principal business office of the owner is located: Provided, That in order to be eligible for registration all of the component establishments selling at retail must have made deliveries of sugar at any time during the period from January 1, 1941, to April 20, 1942, or have commenced operations subsequent to April 20, 1942, and that component establishments selling at wholesale must have handled sugar at any time during the period from January 1, 1941, to December 1, 1941. Retail establishments which did not handle sugar during the period from January 1, 1941, to April 20, 1942, or which commenced operations subsequent to April 28, 1942, and wholesale establishments which did not make deliveries of sugar during the period from January 1, 1941, to December 1, 1941, may petition for registration pursuant to the provisions of § 1407.163 of this order.

(b) The Form shall be presented for filing, and signed in the presence of a Registrar, by the owner, a partner (if the owner is a partnership), an officer (if the owner is a corporation, association, or similar organization), or manager of the owner. The Registrar in whose presence the Form is signed shall witness the signature and certify to the execution thereof.

(c) If the registering unit is composed of more than one establishment there shall be attached to the Registration Form a list of the establishments included, with the address of each: Provided, however, That a registering unit composed of establishments located on mobile conveyances, including vessels, need not list such mobile conveyances.

(d) The Registrar shall also insert on the Form the designation of the Local Rationing Board having jurisdiction over the registration site and at the close of the registration period the completed Form shall be filed with such Board.

§ 1407.104 Present inventory. The present inventory of a registering unit is the aggregate of all sugar in the possession of or intended to be used by, the registering unit, to which, at the time of registration, the owner of the registering unit has title or holds documents of title, or which was in transit or stored for delivery to the registering unit and out of the possession of the vendor of the registering unit prior to April 28, 1942. The owner shall be deemed to have title to sugar regardless of the fact that it may have been mortgaged, pledged, or otherwise used as security in a credit transaction, or that its use may have been prohibited by any order of the War Production Board. Every person who owns one or more registering units must include all sugar to which he has title (except sugar held for personal use and sugar in the possession of his vendor) in the present inventories of such registering units allocating such sugar among those of his registering units as he selects.

§ 1407.105 Allowable inventory. (a) A registering unit is permitted to obtain a working inventory of sugar which shall be known as the allowable inventory.

(b) The amount of the allowable inventory for a registering unit registering as a retailer is the quantity equal to one pound for each dollar of gross sales of all meats, groceries, fruits, vegetables, and similar products made during the week ending April 25, 1942 (or, if the component establishment began operations after April 20, 1942, the estimated sales for the first complete calendar week of operations), or one-quarter of the sugar delivered to and accepted by the registering unit during the month of November 1941, whichever is smaller: Provided, That if the component establishment was not in operation during the full month of November 1941, or if the information concerning the quantity delivered to and accepted by the registering unit during November 1941 cannot be ascertained, the allowable inventory shall be computed solely on the basis of the aforementioned gross sales.

(c) The allowable inventory of a registering unit registered as a wholesaler is the quantity of sugar equal to the total obtained by taking the quotient arrived at by dividing the amount of sugar delivered to the registering unit in 1941 by twice the number of months it made deliveries of sugar during 1941 and adding thereto the quantity of sugar equal to the shipping unit by which the registering unit customarily took delivery of sugar on or about December 1, 1941.

(d) A registering unit may apply for a temporary increase in its allowable inventory in an amount not to exceed fifty percent of the allowable inventory permitted such registering unit pursuant to paragraph (b) or (c). If it is registered as retailer, it may also apply for a temporary increase not to exceed fifty percent of any permanent increase in its allowable inventory authorized by the Office of Price Administration. Application for the increase shall be made by the registering unit to the Board on OPA Form No. R–315. The Board shall issue a certificate to the registering unit in weight value equal to the increase applied for if it is not in excess of the amount permitted pursuant to this paragraph; Provided, however, That if the registering unit has not surrendered stamps or certificates to the Board for cancellation in weight value equal to its excess inventory, as described in § 1407.107, and in weight value equal to any temporary increase in its allowable inventory previously authorized by the Office of Price Administration, the Board shall grant the application and reduce the excess inventory and any previously authorized temporary increase, and, if the increase granted pursuant to this paragraph exceeds the weight value of such stamps and certificates required to be surrendered a certificate shall be issued to the registering unit in weight value equal to the difference. Increases granted pursuant to this paragraph may be cancelled by the Office of Price Administration. If such increases are cancelled, registering units to which they have been granted shall, before accepting any deliveries of sugar, surrender to the Board for cancellation stamps or certificates in weight value equal to such increases. Thirty days notice of any such cancellation will be given.

(e) A registering unit may apply for a temporary increase in its allowable inventory, in addition to the temporary increase it may obtain pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section, in an amount equal to the temporary increase permitted such registering unit under paragraph (d) of this section. Application for the increase shall be made by the registering unit to the Board on OPA Form No. R–315. The Board shall issue a certificate to the registering unit in weight value equal to its excess inventory as described in § 1407.107, and in weight value equal to any temporary increase in its allowable inventory previously authorized by the Office of Price Administration, except those temporary increases authorized pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section, the Board shall grant the application and reduce the excess inventory and any previously authorized temporary increases, except those temporary increases authorized pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section, the Board shall grant the application and reduce the excess inventory and any previously authorized temporary increases, except those temporary increases authorized pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section, and, if the increase granted pursuant to this paragraph exceeds the weight value of the stamps and certificates required to be surrendered, a certificate shall be issued to the registering unit in weight value equal to the difference. Any increase granted under this paragraph may be cancelled by the Office of Price Administration. If such increase is cancelled, the registering unit to which it has been granted shall, before accepting any deliveries of sugar, surrender to the Board for cancellation stamps or certificates in weight value equal to such increase. Thirty days notice of any such cancellation will be given.

§ 1407.106 Issuance of certificates at registration. If the present inventory of the registering unit is less than the allowable inventory, a certificate shall be issued by the Registrar to the registering unit in the amount applied for; in no event, however, shall the amount applied for be greater than the difference between the allowable inventory and the present inventory. If application is made for a certificate in weight value less than the maximum for which such application may be made, the allowable inventory shall be reduced by the amount by which the maximum weight value for which application could be made exceeded the weight value of the certificate applied for.

§ 1407.107 Excess inventory of a registering unit. The amount by which the present inventory exceeds the allowable inventory shall be known as the "excess inventory of a registering unit." The registration of a registering unit which has an excess inventory shall be completed, but such registering unit shall not be entitled to any certificates at the time of registration. Before it may accept any deliveries of sugar such registering unit must surrender to the Board for cancellation stamps or certificates in weight value equal to the amount of the excess inventory.

§ 1407.108 Deliveries to registering units after registration. After registration, the allowable inventory of a registering unit may be replenished upon the surrender, pursuant to this order, of stamps and certificates received by the registering unit from the persons to whom its component establishments delivered sugar.

§ 1407.109 Late registrations. A registering unit which was not registered on April 28 or 29, 1942, may be registered thereafter at the office of the Board. In applying for late registration, the present inventory and the allowable inventory shall be computed and declared as of April 28, 1942.

§ 1407.109a Ration banking by retailers and wholesalers. (a) Each owner of a registering unit which includes or is composed of one or more wholesale establishments, more than one retail establishment, or a single retail establishment whose gross sales of all foods during the month of December 1942, or during any single calendar month since December 1942, were more than $2500.00, shall open at least one account for all the component establishments of such registering unit.

(b) The owner of any other registering unit composed of only one retail establishment may open an account for such establishment if such establishment had an account on April 27, 1943, or has a ration bank account for any other rationed food. (A bank is not required to open or maintain such accounts, but if it does so, it must open or maintain them for any such retail establishment which applies.)

[8] "Retailer" means an establishment which makes over 50 percent of its sales of all merchandise to consumers.

[9] "Wholesaler" means an establishment which makes over 50 percent of its sales of all merchandise to persons other than consumers, exclusive of sales made by a primary distributor. The term "wholesaler" does not include a primary distributor.

(c) The owner of a registering unit described in paragraph (a) of this section may, at his option, open a separate account for each establishment, or for any group of establishments, in such registering unit.

(d) Each account shall be opened in the name of the owner, who shall designate the establishment or establishments to be served. All accounts shall be opened in accordance with General Ration Order No. 3A.

(e) An owner of a registering unit may transfer ration credits from one account to another by the issuance of a check without the delivery of sugar, if these accounts are carried for establishments in the same registering unit.

§ 1407.110 Records. Establishments selling at retail or at wholesale shall keep records of all sugar received by them. An establishment operating as a wholesaler shall also keep a record of the names and addresses of all persons to whom sugar was delivered at wholesale and the quantities and dates of such deliveries. These records shall be kept at the office of the registering unit of which the establishment is a part and shall be made available for inspection by the Office of Price Administration and the Board. Such records shall be retained for a period of not less than 2 years.

§ 1407.111 Replacement of sugar lost in repackaging. (a) A registering unit may obtain certificates in weight value equal to the amount of sugar lost by the retail and wholesale establishments included in the registering unit in packaging sugar: Provided, That the weight value of such certificates shall not exceed one per cent of the amount of sugar thus packaged.

(b) Application for such certificates shall be made by the registering unit for each six-month period ending October 31 or April 30. It shall be made to the Board on OPA Form No. R–315, in the month following the close of each such period, and shall establish compliance with the requirements of paragraph (a) of this section and include such other information as the Board may require.

§ 1407.112 Surrender of certain expired stamps and certificates in exchange for certificates or reduction of excess inventory. (a) A registered retailer or wholesaler may surrender to the Board any stamps numbered 1 through 9 or any expired certificates in exchange for which he delivered before March 19, 1943, and within the periods specified in § 1407.141, the quantity of sugar authorized to be delivered by such stamps and certificates. If his excess inventory as adjusted pursuant to § 1407.107 is equal to or greater than the weight value of such surrendered stamps and certificates, the Board shall reduce the excess inventory by the weight value of such stamps and certificates. However, if the weight value of such stamps and certificates is greater than his excess inventory as adjusted pursuant to § 1407.107, the Board shall cancel the excess inventory and issue to him a certificate in weight value equal to the difference.

(b) Application for such reduction of excess inventory or a certificate shall be made on OPA Form No. R–315 on or before April 9, 1943. The application shall state facts establishing compliance with the requirements of paragraph (a) of this section and such other information as the Board may require. The application shall be accompanied by the stamps and certificates to be surrendered and such stamps shall be pasted on cards as prescribed by § 1407.142.

PRIMARY DISTRIBUTORS

§ 1407.120 Ration banking by primary distributors. (a) On or before February 8, 1943, each primary distributor shall open at least one account for all his establishments, other than institutional or industrial user establishments. If the primary distributor has more than one establishment he may, at his option, open a separate account for each establishment or group of establishments. Each account shall be opened in the name of the owner, who shall designate the establishment or establishments to be served. All accounts shall be opened in accordance with General Ration Order No. 3A. The primary distributor shall notify the Washington Office of the Office of Price Administration of the opening of such account or accounts and the name and address of the establishment or establishments to be served by each such account. If a person becomes a primary distributor on or after February 8, 1943, he shall, within one week thereafter, open such account or accounts and shall notify the Washington Office of the Office of Price Administration of the opening of such account or accounts, and the name and address of each establishment to be served by each such account.

(b) Each primary distributor shall deposit all stamps and certificates received by him within the periods specified in § 1407.141, each check transferred to him by endorsement within 20 days of its receipt by him, and each check issued to him within twenty (20) days of the date appearing on its face. Stamps numbered one (1) through nine (9) and certificates received by him in accordance with this order, prior to February 8, 1943, which are dated before December 10, 1942, and which bear no endorsement later than January 9, 1943, may not be deposited, but shall be sent by the primary distributor to the district office having jurisdiction over the area in which the principal office of such primary distributor is located.

(c) A primary distributor may issue checks against ration credits in his account only as provided in § 1407.140 (e) or paragraph (d) of this section.

(d) On or before May 25, 1943, each primary distributor shall issue to the Washington Office of the Office of Price Administration a check in weight value equal to the total weight value of the stamps, certificates, and checks deposited by him on or before April 30, 1943, minus the weight value of any checks issued by him on or before April 30, 1943, pursuant to § 1407.140 (e). On or before the 10th day of each month subsequent to May 1943 each primary distributor shall issue to the Washington Office of the Office of Price Administration a check equal in weight value to the total weight value of the stamps, certificates, coupons, and checks deposited by him during the preceding calendar month, minus the weight value of any checks issued by him during such preceding calendar month pursuant to § 1407.140 (e).

§ 1407.121 Deliveries by primary distributors. Except as is otherwise provided herein, a primary distributor may deliver sugar to persons not primary distributors, on and after April 28, 1942, only upon receipt of stamps or certificates in the manner set forth in this order.

§ 1407.122 Records of primary distributors. The primary distributor shall preserve for a period of 2 years at his principal business office records of all sugar delivered by him, the persons to whom such deliveries were made and the amounts thereof, the serial numbers of all certificates received therefor, the weight value of such certificates, and the amount of sugar delivered against them. The primary distributor shall, in each month, send to the district office a report of all deliveries made to the Army or Navy or any of the persons or agencies listed in paragraph (b) of § 1407.183.

§ 1407.123 Orders or commitments for future deliveries. (a) No primary distributor shall deliver sugar pursuant to a contract, agreement or commitment, regardless of when made, providing for delivery more than three days after the making thereof, directly or to a carrier for delivery. No primary distributor shall deliver sugar to fill any order, regardless of when received, calling for delivery more than three days after the receipt thereof, directly or to a carrier for delivery.

(b) This section shall not apply to deliveries to the Army or Navy of the United States or to any of the persons or agencies listed in § 1407.183 (b) of this order, or to deliveries of raw sugar which is not to be further refined or otherwise improved in quality.

§ 1407.124 Restrictions on primary distributors. (a) Primary distributors of beet sugar shall retain for delivery as the Office of Price Administration may order, the undelivered balance of the sugar derived from sugar beets, set aside by such primary distributors pursuant to Supplementary Order M–55–c issued by the War Production Board.

(b) Commencing with June 19, 1942, primary distributors of beet sugar shall set aside at the end of each month for delivery as the Office of Price Administration may order, fifteen percent (15%) of their production during such month.

(c) The provisions of paragraph (b) of this section do not apply to beet sugar produced from sugar beets of the 1943 crop and set aside, pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section, prior to November 1, 1943, is released from the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section and need not be held for delivery as the Office of Price Administration may order. "Sugar beets of the 1943 crop" include all sugar beets planted for harvest in the calendar year 1943, except that with respect to sugar beets grown in Yuma County, Arizona, in Imperial County, California, and in those parts of the Imperial and Coachella Valleys which are included in Riverside County, California, "sugar beets of the 1943 crop" do not include sugar beets planted for harvest in the calendar year 1943 but include sugar beets planted for harvest in the calendar year 1944.

SUGAR PURCHASE CERTIFICATES, WAR RATION BOOKS, WAR RATION STAMPS AND SUGAR RATION CHECKS

§ 1407.140 Use of checks by depositors and non-depositors. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this order:

(a) No depositor, and, on and after February 8, 1943, no person required to be a depositor, shall, except in accordance with General Ration Order No. 3A, surrender or transfer stamps or certificates which are valid for deposit.

(b) Whenever this order requires or authorizes the surrender or transfer of stamps or certificates to a person, other than a bank for deposit, and such stamps or certificates are valid for deposit, a depositor shall not surrender or transfer such stamps or certificates but shall instead, under the same circumstances and with the same effect, issue to such person a check, valid for deposit, in weight value equal to such stamps or certificates.

(c) Whenever this order authorizes the delivery of sugar upon the surrender or transfer of stamps or certificates, such delivery may be made to a depositor upon receipt, by the person making the delivery, of a check valid for deposit issued to him by the depositor and equal in weight value to such stamps or certificates.

(d) A person who neither is nor is required to be a depositor to whom a check is issued by a depositor or to whom a check is transferred by endorsement may transfer such check by endorsement to any person to whom and for any purpose for which stamps or certificates are authorized to be surrendered by this order.

(e) A depositor who has received stamps, certificates or checks from a registering unit or industrial or institutional user establishment may issue to it a check in weight value equal to the sugar which he has not delivered against such stamps, certificates or checks, but which he is then authorized to deliver to such registering unit or industrial or institutional user establishment against such stamps, certificates or checks.

(f) A depositor who has received stamps, certificates or checks as authorization for the delivery of sugar by him may not, except as provided in paragraph (e), issue a check against any part of the credit created by their deposit except to the extent that he has delivered sugar against them.

(g) Whenever this order refers to the delivery or acquisition of sugar (including the replenishment of inventory), upon or without the receipt or surrender of stamps or certificates, the issuance of checks by a depositor or, in the case of a person who neither is nor is required to be a depositor, the transfer of checks by endorsement shall be deemed to be included in such reference, unless the context shall otherwise require.

(h) No person may accept stamps, certificates, or checks which he knows or has reason to believe are transferred or surrendered in violation of this section.

§ 1407.141 Nature and validity of certificates and stamps. (a) A certificate or stamp may be transferred only for the purpose of authorizing the consumer or registering unit to whom the certificate or stamp was issued to take delivery of the amount of sugar specified on the certificate or assigned to the stamp in § 1407.243, Schedule C, of this order, and to permit the registering unit to which the certificate or stamp has been surrendered to take delivery of sugar in order to replenish its sugar inventory. Stamps in the hands of a consumer are valid only if attached to a War Ration Book.

(b) Each stamp authorizes delivery of sugar to a consumer only during the ration period assigned to such stamp in § 1407.243. A stamp received in accordance with this order by a registering unit, which is neither a depositor nor required to be one, authorizes the registering unit to take delivery of sugar in an amount equal to the weight value of the stamp if such stamp is surrendered to another registering unit or a primary distributor within a month of the close of the ration period assigned to such stamp. A stamp surrendered to a depositor shall be valid for deposit in his account for a period of a month and ten days after the close of the ration period assigned to such stamp: Provided, however, That, notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this order, Stamp No. 12 may, on or before July 31, 1943, be surrendered by a registering unit which is not and is not required to be a depositor to authorize the registering unit to take delivery of sugar and may be deposited on or before August 10, 1943. Except as provided in paragraph (f) of § 1407.140, a depositor may issue checks at any time, against credits created by the deposit of a stamp. Stamps numbered one through eleven shall not be valid for deposit. If the ration period assigned to a stamp ends on a day which is not the last day of a calendar month and the next calendar month has a day which corresponds thereto, then a "month", as used in this paragraph, is the period from the last day of the ration period to and including the corresponding day of the next calendar month; otherwise it is the period from the last day of the ration period to and including the last day of the next calendar month.

(c) (1) A certificate issued on OPA Form R–306 authorizes the person to whom it is issued, if he is not a depositor nor required to be one, to take delivery of sugar if such certificate is surrendered within 60 days from the valid date of the certificate. Such certificate duly transferred by endorsement to a registering unit that is neither a depositor nor required to be one, authorizes the delivery of sugar to such registering unit if such certificate is surrendered within 80 days from the valid date of the certificate. Such certificate duly transferred or issued to a depositor shall be valid for deposit in the account of such depositor for a period of 80 days from the valid date of the certificate. Such certificate issued before January 27, 1943, which is duly transferred to a registering unit by endorsement authorizes the delivery of sugar and may be deposited within 60 days from the valid date of the certificate or within 30 days from the date contained in the endorsement to such registering unit, whichever is later.

(2) A certificate issued on OPA Form R–1201 authorizes the person to whom it is issued, if he is not a depositor nor required to be one, to take delivery of sugar if such certificate is surrendered not later than the date appearing on the face thereof. Such certificate duly transferred by endorsement to a registering unit that is neither a depositor nor required to be one, authorizes the delivery of sugar to such registering unit if such certificate is surrendered within 20 days from the date appearing on the face thereof. Such certificate duly transferred or issued to a depositor shall be valid for deposit in the account of such depositor for a period of 20 days from the date appearing on the face thereof.

(3) A depositor may, except as provided in paragraph (f) of § 1407.140, issue checks at any time, against credits created by the deposit of a certificate. Certificates which before January 27, 1943, ceased to authorize the delivery of sugar shall not be valid for deposit.

(d) A primary distributor receiving certificates, or a registered wholesaler receiving stamps or certificates, from a registering unit upon request may deliver to such registering unit a quantity of sugar equal to the weight value of the stamps and certificates so received, plus an additional quantity equal to either: (1) an amount, not in excess of 10% of the weight value of the stamps or certificates so received, required to make a total quantity equal to that contained in a Shipping Unit; or (2) an amount not in excess of ninety-nine (99) pounds, required to permit delivery in shipping packages customarily used by the person making the delivery.

If the amount of sugar delivered is greater than the weight value of the certificates and stamps received the person accepting the delivery shall be charged with such excess and shall surrender stamps or certificates of weight value equal to such excess before accepting delivery of any additional sugar from any person.

(e) As used in this section the term "registering unit" includes industrial user establishments and establishments registered under General Ration Order 5 as Group II and III institutional user establishments.

§ 1407.142 Surrender of certificates and stamps. (a) Certificates or stamps must be surrendered by the consumer or registering unit receiving the sugar to the primary distributor or registering unit delivering the sugar at or before the time of delivery. A stamp must be detached by the consumer or the person acting on his behalf from the War Ration Book of the consumer only in the presence of the person making delivery of the sugar. Before a certificate is surrendered, the proper endorsement on the reverse side shall be completed by the holder of the certificate.

(b) A registering unit or primary distributor to which stamps are surrendered by a consumer must paste the stamps on OPA Form No. R-304 (War Ration Stamp Card), or upon a similar card; only stamps bearing the same number may be affixed to the card. When a registering unit surrenders a card for the purpose of authorizing a delivery of sugar to it, the name and address of the registering unit surrendering the card and the name and address of the registering unit, Collector of Customs, or primary distributor to whom the card is being surrendered shall be written on the face or back of the card by the one surrendering the card. Before a card may be surrendered for the purpose of deposit, the person surrendering the card shall, if he affixed the stamps to the card, endorse it by writing his name and address on its face or shall, if he received the card with stamps affixed, endorse it by writing his name on its back.

(c) As used in this section the term "registering unit" includes industrial user establishments and establishments registered under General Ration Order 5 as Group II and III institutional user establishments.

§ 1407.142a Use of coupons. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this order:

(a) Whenever this order authorizes the delivery of sugar to a consumer upon the surrender of stamps or certificates, such delivery may be made upon the surrender by the consumer of coupons equal in weight value to the amount of sugar delivered and bearing the serial number of the consumer's book. The consumer's book shall be presented to the person making the delivery at the time the coupons are surrendered and such person shall make delivery only if the coupons bear the same serial numbers as the book.

(b) A coupon authorizes the delivery of sugar to a consumer in an amount equal to the weight value of such coupon, until February 29, 1944. A coupon received in accordance with this order by a registering unit, which is neither a depositor nor required to be one, authorizes the registering unit to take delivery of sugar in an amount equal to the weight value of the coupon until March 31, 1944. A coupon surrendered to a depositor shall be valid for deposit in the account of such depositor until April 10, 1944.

(c) Whenever a registering unit, primary distributor, or Collector of Customs receives a coupon in accordance with this order it may deliver sugar against such coupon and surrender or deposit such coupon for the same purposes and with the same effect as if such coupon were a stamp, subject, however, to the provisions of this section.

(d) A registering unit, primary distributor, or Collector of Customs to whom coupons are surrendered by a consumer shall enclose such coupons in an envelope and shall surrender or deposit them in accordance with the procedure prescribed for stamps or coupons by General Ration Order 7.[*] Such coupons shall be received, surrendered, or deposited, and sugar may be delivered against them, by a registering unit, primary distributor, or Collector of Customs, only in the same manner, for the same purpose and with the same effect as such registering unit, primary distributor, or Collector of Customs could receive, surrender, deposit, or deliver sugar against, stamps of equal weight value.

§ 1407.143 Type of sugar authorized. A certificate or stamp shall authorize delivery and receipt of any kind, type, or grade of sugar.

§ 1407.144 Moving establishment to another place. (a) A person may move his "retailer" or "wholesaler" establishment to another place after notifying the Board of his new address. A primary distributor may move his "primary distributor" establishment to another place after notifying the Washington Office of the Office of Price Administration of his new address.

(b) If a person wishes to move his "industrial user" establishment to another place, he must treat his moving as the closing of one establishment and the opening of a new establishment unless he applies for and is granted permission to continue his operations at the new place. The application must be made, on OPA Form R-315, to the Board with which the establishment is registered, and must, in addition to showing the new address, give explanations indicating whether:

(1) The entire establishment, including substantially all the equipment and the inventory of sugar will be moved to the new place;

(2) He will continue to serve, from the new place, the same general class of customers and the same area he serves from his present place; and

(3) He will continue to produce, at the new place, the same classes of products which he produces at his present place.

The Board shall send the application, with its recommendation, if any, to the district office. If the district office finds that the establishment will continue to be operated in substantially the same manner as at its present place, and that the tests described above are satisfied, it shall grant the application.

(c) An industrial user who moves his establishment and is granted permission to continue his operations at the new place, may not use his allotment if his operation of the establishment ceases to meet the tests described in paragraph (b).

§ 1407.144a Sale or transfer of retailer or wholesaler establishments—(a) General. (1) When any "person" sells or "transfers" to any other person the business and inventory of his "retailer" or "wholesaler" establishment for continued operation, they must both notify the Board at which the establishment is registered. The notice must be given, in writing, within five days after the sale or the transfer and must show:

(i) The name and business address of the establishment and of the persons transferring and acquiring it;

(ii) The sugar inventory transferred; and

(iii) The amount of ration credits in the establishment's account, if any (deducting the amount of any outstanding checks) and the amount of evidences on hand.

This notice will be treated as the transferee's registration and as a cancellation of the transferor's registration.

(2) If the transferor has an account, he must notify the district office in the way required by General Ration Order 3A.

(b) Purchaser of "retailer" or "wholesaler" establishment may get its ration evidences. The purchaser or transferee of a "retailer" or "wholesaler" establishment may get and use all the certificates, stamps, and coupons of the establishment in the same way as the seller or transferor was entitled to use them. If the establishment has an account, the transferor must transfer all the credits in the account to the transferee by issuing a ration check. (The check shall not include the amount of outstanding checks drawn on such account.) If the establishment does not have an account, the transferor is to give to the transferee the stamps and coupons he has and endorse and give to the transferee any ration checks and certificates he has. (If the transferee is required to have an account, he must deposit all ration evidences in that account. If the transferee is not required to have an account, he may endorse the checks and certificates and use them to get sugar.)

(c) Same rules apply to the sale of a registering unit composed of more than one establishment. The rules set forth above also apply to the owner of a registering unit which includes more than one establishment and who sells and transfers all of them for continued operation. The owner must give the information and give up or transfer ration evidences for all the establishments.

(d) Sale of part of registering unit. Where a registering unit consists of several establishments, only some of which are sold or transferred, the purchaser or transferee may not acquire its ration evidences. In this case, the seller or transferor keeps the evidences. The transferor may use the evidences with his other establishments in the registering unit.

§ 1407.144b Sale or transfer of industrial user establishment—(a) General. (1) When an industrial user sells or transfers to any other person the business and inventory of his industrial user establishment for continued operation, both the transferor and the transferee must notify the Board at which the establishment is registered. The notice must be given in writing within five days after the sale or transfer and must show:

(i) The name and business address of the establishment and of the persons transferring and acquiring it;

(ii) The sugar inventory of the establishment transferred; and

(iii) The amount of ration credits in the establishment's account (deducting the amount of any outstanding checks).

(2) If the transferor has an account, he must notify the district office in the way required by General Ration Order 3A.

(b) Transferor must give up unused ration evidences. The seller or transferor must give to the Board all ration evidences he has for the establishment. If the establishment has a ration bank account, he must give up the evidences in the form of his certified ration check payable to the Office of Price Administration. (The check shall be equal in amount to the credits in the account minus outstanding checks.) The notice described in paragraph (a) and the surrender of unused evidences will be treated as a cancellation of the transferor's registration and allotment.

(c) Application for allotment by transferee. The transferee may not use the sugar which was transferred with the establishment unless he receives an allotment. The application for an allotment must be made on OPA Form R-315 to the Board where the establishment was registered and must state facts showing whether:

(1) The entire establishment, including substantially all the equipment, the good will, and the inventory of sugar, have been transferred.

(2) The transferee will continue to serve from that establishment the same general class of customers in the same area served by it before the transfer; and

(3) The transferee will continue to produce at the establishment the same classes of products the transferor was permitted to produce, though not necessarily under the same trade name.

The Board shall send the application, the notices sent to it by both parties and the transferor's registration to the district office.

(d) Granting of allotment. If the district office finds that the establishment will continue to be operated in substantially the same manner as before the transfer and that the tests described in paragraph (c) are satisfied, it will assign to the transferee the transferor's allotment and base-period use for that establishment. It will also give the transferee a certificate for the value of the evidences that the transferor surrendered to the Board. However, if the amount of sugar delivered to the transferee with the establishment is larger than the unused part of the allotment for the current period plus any unused part of the transferor's earlier allotments, the difference will be treated as "excess inventory". The transferee may not use any part of the allotment already used by the transferor, but he may use any unused part of any prior allotment the transferor received for that establishment.

(e) Same rules apply to sale of entire chain. The same rules apply where a person who has more than one industrial user establishment sells or transfers all of them for continued operation, whether or not they were registered separately.

(f) Sale of part of a chain. (1) When the seller or transferor has more than one industrial user establishment which he registered separately, and sells or transfers one or more, but not all, of them, the procedure described in paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (d) must be followed separately, as to each establishment transferred.

(2) When the seller or transferor has more than one industrial user establishment which he registered together, and sells or transfers one or more, but not all, of them, the procedure described in paragraphs (a) and (c) of this section must be followed, except that the transferor must also apply to the Board with which he is registered for a redetermination of his allotment and base-period use. The Board shall send the application and notices of both parties, and the transferor's registration, to the district office. If the district office finds that the tests described in paragraph (c) are satisfied, it shall grant an allotment to the transferee and assign to him a base-period use. It shall first determine the amount of the transferor's allotment and base-period use allocable to the transferred establishment. That base-period use shall be assigned to the transferee. The transferee's allotment shall be the part of the transferor's allotment for that establishment corresponding to the unexpired part of the allotment period. The base-period use and the allotment assigned to the transferee shall be deducted from the base-period use and current allotment of the transferor. The district office shall issue a certificate to the transferee on the basis of the allotment granted to him and the amount of the inventory he acquired from the transferor. If the amount of sugar which is transferred with the establishment is less than the allotment assigned to the transferee, the transferor must give up evidences to the Office of Price Administration for the difference. If he does not give up evidences, that difference shall be treated as "excess inventory".

(g) Transferee's registration. A transferee is regarded as registered as soon as the district office assigns an allotment and base-period use to him.

(h) Use of allotment by transferee. A transferee may not use an allotment assigned to him under this section if his operation of the transferred establishment ceases to meet the tests described in paragraph (c).

§ 1407.144c Where and how a transferee registers establishments acquired by him. (a) A person who buys or otherwise acquires an industrial user establishment of any type and who already has two or more industrial user establishments which are registered together must register the new establishment together with his other establishments at the same Board. (If he already has his other industrial user establishments registered separately, the new establishment must be registered with the Board where it is located.)

(b) A person who buys or otherwise acquires a "retailer" or "wholesaler" establishment and who already has a registering unit which includes an establishment or establishments of the same type may either register such establishment separately or may register it with his other establishments of the same kind. If the owner desires to obtain a new allowable inventory for the registering unit because of the addition of such establishment he shall apply to the Board under § 1407.161.

§ 1407.144d What a person who closes his establishment must do—(a) General. (1) Any retailer, wholesaler, or industrial user who goes out of the business of dealing in or using sugar at his establishment must notify the Board at which it is registered. The notice must be given in writing within five days after he goes out of business. It must show:

(i) The name and address of the establishment.

(ii) The sugar inventory of the establishment at the time he stopped doing business.

(iii) The amount of ration credits in the establishment's account, if any (deducting the amount of any outstanding checks), or, if he has no account, the amount of ration evidences on hand.

(2) If he has a ration bank account, he must also notify the district office in the way required by General Ration Order 3A.

(3) He must account to the Office of Price Administration for all evidences he has for the establishment at which he ceased doing business. If all his sugar has not been disposed of at the time of the notice, he must account for evidences for such sugar as soon as stocks have been liquidated. An industrial user who has given the notice called for above may deliver the sugar in the same way "retailers" are permitted to make deliveries.

(b) Closing of entire chain. The rules set forth in paragraph (a) of this section also apply to a person who:

(1) Has more than one industrial user establishment and goes out of business at all of them, whether or not they were registered separately, or

(2) Has a registering unit which includes several retailer or wholesaler establishments and goes out of business at all such establishments. He must give the information required and must give up evidences for all the establishments.

(c) Closing of part of a chain. (1) A person who has a registering unit composed of several "retailer" or "wholesaler" establishments may go out of business at one or more establishments but may continue to operate the others in such registering unit. In that case, he need not give up evidences to the Office of Price Administration at that time but may use them for the operation of the establishments which he continues in that registering unit. He must give written notice to the Board at which the registering unit is registered, giving the name and address of the establishment closed, within five days after he closes it.

(2) A person who has several industrial user establishments which are registered together may go out of business at one or more of them, but may continue to operate the others. In that case, he must notify the Board with which he is registered. The notification must be in writing and must state whether and to what extent he will continue to serve, from his other establishments, the same area and the same general class of customers. The Board must send the notification and his registration to the district office. The district office shall determine the extent to which he remains entitled to use his entire allotment. He may keep his entire allotment only if his remaining establishments will continue to serve the same general class of customers and the same area as the establishment closed. His allotment and his base-period use must be reduced to the extent that he will cease to serve the same class of customers and the same area. If his allotment is reduced, he must give up to the Office of Price Administration evidences equal to the reduction. If he does not have evidences to give up, the amount of the reduction shall be treated as "excess inventory".

§ 1407.145 Stamps and certificates may not be taken by legal process or acquired by will. (a) No stamp, certificate, coupon, or ration check or any interest in it, may be taken or seized by judicial process or by any court order. However, a person to whom a War Ration Book, a coupon or a certificate has been issued may bring a legal proceeding to recover it from any person who is wrongfully in possession of it. He may, as part of that proceeding, take or seize it by judicial process or court order.

(b) No stamp, coupon, or certificate, or any interest in it, may be transferred or acquired by inheritance or by will.

§ 1407.146 Delivery of sugar for carriage or storage. Any person may deliver sugar to any other person for carriage or storage without getting evidences. The sugar may thereafter be delivered by such other person, without getting evidences, either to the person from whom the sugar was received, or to a person to whom the right to receive such sugar has been transferred under this order.

§ 1407.146a Security interests in sugar may be created and released without giving up evidences. (a) No evidences need be given up for a delivery of sugar, or of any interest in it, for security purposes only. (For example, if sugar is pledged or mortgaged, the person with whom it is pledged or mortgaged need not give up evidences.)

(b) No evidences need be given up for a release of a security interest in sugar, or for a return of the sugar to the person who originally delivered it for security purposes. (For example, a person who pledged sugar may get it back without giving up evidences. Similarly, a person who gives a chattel mortgage on his sugar need not give up evidences when the mortgage is ended.)

§ 1407.147 Disposal of damaged sugar and undamaged sugar mingled therewith or sugar in a package, bag, or other container damaged while in transit by common carrier. (a) Sugar which is damaged and undamaged sugar mingled therewith, or sugar which is in a package, bag, or other container damaged while in transit by common carrier, may be delivered by any person who has it, without getting evidences to:

(1) Primary distributors;

(2) Any person who has insured such sugar against loss or damage and is duly authorized by law to engage in the insurance business;

(3) Common or contract carriers in connection with the right of subrogation or by virtue of the payment by them of a claim for damage to such sugar or container; and

(4) Persons engaged principally and primarily in the business of adjusting losses or selling or reconditioning damaged commodities, who take possession of or receive such commodities on the occurrence or imminence of casualties or in direct connection with the adjustment of losses resulting from casualties.

(b) Any person described in paragraph (a), (2), (3), or (4) who acquires such sugar under paragraph (a) must make a report of such transaction, in writing, to the district office for the place where his principal business office is located. The report must indicate how he intends to dispose of such sugar.

(c) Following such report, undamaged sugar which has been mingled with, but which can be and is separated from damaged sugar, or sugar which is in a package, bag, or other container damaged while in transit by common carrier, may be disposed of by such person, but only in the way permitted by § 1407.147d (c) (1), (2), (3), and (4). Damaged sugar and undamaged sugar mingled therewith which cannot be separated therefrom may be disposed of but only as follows: by delivery, directly or by carrier, without receiving evidences, to (1) a primary distributor or (2) any person for storage purposes. If such sugar is delivered for storage, it may later be delivered, without receiving evidences, to a primary distributor.

§ 1407.147a Adjustments for lost, destroyed, stolen, or damaged sugar. (a) A registering unit or an industrial or institutional user who, under § 1407.147 (a), delivers damaged sugar and undamaged sugar mingled therewith, or whose sugar is destroyed, lost, stolen, or taken away by legal process or order of a court may obtain evidences covering the original weight of such sugar. A registering unit or an industrial user or institutional user who, under § 1407.147 (a), delivers sugar in a package, bag, or other container damaged while in transit by common carrier may obtain evidences covering the amount of sugar in such package, bag, or other container before it was damaged. A registering unit or an industrial or institutional user whose sugar, although in a package, bag, or other container damaged while in transit by common carrier, was not delivered under § 1407.147 (a) or was in a package, bag, or other container damaged in any other way may get evidences covering the amount of sugar lost from the package, bag, or other container because of such damage.

(b) If a certificate, stamp, or coupon held by a registering unit or an industrial or institutional user establishment is lost, destroyed, or stolen, or becomes invalid because of mutilation, the person entitled to such stamp, coupon, or certificate may apply for a new coupon or certificate in the weight value equal to that of the replaced stamp, coupon, or certificate. The application therefor shall be made to the Board upon OPA Form No. R–315 by such person or his authorized agent. The Board, in a proper case, shall grant the application.

(a) When regulation fixes a ceiling price. In cases where this regulation fixes a ceiling price, a person may sell at that ceiling price, subject to an agreement with the buyer to charge a higher price if it becomes the legal ceiling price by the time of delivery. But one must never charge a price which is higher than the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery. Moreover, unless specifically authorized by the Office of Price Administration, a person must not deliver or agree to deliver at a price which is to be adjusted upward in accordance with action by the Office of Price Administration after delivery.

(b) Where regulation does not fix a ceiling price. In cases where a ceiling price is not fixed by the regulation, a person must not make any contract or sale unless the price is expressly subject to adjustment in accordance with any action which may be taken by the Office of Price Administration. Moreover, unless specifically authorized by the Office of Price Administration, a person must not make any delivery until a ceiling price has been fixed by the Office of Price Administration.

(c) When specific authorization will be given. Specific authorization to deliver or agree to deliver at a price which is to be adjusted upward in accordance with action by the Office of Price Administration after delivery will be given only where:

(1) A request for the fixing or changing of a ceiling price has been filed; and

(2) The authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production; and

(3) It will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

This authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any other official of the Office of Price Administration to whom the power to grant such authorization has been delegated, and may be given by order, letter or telegram.

This Amendment No. 1 shall become effective the 2d day of February 1944.

Chapter XIII—Petroleum Administration for War

[Petroleum Directive 59 as Amended Dec. 1, 1943, Amdt. 1]

PART 1510—SUPPLY

PRINCIPAL PETROLEUM PRODUCTS IN DISTRICT ONE

Section 1510.30 (Petroleum Directive 59, as amended December 1, 1943, (8 F.R. 15792)) is hereby amended by changing § 1510.30 (c) to read as follows:

§ 1510.30 District One supply program. • • •

(c) Shipment of crude and principal petroleum products into and within District One. The subcommittee, after consulting with the Transportation and Refining Committees of District One, shall prepare a suggested schedule, in collaboration with a staff representative of the Petroleum Administration for War designated for the purpose, assigning to original suppliers the duty of arranging for the shipment of crude petroleum to be imported for purposes other than refining, and principal petroleum products from origins outside District One to destinations within District One and arranging for intradistrict shipments from and to designated points. Principal petroleum products required for intradistrict shipment may be made available by the subcommittee, in collaboration with a staff representative of the Petroleum Administration for War designated for the purpose, to the original supplier who has been assigned the duty of making such shipment by assignment issued by the subcommittee and such principal petroleum products shall be transferred, unless the parties otherwise agree, by sale and purchase at a price mutually agreed upon by the parties but not to exceed the price as determined pursuant to § 1510.32, and the amount of such principal petroleum products shall, upon such assignment, be deducted from unassigned inventory at the point of origin and added to unassigned inventory in the area at point of destination. Insofar as practicable the suggested schedule shall be arranged to provide (1) each supply terminal area and supply area with the principal petroleum products required to meet the expected demand after providing for inventory changes deemed advantageous to the overall supply position; and (2) for the efficient use of facilities and for shipment into District One of the maximum amount of crude petroleum and principal petroleum products. Subject to the foregoing, the duty of importing principal petroleum products shall be assigned as nearly as practicable among original suppliers, in proportion to their zone sales position. Principal petroleum products manufactured at a District One refinery shall be deemed to have been imported by the refiner. Upon issuance of such schedule pursuant to § 1510.34 (c), each original supplier shall make every effort to increase the volume of products available for distribution within District One and shall perform the duties assigned to him, except that any original supplier may arrange to have another original supplier, willing to assume such responsibility, perform such duties, and notice of any such arrangement or any change or modification thereof shall be given immediately to the subcommittee. When in the opinion of the subcommittee and the original suppliers affected, the transfer of the ownership of a principal petroleum product at a supply terminal to another original supplier will facilitate the administration of this directive, the product shall be transferred without losing its character as unassigned inventory. Any such transfer, unless the parties otherwise agree, shall be by sale and purchase at a price mutually agreed upon by them but not to exceed the price as determined pursuant to § 1510.32. The Petroleum Administration for War shall, from time to time, acting through appropriate governmental agencies, arrange for necessary adjustments to be made in the use of transportation facilities when required to facilitate the carrying out of assignments made hereunder. In making such adjustments, consideration shall first be given to the carrying capacity available to each original supplier by tanker, pipe line, barge, or any form of transportation other than tank car, and insofar as possible, any original supplier's deficit of carrying capacity, shall be made up by the allotment of tank cars. Wherever necessary the Petroleum Administration for War may arrange for the specific use of any transportation facility without regard to the provisions of any schedule issued in connection herewith. The Transportation Committee, District One, shall review the use of all supply terminals and transportation available for shipment of products into or within District One to determine whether the maximum efficient use (including the movement of loaded tank cars, return of empty tank cars in trainload lots, and the distribution of products from the supply terminals) is being attained, and in that connection such committee shall recommend to the persons, committees or subcommittees affected and the Petroleum Administration for War that such action be taken as will, in its opinion, improve the efficient use of transportation and increase the volume of principal petroleum products available for distribution in District One.

Section 1510.32 (Petroleum Directive 59, as amended December 1, 1943, (8 F.R. 15792)) is hereby amended by changing the first paragraph thereof, subparagraph (3) of §§ 1510.32 (a), and 1510.32 (c) to read as follows:

§ 1510.32 Maximum price formula. The terms of any purchase and sale made pursuant to §§ 1510.30 (c), 1510.31 (a) or (c), or 1510.33 (a) shall be negotiated between the parties thereto: Provided:

(3) If the product sold has been imported from an actual origin in District Three and the cost of transporting the product from the actual origin to the point of delivery by the facilities used (including the substitute cost of in-transit handling) is less than the total sum determined under the preceding subparagraph (2), such actual cost shall be used in lieu of the sum determined under such subparagraph (the actual origin and the cost of transportation and in-transit handling being determined in accordance with Petroleum Compensatory Adjustments Regulations No. 1, as amended, or revised).

• • • • • •

(c) Sales made pursuant to this section shall not be deemed to be discriminatory. Sales between original suppliers made at or below the maximum price formula set forth in § 1510.32 (a) or determined in accordance with §§ 1510.31 (d) or 1510.32 (b), and which are made pursuant to §§ 1510.30 (c), 1510.31 (a), (c), or (d) or 1510.33 (a) shall not be deemed to effect any discrimination against any buyer (including any original supplier) to whom any other sale is made at any higher or different price.

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

Section 1510.33 (Petroleum Directive 59, as amended December 1, 1943, (8 F.R. 15792)) is hereby amended by changing § 1510.33 (a) to read as follows:

§ 1510.33 Inventory and sales adjustments—(a) Inventory adjustments. The subcommittee shall determine for each principal petroleum product in each zone each original supplier's share of the net inventory as of November 30, 1943, by multiplying the total net inventory for such zone by each original supplier's zone sales position percentage for the product for which the determination is being made. In any case where an original supplier's share of the net inventory is greater or less than his actual net inventory as of such date, the actual net inventory shall be adjusted, either by assignments of actual net inventories or by adjustments in the proportionate part of such principal petroleum product which such original supplier is or will be entitled to receive under § 1510.31 (c), or by a combination of both. If the product be transferred by assignment then, unless the parties otherwise agree, such product shall be transferred by sale and purchase at a price mutually agreed upon by the parties but not to exceed the price as determined pursuant to § 1510.32. The subcommittee in collaboration with a staff representative of Petroleum Administration for War, designated for the purpose may, prior to determining the final adjustments to be made in net inventory, determine preliminary adjustments, and the subcommittee may make assignments to carry such preliminary adjustments into effect subject to such limitations as may be imposed by the Petroleum Administration for War to prevent any exceptional and unreasonable hardship. The net inventory for each zone shall be determined as follows: The subcommittee shall obtain from each original supplier a report showing for each zone in District One, as of November 30, 1943, or as of the last day of the month in which this revised directive becomes effective, whichever time first occurs, (1) the total physical inventory of each principal petroleum product within each zone owned or controlled by such original supplier in all storage facilities having a gross storage capacity for principal petroleum products of 5,000 barrels or over; (2) the amounts of such inventories which are unavailable for distribution by reason of being tank bottoms, pipe line fills or are otherwise unusable; (3) the amounts of such inventories specifically set aside for delivery exclusively to the Army, the Navy, or the Foreign Economic Administration; and (4) a statement showing the amounts of each principal petroleum product then due to or from such original supplier in each zone as a result of loans and exchanges made with other original suppliers, and the names of the original suppliers from which or to which each of such amounts is due. Any portion of that inventory reported under (2) or (3) hereof, which subsequently becomes available for a use other than that for which it is earmarked, shall be promptly reported to the subcommittee by the owner thereof, and shall be transferred to unassigned inventory. Upon receipt of such reports, the subcommittee shall determine for each principal petroleum product in each zone the actual net inventory of each original supplier by deducting from such original supplier's total physical inventory, as reported under (1) hereof, the amount of unavailable inventory, as reported under (2) hereof, and the amount of inventory set aside for the Army, the Navy or the Foreign Economic Administration, as reported under (3) hereof, and by adding the net amount due to, or by deducting the net amount due from such original supplier as reported under (4) hereof. The total net inventory in each zone shall be deemed to be the sum of the net inventories in the zone of all original suppliers as determined hereunder.

[PAO 15, as Amended Feb. 3, 1944]

PART 1570—MATERIAL CONSERVATION; PIPE LINES, TERMINALS AND REFINING

The fulfillment of the requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage of materials necessary for the transportation and refining of petroleum for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary in the public interest, to promote the national defense, and to provide adequate supplies of petroleum for military and other essential purposes.

§ 1570.1 Petroleum Administrative Order No. 15—(a) Scope of this order. The provisions of this order shall be applicable to the use of material in "Petroleum Gathering and Movement" and "Refining" operations in the United States, its territories or possessions. This order does not apply to tank cars, tank trucks or railroad rolling stock, to tankers, barges or other mobile marine equipment, or to material to be used for "residential construction" or "multiple residential construction" as defined in Limitation Order L-41, issued by the War Production Board.

(b) Definitions. (1) "Petroleum Gathering and Movement" (defined as "Transportation" in Preference Rating Order P-98-b) means any operation directly incident to the transportation, movement, loading or unloading of petroleum other than natural gas.

(2) "Refining" means any operation directly incident to the processing, reprocessing, or alteration of petroleum, including but not limited to compounding or blending, but not including the extraction or recovery of natural gasoline or associated hydrocarbons.

(3) "Maintenance and repair" means (without regard to accounting practice):

(i) The upkeep of any structure, equipment or material in a sound working condition or the restoration or fixing of any structure, equipment, or material which has broken down or is worn out, damaged or destroyed.

(ii) Any other use of material not exceeding in material cost $500 for any one complete operation which has not been subdivided for the purpose of coming within this definition.

(4) "Operating supplies" means any material other than material used for maintenance and repair which is essential to and consumed in "Petroleum Gathering and Movement" or "Refining" and which is normally carried by an operator as operating supplies or which is normally chargeable to operating expense, including among other items, chemicals, additives, or blending agents.

(5) "Laboratory equipment" means material or equipment used exclusively for the purpose of controlling, or investigating more effective methods of conducting, petroleum industry operations by means of research, technical, or control laboratories. This material or equipment shall not, however, include material for use in the construction of laboratory buildings or other structures.

(6) "Material" means any commodity, equipment, accessory, part, assembly, or product of any kind.

(c) Restrictions on use of material. No material may be used in "Petroleum Gathering and Movement" or in "Refining" unless permission to use material is granted by provisions of this order which follow below.

(d) Permitted uses of material. Material may be used in "Petroleum Gathering and Movement" or in "Refining":

(1) For maintenance and repair purposes, as operating supplies or for laboratory equipment or its installation, notwithstanding any other provision of this paragraph (d).

(2) For the construction, installation, or extension of (or any other similar use of material in connection with) a crude oil gathering line from the first valve on the discharge side of the lease or field shipping tank or battery where petroleum is first gauged to any other "Petroleum Gathering and Movement" facility or any "Refining" facility, if:

(i) The material cost for any one complete operation is $5,000 or less; and

(ii) The cost of material originally obtained for maintenance and repair purposes through the use of priorities assistance, used in any single operation, does not exceed $500; and

(iii) The line does not duplicate in whole or in part the transportation functions of any existing line or lines.

(3) For any other construction, expansion, extension, improvement, installation, reconstruction, remodeling or other similar operation in "Petroleum Gathering and Movement" (which operation does not include any use of material in connection with a crude oil gathering line) or in "Refining", if:

(i) The material cost for any one complete operation is $5,000 or less; and

(ii) The cost of material originally obtained for maintenance and repair purposes through the use of priorities assistance, used in any single operation, does not exceed $500.

(e) Special restrictions on use of material in crude oil gathering lines. In no instance may material be used to connect a crude oil gathering line to any well or wells directly or indirectly unless such well or wells were spudded prior to December 23, 1941, or were drilled and completed in conformity with Conservation Order M-68, Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11, or any amendment, supplement or exception to either of such orders.

(f) Application for authorization to use material. Where a person wants to use material in "Petroleum Gathering and Movement" or "Refining" but cannot do so because of the preceding provisions of this order, he must make application for both authorization to use the material and for necessary priorities assistance by filing PAW Form 30.

Six copies of this form should be prepared. One copy should be retained by the applicant and the original and three copies together with supporting attachments should be sent to the Petroleum Administration for War, Interior Building, Washington 25, D. C. The other copy with attachments should be sent to the District Office of the Petroleum Administration for War for the District in which the work will be done (see Schedule "A").

Any communications in connection with PAW Form 30 for "Petroleum Gathering and Movement" or for "Refining" should be submitted in accordance with these instructions, Ref: PAO-15.

(g) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, by any act or mission, falsifies records kept or information furnished in connection with this order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment.

Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order may be prohibited from delivering or receiving any material under priority control, or such other action may be taken as is deemed appropriate.

TITLE 46—SHIPPING

Chapter III—War Shipping Administration

[G. O. 22,[1] Revised]

PART 310—MERCHANT MARINE TRAINING

REGULATIONS AND MINIMUM STANDARDS FOR STATE MARITIME ACADEMIES

General Order 22 is revised to read:

The War Shipping Administration pursuant to authority conferred upon it by the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended, Title 34 U. S. Code, sections 1121, 1122, 1123 and 1123 a-e inclusive, Executive Order 9054 dated February 7, 1942, Executive Order No. 9083 dated March 2, 1942, and Executive Order 9198 dated July 11, 1942, hereby prescribes and adopts as necessary and appropriate to maintain a trained and efficient merchant marine personnel the following regulations for State Maritime Academies.

Sec.
310.2 Appropriations and disbursements.
310.3 Shore base.
310.4 Training ship.
310.5 Entrance standards.
310.6 Personnel.
310.7 Crew.
310.8 Curriculum.
310.9 Miscellaneous regulations.

§ 310.1 Definitions. As used herein, the following definitions shall apply:

(a) "W.S.A." shall mean the War Shipping Administration.

(b) "Administrator" shall mean the Administrator, War Shipping Administration.

(c) "Deputy Administrator" shall mean the Deputy Administrator for Training, War Shipping Administration.

(d) "Training Organization" shall mean the Training Organization, War Shipping Administration.

(e) "Assistant Deputy Administrator" shall mean the Assistant Deputy Administrator for Training, Training Organization, War Shipping Administration.

(f) "Superintendent" and "Commanding Officer" shall mean one and the same person, providing he fills both capacities; otherwise the word "Superintendent" shall mean the Superintendent of the state maritime academy and the "Commanding Officer" shall mean the Commanding Officer of the training ship.

(g) "Officers" shall mean all officers and instructors connected with the state maritime academy or the training ship, except part-time civilian instructors.

(h) "Maritime Service" shall mean the United States Maritime Service.

(i) "Supervisor" shall mean the Supervisor of State Maritime Academies, Training Organization, War Shipping Administration.

§ 310.2 Appropriations and disbursements. (a) An annual grant of $25,000 as authorized by Act of Congress in 1911, will be paid to each State Maritime Academy, if funds therefor are appropriated by the Congress, to each of the five existing State Maritime Academies and such others as may be approved by the W. S. A., providing such State Maritime Academies comply with the Regulations and Minimum Standards prescribed by the W. S. A.

(b) Additional Federal aid in excess of $25,000 and up to a total of $50,000 as authorized by Public Law 191, 77th Congress, (55 Stat. 607), will be paid to the State Maritime Academies, Provided:

(1) That the State shall appropriate an amount equal to that received each year from the Federal Government for the same purpose; (2) that the W. S. A. shall have the right to approve students from other states, where an Academy has determined such are eligible for admittance; (3) that the number of students admitted from the other states shall not exceed one-third of the total complement at an Academy; (4) that the per capita cost paid for each out-of-state student will be established annually. To determine this cost, the total number of state cadets will be divided into the total operating expense, less the grant. Vouchers, Standard Form 1034, will be submitted monthly covering the per capita cost of cadets at the Academy, accompanied with a list of the cadets who have been nominated.

For example: Assuming that the per capita cost for cadets is $650.00 and 20 cadets were nominated from out-of-state to an Academy, the voucher submitted would be:

1/12 of $650.00 equals $54.17 per cadet,
$54.17 × 20 cadets equals $1,083.40,
$1,083.40 being the amount for which the voucher is submitted.

The above voucher would then be made out monthly and submitted to the Supervisor for the duration of the cadets' training, for sixteen months at the Academy. If the per capita cost of the cadets is $650.00, no more than 38 cadets can be assigned by the Training Organization to any one Academy. Also, if 38 candidates were nominated to any Academy, no more candidates could be approved by the Training Organization until these men had graduated from that Academy.

(c) All cadets at State Maritime Academies will be enrolled in the Maritime Service, and in the U. S. Naval Reserve, as Midshipmen, Merchant Marine Reserve (inactive), and will be paid a scholarship subsidy of $65.00 per month plus subsistence allowances of 75¢ per day, and shall receive $195.00 clothing and textbook allowance.

(d) Cadets, while attached to a State Maritime Academy, although transferred to a hospital or sick in the sick bay, shall remain in a pay status.

(e) A detailed daily log of absences, with or without leave, hospitalizations, disenrollments and other analagous data shall be kept by each Academy. A copy of these daily logs shall be furnished the Finance Officer and the Supervisor. No cadet will be paid or subsisted when absent without leave for a condition not in line of duty. An Academy shall make no charge to a cadet for tuition, but cadets may be required to pay no more than $100 a term to cover service charges.

(f) Cadets shall be entitled to medical attention and Public Health Service hospitalization.

(g) The Federal grant of $25,000 to $50,000 per year shall be spent in the operation of the training ship and the maintenance and operation of the shore base. The state shall appropriate and spend at least an amount equal to that received from the Federal Government each year for the same purpose.

(h) Compensation claims for personal injuries or death sustained by cadets enrolled in the Maritime Service in performance of duty shall be forwarded to the Supervisor for transmission to the U. S. Employees' Compensation Commission, Washington, D. C.

(i) The Superintendent is authorized to place any cadet on a non-pay basis for disciplinary reasons, not to exceed a maximum of thirty days. In the event that a cadet is dismissed from a State Maritime Academy for disciplinary reasons, the Superintendent may in his discretion deny payment to such cadet of all earnings due and unpaid such cadet at the time of dismissal.

§ 310.3 Shore base. (a) In order to assure its most economical and efficient operation, the maximum number of cadets a State Maritime Academy may be authorized to enroll in the Maritime Service for payment shall be determined by the Assistant Deputy Administrator. No state shall be compelled to take out-of-state students if the full quota can be obtained within the state.

(b) The maximum number of cadets that State Maritime Academies may enroll shall be determined by the Assistant Deputy Administrator.

(c) The W.S.A. shall have the right to inspect and approve shore base facilities.

(d) The State Maritime Academies shall maintain berthing, messing, and classroom instruction facilities ashore for at least 200 cadets.

(e) Rules and regulations for the internal organization and administration of each State Maritime Academy will be determined under the direction of the state authority. Wherever possible such rules and regulations will follow those prescribed by the W.S.A. for the administration of the Federal Academies.

§ 310.4 Training ship. (a) The W.S.A. will loan a suitable training vessel, if such is available, to each of the State Maritime Academies. In the event that it is not possible to provide Academies with a training vessel or vessels, adequate cruising facilities will be made available if possible.

(b) Before a vessel is formally released to a State Maritime Academy, and it is manned by State Officers under State control, a condition survey will be made by duly authorized representatives of the Academy and the W.S.A. If the vessel is found in order, the State Maritime Academy representative will receipt for the ship. Subsequently, after due notice, a condition survey may be made of the ship, whenever such is considered advisable.

(c) The W.S.A. property on board the training ship shall not be permanently removed from the ship to shore base without written approval of the Assistant Deputy Administrator.

(d) The State shall have the use of all equipment, appliances, apparel, spare and replacement parts on board a training ship loaned to a State: Provided, Same or their substantial equivalent is returned to the W.S.A., ordinary wear and tear, unavoidable accident, and/or perils of the sea excepted; and, any such items otherwise lost, destroyed, or consumed in service shall be replaced at the expense of the State.

(e) The State shall pay for all consumable stores, fuel, and costs incidental to the operation of a training ship, except vessel's sails for propulsion. Payment for operating expenses must be approved by the Commanding Officer of the respective State Maritime Academy.

(f) The W.S.A. shall take inventories of State and Federal property on board the vessel and at such times as it deems necessary after consultation with the Academy authorities. A representative of the State shall be present when such inventories are being taken. The Academy shall furnish such assistance as may be necessary for this purpose.

(g) The State shall exercise due diligence to safeguard the interests of the W.S.A. and avoid loss and damage of every nature. Log books and reports shall be submitted as directed to the Assistant Deputy Administrator.

(h) The Assistant Deputy Administrator shall determine whether or not the berth of the training ship at the base in its home port is satisfactory from the standpoint of safety. When the training ship is not on a practice cruise, the Commanding Officer shall keep the Supervisor informed of the location of the vessel and of any contemplated change of berth.

(i) Expenses for repairs to vessel, changes and alterations, repairs to equipage, and replacements of equipage, in accordance with approved allowance lists of the vessel, will be charged to the W.S.A. if previously approved by it in writing. Should they become necessary while on foreign cruise, the State is authorized to undertake such repairs not to exceed $500. It will be reimbursed by the W.S.A. upon submission of vouchers at the termination of the cruise. While on foreign cruise, written authority must be obtained from the Supervisor for all repairs estimated to cost in excess of $500.

(j) Detailed reports shall be forwarded promptly to the Supervisor in event of accident causing damage to the training ship, equipment or machinery, or damage inflicted by the training ship to any other ship or property.

(k) The W.S.A. may substitute another vessel for the present training ship.

(l) The W.S.A. may also terminate the loan of the training ship to the state in the event said vessel is required for other purposes. The W.S.A. will, however, return the vessel or provide another to the state for its training cruises when available.

(m) The loan of the training ship to the state may be terminated in the event she is not operated to the satisfaction of the W.S.A. after due notice to state authorities and their failure to remedy conditions complained of.

(n) Upon termination of the loan of a training ship, the state shall return, in the state base port, the vessel and all property whatsoever owned by the W.S.A. Title to all additions, replacements and renewals made by the state shall be in the W.S.A. without charge therefor. Upon delivery of the vessel a condition survey will be made by the W.S.A. to determine her physical condition at that time.

(o) The cruise itinerary of the training ship shall be submitted to the Supervisor at least sixty days in advance of the date a cruise is scheduled to begin. While on a practice cruise, the W.S.A. shall be advised by dispatch of the date of arrival at each port visited. The date of departure shall also be reported if at variance with the approved itinerary. At the time it is submitted, the W.S.A. will be asked for permission to visit the foreign ports listed on the proposed itinerary. Permission for the training ship to visit U. S. Naval Stations or Naval Bases shall be arranged by the Commanding Officer of the vessel.

(p) The following notice shall be posted conspicuously on board a training ship on loan to a state:

This training ship is the property of the United States of America. It is loaned to the State of_____by the United States War Shipping Administration for the purpose of training young men to become officers in the Merchant Marine of the United States. Neither the State, the Commanding Officer, nor any other person has any right, power, or authority to create, incur, or permit to be imposed upon this vessel any lien whatever.

(q) The training ship shall be fumigated at the expense of the state, at least twice a year, if required by the Assistant Deputy Administrator. A copy of the fumigation certificate shall be forwarded to the Supervisor.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION.

[Docket No. IT–5829]

ARKANSAS POWER & LIGHT COMPANY

ORDER POSTPONING HEARING

JANUARY 31, 1944.

It appearing to the Commission that:

(a) On June 16, 1936, this Commission prescribed a Uniform System of Accounts for Public Utilities and Licensees, Electric Plant Accounts Instruction 2–D of which required electric utilities subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission to complete and file with the Commission reclassification and original cost studies of electric plant not later than two years after the effective date of the system of accounts, i. e., January 1, 1937;

(b) Arkansas Power & Light Company (hereinafter referred to as "Company"), after many delays, on June 3, 1940, filed its purported reclassification studies. Subsequently, the staff of this Commission, in collaboration with the staff of the Department of Public Utilities of Arkansas, began an examination thereof at the offices of the Company in Pine Bluff, Arkansas;

(c) As a result of such examination there was submitted by the staff on March 20, 1943, a report entitled "Arkansas Power & Light Company, Pine Bluff, Arkansas, Report on Reclassification and Original Cost Studies of Electric Plant as of January 1, 1937," which report, while not signed by members of the staff of the Department of Public Utilities of Arkansas because the staff member who collaborated in the study was no longer employed by the Department, nevertheless had the written concurrence in general of J. D. Walker, Chief Accountant of the Department;

(d) On June 15, 1943, this Commission issued an order in this docket pointing out numerous deficiencies in the Company's study and requiring the Company to show cause, under oath, within 90 days, why the Commission should not find and determine that substantial adjustments, as set forth in the staff report, should be made in its books of account;

(e) On September 18, 1943, the Company filed a response which represented definite progress toward the proper adjustment of its accounts but left important questions open for determination before final approval could be given;

(f) On October 9, 1943, Mr. C. Hamilton Moses, President of the Company, sought a conference with the Commission regarding the reclassification and original cost matter and was advised under date of October 13 that our staff was engaged in making an analysis of the Company's response and that further consideration would be given to his request for a conference when such analysis was completed;

(g) On October 9, Chairman A. B. Hill of the Arkansas Department of Public Utilities, following the suggestion by the Commission Chairman that the two commissions should cooperate in the matter, wrote the Commission stating that his Department would be glad to arrange a conference, and was advised that representatives of the Commission would participate in such a conference in Little Rock or Washington according to his convenience. Mr. Hill replied by telegram on October 26 that a conference in Little Rock during the week of November 8 would be agreeable and was advised by letter of October 28 that the Chairman of the Commission and the Chief of its Bureau of Accounts, Finance and Rates would arrive in Little Rock on the morning of November 11 for the purpose of discussing original cost matters of the Arkansas Power & Light Company. The meeting took place on that date;

(h) On November 10, 1943, the day before the conference in Little Rock, the Department of Public Utilities adopted an order setting a hearing for December 7 in its general rate investigation of the Arkansas Power & Light Company which has been pending since 1937. This order was drawn so broadly as to include also the reclassification and original cost proceeding, specifically requiring the Company to show cause "why it should not be required by the Department to adjust its accounts to conform to the uniform system of accounts adopted heretofore by the Department and to write out or charge off any item or items carried on its books of account which do not reflect actual values";

(i) The order of the Department appears to sanction the "value" concept of accounting, advocated by the Company and its affiliates in the Electric Bond and Share group in support of inflationary items in their accounts, as distinguished from the "cost" concept on which the Uniform Systems of Accounts of this Commission and of the Department are based;

(j) The Company was further ordered and directed to make full and complete disclosures at such hearing of "all studies relating to the original cost of its electric properties and to the reclassification of such cost under the system of accounts of the Federal Power Commission which it has heretofore filed with said Commission, together with copies of all correspondence that has passed between the Respondent and the Federal Power Commission";

(k) The Arkansas Department of Public Utilities requested the assistance of this Commission in its proceeding under the foregoing order, urging that this Commission provide its experts, who had prepared the original cost report on the Company, as witnesses in the Department's hearings;

(l) The effect of the order of the Arkansas Department, together with its request for assistance, was to reject the cooperative procedure offered by the Commission, which it had been understood would be the subject of the conference, and to substitute therefor a trial by the Arkansas Department alone, in which trial the Commission's experts would be among the principal witnesses for the Department without any participation by this Commission which thereafter would have to conduct its own hearings in this long pending matter;

(m) The Commission through its representatives and by letters of November 26 and December 29, 1943, and January 12, 1944, expressed its readiness to cooperate with the Arkansas Department of Public Utilities in every way consistent with the effective discharge of its statutory responsibilities. The Commission again proposed that, if a final settlement of the reclassification case could not be reached in conferences with the Company, progressively postponed by the Company, the matter could be disposed of in a joint hearing by the two Commissions and that such joint hearing could be utilized by the Arkansas Department as an integral part of its rate proceeding, thereby sparing members of the Commission's staff the necessity of testifying in two proceedings on the same subject matter and saving time and expense for all concerned. The Arkansas Department rejected this proposal;

(n) The Commission on January 13, 1944, hoping to expedite assistance to the Arkansas Department, adopted an order setting the reclassification of accounts case (involving alleged inflation totalling approximately $17,000,000) for hearing on February 16, 1944, in Little Rock, and provided in said order for the full participation of the Arkansas Department pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Power Act and the cooperative agreement with the National Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners, embodied in Part 39, § 39.4 of the Commission's rules of practice;

(o) The Arkansas Department by letter of January 17, 1944, reiterated its unwillingness to consider the matter cooperatively in a joint hearing thereby insisting upon proceeding separately, utilizing this Commission's staff, to decide issues of mutual interest raised by the staff of this Commission and which are the subject of a formal proceeding in our Docket No. IT–5829. The Arkansas Department in the letter stated that if the Commission should go forward with the hearing set for February 16, 1944, it would have the effect of delaying the Department's proceeding.

The Commission finds that:

(1) In the circumstances, it would be prejudicial to the efficient and proper conduct of the duties entrusted to this Commission by Congress to make its experts available as witnesses, at this time and until further order of the Commission, to the Arkansas Department of Public Utilities for its hearing, in which matters subject to the jurisdiction of this Commission are specifically included;

(2) In order to avoid any possible conflict between this Commission's hearing and that of the Arkansas Department, it is appropriate to postpone the hearing in the Commission's docket heretofore ordered to begin in Little Rock, Arkansas, on February 16, 1944.

The Commission orders that:

(A) The public hearing, heretofore ordered to commence on February 16, 1944, at 9:45 a. m. (C. W. Standard Oil Company (New Jersey), a registered holding company, having filed an application pursuant to section 5 (d) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 requesting an order that it has ceased to be a holding company; and

Appropriate notice having been given and a public hearing held, the Commission having considered the record and having made and filed its findings and opinion herein; and

The Commission finding that Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) has ceased to be a holding company and that the registration of said company as a holding company should cease to be in effect, and that it is not necessary to impose terms or conditions for the protection of investors in connection with the termination of such registration, other than to reserve jurisdiction, with respect to the continuation of services for Interstate Natural Gas Company, Incorporated, by Frank H. Lerch, Jr., President of Consolidated Natural Gas Company;

It is ordered and declared, That Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) has ceased to be a holding company, and that the registration of Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) as a holding company be, and is by virtue of this order, no longer effective, jurisdiction being reserved, however, to enter further orders after notice and opportunity for hearing regarding the continuation of services for Interstate Natural Gas Company, Incorporated, by Frank H. Lerch, Jr., President of Consolidated Natural Gas Company.

TITLE 6—AGRICULTURAL CREDIT

Chapter II—War Food Administration (Commodity Credit)

[CCC Grapefruit Juice Form 1, Amdt. 1]

PART 249—1943-1944 GRAPEFRUIT JUICE PAYMENT PROGRAM

OFFER OF COMMODITY CREDIT CORPORATION TO MAKE PAYMENTS IN RESPECT OF GRAPEFRUIT JUICE

In order that the "Offer of Commodity Credit Corporation to Make Payments in Respect of Grapefruit Juice" (herein called the "offer"), 9 F.R. 628, may reflect more accurately the commitments heretofore made by Commodity Credit Corporation (herein called "Commodity") in its 1943-1944 Grapefruit Juice Payment Program and to render the offer more explicit, Commodity hereby amends the offer in the manner and to the extent provided in this Amendment No. 1 to the offer.

Section 249.5 of the offer is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 249.5 Determination of monthly area fruit costs. As soon as practicable after receipt of the monthly reports required pursuant to § 249.3 hereof, Commodity shall determine, on the basis of such information as may be available to it, the weighted average area industry delivered cost (hereinafter called the "monthly area fruit cost") of grapefruit with respect to each area, delivered to processors' plants exclusively for processing, for each monthly period covered by such reports: Provided, however, That in the event any monthly area fruit cost as thus determined for any period during the term of this offer shall be in excess of the following applicable maximum costs or less than the following minimum costs, then such monthly area fruit cost for such period shall be the applicable maximum (or minimum, as the case may be) cost hereinafter set forth, rather than the cost determined in accordance with this sentence hereof:

Grapefruit area	Maximum	Minimum
	Per box	Per box
Florida	$38.35	$24.47
Texas	37.25	24.09
California-Arizona	36.97	25.00

Provided further, That in respect of fresh grapefruit delivered to any eligible processor between October 1, 1943 and November 30, 1943, both dates inclusive, the monthly area fruit costs applicable to grapefruit delivered on a fixed price basis during such two months period (not segregated according to the separate months) shall apply. In respect of fresh grapefruit delivered to any eligible processor after May 31, 1944, the monthly area fruit costs applicable to such fresh grapefruit shall be those established for the month of May, 1944. In the event Commodity determines, in respect of any period, that reports made pursuant to § 249.3 hereof are inadequate to establish the monthly area fruit cost with respect to any area or areas, Commodity shall determine the monthly area fruit costs applicable to such area or areas for such period on the basis of prevailing prices in the fresh grapefruit market for fruit from such area or areas during such period adjusted to reflect appropriate differentials with respect to grapefruit for processing. Subject to the right of Commodity to correct or amend such determination in case of error, all determinations by Commodity of monthly area fruit costs shall be final and conclusive.

Section 249.13 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 249.13 Payment. Commodity shall, as soon as practicable after receipt of each such application for payment (or for interim settlement, as the case may be), make payment thereof (to the extent found to be in conformity with this offer) to the eligible processor who made the application for payment (or interim settlement): Provided, however, That no more than one payment shall be made by Commodity hereunder in respect of the eligible grapefruit juice contained in any particular container. The making of any such payment or interim settlement shall not preclude Commodity from requiring restitution of any such payment or portion thereof in the event of a subsequent finding: (a) That any such claim is invalid, defective or incorrectly computed; or (b) that the eligible processor has not acted in good faith or failed otherwise to comply with the terms of this offer. In the event of a preliminary finding by Commodity, based on information to the effect that any processor has not acted in good faith (including, though not by way of limitation, payment by it (or by parties in privity with it) to the grower of an amount, for fresh fruit, excessively below the amount reported to Commodity as the delivered purchase cost of such fresh fruit) or otherwise has failed to comply with the terms of this offer, Commodity reserves the right to suspend payments hereunder to such processor, either in respect of the grapefruit juice upon which such payments are sought or in respect of any of such processor's operations or transactions hereunder. In the event of any such suspension of payment, Commodity shall, as soon as practicable, make a determination of the facts of such compliance or non-compliance, which determination shall be final and conclusive. If after investigation such processor is found not to have acted in good faith or has failed otherwise to comply with the terms of this offer, such processor shall (to the extent Commodity may elect): (1) Be denied any further participation in Commodity's 1943–44 Grapefruit Juice Payment Program hereunder; (2) be denied any further payments hereunder; and (3) be required to reimburse Commodity for any payments hereunder theretofore received by such processor in respect of or relating to those transactions or sales determined not to have been in good faith and otherwise in conformity with this offer. Such rights shall be in addition to any and all other rights of Commodity in the premises. Each eligible processor shall: (1) Report the quantities of the various classes of products covered by payments or interim settlements by Commodity which were subsequently rejected or returned to such eligible processor; and (2) make appropriate adjustment therefor either by set-off or otherwise, within such period of time as Commodity shall direct. Reports and adjustments shall be made, within 30 days of such rejection or return, by each eligible processor in respect of any such products rejected or returned subsequent to the termination of this offer.

Section 249.8 of the offer is amended by adding the following sentence thereto at the end thereof:

In the event any eligible processor's weighted average delivered purchase cost for grapefruit purchased on a fixed price basis for processing into eligible grapefruit juice in respect of any month during the term of this offer (whether such eligible processor elects to operate on a packing month basis or on a seasonal average area fruit cost basis) is less than or in excess of the applicable monthly area fruit cost for such month, then (1) such weighted average delivered purchase cost or (2) 103% of the applicable monthly area fruit cost, whichever of said two costs is the lower, shall be used in lieu of the monthly area fruit cost in respect of the grapefruit so purchased: (1) In determining the rate of payment under this offer for such month if such eligible processor has elected to operate on the packing month basis, and (2) in determining the seasonal average area fruit cost if such eligible processor has elected to operate on the seasonal average area fruit cost basis: Provided, however, That in no event shall the applicable amount upon the basis of which payments hereunder are made be in excess of the applicable maximum amount per ton specified in § 249.5 of this offer.

Section 249.13 of the offer is hereby amended by adding thereto, at the end thereof, the following sentence:

No payments shall be made under the offer to any eligible processor on account of grapefruit delivered on a provisional or conditional price basis after February 5, 1944: Provided, however, That this shall not preclude the making of payments hereunder subsequent to such date: (1) to eligible processors which are bona fide cooperatives in respect of grapefruit delivered by their grower-members; (2) to eligible processors in respect of grapefruit grown by them; or (3) to others who have received from Commodity specific approval to purchase grapefruit on a conditional or provisional price basis.

Persons acting in reliance upon the offer as amended hereby shall do so in accordance with and subject to the offer as so amended in respect of all eligible grapefruit juice, packed by them during the term of the offer as so amended, with respect to which payment is sought from Commodity.

(Sec. 7, 49 Stat. 4, as amended by 50 Stat. 5, 53 Stat. 510, 55 Stat. 498, and Pub. Law 151, 78th Cong.)

(4) The term "industrial user" means a person, as determined by the market agent, in the capacity of a manufacturer of products using as an ingredient therein milk, cream, or milk byproducts, which products are disposed of for resale to consumers off the premises where made.

(5) The term "base" means the total pounds of milk solids delivered by a handler within the sales area during the base period (i) in the form of milk, or (ii) in the form of cream and milk byproducts, minus the milk solids in quota-exempt deliveries of milk, and cream and milk byproducts, as described in (j) hereof. (For the purpose of this order, the milk solids content of milk, milk byproducts, and cream shall be computed as follows: Each hundredweight of milk, cream, or milk byproducts other than cottage, pot, or baker's cheese, shall be considered the equivalent of 9.375 pounds of milk solids plus the number of pounds of milk solids calculated by multiplying the pounds of butterfat in such milk, and cream and milk byproducts by .906; and each hundredweight of cottage, pot, or baker's cheese shall be considered the equivalent of 62.5 pounds of milk solids plus one pound of milk solids for each one percent of butterfat content of such cheese.)

(b) Milk sales area. The following area is hereby designated as a "milk sales area" to be known as the Macon, Georgia, sales area, and is referred to hereinafter as the "sales area":

The city of Macon and the militia districts of Godfrey, East Macon, and Vineville, all in Bibb County, Georgia.

(c) Base period. The calendar month of June 1943 is hereby designated as the base period for the sales area: Provided, That the month of May may be used as the base period for computing base and quota for deliveries to elementary, junior high and high schools; and Provided further, That in the computations set forth in (e) hereof the total deliveries to elementary, junior high, and high schools in the base period shall be divided by the number of days such schools were in session in lieu of the total number of days in the base period as set forth in (e) (1) and the average daily deliveries so determined shall be multiplied by the number of days such schools are in session in each quota period in lieu of the number of days in the quota period as set forth in (e) (2).

(d) The remainder of the calendar month in which the provisions hereof become effective and each subsequent calendar month, respectively, is hereby designated as the quota period for the sales area.

(e) Handler quotas. Quotas for each handler other than a sub-handler or producer-handler shall be determined as follows:

(1) Divide his respective bases by the number of days in the base period;

(2) Multiply the foregoing result by the number of days in the quota period; and

(3) Multiply the aforesaid resulting amounts by 100 percent in the case of the base for milk, and 75 percent in the case of the base for cream and milk byproducts.

(f) Quotas for handlers who are also producers. Quotas for each handler who is also a producer and who purchases no milk shall be computed in accordance with (e) hereof, except:

(1) His base period shall be either June or December, whichever represents his larger total deliveries; and,

(2) The applicable percentages shall be 100 percent in lieu of those specified in (e) (3).

(g) Quota adjustments. Each handler may increase his quota for milk within any quota period by one pound of milk solids for each one pound of milk solids he reduces his quota for cream and milk byproducts.

(h) Cream deliveries. The units of cream delivered subject to quota in any quota period shall not exceed 100 percent of the units of cream in his base, irrespective of the milk solids content of such deliveries.

(i) Handler exemptions. Quota shall not apply to any handler who delivers in a quota period a daily average of less than 200 units of milk, cream and milk byproducts. For the purpose of this order, a unit shall be the equivalent in volume of the following: (1) One quart of milk, buttermilk, or fluid milk byproducts; (2) one-half pint of cream; and (3) one-half pound of cottage, pot, or baker's cheese.

(j) Quota exclusions and exemptions. Deliveries of milk, milk byproducts, or cream (1) to other handlers, except for such deliveries to sub-handlers, (2) to plants engaged in the handling or processing of milk, milk byproducts, cream or other dairy products from which no milk, milk byproducts, or cream, is delivered in the sales area, (3) to industrial users, and (4) to the agencies or groups specified in (d) of FDO 79, shall be excluded from the computation of deliveries in the base period and exempt from charges to quotas.

(k) Transfers of bases. The market agent is empowered to transfer base from one handler to another.

(1) Upon receipt of a request in writing from both handlers; and

(2) Upon application from a handler and written notice to the Director and to both handlers, (i) to permit deliveries to a purchaser not being served by a handler whose quota reflects deliveries to such purchaser in the base period, (ii) to permit a handler to serve an account which customarily rotates among several handlers inclusive of a contract let by a public agency or institution on a bid basis, and (iii) to permit a handler to serve an account which he is serving on the effective date of this order and which was served by another handler during the base period.

(l) Consumer priorities. In the distribution of milk subject to quotas established hereunder, a handler shall give preference in the order listed, taking into consideration the type of purchasers served by him in the base period, to:

(1) The need of children, expectant mothers, and invalids requiring milk;

(2) Homes and retail stores handling milk for consumption off the premises; and

(3) Establishments serving milk for consumption on the premises.

(m) Petition for relief from hardship. (1) Any person affected by FDO 79 or the provisions hereof who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship on him, may file with the market agent a petition addressed to the Director. The petition shall contain the correct name, address and principal place of business of the petitioner, a full statement of the facts upon which the petition is based, and the hardship involved and the nature of the relief desired.

(2) Upon receiving such petition the market agent shall immediately investigate representations and facts stated therein.

(3) After investigation, the petition shall be certified to the Director, but prior to certification the market agent may (i) deny the petition or (ii) grant temporary relief for a total period not to exceed 60 days.

(4) Denials or grants of relief by the market agent shall be reviewed by the Director and may be affirmed, modified, or reversed by the Director.

(n) Reports. Each handler shall transmit to the market agent on forms prescribed by the market agent the following reports:

(1) Within 20 days following the effective date of this order, reports, which show the information required by the market agent to establish such handler's quotas;

(2) Within 20 days following the close of each quota period, the information required by the market agent to establish volumes of deliveries of milk, cream and milk byproducts during the preceding quota period; and

(3) Handlers exempt from quotas pursuant to (i) hereof shall, upon the request of the market agent, submit the information required by the market agent to establish volumes of deliveries of milk, cream, and milk byproducts.

(o) Records. Handlers shall keep and shall make available to the market agent such records of receipts, sales, deliveries, and production as the market agent shall require for the purpose of obtaining information which the Director may require for the establishment of quotas as prescribed in (b) of FDO 79.

(p) Expense of administration. Each handler shall pay to the market agent, within 20 days after the close of each calendar month, an assessment of $0.015 per hundredweight of each of milk, milk byproducts, cream, and skim milk equivalent of cottage, pot, or baker's cheese delivered during the preceding quota period and subject to quota regulations under the provisions hereof.

(q) Violations. The market agent shall report all violations to the Director together with the information required for the prosecution of such violations.

(r) Bureau of the Budget approval. The record-keeping and reporting requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942. Subsequent record-keeping or reporting requirements will be subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(s) Effective date. This order shall take effect at 12:01 a. m., e. w. t., February 15, 1944.

Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

PART 1418—TERRITORIES AND POSSESSIONS

[RMPR 183,[1] Amdt. 24]

MIXED FERTILIZER, SUPERPHOSPHATE AND POTASH IN PUERTO RICO

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Revised Maximum Price Regulation 183 is amended in the following respect:

Section 61 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 61. Maximum prices for mixed fertilizer, superphosphate and potash—(a) Definitions. When used in this section, the term:

(1) "Manufacturer" means a person who produces, mixes or processes, or who markets for his own account and under his own brand or trade name, mixed fertilizer, superphosphate, potash or nitrogenous material for use as an aid to the growth of crops or plants.

(2) "Dealer" means a person who purchases mixed fertilizer, superphosphate or potash and resells it to a consumer.

(3) "Consumer" means a person purchasing mixed fertilizer, superphosphate or potash for use in aiding the growth of crops or plants (and not for resale) including the Agricultural Adjustment Agency.

(4) "Mixed fertilizer" means any substance containing any two or more, of potash, superphosphate, and nitrogenous material, when marketed or sold as an aid to the growth of crops or plants.

(5) "Superphosphate" means any product which is obtained by mixing rock phosphate with either sulphuric acid or phosphoric acid or with both acids, when marketed or sold as an aid to the growth of crops or plants.

(6) "Potash" means muriate, chloride or sulphate of potash, manure salts and any other substance containing potassium oxide (K_2O), when marketed or sold as an aid to the growth of crops or plants.

(7) "Nitrogenous material" means any organic or inorganic substance containing nitrogen, when marketed or sold as an aid to the growth of crops or plants, except when so marketed or sold without the admixture of any potash or superphosphate.

(8) "Grade" means the minimum guarantee of the plant food content of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate, or potash, expressed in terms of ammonia, available phosphoric acid, and water-soluble potash, e. g. 4–12–4, 0–14–7, 0–20–0, 0–0–50.

(9) "Kind" as distinguished from the term "grade" refers only to mixed fertilizer and means the substances, and the proportions thereof, containing the guaranteed plant food content of mixed fertilizer—as, for example, in the case of nitrogenous material, 80% water soluble and 20% water-insoluble nitrogen; or in the case of potash, 75% sulphate of potash and 25% muriate of potash.

(10) "Price schedule" means any price list or statement, irrespective of form, issued or used by the seller, setting forth the prices, grades, kinds, terms of payment, types of containers or bags, method and conditions of delivery and any other provisions relating to sales of the commodities being priced.

(b) Manufacturers' maximum prices—(1) Delivered prices. A manufacturer's maximum prices for sales of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate and potash delivered to any purchaser's premises or to the railroad shipping station located nearest to the purchaser shall be the prices set forth in his written or printed price schedule or list effective on October 15, 1941, denoted herein as the base period prices, subject to adjustment upward or downward each quarter year by an amount determined as follows:

On or before January 1, 1944, the manufacturer shall determine the average delivered-to-factory cost per unit for each of these four items used or received by him, as the case may be, during the period July 1 to December 31, 1941:

1. Ammonia.
2. Available phosphoric acid.
3. Potash.
4. Bags or containers.

Using these averages as cost figures the manufacturer shall determine, by use of his own formula, the total cost of the amounts of the first three items entering into a ton of his finished fertilizer. To this he shall add the cost (as determined above) of the number of bags of containers he has customarily used to contain one ton of his fertilizer. This final figure is hereafter referred to as "base cost". It is a figure that will be used each three months, and once verified, need not be recomputed.

On January 1, 1944, and quarter annually thereafter the manufacturer shall likewise determine the average delivered-to-factory cost per unit of each of the four items used or received by him, as the case may be, during the period of three months immediately preceding the date of computation.

Using these averages as cost figures the manufacturer shall determine, by use of his own formula, the total cost of the amounts of the first three items entering into a ton of his finished fertilizer. To this he shall add the cost (as determined above) of the number of bags or containers he has customarily used to contain one ton of his fertilizer. This final figure is hereafter referred to as "current cost".

If, during any three-month period one or more of the four items of raw material were not received by the manufacturer, he shall use as the price for such material in his quarterly computations the average price computed for the next preceding three-month period.

If on any quarter-annual date the current cost shall be less than the base cost, then for the succeeding three-month period the manufacturer's maximum price per ton shall be the price scheduled by him on October 15, 1941, less the difference between current cost and base cost.

If on any quarter-annual date the current cost be greater than the base cost, then for the succeeding three months' period the manufacturer's maximum price per ton shall be the price scheduled by him on October 15, 1941, plus the difference between current cost and base cost.

The manufacturer's maximum prices on quantities less than a ton shall preserve the same relative differentials as were present in his price schedule of October 15, 1941.

(2) F. o. b. prices. A manufacturer's maximum prices for sales of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate and potash f. o. b. his plant or warehouse shall be determined by subtracting from his delivered prices the freight allowances which he included in his price schedule in effect on October 15, 1941.

(3) Prices for grades not listed. A manufacturer's maximum prices for sales of a grade of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate and potash which was not listed in his price schedule effective on October 15, 1941 shall be a price authorized, upon application of the manufacturer, by the Order of the Director of the Office of Price Administration for Puerto Rico, and shall be a price in line with those established by this regulation for grades which were offered for sale by the manufacturer in his price schedule effective October 15, 1941.

(c) Dealers' maximum prices—(1) Cash prices. A dealer's maximum cash prices for sales of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate and potash shall be determined by adding together the following factors:

(i) The manufacturer's maximum time price on a sale of the same quantity.

(ii) The actual transportation cost, if any, incurred by the dealer from the manufacturer's planter warehouse to the dealer's place of business: Provided, That such transportation cost may not exceed the customary carrier charge for a similar shipment, whether such transportation be accomplished by a common or contract carrier or any other person.

(iii) An amount equal to five percent of the sum of paragraphs (i) and (ii).

(2) Time prices. A dealer's maximum time prices for sales of fertilizer, superphosphate and potash shall be equal to his maximum cash prices, plus six percent.

(d) Prohibited practices; general. Any practice which is a device to get the effect of a higher-than-ceiling price without actually raising the dollars-and-cents price is as much a violation as an outright over-ceiling price. This applies to changes in credit practices and cash discounts, and to devices making use of commissions, services, transportation arrangements, premiums, special privileges, tying-agreements, trade understandings and the like.

(e) Filing of price schedules by manufacturers. Not later than January 6, 1944, every manufacturer of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate, and potash in Puerto Rico shall file with the Territorial Office of Price Administration, San Juan, Puerto Rico, a complete schedule of prices in effect on that date and thereafter shall file within five days of their effective date all supplements and amendments to price schedules in effect on January 1, 1944.

This amendment shall become effective as of January 1, 1944.

(l) The term "less-than-a-carload lot" means any lot of apples or pears of less than 400 bushels in packages.

ADMINISTRATION

§ 33.3 Chief of Branch. The Chief of Branch shall perform, for and under the supervision of the Administrator and the director, such duties as the Administrator or the Director may require in the enforcement or administration of the provisions of the act or these regulations.

MISCELLANEOUS

§ 33.4 Inspection certificate. The regulations issued under the Farm Products Inspection Act governing the inspection and certification of fresh fruits and vegetables, as amended (7 CFR 51.1 et seq.), and as the same may, from time to time, be amended, insofar as the aforesaid regulations apply to apples or pears, are hereby adopted and made a part of these regulations for the purposes of the act except when in conflict with specific regulations herein set forth; and all persons authorized to issue certificates of grade or condition under said Farm Products Inspection Act are authorized to issue the certificate required, under the act and under these regulations, for apples or pears.

§ 33.5 Form of certificate. A Farm Products Inspection Act certificate bearing in prominent letters across the face thereof the words "Export Form Certificate" shall, when issued hereunder, be issued only for apples or pears inspected and certified in accordance with the provisions of the act and these regulations and shall include the following printed or typed statement: "The apples or pears covered by this certificate meet the requirements of the Export Apple and Pear Act."

§ 33.6 Analysis; certificate. If the apples or pears in any shipment for export are to be analyzed for any spray residue and the chemist's report is not available at the time the inspection for grade is finished, the inspector may, if practicable, issue a certificate subject to its being rescinded within 48 hours after issuance should the chemist's analysis show that the apples or pears do not comply with the tolerances for any such spray residue established under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, as amended (52 Stat. 1040; 21 U. S. C. 1940 ed. 301 et seq.).

§ 33.7 Delivery of certificate. If, at the time of billing for shipment in export, a certificate shall have been issued under the provisions of the act and these regulations, such certificate or a copy thereof, on a form approved by the Director, shall be delivered by the shipper or his agent to the initial carrier for delivery to the proper official of any carrier on which the apples or pears, covered by the certificate or the copy thereof, as aforesaid, are to be exported.

§ 33.8 Requirements for shipments—(a) Export of apples or pears. No person shall ship, offer for shipment, transport, or offer for transportation to a foreign country apples or pears in packages except in accordance and compliance with the requirements hereof and only if a certificate has been issued with respect to such apples or pears.

(b) No acceptance for export without certificate. A shipment of apples or pears in packages shall not be accepted for export by any carrier unless such shipment is accompanied by a certificate or a copy thereof, on a form approved by the Director, and such certificate or copy thereof has been surrendered to the carrier.

(c) Split shipments. When a certificate has been issued covering a lot of apples or pears and the shipper desires to export part of the lot by one carrier and part by another carrier, such certificate or copy thereof, as aforesaid, shall be delivered to each carrier.

(d) Representation of issuance, without copy of certificate, not acceptable. No carrier shall accept for shipment a part of a lot of apples or pears in packages upon the representation by the shipper or his agent or by the initial carrier that a certificate has been issued covering the entire lot of such apples or pears, but shall require that such certificate or a copy thereof, as aforesaid, be delivered to such carrier.

§ 33.9 Method of inspection and certification. When a shipment of apples or pears in packages is made to a foreign country under a through bill of lading or under a bill of lading marked for export, the shipper shall, except as provided in § 33.18, secure inspection of the apples or pears in such shipment and deliver to the local agent of the carrier the certificate or copy thereof, as aforesaid, covering such shipment. Such local agent shall attach such certificate or copy thereof to the waybill or make a notation on the waybill that the fruit has been inspected and that a certificate has been issued. Inspection of a shipment of apples or pears in packages, not under a through bill of lading to a foreign country or not under a bill of lading marked for export, may be obtained at point of origin of such shipment, if inspection is available, or at any convenient point en route to or at destination.

§ 33.10 Noncertificated shipments; handling. Any person operating any carrier shall, within 72 hours after such carrier sails from any port, send to the Chief of Fruit and Vegetable Branch, Office of Distribution, War Food Administration, Washington 25, D. C., a list of all shipments of apples or pears in packages on board such carrier which are not accompanied by certificates or copies thereof, as aforesaid, and shall give all particulars with reference thereto, including, but not being limited to, destination, quantity, description, marks, names and addresses of shippers and consignees, and names of railroads or persons having delivered such shipments to such carriers, with car numbers or other means of identification. The furnishing of the foregoing information shall not relieve any person operating a carrier, as aforesaid, from liability under the act or these regulations if the facts warrant prosecution.

§ 33.11 Special certificates. A special certificate in compliance with the standards or requirements of any foreign country as to condition of apples or pears shall, as authorized by section 3 of the act, be issued as a part of, or in addition to, an export form certificate. A reasonable additional fee may be charged when the inspection necessary for the issuance of such special certificate requires additional time or an examination or certification at some time or place other than that at which the original inspection was made.

§ 33.12 Issuance of certificate; requirements. The issuance of a certificate does not excuse any person who fails to comply with any regulatory laws or requirements applicable to apples or pears shipped in foreign commerce. No certificate shall be issued except upon a showing satisfactory to the Chief of Branch that the apples or pears shipped in foreign commerce comply with the tolerances for any arsenical or lead spray residue established under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, as aforesaid.

§ 33.13 Minimum quality requirements for shipments in export—(a) Apples. Any lot of apples in packages shipped or transported in foreign commerce must meet each minimum requirement of the U. S. Utility or the U. S. Utility Early grade, as specified in the United States Standards for Apples, issued by the Department in October 1937 and reissued in October 1939, subject to the tolerances for the applicable grade, except that such apples shall not contain apple maggots and, of such apples, not more than 2 percent may have apple maggot injury and not more than 2 percent may be infested with San Jose scale: Provided, That any lot of apples in containers conspicuously marked "cannery" may be shipped or transported, as aforesaid, if such lot of apples meets each minimum requirement of the U. S. No. 2 grade, as specified in the U. S. Standards for Cannery Apples (1930), issued by the Department on July 23, 1930, and reissued on August 30, 1943, subject to an aggregate tolerance of 10 percent for defects of this grade.

(b) Pears. Any lot of pears in packages shipped or transported in foreign commerce must meet each minimum requirement of the applicable U. S. No. 2 grade, as specified (1) in the U. S. Standards for Summer and Fall Pears, such as Bartlett, Hardy, and other similar varieties, effective June 27, 1940, issued by the Department on June 26, 1940, and reissued September 3, 1942, or (2) in the U. S. Standards for Winter Pears, such as Anjou, Bosc, Nellis, Comice, and other similar varieties, effective July 8, 1940, issued by the Department on June 28, 1940, and reissued on May 20, 1942, subject to the tolerances permitted for such applicable grade, except that such pears shall not contain apple maggots and, of such pears, not more than 2 percent may have apple maggot injury and not more than 2 percent may be infested with San Jose scale: Provided, That any lot of pears in containers conspicuously marked "cannery" may be shipped or transported, as aforesaid, if such lot of pears meets each minimum requirement of the U. S. No. 2 grade, as specified in the U. S. Standards for Pears for Canning, effective June 12, 1939, issued by the Department on June 6, 1939, and reissued September 13, 1939, subject to an aggregate tolerance of 10 percent for defects of this grade.

(c) Exception to maturity requirements. Any lot of apples or pears in packages shipped to a transpacific port need not comply with the maturity standards of the applicable grade, as aforesaid, if the packages are conspicuously marked or branded with the words "Immature fruit."

§ 33.14 Packing and marking requirements for shipments in export—(a) Packages; packing. Each package shall be packed so that the apples or pears in the shown face shall be reasonably representative in size, color, and quality of the contents of the package.

(b) Packages; marking. Any package of apples or pears shipped in foreign commerce shall be plainly and conspicuously marked with (1) the name and address of the grower or packer; (2) the variety of the apples or pears; (3) the grade names, not lower than those specified in § 33.13; and (4) the numerical count or the minimum size of such apples or pears.

§ 33.15 Fee for certificate. The fee for the issuance of a certificate shall be the fee charged at that time and place where a certificate is issued for an inspection made under the Farm Products Inspection Act: Provided, That when any lot of apples or pears, with respect to which a farm products inspection certificate has been issued stating that the fruit meets the requirements of the act and these regulations, arrives at any terminal market or point of export, an export form certificate may be substituted for such farm products inspection certificate for a fee of $1.00, or, for a similar fee, such farm products inspection certificate may be stamped with the words "Export Form Certificate."

§ 33.16 Complaint, notice, hearing, and order. Upon receipt of complaint from any person alleging that any apples or pears have been shipped or transported in foreign commerce in violation of any of the provisions of the act or these regulations, the Director shall cause such investigation of the facts to be made as he deems proper. If it appears from the investigation that there has been a violation of the act or these regulations, the Director shall cause notice to be given to the person accused of the nature of the charges against him and of the specific cases in which violation of the act or these regulations is charged. The person accused shall be given an opportunity for a hearing not less than 10 days after notice of such hearing has been served upon him. At such hearing the person complained of will be entitled to be present in person or by counsel and to submit evidence and arguments in his behalf. Any order to withhold the issuance of a certificate, as provided in § 6 of the act, will be effective from the date of its service upon the person found to have been guilty. Such order will state the inclusive dates during which it is to remain in effect, and during this period no inspector employed or licensed by the Administrator under the Farm Products Inspection Act shall issue any certificate to such person.

§ 33.17 Service of notice or order. Service of any notice or order required by the act or prescribed by these regulations shall be deemed sufficient if made by registered mail or personally upon the person served. If it is impossible to make service, as aforesaid, upon the person named in the notice or order, service may be made by leaving a copy of such notice or order with an employee or agent at such person's usual place of business or abode. If the person named is a partnership, association, or corporation, service may similarly be made with respect to any member of the partnership or any officer, employee, or agent of the association or corporation.

§ 33.18 Less-than-a-carload lot. Any shipment of less-than-a-carload lot of apples or pears to Mexico, Cuba, the West Indies, Bahamas, Bermuda Islands, Newfoundland, or to other islands adjacent to North America, or to any country in Central America or South America except Argentina, or to any African port not on the Mediterranean Sea, or to any transpacific port, need not comply with the requirements of the act or these regulations: Provided, That any shipment of apples or pears of less than 200 pounds gross weight in packages to any foreign destination shall not be subject to the provisions of the act or these regulations.

§ 33.19 Effective date. This revision shall become effective at 12:01 a.m., e.w.t., March 6, 1944.

It is directed that, within one week of its promulgation, notice of this revision and of the effective time thereof shall be published in at least two trade papers of the fruit industry.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 5th day of February 1944.

RESTRICTIONS ON ANTHRACITE COAL

To effectuate the purposes of Executive Order No. 9332, Regulation No. 11 is hereby superseded by the following revised regulation:

§ 602.201 Definitions. (a) for the purposes of this revised regulation, the definitions contained in Solid Fuels Administration for War Revised Regulation No. 2, as amended, shall be the meaning of the words "anthracite," "producer," "wholesaler," "destination," "person," and "base period."

§ 602.202 Restriction on shipments by wholesalers or producers. Prior to April 1, 1944, no wholesaler or producer shall ship anthracite (including anthracite to be used in poultry brooders or hatcheries) in any calendar month to any destination or retail dealer in excess of 1/24th of the total tonnage shipped all-rail to such destination or retail dealer during the base period: Provided, however, That this restriction shall not apply to destinations or retail dealers in the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, the District of Columbia, and the Dominion of Canada; And provided, further, That this restriction on shipments shall not apply to anthracite owned by any producer or wholesaler and stored on docks or any other storage facilities located in the area to which this restriction applies.

[Reg. 14]

PART 602—GENERAL ORDERS AND DIRECTIVES

RECONSIGNMENT, DIVERSION, AND REROUTING SOLID FUELS IN TRANSIT

The Solid Fuels Administrator for War is authorized by Executive Order No. 9332 (8 F.R. 5355) to issue to persons engaged in the development, production, preparation, treatment, processing, storage, shipment, receipt and distribution of solid fuels within the United States, its territories and possessions such directions as are deemed necessary to provide adequate supplies of solid fuels for direct and indirect military, and essential industrial and civilian requirements. In some instances, in order to meet emergency situations and in order to avoid inequitable distribution of solid fuels, it has been necessary to order the reconsignment, diversion or rerouting of solid fuels already in transit. Common carriers by railroad subject to the Interstate Commerce Act have been ordered by the Interstate Commerce Commission to accept reconsignment, diversion or rerouting orders from the Solid Fuels Administrator for War (Service Order No. 177, 9 F.R. 64). It would be helpful to clarify the procedure of reconsigning, diverting or rerouting solid fuels in transit. Therefore, in order to effectuate the provisions of Executive Order No. 9332, and by virtue of the authority conferred by that order, the following regulation is issued by the Solid Fuels Administrator for War:

§ 602.250 Definitions. (a) "Solid fuels" includes all forms of anthracite, bituminous, sub-bituminous and lignitic coals (including packaged and processed fuels, such as briquettes).

(b) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or organized group of persons.

(c) "Producer" means any person (except when engaged in retail dealer transactions) engaged in the business of mining or preparing solid fuels (or the sales agent of such person).

(d) "Wholesaler" means any distributor, jobber, forwarder, commercial dock operator (river, lake, or tidewater), or other persons (except when engaged in retail dealer transactions) who acts in the capacity of a seller in a transaction involving the resale of solid fuels.

(e) "Retail dealer" means any person (including the retail outlet, branch or department of a person who is also a producer or wholesaler) who acts in the capacity of a seller of solid fuels in a transaction involving the sale, or sale and delivery, of broken bulk solid fuels, physically handled in less than carload lots without regard to quantity or frequency of delivery.

(c) The reports required to be made pursuant to this section by producers, wholesalers, lake forwarders and receivers shall be filed in duplicate with the Solid Fuels Administration for War, Washington 25, D. C., on forms to be

[Suspension Order S-451]

MISSION ELECTRIC COMPANY

Bernard Morrow is engaged in business under the name of Mission Electric Company at 19th and Valencia Streets, San Francisco, California. During the months of January through March, 1943, the company assembled about 85 radio phonograph combinations for the purpose of sale, without preference ratings, to the general public. Most of these instruments were sold later in 1943. Such assembly constituted a wilful violation of Limitation Order L-183, with the provisions of which Mr. Morrow had ample opportunity to become familiar.

This violation of Limitation Order L-183 has hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States by diverting scarce materials to uses unauthorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.451 Suspension Order No. S-451. (a) Bernard Morrow, doing business as Mission Electric Company, or otherwise, his successors or assigns, shall not directly or indirectly, acquire, or manufacture electronic equipment, as defined in Limitation Order L-265, except for use in the maintenance or repair of electronic equipment.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Bernard Morrow, doing business as Mission Electric Company, or otherwise, his successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on February 4, 1944 and shall expire April 4, 1944.

Issued this 28th day of January 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S-454]

SOUTHERN HEATER COMPANY, INC.

Southern Heater Company, Inc., 844 Baronne Street, New Orleans, Louisiana, is a distributor of plumbing and heating equipment. During the period from October 10, 1942 through January 1, 1943, Southern Heater Company, Inc., sold and delivered to ultimate consumers 31 new metal floor furnaces, amounting in value to more than $4,000, in violation of Limitation Order L-79. Since at the time of the sales the company knew of the terms of Limitation Order L-79, its violations of that order have been deemed wilful.

These violations of Limitation Order L-79 have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States by diverting critical equipment to uses not authorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.454 Suspension Order No. S-454. (a) Deliveries of materials to Southern Heater Company, Inc., its successors or assigns, shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order, and no preference rating shall be assigned, applied, or extended to such deliveries by means of preference rating certificates, preference rating orders, general preference orders, or any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) No allocation shall be made to Southern Heater Company, Inc., its successors or assigns, of any material the supply or distribution of which is governed by any order of the War Production Board, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve the Southern Heater Company, Inc., its successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect on 4th day of February 1944 and terminate on 4th day of April 1944.

Issued this 28th day of January 1944.

PART 1170—USED RAIL AND USED RAIL JOINTS

[Limitation Order L-88 as Amended Feb. 5, 1944]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of used rail and used rail joints for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1170.1 Limitation Order L-88—(a) What this amended order does. This amended order keeps the previous control over the disposition of used rail of reroll or scrap grade. However, there is no longer any similar control over used rail of relayer grade or any obligation to furnish used rail after each receipt of new rail.

(b) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, government corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not, except the Army or Navy of the United States and the United States Maritime Commission.

(2) "Rail" means the steel rolling mill shape known as the "tee rail," but does not include high tee rail from street car tracks.

(3) [Deleted Feb. 5, 1944.]

(4) "Used rail" means rail (weighing not less than 35 pounds nor more than 132 pounds per yard in length, weight determination based on steel rolling mill weight descriptions) which has been released from track by the laying of new replacement rail or used rail or by retiral of the track as a transportation facility.

(5) [Deleted Feb. 5, 1944]

(c) Restrictions on disposition of used rail of reroll and scrap grades. No person shall sell, transfer or otherwise dispose of any used rail of reroll grade or scrap grade in any amount exceeding 10 tons per month, unless specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board. This restriction does not apply to used rail of relayer grade, nor does it prevent any person from using used rail of any grade in his own tracks.

(d) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than 2 years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, purchases, sales and use of used rail.

(e) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(f) Reports. Each person to whom this order applies shall file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as said Board shall from time to time require.

(g) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(h) Appeal. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him, or that it would result in a serious problem of unemployment in the community, or that compliance with this order would disrupt or impair a program of conversion from nondefense to defense work, may apply for relief by addressing a letter to the War Production Board setting forth the pertinent facts and the reasons why such person considers that he is entitled to relief. The War Production Board may thereupon take such action, if any, as it deems appropriate by the amendment of this order or otherwise.

(i) Communications. All communications concerning this order should be addressed to Scrap Unit, Steel Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: L-88.

(j) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected by it are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

NOTE: The record-keeping and reporting requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 5th day of February 1944.

Recording Secretary.

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

[CMP Reg. 6, Direction 1]

SPECIAL PROCEDURE FOR GA 1456 AUTHORIZATION

The following direction is issued pursuant to CMP Regulation 6:

(a) What this direction does. (1) GA 1456 is the form used in authorizing agricultural, commercial and industrial construction and all other kinds of construction except as indicated in paragraph (a) (2) below, and in giving priorities assistance needed in connection with the construction authorized. The form is also used in granting priorities assistance needed for construction work of the kind mentioned even though no authorization to do construction is needed. This direction tells how to buy controlled materials and other products and materials needed to carry on the construction work described in the form.

(2) This direction does not apply to a person doing construction work which has been authorized or rated on forms other than GA 1456. Other forms are used for housing (except farm houses, certain apartment buildings and hotels which use a GA 1456); for certain kinds of construction carried on by the Army and Navy; for water, gas, steam heating, electric power, telephone and telegraph facilities for use by the public; for petroleum facilities; and for certain other specialized kinds of construction which are provided for under blanket orders of the WPB or by special authorization forms. CMP Regulation No. 6 and other directions to that regulation tell how construction of the kinds mentioned in this sub-paragraph (a) (2) is handled under the Controlled Materials Plan.

(b) Applications and authorizations. An application for an authorization on form GA 1456 should be made on form WPB-617. An application to amend an authorization on GA 1456 should also be made on form WPB-617. The authorization on form GA 1456 will contain various provisions limiting the kinds of material which may be used in the job and the type of construction which is permitted. The allotment symbol and preference rating may only be used to order materials and equipment needed to complete the project in accordance with the terms of the authorization.

(c) Allotment symbol and preference rating. The allotment symbol P-6 and the preference rating assigned by the GA 1456 authorization may be used to order all products, machinery, equipment and material, other than machinery and equipment of the kind that must be listed in section III of WPB-617, needed to complete the project. The symbol and rating may also be used to order those items of machinery and equipment of the kind that must be listed in section III of WPB-617 which have been approved under the terms of the authorization on GA 1456.

(d) How to order materials. (1) The allotment symbol may be used to order controlled materials and Class A products by:

(i) The applicant;

(ii) By manufacturers of Class A products or Class A components of Class A products to be incorporated in the project;

(iii) By contractors and sub-contractors doing all or any part of the construction work.

The applicant must not use the allotment symbol or give others the right to use it before he has received a GA 1456 authorization. A manufacturer, contractor or subcontractor must not use it, or give others the right to use it, unless he has received a statement in substantially the following form endorsed on the order or contract by the person placing it, signed manually or in the way explained in Priorities Regulation 7:

Serial Number ------ (identifying project). You are authorized to use the allotment symbol P-6 to order controlled materials and Class A products needed to fill this order or contract.

It is not necessary to show the quantities of controlled materials in this statement. Its use shall constitute a representation by the person signing it to the person with whom the order or contract is placed, and to the War Production Board, subject to the penalties of section 35A of the United States Criminal Code, that he has the right to authorize the person with whom the order or contract is placed to use the allotment symbol to fill the order or contract. The standard form described in Priorities Regulation 7 cannot be used instead of the above statement.

(2) The preference rating may be used to order all materials other than controlled materials. If an applicant, contractor or subcontractor orders a Class A product the certificate described in Priorities Regulation 7 must be used in addition to the statement set forth in paragraph (d) (1) above. If a contractor or sub-contractor needs a preference rating to buy materials the rating may be given him by use of the certificate set forth in Priorities Regulation 7. In using the rating to buy all products and materials other than controlled materials or Class A products the certificate in Priorities Regulation 7 must be used and the allotment symbol F–6 must be used along with the preference rating for purposes of identification.

(3) Each person using the allotment symbol or preference rating must maintain at his regular place of business, for a period of two years, records of the right to use the symbol or preference rating, records, kept by serial number identifying the project, of the amount of materials ordered with the allotment symbol or rating and records showing that the materials so ordered were used for the purpose for which the right to use the symbol or rating was granted.

(4) The use of the allotment symbol F–6 will not be limited to any particular month or quarter and, therefore, no quarterly identification need be shown when using it. Authorized controlled material orders must, however, show the month in which delivery is requested. The allotment symbol may not be used in placing authorized controlled material orders after the expiration date of the project but delivery after such date may be specified on orders placed before then.

(5) The allotment symbol and preference rating must not be used to order materials in greater quantities, or on earlier dates, then needed for the construction. It may be used not only to order materials needed for the construction but also to replace in inventory materials used for the construction. Attention is called to CMP Regulation No. 2 which places a restriction on inventories of controlled materials which must be complied with.

(6) A person who has the right under this direction to use an allotment symbol in ordering controlled materials must endorse the symbol on his order and the form of certification set out in CMP Regulation No. 7, signed manually or in the way explained in Priorities Regulation No. 7. An order so endorsed is an authorized controlled material order (i) if it is a "delivery order" as defined in paragraph (b) (9) of CMP Regulation No. 6, (ii) if it is in sufficient detail to permit entry on mill schedules and (iii) if, when placed with a controlled materials producer, it is received at such time in advance as is specified in Schedule III of CMP Regulation No. 1, or at such later time as the controlled materials producer may find it practicable to accept the same.

(e) This direction shall become effective on February 15, 1944.

Issued this 5th day of February 1944.

Recording Secretary.

PART 3208—SCHEDULED PRODUCTS

[Table 8 to General Scheduling Order M–293, Direction 1 as Amended Feb. 5, 1944]

PRODUCTION OF BOILERS FOR STOCK

The following amended direction is issued pursuant to Table 8 to General Scheduling Order M–293:

In order to conserve materials and manufacturing facilities for the production of land power boilers, boiler units and auxiliaries listed on Table 8 of General Scheduling Order M–293, and to prevent the accumulation of duplicate stocks of such boilers, units and auxiliaries in the hands of manufacturers, dealers and warehouses, the following Direction under Table 8 of M–293 is issued:

(1) Notwithstanding the provisions of Priorities Regulation 1, or of paragraphs (c) (2) and (d) (2) of General Scheduling Order M–293, no manufacturer shall, without specific authorization from the War Production Board, begin production of any boiler, boiler unit or auxiliary listed on Table 8 of General Scheduling Order M–293, which the manufacturer knows, or has reason to believe, will be held in the stock of any manufacturer, wholesaler, dealer or any other person rather than shipped directly for installation.

(2) Application for such specific authorization should be made by letter addressed to War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Reference M–293, Table 8.

Issued this 5th day of February 1944.

When the sale or transfer has been negotiated, the seller or transferor shall immediately package and seal the diamonds and shall hold them subject to authorization or disapproval of the transaction by the War Production Board; and seller and purchaser shall immediately apply to the War Production Board for authorization to make the sale or transfer, upon Form WPB–751, plainly marked "Application" for this purpose, giving all the information required by the form. This application shall be executed by both the seller and the purchaser and shall be filed with the War Production Board, Empire State Building, New York, New York, Ref: M–109, in quadruplicate. PART 3289[1]—RADIO AND RADAR

[General Preference Order M–369 as Amended Feb. 7, 1944]

TUNGSTEN AND MOLYBDENUM PRODUCTS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of tungsten and molybdenum products for defense, for private account and for export, and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote national defense:

§ 3289.61[1] General Preference Order M–369—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Tungsten products" means the element tungsten in pure form fabricated to the extent that it is hydrogen-reduced powder, ingot, wire, rod or sheet, or further fabricated into shapes, such as, but not limited to, coils, filaments, spirals, grids, welds, leads or plates, but does not include tungsten in the form of carbon-reduced powder or tungsten contacts.

(2) "Molybdenum products" means the element molybdenum in pure form fabricated to the extent that it is hydrogen-reduced powder, ingot, wire, rod or sheet, or further fabricated into shapes such as, but not limited to, coils, filaments, spirals, grids, welds, leads or plates, but does not include molybdenum in the form of carbon-reduced powder or molybdenum contacts.

(3) "Alloy products" means any ingot, wire, rod or sheet which contains substantially pure tungsten and molybdenum but no other material.

(4) "Processor" means any person who produces tungsten or molybdenum in the form of hydrogen-reduced powder, ingot, wire, rod or sheet.

(b) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board.

(c) Restrictions on deliveries. No person shall make delivery of, and no person shall accept delivery of, tungsten products, molybdenum products or alloy products without the specific authorization in writing of the War Production Board. The restrictions of the first sentence of this paragraph shall not apply to deliveries between affiliates, or to deliveries from one branch, division, department, or section of a single enterprise to another branch, division, department, or section of the same enterprise, of molybdenum products, tungsten products or alloy products to be made into ingot, rod, wire or sheet; but they shall apply to all deliveries of molybdenum products, tungsten products or alloy products between affiliates, and to intra-company deliveries thereof, in all cases not just mentioned. In addition, use of rod to make contacts shall be deemed a delivery when the rod and contacts are manufactured in the same branch, division, department or section of a single enterprise.

(d) Reports and applications. (1) Each processor shall file, in such manner as the War Production Board may from time to time prescribe, reports with the War Production Board on or before the seventh day of each calendar month, showing his proposed production of tungsten products, molybdenum products or alloy products for the second succeeding calendar month. For example, reports to be filed on or before the seventh day of February will show proposed production for April.

(2) Each person who desires to acquire any tungsten products, molybdenum products or alloy products shall apply to the War Production Board for an authorization which, if granted, will permit his supplier to deliver the desired tungsten products, molybdenum products or alloy products. The application shall be made not later than the first day of the second month preceding the month in which delivery of the tungsten products, molybdenum products or alloy products is desired, on Form WPB–2868 and/or WPB–765, or such other form as the War Production Board may from time to time prescribe. For example, applications shall be made not later than the first day of March for deliveries desired in May. All such applications must be accompanied by reports of the applicant on Form WPB–2870 and/or WPB–2446, or on such other form as may be prescribed for the purpose from time to time by the War Production Board. In order to facilitate the desired delivery of tungsten products, molybdenum products or alloy products, it is imperative that each applicant file with his supplier a copy of Form WPB–2868 and/or WPB–765 broken down into the various categories at the same time he submits the original application to the War Production Board on that form. Failure by that person to file this copy with his supplier on the date specified may result in his failing to secure an allocation.

(e) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Communications to the War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the Radio and Radar Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Reference M–369.

NOTE: The reporting provisions of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

If it is necessary to use more than one sheet to list such customers, applicant will number each sheet in order and show grand total for all sheets on last sheet, which is the only one that need be certified.

(vi) With respect to each order from a customer in the applicable allocation period of more than 20,000 lbs. of any sodium phosphate, applicant will specify in Column 1–a the purpose for which his customer will use such sodium phosphate, or in the case that such sodium phosphate is purchased for resale, the fact that it is purchased for resale and the purpose for which such resale will be made. If the sodium phosphate ordered by the customer is for two or more uses, applicant will list each use separately and will show the quantity of sodium phosphate ordered for each use.

(vii) With respect to orders of more than 2,000 lbs. but not more than 20,000 lbs. of any sodium phosphate, names of customers need not be listed but the aggregate quantity of each sodium phosphate ordered for each use will be lumped. More specifically, applicant will specify in Columns 1 and 1–a "Total orders for 20,000 lbs. or less for use in ____" (inserting in blank the purpose for which customer will use the sodium phosphate), and will specify in Column 4 the total quantity represented by the orders for such product.

(viii) With respect to orders from a customer for delivery of not more than 2,000 lbs. of any sodium phosphate in the applicable allocation period, neither name of customer nor use need be shown. Instead, applicant will state in Columns 1 and 1–a "Total small order deliveries (estimated)" and in Column 4 will specify the total estimated quantity to be delivered.

(ix) A producer requiring permission to use a part or all of his own production of sodium phosphates shall list his own name as customer in Column 1 on Form WPB–2947 (formerly PD–602), specifying quantity required and product manufactured. Written approval of War Production Board on such Form WPB–2947 (formerly PD–602) shall constitute authority to the producer to use sodium phosphates in the quantity and for the purposes indicated in such approved form.

(x) Leave Column 6 blank.

(xi) Each producer will report production, deliveries and stocks as required by Table II, Columns 8 to 16, inclusive. Primary distributors will fill out only Columns 8, 10, 12 and 13.

This report need be filed only once for any one sodium phosphate (reports filed under this paragraph as in effect prior to February 7th, 1944, need not be repeated), but must be filed for each different sodium phosphate for which more than 20,000 lbs. is requested in any allocation period. The report on Form WPB–2945 shall be filed in the manner described therein subject to the following instructions:

PART 3294—IRON AND STEEL PRODUCTION[1]

[General Preference Order M–21, as Amended Feb. 7, 1944]

§ 3294.71[1] General Preference Order M–21—(a) Purpose and scope. This is the basic order covering the distribution of steel and iron products. Other rules for distribution, as well as for production and use, are contained in other War Production Board orders and regulations, which must also be complied with, except to the extent that their provisions are inconsistent with this order. With respect to steel, attention is called particularly to the various CMP regulations and to other orders in the M–21 series.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Steel" means carbon steel, alloy steel, and wrought iron, in the forms and shapes listed in Schedule 1. The term includes all types of second quality material and shearings (including material in the listed forms and shapes which is salvaged or recovered therefrom), except when sold as scrap within the maximum prices for scrap established by the Office of Price Administration.

(2) "Iron products" means cast iron pipe (except cast iron soil pipe and cast iron soil pipe fittings) and all other iron castings, gray and malleable (rough as cast), including all items of ferrous foundry manufacture not classified as steel.

(3) "Producer" means any person who produces steel or iron products.

(c) Deliveries of iron products and steel forgings. Iron products and carbon or alloy steel forgings may not be delivered except:

(1) On orders bearing a preference rating of A–10 or higher, or

[1] Formerly Part 962, § 962.1.

(2) As permitted under Priorities Regulation No. 13, or

(3) As specifically authorized or directed in writing by the War Production Board.

(d) Deliveries of other steel products. Other steel may not be delivered except:

(1) On authorized controlled material orders, or

(2) As permitted under Priorities Regulation No. 13, or

(3) By distributors as permitted under CMP Regulation No. 4, or

(4) To distributors as permitted under Order M–21–b–1 or M–21–b–2, or

(5) As specifically authorized or directed in writing by the War Production Board.

(e) Identification of purchase orders—(1) Iron products and steel forgings. Iron products and carbon and alloy steel forgings are obtained on preference rated orders, and purchase orders for these products must be accompanied by a certification of the applicable rating as required by War Production Board regulations. In addition, such purchase orders should be identified in terms of the program for which the products will be used. Therefore, a person purchasing any of these products from a producer must furnish with his purchase order the CMP allotment number or symbol which has been assigned to him for acquiring controlled materials needed for the same program. If the purchaser has no such allotment number or symbol, his purchase order should carry a statement in substantially the following form:

No CMP allotment number or symbol applicable.

No producer shall accept an order for, or make delivery of, iron products or carbon or alloy steel forgings unless a CMP allotment number or symbol, or the above statement, accompanies the purchase order.

(2) Other steel. Each purchaser of steel other than forgings shall furnish with his purchase order such information as may be required by applicable War Production Board regulations or orders.

(f) Special directions. The War Production Board may from time to time issue special directions to any person or persons as to the type, description, amount, source, or destination of steel or iron products to be produced, delivered, or acquired by such person or persons.

(g) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priorities control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(h) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by letter referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(i) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to Steel Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M–21.

Issued this 7th day of February 1944.

INTERPRETATION 1

The terms "Steel" and "Iron products" as defined in General Preference Order M–21, as amended, do not include material which has been in use or service, nor material salvaged or recovered therefrom. The terms do include all types of second quality material, shearings, etc., whether generated in a producer's plant, or in the plant of a manufacturer or fabricator, (as well as material in the listed forms and shapes which is salvaged therefrom), except that such material when sold as scrap within OPA ceilings is not considered "Steel" or "Iron products".

For example, the restrictions of Order M–21 apply to side and end shearings, wire shorts and similar products generated at a steel mill. They also apply to the plate croppings generated at a shipyard or in the course of any other fabricating operation. Such material may be sold as scrap at scrap prices free of the restrictions of the order, but if such scrap material is salvaged by sorting or by some processing operation, it cannot be disposed of in any of the listed forms or shapes except in compliance with the order.

On the other hand, the restrictions of the order do not apply to used material such as line pipe which has been in use by an oil company for a period of time and is then picked up and reclaimed, or structural steel which is salvaged from a demolished building. (Issued June 9, 1943.)

PART 1341—CANNED AND PRESERVED FOODS

[MPR 509]

PACKED CITRUS PRODUCTS OF THE 1944 AND LATER PACKS

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the provisions of this regulation are generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.* Insofar as this regulation uses specifications and standards which were not, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected, or insofar as their use was not lawfully required by another Government agency, the Administrator has determined, with respect to such standardization, that no practical alternative exists for securing effective price control with respect to the commodities subject to this regulation.

§ 1341.609 Maximum prices for sales of packed citrus products of the 1944 and later packs by processors and distributors other than wholesalers and retailers. Under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders Nos. 9250 and 9328, Maximum Price Regulation No. 509 (Packed Citrus Products of the 1944 and Later Packs), which is annexed hereto and made a part hereof is hereby issued.

ARTICLE I—EXPLANATION OF THE REGULATION AND GENERAL DEFINITIONS

SECTION 1.1 Explanation of the regulation. (a) The purpose of this regulation is to establish maximum prices for citrus products processed and packed on and after October 1, 1943, in sales by persons other than wholesalers and retailers. The packed citrus products covered by this regulation and processors' maximum prices for sales of each product are set forth in Article II.

(b) This regulation supersedes Maximum Price Regulation No. 306[1] with respect to sales and deliveries of packed grapefruit juice processed and packed on and after October 1, 1943.

(c) Maximum prices for sales by wholesalers and retailers are governed by Maximum Price Regulation Nos. 421,[2] 422[3] and 423.[4] "Wholesaler" and "retailer" means the persons respectively referred to as "wholesalers" and "retailers" in those regulations.

(d) This regulation applies only to the forty-eight states of the United States and to the District of Columbia.

(e) Prices established by this regulation are in effect from February 4, 1944.

SEC. 1.2 General definitions. (a) When used in this regulation the term:

(1) "Person" means an individual, corporation, partnership, association, any other organized group of persons, and their legal successors or representatives. The term includes the United States, its agencies, other governments, their political subdivisions, and their agencies.

(2) "Processor" means a person who processes any part of what he sells of the kind and brand of packed citrus product being priced.

(3) "Item" means the particular kind, variety, grade, brand, style of pack, container type and size of packed citrus product being priced.

(4) "Container type" refers to the composition or style of the container used (a separate price must be figured for each container type).

Examples. Tin, glass and paper containers are all different container types. Likewise, a glass container of one design is a different container type from a glass container of a substantially different design.

(5) "Packed citrus products of the 1944 and later packs," means the commodities specified herein, processed and packed on and after October 1, 1943, in any container, whether or not hermetically sealed. It does not include frozen or dehydrated citrus products.

(6) "Sale" includes sales, dispositions, exchanges, leases and other transfers and transactions, and offers to do any of those things. The terms "sell," "seller," "buy," "buyer," "purchase" and "purchaser" shall be construed accordingly.

(7) "Price" means the consideration requested or received in connection with the sale of a commodity.

(8) "Net delivered cost" means the amount the purchaser pays for the item (in a purchase which is customary, for him, in quantity, type of supplier, receiving point and means of transportation), less all discounts allowed him, except the discount for prompt payment. However, the expense of local trucking or unloading is not included.

(9) "Delivered to the customary receiving point" means delivered to the place where the particular buyer has customarily received the goods. In cases where the seller is dealing with the buyer for the first time after the effective date of this regulation, "delivered to the customary receiving point" means delivered to the buyer's place of business.

(10) "Records" includes books of account, sales lists, sales slips, orders, vouchers, contracts, receipts, invoices, bills of lading, and other papers and documents.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, apply to other terms used in this regulation.

NOTE: The prices in this table for government sales must be adjusted in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (c), below.

(b) Other pricing methods. (1) If a processor packs grapefruit juice made from grapefruit grown in any area mentioned in paragraph (a), whether or not his factory is located in the same area or any of such areas, his maximum prices shall be the maximum prices shown in paragraph (a) for the area in which the grapefruit used by him was grown.

(2) The maximum prices for grapefruit juice packed in glass containers, for sales to persons other than Government procurement agencies, shall be as follows:

(i) For 8-ounce glass jars, Grade A or Fancy, 42½¢, for Grade C or Standard, 40¢, and for Off Grade or Sub-Standard, 37½¢, less than the maximum price for the same grade and style of pack in No. 2 cans, in the same area.

(ii) For 16-ounce glass jars, 7½¢ more than the maximum price for the same grade and style of pack in No. 2 cans, in the same area.

(iii) For 46-ounce glass jars, 17½¢ more than the maximum price for the same grade and style of pack in No. 3 cylinder cans, in the same area.

(3) If the processor cannot determine his maximum price for an item of packed grapefruit juice in a particular container size or type in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (a), (b), and (c) of this section, he shall determine his maximum price for such item in accordance with the provisions of section 3.6; and if he cannot determine a maximum price for such item under section 3.6, he shall apply to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for authorization of a maximum price in accordance with the provisions of section 3.7.

(4) A processor who manufactures in one factory grapefruit juice from grapefruit grown in more than one specified area shall apply to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for authorization of maximum prices in accordance with the provisions of section 3.7.

(c) Special provisions relating to government sales. (1) Processors' maximum prices for sales to Government procurement agencies shall be the maximum prices named in paragraph (a) for such sales, less the amount of the applicable monthly area grapefruit juice cost reduction for the month in which such grapefruit juice was packed: Provided, That the monthly area grapefruit juice cost reduction for the month of January 1944 shall be applicable to sales of grapefruit juice packed during the period from October 1, 1943, through January 31, 1944.

(2) The monthly area grapefruit juice cost reduction shall be established by order of the Office of Price Administration as soon as may be practicable after the period to which it applies. That amount is the difference between the cost for raw grapefruit reflected in the maximum prices for government sales set forth in paragraph (a), above, and the monthly area grapefruit cost determined by the Office of Price Administration, converted for the actual reduction in cost per dozen containers of the particular size and type packed during the month to which such monthly area grapefruit juice cost reduction is applicable.

(3) In the event that any monthly area grapefruit cost, determined by the Office of Price Administration as set forth above, shall be equal to or greater than the cost for raw grapefruit reflected in the maximum prices for government sales set forth in paragraph (a), above, the Office of Price Administration shall provide by order that no reduction shall be applicable to the maximum prices for grapefruit juice packed during the month to which such monthly area grapefruit cost is applicable.

NOTE: The provisions of this paragraph (c) shall not be construed as affecting the power of the Office of Price Administration to alter the maximum prices established by this regulation at any time, by amendment or otherwise.

(d) Records required. In addition to other records required to be maintained under other provisions of this regulation, each processor shall maintain, for as long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall remain in effect, complete records of all grapefruit purchases in value and quantity during the period from October 1, 1943, through September 30, 1944; and such records shall be available for inspection by the Office of Price Administration or its authorized agents or representatives at any reasonable time.

ARTICLE III—GENERAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO PROCESSORS' SALES

SEC. 3.1 Calculation of dollars-and-cents maximum prices for processors who perform the wholesale or retail function—(a) Sales by processors from branch warehouses. Any processor who sells the item being priced from a branch warehouse owned or controlled by him, to retail stores or to commercial, industrial or institutional users, shall figure his maximum prices for these sales, f. o. b. branch warehouse, as follows:

(1) If he handled the kind of packed citrus product being priced in this way prior to April 28, 1942, the processor shall add to his dollars-and-cents maximum price, f. o. b. factory, the freight, if any, incurred from factory to branch warehouse, and multiply the resulting figure by the markup named in Maximum Price Regulation No. 421 for cash-and-carry wholesalers or for service wholesalers, depending on whether delivery is made in the particular sale to the buyer's place of business. These markups may be used only when the particular goods sold have been warehoused at the branch warehouse and are being sold in less-than-carload lots. (Processors who have more than one factory or branch warehouse may, if they wish, figure freight on a weighted average basis from factory to branch warehouse, in the manner provided in section 3.3.)

(2) If he did not handle the kind of packed citrus product being priced in this way prior to April 28, 1942, the processor shall add to his dollar-and-cents maximum price, f. o. b. factory, the freight, if any, incurred from factory to branch warehouse. (Processors who have more than one factory or branch warehouse may if they wish, figure freight on a weighted average basis from factory to branch warehouse, in the manner ppvided in section 3.3.)

"Branch warehouse" means a plant or warehouse (1) which is maintained physically separate and apart from the processor's factory for the principal purpose of selling (in contrast to storing) food products manufactured by him to independent retail stores or commercial, industrial or institutional users, (2) from which the larger part of his sales of the kind of product being priced are made to those classes of purchasers, and (3) which maintains a sales organization separate from the factory sales organization.

(b) Maximum prices for sales by processors to ultimate consumers. Processors who sell the items they manufacture to ultimate consumers other than institutional users are normally persons whose general business is selling at retail items manufactured by others. Retailers are covered by Maximum Price Regulations Nos. 422 and 423, which also provide special pricing methods for items that a retailer may happen to manufacture or process himself (see section 25 of MPR 422). Manufacturing retailers, therefore, shall figure their maximum prices under those regulations.

"Ultimate consumer", means a person who buys the kind and brand of product being priced for direct consumption. However, the term does not include a commercial or industrial user, such as a baker, confectioner, restaurateur, or other food manufacturer.

SEC. 3.2 When the processor must figure a delivered price. Any processor who regularly sold a purchaser the item being priced on a delivered basis during the calendar year 1941 shall figure a maximum delivered price by increasing the maximum price for the item, f. o. b. factory, by the amount of the transportation charge, per unit of that item, which he added to his f. o. b. factory price from the beginning of the 1941 pack to March 17, 1942. The resulting price is the processor's maximum delivered price to that purchaser. The processor, of course, is free to sell his goods on an f. o. b. basis. However, in that event, the f. o. b. price charged plus the actual transportation charges incurred by the buyer shall not exceed the processor's maximum price figured on a delivered basis.

SEC. 3.3 Uniform delivered prices where the processor has customarily been selling on an f. o. b. factory basis. A processor whose maximum price for an item is on an f. o. b. factory basis may, if he wishes, establish a uniform maximum delivered price for the item, by zone or area, by adding to his f. o. b. factory price his weighted average transportation charge from factory to purchasers' receiving points. For any zone or area, the "weighted average transportation charge" shall be figured by him as follows: He shall (1) determine the total estimated transportation charges which would have been incurred if the shipments of the item which he made during the one-year period immediately preceding the date of calculation, to purchasers in that zone or area, had been at rates in effect on that date, and (2) divide that figure by the total number of pounds or other units of the item included in those shipments. (Where more than one means of transportation is used, averages may be taken separately for each). The processor shall refigure his weighted average transportation charge at the end of each three-month period on the basis of shipments made during the one-year period immediately preceding the date of calculation and at rates in effect on that date.

SEC. 3.4 Special packing expenses which may be reflected in maximum prices in sales to Government procurement agencies.

NOTE: This section is derived from, and for the purposes of this regulation supersedes, Supplementary Order No. 34,[1] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(a) Conditions under which special packing expenses may be reflected in maximum prices. Special packing expenses are a basis for increasing maximum prices in sales to government procurement agencies only if all of the following conditions are satisfied:

(1) The buyer must specifically require that the commodity be packed or unpacked and repacked, to the buyer's specifications.

(2) The processor must show separately in his contract of sale, or on the invoice furnished to the buyer, the net charge being made for the packing (and any unpacking and repacking) specified by the buyer.

(3) In addition to the records required by section 5.9 of this regulation, the processor must prepare and keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, accurate records showing the total additional cost required by the special packing (and any unpacking and repacking) specified by the buyer, and the value of materials salvaged in the process.

(b) Maximum prices in sales which meet the conditions of paragraph (a). In sales to a government procurement agency which meets the conditions of paragraph (a), the maximum prices of the processor and of any subcontractor under the processor's contract of sale with the United States shall be the maximum prices otherwise applicable, increased by the following amounts:

(1) If the packing specified by the buyer differs from standard packing, the difference between the total cost of packing to the specifications of the buyer and the total cost of standard packing, or

(2) If the commodity has already been packed in standard packing and if repacking to the specifications of the buyer is required, the total cost incurred in unpacking and repacking, less the reasonable value of salvaged materials, or

(3) If the commodity has initially been packed to the specifications of the buyer in accordance with subparagraph (1) and if repacking to new specifications of the buyer is required, the amount permitted by subparagraph (1) plus the total cost of unpacking and repacking, less the reasonable value of salvaged materials.

(c) Meaning of "total cost". "Total cost" means the direct material costs, direct labor costs, factory overhead and other expenses actually incurred in performing the operations described above. However, where these operations are performed for the processor or subcontractor by an independent contractor (not affiliated with the processor) who does not process or sell the commodity but only packs it or prepares it for packing, the amount actually paid to the independent contractor shall be considered to be the "total cost" of such operations.

(d) Meaning of "packing" and "standard packing". "Packing" means the providing of wrappings, inner containers, or outer containers; the placing of commodities in such wrappings, inner containers, or outer containers; and the application of any special coverings or coatings to insure shipment without damage.

"Standard packing" means that packing the cost of which was included in figuring the maximum price established by this regulation, or any other type of packing expressly referred to and expressly priced in this regulation.

SEC. 3.5 Label and labor allowances. (a) Label allowances shall be made by processors in the following circumstances and in the following amounts:

(1) When the processor sells any item covered by this regulation, unlabeled in containers no greater in content than a No. 10 can, the processor shall reduce the maximum price established under this regulation by at least the sum of $1.50 per thousand, for the number of labels used.

(2) When any item covered by this regulation is sold unlabeled in containers not greater in content than a No. 10 can, the processor shall make a labor allowance by reducing the maximum price by at least the sum of one cent per case of such containers, in addition to the allowance provided in subdivision (1) above.

(3) When the processor sells any item covered by this regulation in containers no greater in content than a No. 10 can, labeled with labels supplied to him by the purchaser, the processor shall reduce the maximum price established under this regulation by at least the sum of $1.50 per thousand for the number of labels used.

SEC. 3.6 Maximum prices for products in new container types or sizes. The maximum price per unit for any item which is packed in a container type or size which the processor did not sell prior to the effective date of this regulation shall be figured as follows. He shall:

(a) Determine the base container. If the processor sold the same product (that is, the same kind, variety, grade, brand and style of pack) prior to the effective date of this regulation, but only in other container types or sizes, he shall first determine the most similar container type for which he is able to figure a maximum price for that product under this regulation (even though he no longer sells that container type). From that container type he shall choose the nearest size which is 50% or less larger than the new size, or if there is no such size, 50% or less smaller (even though he no longer sells those sizes). This will be the base container. If there is no such smaller size, he shall go to the next most similar container type and proceed in the same manner to find the base container.

NOTE: In most cases "the most similar container type" will be merely the container type which the processor is adding to or replacing, like the tin which he may be replacing with glass. Where there has been only a size change, "the most similar container type" will of course be the same container type. This is also true in the reverse situation; where there has been a change only in container type, the "nearest size" will be the same size.

(b) Find the base price. The processor shall take as the "base price" his maximum price under this regulation for the product when packed in the base container. However, if this maximum price is a price delivered to a purchaser or to any point other than the processor's factory the processor shall first convert it to a base price f. o. b. factory by deducting whatever transportation charges were included in it.

(c) Deduct the container cost. Taking his base price f. o. b. factory, the processor shall then subtract the direct cost of the base container. "Direct cost of the container" means the net cost, at the processor's plant, of the container, cap, label and proportionate part of the outgoing shipping carton, but it does not include cost of filling, closing, labeling or packing.

(d) Adjust for any difference in contents. The figure obtained by this deduction shall then be adjusted, in the case of a size change, by dividing it by the number of units in the base container and multiplying the result by the number of the same units in the new container.

(f) Convert to a maximum delivered price, if the maximum price for the base container is on a delivered basis. If the processor's maximum price for the product in the base container is a delivered price, he shall figure transportation charges to be added as follows:

The processor shall take the transportation charges which he first deducted to get his base price and adjust them in exact proportion to the difference in shipping weight. If for any reason the product in the new container will move under a different freight tariff classification, the processor shall figure his transportation charges (by the same means of transportation and to the same destination) on the basis of the new shipping weight, but at the rate in effect for that freight tariff classification on March 17, 1942. Increases in tariff rates or transportation taxes made since March 17, 1942, shall not be taken into account. (Similar principles shall apply where shipping volume is the measure of the transportation charge.) The processor shall then add these transportation charges to his f. o. b. factory price for the commodity in the new container. The resulting figure is the processor's maximum delivered price.

SEC. 3.7 Individual authorization of maximum prices. If the processor's maximum price for an item cannot be determined under the other provisions of this regulation, he shall apply to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for a maximum price. His application shall set forth:

(a) A description in detail of the item for which a maximum price is sought, including its grade and brand name (if any) to be used, the number of packages in each shipping case, and a statement of the facts which make it different from the most similar item for which he has determined a maximum price, identifying the similar item and stating its maximum price;

(b) An itemized current cost breakdown of the item to be priced, showing separately, according to his own system of accounts or regularly prepared operating statements, all major component cost factors (e. g., direct costs, such as raw materials, packaging materials and direct labor; indirect costs, such as indirect labor, factory overhead and selling, advertising and administrative cost, together with an explanation showing the method of allocation of the indirect cost factors; and freight if sold on a delivered basis) indicating whether each cost item is an actual or an estimated cost, and the identical current cost breakdown of the most closely comparable food product which contributes substantially to his total volume of business;

(c) The desired selling price for the item, including a statement showing the necessity for the desired selling price, any discounts or allowances which should be made applicable to the desired price, and (for comparison) the maximum selling price with discounts and allowances, for the second product included in paragraph (b) of this section; and

(d) The method of distribution to be employed by the processor in marketing the item (i. e. whether it is to be sold to wholesalers, retailers, consumers or other classes of purchasers).

Upon receipt of the application, the Office of Price Administration will authorize the maximum price, or a method of determining the maximum price, for the applicant or for the sellers of the item generally, including purchasers for resale or for a class of such resellers. Separate maximum prices will be authorized for sales to government procurement agencies.

Until a maximum price is authorized, the applicant may deliver the item but he may not render an invoice or receive payment for it.

Where any cost factor set forth in the application is an estimated amount, the processor shall file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., within six months but not earlier than three months after his maximum price has been authorized, a statement showing the actual cost of that factor in his production of the item prior to the filing date of such statement.

SEC. 3.8 Restrictions on sales to primary distributors. For sales of any packed citrus product, made during the one-year period commencing October 1, 1943, no processor may sell to primary distributors a greater percentage than he sold to primary distributors during the one year period ending April 28, 1942.

ARTICLE IV—PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO PRIMARY DISTRIBUTORS AND OTHER INTERMEDIATE SELLERS

SEC. 4.1 Maximum prices in sales by primary distributors. "Primary distributor" means a distributor, other than a wholesaler or retailer, who purchases all he sells (for his own account) of the kind and brand of packed citrus product being priced and who customarily receives shipment from the processor of at least 50% of his purchases in carload lots delivered for storage into a warehouse or other receiving station not owned or controlled by any of his customers, for resale by him in less-than-carload lots.

There are two pricing methods for primary distributors.

Pricing method No. 1. A primary distributor may use the following pricing method only if he sold the kind and variety of packed citrus product being priced (as a primary distributor) before April 28, 1942, and he may use this pricing method only when he is selling, in less-than-carload lots, merchandise which he has actually warehoused (in normal situations the pricing method will give him the same dollars-and-cents margin that he previously had).

If the processor's maximum price for the item under this regulation is greater than the processor's maximum price under the maximum price regulation previously applicable to the processor, the primary distributor shall add the difference to the maximum price which he had immediately prior to the effective date of this regulation. If the processor's maximum price for it under this regulation is less than the processor's maximum price under the maximum price regulation previously applicable, the primary distributor shall subtract the difference from the maximum price which he had immediately prior to the effective date of this regulation. However, in no event may the primary distributor's maximum price be greater than his net delivered cost (based upon purchases directly from the processor) plus a mark-up of 8% of that cost. The resulting figure in each case is the primary distributor's maximum price for the item when warehoused by him and sold in less-than-carload lots.

Examples. The processor's ceiling price for grapefruit juice under Maximum Price Regulation 306 and under this regulation are the same, therefore, the primary distributor's maximum price remains the same under this regulation as it was under Maximum Price Regulation 306.

The processor's ceiling price under Maximum Price Regulation 280 for fancy orange juice packed in No. 2 size cans was $1.40 per dozen. Under this regulation it is now $1.70 per dozen. The primary distributor therefore adds the increase of 30 cents to his own ceiling price under Maximum Price Regulation 280, provided that the maximum price so determined does not exceed his net delivered cost plus a mark-up of 8% of that cost.

The primary distributor handled packed grapefruit juice as a primary distributor before April 28, 1942. He added packed orange juice to his line in October, 1942. Although he may use Pricing Method No. 1 for packed grapefruit juice, he must use Pricing Method No. 2 for packed orange juice.

If the primary distributor handled the kind and variety of packed citrus product being priced before April 28, 1942, but did not handle the particular grade, brand, style of pack, container size or type being priced before the effective date of this regulation, his maximum price for the new item shall be his net delivered cost (based on his first purchase of the item after that date direct from the processor) multiplied by a mark-up factor. This mark-up factor shall be figured by dividing his maximum price (as figured under this section) for the most closely comparable item of that kind and variety of packed citrus product already handled by him by the net delivered cost to him of that item. He may apply this mark-up factor only when he is selling in less-than-carload lots merchandise which he has actually warehoused.

Pricing method No. 2. For all items, and for sales of such items, which are not covered by Pricing Method No. 1, the primary distributor's maximum price, f. o. b. shipping point, shall be the maximum price of his supplier, f. o. b. shipping point, plus incoming freight paid by him.

SEC. 4.2 Maximum prices in sales by distributors who are not primary distributors, wholesalers, or retailers. "Distributor" means a person who purchases all he sells (for his own account) of the kind and brand, if any, of packed citrus product being priced and resells it without processing any part of it.

The maximum price, f. o. b. shipping point, of a distributor who is not a primary distributor, wholesaler or retailer shall be the maximum price of his supplier, f. o. b. shipping point, plus incoming freight paid by him.

ARTICLE V—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS OF GENERAL APPLICABILITY

SEC. 5.1 Grades and invoices. (a) The provisions of this section apply to all sellers whether or not processors, who affix labels and cause labels to be affixed to the packed citrus products covered by this regulation, packed by them or purchased for resale. However, the provisions of this section shall not apply to any products sold to government procurement agencies.

(b) The term "grade" when used in this regulation, means the grade, at the time of shipment by the seller, as established and defined by the United States Department of Agriculture.

(c) On and after February 4, 1944, each seller selling any item covered by this regulation shall furnish the purchaser, at or before the time of delivery, with an invoice describing such item and separately stating the grade thereof.

(d) The grade of the item shall be shown on the invoice by use of the United States Department of Agriculture grade designation by letter or descriptive term. For example, the grade of an item which conforms to the specifications for U. S. "Grade A" may be designated on the invoice "Grade A" or by the descriptive term "Fancy".

(e) In any case in which standards or definitions are established by the United States Department of Agriculture or under authority of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act for sirup or packing medium for any packed fruit covered by this regulation, the statement of grade on the invoice shall show the sirup or packing medium and shall be described by the same description as that used in the applicable standard or definition.

(f) A processor shall not be subject to any criminal penalty, civil enforcement action or suit for treble damages under the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, for failure of an item covered by this regulation to conform to the grade designated on the invoice issued with respect thereto if (1) within 90 days prior to shipment of the item by the processor to the purchaser, the Food Distribution Administration (or any successor thereto) has issued to the processor a Certificate of Quality and Condition for Processed Fruits and Vegetables (or any similar certificate) covering a lot or lots which include such item and from which lot or lots samples have been drawn by official graders of the Food Distribution Administration (or any successor thereto) and (2) the grade designated on the invoice conforms to the grade designated on the certificate.

(g) A person who purchases an item covered by this regulation from a processor and who relies in good faith upon the grade designated on the invoice furnished to him by the processor shall not be subject to any criminal penalty or civil enforcement action under the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, in connection with such purchase for failure of the item to conform to the grade designated on the invoice. Such person may resell the item at the grade designated on the invoice and shall not be subject to any criminal penalty, civil enforcement action, or suit for treble damages under the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, in connection with such resale.

(h) Nothing herein contained shall be deemed or construed to restrict or limit any of the requirements of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, or any regulation promulgated thereunder.

SEC. 5.2 Weights. Where label weights are used, prices figured by weight shall be based on the weights named on the label and not on actual fill.

SEC. 5.3 Treatment of federal and state taxes. Any tax incident to the sale, delivery, processing, or use of an item covered by this regulation, imposed by any statute or ordinance, shall be treated as follows in determining the seller's maximum price for the item, and in preparing the records required by this regulation:

(a) As to a tax in effect during March, 1942. (1) If the seller paid the tax or if the tax was paid by any prior vendor, irrespective of whether the amount was separately stated and collected from the seller, but during March 1942 the seller did not customarily state and collect, separately from the purchase price, the amount of the tax paid by him (or tax reimbursement collected from him by his supplier), the seller may not collect the amount in addition to the maximum price under this regulation.

(2) In all other cases, if at the time the seller determines his maximum price the statute or ordinance imposing the tax does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price, and the seller does state it separately, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax actually paid by him (or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior seller and separately stated and collected from the seller by his supplier). In this case the seller shall not include the amount in determining his maximum price under this regulation.

(b) As to a tax or tax increase which becomes effective after March, 1942. If the statute or ordinance imposing the tax or tax increase does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax or increase separately from the purchase price, and the seller does separately state it, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax or increase actually paid by him (or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior seller and separately stated and collected from the seller by his supplier). However, the tax on the transportation of property imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 shall, for purposes of determining the maximum price of any item, be treated as if it were an increase of 3% in the amount charged by persons engaged in the business of transporting property for hire. It shall not be treated as a tax for which a charge may be made in addition to the maximum price. (This exception is derived from, and for the purposes of this regulation supersedes, Supplementary Order No. 31,[6] issued by the Office of Price Administration.)

SEC. 5.4 Units of sale and fractions of a cent. (a) Maximum prices shall be stated in terms of the same general units (like pounds, dozens, etc.) in which the seller has customarily quoted prices for the product.

(b) Amounts computed in the process of figuring a maximum price (other than the maximum price itself) shall be carried to four decimal places (hundredths of a cent). On sales to government procurement agencies, the maximum price itself shall be carried to four decimal places. If any figured maximum price (other than on sales to government procurement agencies) includes a fraction of a cent, the seller shall adjust the price to the nearest fractional unit of a cent (like 1¢, ½¢, etc.) in which he has customarily quoted prices for the product.

SEC. 5.5 Maintenance of customary discounts and allowances. For sales to purchasers other than government procurement agencies, no person shall change any customary allowance, discount or other price differential to a purchaser or class of purchasers, if the change results in a higher net price to that purchaser or class.

SEC. 5.6 Export and import sales. The maximum price at which a person may export any item covered by this regulation shall be determined in accordance with the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation,[7] and amendments. Sales of products which have been processed or packed outside of the geographical area to which this regulation applies are not covered by the regulation except in cases where the goods being priced are located within the area at the time of sale.

the buyer. In each case, the amount paid by the buyer to the seller plus any amount paid by the buyer to the broker shall not exceed the seller's maximum price plus allowable transportation actually paid by the seller or by the broker. The term "broker" includes a "finder".

SEC. 5.8 Notification of new maximum price. With the first delivery of an item after the effective date of this regulation, or any amendment or order of the Office of Price Administration authorizing or directing a change in maximum price, in any case where the seller's new maximum price is different from the maximum price he previously had for the same item, he shall:

(a) Supply each wholesaler and retailer who purchases from him with written notice as set forth below:

NOTICE TO WHOLESALERS AND RETAILERS

Our OPA ceiling price for (describe item by kind, variety, grade, brand, style of pack, and container type and size) has been changed by the Office of Price Administration. We are authorized to inform you that if you are a wholesaler or retailer pricing this item under Maximum Price Regulations Nos. 421, 422 or 423, you must refigure your ceiling price for this item on the first delivery of it to you from your customary type of supplier containing this notification after (insert effective date of this regulation, amendment or order of the Office of Price Administration authorizing or directing change in maximum price). You must refigure your ceiling price following the rules in section 6 of Maximum Price Regulations Nos. 421, 422 and 423, whichever is applicable to you.

For a period of 60 days after determining the new maximum price for the item, and with the first shipment after the 60-day period to each person who has not made a purchase within that time, each seller shall include in each case, carton, or other receptacle containing the item, the written notice set forth above, or securely attach it to the outside. However, for sales direct to any retailer, the seller may supply the notice by attaching it to, or stating it on, the invoice covering the shipment, instead of providing it with the goods.

(b) Notify each purchaser of the item who is a distributor other than a wholesaler and retailer of the establishment of the new maximum price by written notice attached to, or stated on, the invoice issued in connection with the first transaction with such purchaser after the effective date of this regulation, amendment or order of the Office of Price Administration authorizing or directing the change in maximum price, as follows:

NOTICE TO DISTRIBUTORS OTHER THAN WHOLESALERS AND RETAILERS

Our OPA ceiling price for (describe item by kind, variety, brand, style of pack, and container type and size) has been changed from $------- to $------- under the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 509. You are required to notify all wholesalers and retailers for whom you are the customary type of supplier, purchasing the item from you after (insert effective date of this regulation, amendment or order of the Office of Price Administration authorizing or directing change in maximum price), of any allowable change in your maximum price. This notice must be made in the manner prescribed in section 5.8 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 509.

SEC. 5.9 Records which must be kept. Every person who makes sales covered by this regulation shall:

(a) Make and preserve for examination by the Office of Price Administration, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall remain in effect, all records of the same kind as he has customarily kept, relating to the prices which he charged in those sales; and

(b) Preserve for examination by the Office of Price Administration, for the same period, all his existing records which were the basis of figuring his maximum prices in the manner directed by this regulation, showing the method used in figuring the maximum prices.

SEC. 5.10 Sales slips and receipts. Any seller who has customarily given a purchaser a sales slip, receipt, or similar evidence of purchase, shall continue to do so. Upon request, any seller, regardless of previous custom, shall give the purchaser a receipt showing the date, the name and address of the seller, the name of each item sold, and the price received for it.

SEC. 5.11 Transfers of business or stock in trade. If the business, assets or stock in trade of a seller subject to this regulation are sold or otherwise transferred on and after April 28, 1942, and the transferee carries on the business, or continues to deal in the same type of food product, in an establishment separate from any other establishment previously owned or operated by him, the maximum prices of the transferee shall be the same as those to which his transferor would have been subject if no such transfer had taken place, and his obligations to keep records sufficient to verify such prices shall be the same. The transferor shall either preserve and make available, or turn over to the transferee, all records of transactions prior to the transfer which are necessary to enable the transferee to comply with the record provisions of this regulation.

SEC. 5.12 How a maximum price is established and how an established maximum price can be changed. On and after the effective date of this regulation, a price figured for any item becomes established (that is, fixed) as the seller's maximum price for such type of sale as soon as he has either filed the price or disclosed it to any prospective customer, whether by sale, delivery, offer, or notice of any kind, provided that the figured price is not higher than the applicable pricing method allows. A maximum price for any item may be established only once, and it may not be changed by the seller except (a) with the written permission of the District Office of the Office of Price Administration for the area in which he is located in cases where the seller has figured his maximum price lower than the applicable pricing method allows, and (b) in cases where a change in this regulation changes the seller's applicable pricing method, and (c) in cases where a provision of this regulation or order issued under it directs the seller to refigure his price.

If the seller is disclosing a price lower than the one he figured, he may establish the higher (figured) price as his maximum price at the time of disclosure only by recording it and naming it as such, in ink on his books, before he discloses the lower price. A seller who has not figured a price for an item may deliver the item, but he may not receive payment for it until he has established a maximum price in accordance with the rules of this section.

SEC. 5.13 Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration having authority to act upon a pending request for a change in price or to give the authorization. The authorization will be given by order, except that it may be given by letter or telegram when the contemplated revision will be the granting of an individual application for adjustment.

SEC. 5.14 Compliance with this regulation—(a) No selling or buying above maximum prices. Regardless of any contract or obligation no person shall sell or deliver, or buy or receive in the course of trade, any item at a price higher than the maximum price established for the sale by this regulation. However, price lower than the maximum price may be charged and paid.

However, the prohibition of this paragraph does not apply to (1) any war procurement agency of the United States, or its contracting or paying finance officers, or (2) the government (or its agencies) of any country the defense of which the President of the United States deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled, "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States". No such purchaser or person shall be subject to the liabilities otherwise imposed by this section or by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. "War procurement agency" includes the War Department, the Department of the Navy, the United States Maritime Commission, the Lend-Lease Section of the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department, and the following subsidiaries of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation: the Defense Plant Corporation, the Rubber Reserve Corporation, the Metals Reserve Corporation, and the Defense Supplies Corporation, or any of their agencies. (This exception is derived from, and for the purpose of this regulation supersedes, Supplementary Order No. 7,[8] issued by the Office of Price Administration).

(b) Evasion. Nor shall any person evade a maximum price, directly or indirectly, whether by commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege; by tying-agreement or other trade understanding; by any change of style of pack; by a business practice relating to grading, labeling, or packaging, or in any other way.

(c) Enforcement. Any person violating a provision of this regulation is subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension provision, and suits for treble damages provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(d) Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[9] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to the regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 5.15 Adjustment of maximum prices of food products under "Government contracts" or subcontracts.

NOTE: This section is derived from, and for the purpose of this regulation supersedes, Supplementary Order No. 9[10] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(a) The Office of Price Administration, either on its own motion or on application for adjustment in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 6,[11] and amendments, may adjust the maximum price of any seller who has entered into or proposes to enter into a Government contract (or subcontract) for the sale of an item of a food product essential to the war program, whenever it appears that the maximum price impedes or threatens to impede its production, manufacture, or distribution. The applicant's overall profits will be an important consideration in determining the action to be taken.

(b) From 5 days prior to the filing of an application for adjustment until its final disposition, contracts may be entered into or proposed and bids submitted at the price requested in the application, and deliveries may be made under such contracts. However, no amount by which the price exceeds the maximum price may be paid or received until an order granting a higher price has been issued. In each sale, contract to sell, or offer to sell, at a price requested in the application, the seller shall furnish the buyer with a statement showing the following:

(1) The maximum price for the item; and

(2) The filing of an appropriate application with the Office of Price Administration, or the intention to file it within 5 days.

(c) Any government agency may appear as an interested party in connection with the application.

(d) "Food product essential to the war program" means any food product purchased (1) for the ultimate use of the Army, the Navy, the Maritime Commission or the War Shipping Administration of the United States, or the Lend-Lease Section of the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department, or (2) by the government (or its agencies) of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States," or (3) for use in the production or manufacture of any such food product.

"Government contract" means a contract with the United States, or an agency, or with the government (or its agencies) of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Act mentioned above.

"Subcontract" means a purchase order or agreement to perform all or part of the work required under or to make or furnish any commodity needed for the performance of, another Government contract or subcontract.

SEC. 5.16 Applications for adjustment by sellers who have been found to have violated the Robinson-Patman Act.

NOTE: This section is derived from, and for the purpose of this regulation supersedes, Supplementary Order No. 41,[12] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(a) The Office of Price Administration may adjust the maximum price established for any seller in any case in which he shows:

(1) That he has been found by the Federal Trade Commission, or any court of competent jurisdiction, to have discriminated in price between different purchasers of commodities in violation of the provisions of the Robinson-Patman Act (49 Stat. 1526) or of any state statute prohibiting price discrimination; and

(2) That the elimination of the discrimination by lowering his price to the purchasers against whom he has been found to have discriminated would cause him substantial hardship; and

(3) That the elimination of the discrimination by increasing his price to the purchasers in whose favor he has been found to have discriminated is prohibited by this regulation.

(b) Applications for adjustment under this provision shall be filed with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1,[13] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 5.17 Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking a general modification of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

Effective date. This regulation shall become effective February 4, 1944.

NOTE: All record-keeping and reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget, in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 4th day of February 1944.

PART 1439—UNPROCESSED AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES

OATS, BARLEY AND GRAIN SORGHUMS

In the judgment of the Price Administrator it is necessary and proper, in order to effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders Nos. 9250 and 9328, that the maximum prices for the sale of oats, barley and grain sorghums, as established by Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 33, be continued in effect as provided in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 511.

This regulation is issued pursuant to a directive of the Economic Stabilization Director, under section 5 of Executive Order 9328, authorizing and directing the Price Administrator and the Food Administrator to issue a regulation establishing maximum prices on oats, barley and grain sorghums which are substantially the same in effect as those established by Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 33. Since the prices so established will exceed those which would reflect parity, the Economic Stabilization Director has further directed the Price Administrator and the Food Administrator to prepare and issue as rapidly as is reasonably possible either a revision of this regulation or new regulations which will establish maximum prices on oats, barley and grain sorghums that will reflect parity to the producers of these agricultural commodities.

In fixing the maximum prices established by this regulation, adequate weighting has been given to farm labor and, so far as practicable, representative members of the industry which will be affected have been consulted. In the judgment of the Price Administrator the maximum prices herein established are in accordance with and will further the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders Nos. 9250 and 9328. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

[Rev. Supp. Order 13]

RETAIL SELLERS OPERATING OR INTENDING TO OPERATE MORE THAN ONE ESTABLISHMENT

Supplementary Order No. 13 is redesignated Revised Supplementary Order No. 13 and is revised and amended to read as follows:

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this order, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.[4] For the reasons set forth in that statement and under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended it is hereby ordered:

§ 1305.17 Determination of maximum prices by sellers at retail operating or intending to operate more than one establishment. (a) A seller who owns or operates one or more establishments selling commodities at retail and who has or desires to establish the practice of selling designated commodities at uniform prices in all or certain of such establishments may make written application for such authorization to the Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration within which the seller's main office is located, provided the seller can propose a practicable method of determining prices centrally without increasing the general level of prices and can demonstrate the advisability thereof as an aid to price control. The application shall set forth:

(1) The applicant's name and, where any difference exists, the name under which sales are made, and the principal office address;

(2) The number of separate establishments now owned or operated and the number about to be acquired by the applicant, and shall include four copies of the complete addresses of all such establishments arranged by states;

(3) The kinds of commodities dealt in by such establishments;

(4) Whether commodities are or will be purchased centrally and distributed to such establishments by the applicant, or are to be purchased separately by such establishments, and if purchased separately, what commodities are to be so purchased;

(5) A detailed description of how prices have been established for the various establishments both prior and subsequent to March 1942 and of any price differentials known to exist;

(6) If prices have not been substantially uniform in the past, the reason therefor or cause thereof, together with the reason why uniformity is now desired;

(7) A detailed description of the method the applicant desires to use in determining prices and the means proposed to be adopted to insure centralized control over future prices in such establishments;

(8) Whether the applicant produces, manufactures, or fabricates any commodities to be thus sold or is affiliated with any producer, manufacturer or fabricator of any such commodity;

(9) The cumulative average initial net mark-up taken by the applicant in 1941, and in the first and second six months of 1942, or in its fiscal periods most closely corresponding to the above periods, or, where such figures are not readily available, some comparable figures, such as gross profit figures, for such periods;

(10) Whether uniform selling prices are now or are to be determined and marked in a central office;

[4] Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

(11) The names and addresses of the applicant's most closely competitive sellers of the same class on a national or regional basis, and, if an applicant having less than ten existing establishments wishes to open one or more new establishments, the four closest competitors each such new establishment would have if it were a separate seller; and

(12) Any other facts which the applicant wishes to submit. If such authorization is given, it will be accompanied by instructions as to the method by which the seller shall determine and use uniform maximum prices under the applicable maximum price regulation.

Each store must keep such list and all records pertaining to commodities purchased and priced by the individual store, together with its own base period price statements, but all records of costs, pricings, and computations for commodities centrally purchased shall be kept only in the central or main pricing office.

SECTION 1. Definitions. (a) When used in this regulation the term:

(1) "Private formula product" means a drug or cosmetic product to be sold under the label or brand name of a person other than the manufacturer thereof.

(2) "Drug" means any product for internal or external administration, intended to be used for the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment, or prevention of diseases of man or animals.

(3) "Cosmetic" means any product intended to be rubbed, poured, sprinkled, or sprayed upon, or introduced into, or otherwise applied to the human body or any part thereof for cleansing, beautifying, promoting attractiveness, or altering the appearance. Soap is not a cosmetic, but, as used herein, the term "cosmetic" includes shaving soap and liquid shampoo.

(4) "Affiliated." A buyer and seller will be deemed to be "affiliated" if the buyer owns more than 50 per cent of the stock or assets of the seller, if the seller owns more than 50 per cent of the stock or assets of the buyer, or if a third person owns more than 50 per cent of the stock or assets of both buyer and seller.

(5) "Most comparable private formula product" means the private formula product selected by the manufacturer, according to the procedure set forth below, from those private formula products of his manufacture for which maximum prices for his sales have already been established under an applicable regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration, and which comply with the following conditions:

(i) The unit direct costs of each product do not differ from those of the private formula product being priced by more than 50 per cent.

(ii) The maximum price of each product was established on the basis of the production of a number of units of the product in any one batch or single continuous run which does not differ by more than 30 per cent from the number of units he contemplates producing in any one batch or single continuous run of the private formula product being priced.

(iii) The maximum price for each product was established on a sale to a non-affiliated buyer, except that where the product being priced is sold to an affiliated buyer, each product may be one whose maximum price was established on a sale to that buyer.

The following steps in the order of selection are to be applied to the products or product meeting the above requirements in the order listed until only one private formula product is left which is the "most comparable private formula product." If any step eliminates all the private formula products selected by the preceding step in the list, there shall be applied to such private formula products the first succeeding step in the list which will select at least one such private formula product.

(a) The manufacturer shall first select from the private formula products of his manufacture specified above those which are made by the same or similar manufacturing processes as the private formula product being priced.

(b) Then from these he shall select those having the same general use as the private formula product being priced.

(c) Then from these, he shall select those having the same or similar physical form as the private formula product being priced.

(d) Then from these he shall select the one whose maximum price was determined on the basis of the production in any one batch or single continuous run of a number of units most similar to the number of units he contemplates producing in any one batch or single continuous run of the private formula product being priced.

(e) In case step (d) selects more than one private formula product, he shall select from these, the one whose unit direct cost is most similar to that of the private formula product being priced.

(6) "Unit direct cost" means the sum of the costs per manufacturer's sales unit of the private formula product of direct labor and materials, computed on the basis of the following wage rates, material prices, and operating conditions:

(i) Wage rates. The wage rates shall be no higher than those permitted by law and no higher than the average wage rates in effect for each class of labor used in the manufacturer's plant at the time such product is being priced under this regulation.

(ii) Material costs. Material costs shall be those based on prices being paid at the time the product is being priced, but shall in no event be based on prices higher than the maximum prices established by the applicable maximum price regulations.

Where the material whose cost is being determined is tax paid alcohol, the price specified above shall be the price for such alcohol, fully tax paid without drawback, less the following amounts:

(a) If the material costs are being determined for a private formula product whose maximum price was established prior to November 1, 1942, $2.00 per proof gallon.

(b) If material costs are being determined for any other private formula product as to which the manufacturer would be eligible to receive a drawback under section 3250 (1) of the Internal Revenue Code, $3.75 per proof gallon.

(iii) Operating conditions. The computation shall be made on the basis of the production technique employed in the plant at the time such product is being priced and on the basis of the actual volume of production in any one batch or single continuous run of such comparable product and the contemplated volume of production in any one batch or single continuous run of the product being priced.

(7) "Trade practices" includes credit practices and practices relating to the payment of transportation costs.

(8) "Transportation costs" or "freight charges" shall be deemed to include the tax imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Pub. Law 753, 77th Cong., approved October 21, 1942), as if it were a like increase in the rate or the amount charged by the carrier for the transportation in question.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and in the General Maximum Price Regulation shall apply to other terms used in this regulation.

SEC. 2. Applicability of other price regulations—(a) General Maximum Price Regulation[1] The General Maximum Price Regulation shall not apply to sales or deliveries of private formula products covered by this regulation on and after February 11, 1944, except that the provisions specified below shall apply to sales and deliveries covered by or sellers subject to this regulation.

(3) Section 11. Base period records.
(4) Section 12. Current records.

(b) This regulation shall not apply and Maximum Price Regulation No. 165—Services shall apply where all of the materials, including packaging materials, are supplied by the buyer.

(c) Exports (Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation[3] applicable). The maximum prices at which a person may export private formula products shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Second Revised Maximum Price Regulation.

(d) Imports (Maximum Import Price Regulation[4] applicable). The provisions of this regulation shall not apply and the Maximum Import Price Regulation shall apply to the purchases, sales or deliveries of private formula products, if they originate outside of and are imported into the continental United States. SEC. 4. Prohibition against sales at higher than maximum prices. (a) On and after February 11, 1944, regardless of any contract or other obligation:

(1) No manufacturer shall sell or deliver any private formula product at a price higher than the maximum price established by this regulation.

(2) No person shall buy or receive any such product, in the course of trade or business, at a higher price than the maximum price established by this regulation.

(3) No person shall agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do any of the foregoing.

(b) The buyer shall be deemed to have complied with this section if, at the time of purchasing, the buyer receives from the seller a written statement that to the best of his knowledge the price does not exceed the maximum price established by this regulation and that he has fully complied with this regulation, and if the buyer has no reason to doubt the truth of the statement

(c) Nothing in this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 282 shall prevent the fulfillment of contracts entered into before February 11, 1944 for the sale of private formula products at prices not exceeding the maximum prices established by Maximum Price Regulation No. 282 before revision or the General Maximum Price Regulation, whichever is applicable.

SEC. 5. Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those established by this regulation may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

SEC. 6. Maximum prices for private formula products priced before February 11, 1944. The maximum price for a sale of a private formula product which is the same as such a product for which a maximum price has been established under an applicable maximum price regulation shall be the maximum price so established if:

(a) The number of units to be manufactured in any one batch or single continuous run does not vary by more than 30 per cent from the number manufactured in any one batch or single continuous run of the production on the basis of which the maximum price was established, and

(b) The maximum price was established on a sale to a non-affiliated buyer or on a sale to the same buyer, whether affiliated or not.

SEC. 7. Maximum prices for private formula products which cannot be priced under section 6 above. (a) The maximum price for a sale by a manufacturer of any private formula product which cannot be priced under section 6 above shall be no higher than the maximum price determined by the method set forth in subparagraphs (1) or (2) below:

(1) Where comparable product exists. The maximum price per unit shall be the unit direct cost of the private formula product being priced multiplied by the mark-up factor obtained on the sale of the most comparable product. Such mark-up factor shall be computed by dividing the maximum price per unit on such sale by the current unit direct cost of the most comparable product.

Where the buyer supplies part of the material, including packaging material, for the production of the product being priced, such material shall not be included in computing the unit direct cost of such product.

Where the buyer supplied part of the material, including packaging material, for the production of the most comparable product at the time a maximum price therefor was established, the current market value, of such material not in excess of the applicable maximum price therefor, shall be used in computing the current unit direct cost of the most comparable product, unless such material was not included in computing the costs and price of the most comparable product at the time a maximum price therefor was established.

All customary discounts, trade practices, and practices relating to the payment of transportation charges in effect with respect to the sale of such a comparable product shall apply to such maximum price.

(2) Where no comparable product exists. The maximum price for such new private formula product shall be in line with the level of maximum prices established by this regulation and authorized by the Office of Price Administration in accordance with the procedure set forth in paragraph (b) below:

(b) Report of price. Before any manufacturer may deliver any private formula product priced under this section, either by reference to a comparable product under paragraph (a) (1) above, or otherwise under paragraph (a) (2) above, he shall submit by registered mail to the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C., a report upon OPA Form No. 6812:277, also known as Appendix C of the General Maximum Price Regulation, duly filled out. He may use a form copied from such form. Copies of the form may be obtained from the district, regional or national offices of the Office of Price Administration.

Where no comparable product exists, the part of the form specified in the above paragraph pertaining to a comparable article shall not be filled out.

In addition to the information specified in the said form, the manufacturer shall include therewith a statment showing:

(1) The name and address of the prospective purchaser of the private formula product being priced, whether or not the purchaser is under common control or ownership with the seller and, if so, the facts pertaining to the same.

(2) The number of units to be sold and to be manufactured in any one batch or single continuous run and the prospective dates of manufacture and delivery of the product being priced.

(3) The number of units sold and manufactured in any one batch or single continuous run on the sale of the most comparable product for which a maximum price was established.

(4) Trade practices including credit, container and transportation provisions.

(5) All materials (including packaging materials) supplied by the buyer the costs of which were not included in computing the cost and price of the most comparable product at the time a maximum price therefor was established, including the quality, grade and specification of each such material and the amount of each used per unit of the product.

(6) All materials (including packaging materials) supplied by the buyer of the product being priced, including the quality, grade and specification of each such material and the amount of each used per unit of the product.

(7) Where no comparable product exists, the manufacturer shall also include in the statement:

(i) The reasons why such product cannot be priced under section 6 or section 7 (a) (1) above.

(ii) The maximum price proposed by the manufacturer together with a detailed explanation of the method by which the manufacturer computed such price.

(iii) The reasons why the manufacturer believes the proposed price to be in line with the level of maximum prices established by this regulation.

After mailing the report, or report and statement, the manufacturer may make deliveries at prices not in excess of those reported. If, at the expiration of twenty days from the date of mailing the report, the manufacturer has not received from the Office of Price Administration a written disapproval of the reported proposed maximum prices, such prices shall be considered as authorized. If not approved, the Office of Price Administration may require refunds to be made.

(c) The Price Administrator may by letter or otherwise adjust any such reported prices which he finds are not in conformity with the regulation or which he determines to be excessively high; but, unless a written disapproval has been mailed to the manufacturer within said twenty-day period, not until after giving the manufacturer notice and a reasonable opportunity to present additional evidence. Such adjusted price shall not be retroactive unless written disapproval has been mailed to the manufacturer within said twenty-day period. No retroactive adjustment shall be made as to deliveries made between the end of said twenty-day period and the date the disapproval is received by the manufacturer.

SEC. 8. Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of, or relating to, a private formula product, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity, or by way of commission, service, transportation or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement, or other trade understanding, or by transactions with or through the agency of subsidiaries or affiliates, or otherwise.

SEC. 9. Licensing and enforcement. (a) The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1, licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

(b) Persons violating any provisions of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings and suits for treble damages provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 10. Applications for adjustment. (a) If the materials and labor used by a manufacturer in the production of a private formula product have increased in cost to him so substantially since a maximum price was established for the product that he cannot continue to use those materials in the production of the product or to continue to produce the product, he may file an application for adjustment of his maximum price for the product. The application must show:

(1) The name and address of the prospective purchaser of the product, whether or not the purchaser is under common control or ownership with the seller, and, if so, the facts pertaining to the same.

(2) Name, description, unit of sale and production, established maximum selling price of the product, and full terms of sale.

(3) Itemization of direct material and labor costs per unit, including the cost, quantity, and name and address of the supplier of each item of material, at the time the maximum price was established for the product.

(4) Total current costs of production per unit for the product including:

(i) Itemization of direct material and labor costs per unit including the cost, quantity and name and address of the supplier of each item of material and, if increased labor costs are shown, a full explanation of the reason for the increase and a showing that any wage rates subject to approval by the War Labor Board have been approved by that Board.

(ii) Other manufacturing costs directly assignable to the production of the product such as: indirect labor, factory supplies, repairs and maintenance of building, machinery and equipment, insurance, property taxes, depreciation at normal rates on plant and equipment actually used in manufacture, purchased utility services, and other items commonly associated with factory operation.

(iii) Other general administrative and selling expenses such as: executive and administrative salaries, office expense, commissions, advertising, and similar items but not including income or excess profit taxes, charges to war reserves, or reserves for contingencies.

(iv) The method of allocating the costs and expenses to the product. The costs and expenses of production may be broken down in the detail and in accordance with the method customarily used by the manufacturer in computing his cost of production of the product, but shall show general administrative and selling expenses separately.

(5) Profit and loss statements for each of the calendar or fiscal years between 1936 and 1939, inclusive, and for the most recent full fiscal or calendar year, and for each of the quarters thereafter, prior to the date of filing the application. The filing of the financial data designated in this item is optional. Should the applicant prefer and so requests, this information will be obtained by the Office of Price Administration directly from the Bureau of Internal Revenue. If the applicant has submitted any of such data on Office of Price Administration Financial Report Forms A or B for certain periods or has furnished same on a previous application for adjustment of a maximum price, he may so state and omit those periods in his present report.

(6) If the manufacturer applies for an adjustment of his maximum price per unit to a price no higher than the total current cost of production per unit less general administrative and selling expenses, he need not include in the application the data required on general administrative and selling expenses by subparagraph (iii) of paragraph (4) above nor the profit and loss statements required by paragraph (5) above.

(7) The proposed selling price and terms of sale.

(8) A written statement signed by the prospective buyer of the private formula product from the manufacturer that he can and agrees to absorb the increased costs, stating the amount of the same, and that he will not increase his prices to a purchaser from him on a sale of the product under Maximum Price Regulation 392 or 393, or otherwise, by reason of such increased costs should the application for adjustment be granted nor use a price higher than the unadjusted price for the product in computing a maximum price under Maximum Price Regulation No. 392 or 393 for the same product.

(b) Should the application for adjustment be granted, no sales or deliveries of the product to other buyers may be made at the increased price unless such buyer also signs a statement and agreement similar to that required in paragraph (a) (8) above.

(c) Any buyer who fails to carry out such an agreement shall be in violation of this regulation.

(d) No adjustment granted under this section shall exceed the increases in cost of direct labor and materials, and any such adjustment shall be additionally limited as set forth below: (As used below "over-all profits" means over-all profits before deduction of income and excess profit taxes.)

(1) To an amount sufficient to make the adjusted price per unit equal to the total current cost of production per unit less general administrative and selling expenses, where applicant's current over-all profits on an annual basis are at least 15 per cent greater than his average annual over-all profits during the years 1936–1939, inclusive (or other appropriate peace-time base period).

(2) To an amount sufficient to make the adjusted price per unit equal to the total current cost of production per unit, where applicant's current over-all profits on an annual basis are less than 15 per cent greater, but not appreciably less, than his average annual over-all profits during the period 1936–1939, inclusive (or other representative peace-time base period), but not in excess of an amount which will cause his current over-all profits on an annual basis to equal or exceed 115 per cent of his average annual over-all profits during such base period.

(3) To an amount sufficient to make the adjusted price per unit equal to the total current cost of production per unit plus a reasonable margin of profit per unit, where applicant's current over-all profits on an annual basis are appreciably less than his average annual over-all profits during the period 1936–1939, inclusive (or other representative peace-time period), but not in excess of an amount which will cause his current over-all profits on an annual basis to exceed his average annual over-all profits during such base period.

(e) Any application for an adjustment under this section shall be filed in accordance with subpart B of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.[1]

SEC. 11. Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

Effective date. This regulation shall become effective February 11, 1944.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 5th day of February 1944.

Administrator.

12	⅕ quart	24.87	2.73
24	1 pint	31.19	1.75
48	½ pint	32.51	.92

(d) Maximum prices for sales outside the Island of Oahu of compounded liquor manufactured in the Territory of Hawaii. (1) The maximum prices for sales to consumers in the Territory of Hawaii outside the Island of Oahu shall be the maximum prices as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, plus the following: .05¢ per bottle on ½ gallons, .03½ per bottle on quarts or ⅕ quarts, .01¢ per bottle on pints and ½ pints.

(2) The maximum prices for sales to wholesalers, retailers or dispensers in the Territory of Hawaii outside the Island of Oahu shall be the maximum prices as set forth in subparagraphs (1), (2), and (3) of paragraph (b) of this section, plus the amount of actual transportation costs from the point of manufacture to the buyer's place of business, or to any other point designated by him, actually paid, or to be paid, by the seller. To the extent that such transportation is accomplished in vehicles owned or controlled by the seller, or any other prior vender, no charge may be made therefor without first obtaining written authorization from the Office of Price Administration. Whenever transport is by air, the amount of excess of the actual cost of air freight over the cost of ocean freight for a similar shipment may not be included in the amount to be added for transportation costs unless the buyer requests shipment by air or that his order be filed from shipments that have been transported by air.

(e) Miscellaneous—(1) Taxes. The prices contained in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section do not include the 6% Territorial Tax, which may be added, but they include all other taxes.

(2) Maximum prices for sales of less than case lots to wholesalers, retailers or dispensers should be proportional to the prices contained in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section for full cases. For this purpose, where fractions occur the next highest whole cent may be used. For example, the maximum price to be charged dispensers for a case of twelve one-quart bottles of 85 proof gin is $22.57. The price of three bottles would be three-twelfths of $22.57. Since this would produce a price of $5.64¼, the fraction may be raised to the next highest cent, and $5.65 charged. The price for six bottles, however, would be $11.29, for seven bottles $13.17, etc. With respect to less than case sales in gallon sizes, the prices should be proportional to the price for a full case of three bottles. (Note that the rule for handling fractions for purposes of determining less than case prices is not the same as the rule for handling fractions when using the conversion table under paragraph (b).

2. Section 47 (i) is added to read as follows:

(i) Posting and marking of prices. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 10 of this regulation, the following posting and marking provisions shall be applicable to this section 47:

(1) Posting. On and after the effective date of this section every person who sells or offers to sell any article listed and described in paragraph (a) (1) at retail shall post in a conspicuous place in a manner plainly visible to and understandable by the purchasing public in the department or portion of the premises where any such article is sold or offered for sale, a sign stating "Each pair of shoes and slippers in this store (or on this counter, shelf, or in this case, bin or rack) is marked and sold at our ceiling price or less."

(2) Marking. On and after the effective date of this section no person shall sell or deliver or offer for sale any article listed and described in paragraph (a) (1) at retail unless there is firmly attached to such article a stamp, tag or other marking showing the selling price. Such selling price must be plainly visible to and understandable by the purchasing public.

This amendment shall become effective as follows:

(a) As to section 25 as of November 8, 1943.

(b) As to section 47 (i), on February 11, 1944.

GINNED SPANISH MOSS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Section 6.40 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 6.40 Ginned Spanish moss. This section establishes maximum prices for all sales of ginned Spanish moss except sales at retail. "Ginned Spanish moss" is a fibre derived from the plant dendropogon usnecides by removing the outer covering through a combination of fermentation and ginning.

(a) Maximum prices for ginner's sales. (1) Except as provided in subparagraph (2), below, the maximum prices applicable to sales of ginned Spanish moss by the ginner thereof are:

MAXIMUM PRICES F. O. B. GIN

[Cents per pound, any quantity]

	Sales to industrial users	All other sales
Black moss	17¾	16½
All other moss	16¼	15

The prices enumerated above include commissions and all other charges. They are net prices except that the prices for sales to industrial users are subject to terms of 2% 10 days, net 30 days.

(2) The provisions of this subparagraph (2) are applicable only to those ginners who, during March 1942, had an established practice of making sales of ginned Spanish moss for shipment or delivery in less than carload quantities direct to industrial users from warehouse stocks maintained by the ginner at points other than the location of his gin or gins. The maximum prices established by this paragraph apply only to sales by such a ginner for shipment or delivery from warehouses located at points other than the gin and only on sales to industrial users. The maximum price, f. o. b. warehouse, shall be determined by adding to the applicable price enumerated below the rail freight at the carload rate from the producing gin to the warehouse. The invoice or other memorandum delivered to the purchaser by the ginner shall separately state the amount added for freight from the gin to the warehouse.

[Cents per pound]

Quantity	Black moss	All other moss
Carload lots (minimum 20,000 lbs.)	17¾	16¼
Less than carload lots:
5,000 lbs. or over	18½	17
500 lbs. to 4,999 lbs.	19	17½
499 lbs. or less	22½	21

The above prices include commissions and all other charges and are subject to terms of 2% 10 days, net 30 days.

(b) Maximum prices for all other sales. The maximum prices, f. o. b. producing gin, applicable to sales of ginned Spanish moss by all persons other than the ginner are set forth below.

[Cents per pound

Quantity	Black moss	All other moss
Carload lots (minimum 20,000 lbs.)	17¾	16¼
Less than carload lots:
5,000 lbs. or over	18½	17
500 lbs. to 4,999 lbs.	19	17½
499 lbs. or less	22½	21

The above prices include commissions and all other charges, except as specified below, and are subject to terms of 2% 10 days, net 30 days.

The above prices are for shipment direct from the producing gin to the purchaser. In the case of sales for shipment from a warehouse located at a point other than the location of the producing gin, rail freight at the carload rate from the gin to such warehouse may be added to the above prices. The invoice or other memorandum delivered to the purchaser by the seller shall separately state the amount added for freight from the gin to the warehouse.

This amendment shall become effective February 11, 1944.

PART 1407—RATIONING OF FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[Rev. RO 3,[2] Amdt. 1]

SUGAR

A rationale accompanying this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Revised Ration Order 3 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1407.91 (b) (9) is added to read as follows:

(9) The amount of imported sugar-containing products used in excess of the amount permitted by § 1407.177 of this order.

2. Section 1407.170 (c) is amended by deleting the words "or Mexico".

3. An undesignated center headnote and § 1407.176 are added to read as follows:

IMPORTED SUGAR-CONTAINING PRODUCTS

§ 1407.176 General. (a) For the purposes of this section and §§ 1407.91, 1407.177, and 1407.178 of this order:

(1) "Imported sugar-containing product" means any product in which sugar was used (or containing an ingredient in which sugar was used), manufactured outside the 48 States of the United States and the District of Columbia. However, the term does not include processed foods (as defined in Revised Ration Order 13) or foods covered by Ration Order 16;

(2) Whenever any reference is made to the "amount" of an imported sugar-containing product, it shall be taken to mean the amount of sugar used in that product.

4. Section 1407.177 is added to read as follows:

§ 1407.177 Amount of imported sugar-containing products which may be used. (a) Any person may use imported sugar-containing products in the production or manufacture, or in the preparation for service, of other products, without giving up stamps, certificates, or checks, as follows:

(1) He may, during the period from May 1, 1944 through June 30, 1944, and during any allotment period beginning on or after July 1, 1944, use an amount not exceeding that which he used during the corresponding period in 1941. If, however, during any such period he uses an amount of imported sugar-containing products which is less than the amount he used during the same period in 1941, he may use the difference during any subsequent allotment period.

(2) He may also use any imported sugar-containing products in his possession or in transit to him on May 1, 1944, if by that date they were already in any of the 48 States of the United States or the District of Columbia and had been released by the Collector of Customs.

(b) If a registered industrial or institutional user desires to use a larger amount of imported sugar-containing products than permitted by paragraph (a), he must first give up to the board ration evidences covering that additional amount.

(c) The above restrictions do not apply to any imported sugar-containing products which a person uses primarily for consumption by himself, members of his family unit, or persons eating at his table or on a farm he operates.

(d) No person may use an imported sugar-containing product in the production or manufacture, or in the preparation for service, of other products, except to the extent permitted by this section, unless specifically authorized by the Director of Food Rationing of the Office of Price Administration.

(e) A person who uses imported sugar-containing products must make and keep a record showing the amount used by him in each month beginning with May 1944. In addition, every person who uses imported sugar containing products under paragraph (a) (1) of this section must make and keep a record showing the amount he used in each month of 1941 and a person using imported sugar-containing products under paragraph (a) (2) of this section must keep a record showing the amount in his possession or in transit to him on May 1, 1944. (This paragraph does not apply to products used as permitted by paragraph (c).)

(f) Every person who uses imported sugar-containing products must, within ten days after the allotment period in which he uses them, report to the district office, in any convenient form, the amount he used in that period. He must in addition, when making his first report, attach a statement showing the amount he used during each quarter of 1941. (This paragraph does not apply to products used as permitted by paragraph (c).)

5. Section 1407.178 is added to read as follows:

§ 1407.178 Deliveries of imported sugar-containing products. (a) Any person who knows or has reason to believe that a product is an imported sugar-containing product may not deliver it unless the container in which it is packaged when delivered is marked to show plainly that it is an imported sugar-containing product. Any invoice or sales slip involving an imported sugar-containing product must be similarly marked.

(b) Any person who knows or has reason to believe that a product he is delivering is an imported sugar-containing product which will be used in the production or manufacture, or in the preparation for service, of another product (other than under § 1407.177 (c)), must make and keep a record showing the amount of sugar in the product, the date of delivery, and the name and address of the person to whom the delivery is made.

(c) Any person who imports or receives an imported sugar-containing product from the Collector of Customs must keep a record showing the amount of sugar in the product.

(d) Any person who imports or receives imported sugar-containing products from the Collector of Customs shall, beginning in June 1944, prepare and sign a report in duplicate, in any convenient form, showing:

(1) The amount imported by him during the preceding month; and

(2) The names and addresses of the persons to whom he delivered imported sugar-containing products during the preceding month and the amount delivered to each such person.

The original of the report shall be sent to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., not later than the 10th day of each month; the duplicate shall be retained by the person reporting.

6. Section 1407.179 is added to read as follows:

§ 1407.179 Miscellaneous record-keeping provision. (a) A person required to keep records under §§ 1407.177 or 1407.178 must keep them at his principal business office for a period of two years and must make them available for inspection by representatives of the Office of Price Administration.

This amendment shall become effective May 1, 1944.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

PILOT RULES

By virtue of the authority vested in me by sec. 2, 30 Stat. 102, 38 Stat. 381 (33 U.S.C. 157) and Executive Order 9083, dated February 28, 1942 (7 F.R. 1609), the following amendment to the Inspection and Navigation regulation is prescribed:

PART 312—PILOT RULES FOR INLAND WATERS

Effective as of April 1, 1944, section 312.16 is deleted and the following substituted in its stead:

§ 312.16 Lights for barges, canal boats and scows in tow of steam vessels on certain inland waters on the seaboard, except the Hudson River and adjacent waters and Lake Champlain. On the harbors, rivers, and other inland waters of the United States, except the Great Lakes and their connecting and tributary waters as far east as Montreal and the Red River of the North and rivers emptying into the Gulf of Mexico and their tributaries, and except on the waters of the Hudson River and its tributaries from Troy to the boundary lines of New York Harbor off Sandy Hook as defined pursuant to section 2 of the act of Congress of February 19, 1895, the East River, and Long Island Sound (and the waters entering thereon, and to the Atlantic Ocean), to and including Narragansett Bay, R. I., and tributaries, and Lake Champlain, barges, canal boats and scows in tow of steam vessels shall carry lights as follows:

Barges and canal boats towing astern of steam vessels, when towing singly, or what is known as tandem towing, shall each carry a green light on the starboard side and a red light on the port side, and a white light on the stern, except that the last vessel of such tow shall carry two lights on her stern, athwartship, horizontal to each other, not less than 5 feet apart, and not less than 4 feet above the deck house, and so placed as to show all around the horizon. A tow of one such vessel shall be lighted as the last vessel of a tow.

When two or more boats are abreast, the colored lights shall be carried at the outer sides of the bows of the outside boats. Each of the outside boats in last tier of a hawser tow shall carry a white light on her stern.

The white light required to be carried on stern of a barge or canal boat carrying red and green side lights except the last vessel in a tow shall be carried in a lantern so constructed that it shall show an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 12 points of the compass, namely, for 6 points from right aft on each side of the vessel, and shall be of such a character as to be visible on a dark night with a clear atmosphere at a distance of at least 2 miles.

Barges, canal boats or scows towing alongside a steam vessel shall, if the deck, deck houses, or cargo of the barge, canal boat or scow be so high above water as to obscure the side lights of the towing steamer when being towed on the starboard side of the steamer, carry a green light upon the starboard side; and when towed on the port side of the steamer, a red light on the port side of the barge, canal boat or scow; and if there is more than one barge, canal boat or scow abreast, the colored lights shall be displayed from the outer side of the outside barges, canal boats or scows.

Barges, canal boats or scows shall, when being propelled by pushing ahead of a steam vessel, display a red light on the port bow and a green light on the starboard bow of the head barge, canal boat or scow, carried at a height sufficiently above the superstructure of the barge, canal boat or scow as to permit said side lights to be visible; and if there is more than one barge, canal boat or scow abreast, the colored lights shall be displayed from the outer side of the outside barges, canal boats or scows.

The colored side lights referred to in these rules for barges, canal boats and scows in tow shall be fitted with inboard screens so as to prevent them from being seen across the bow, and of such a character as to be visible on a dark night, with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least 2 miles, and so constructed as to show a uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass, and so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on either side. The minimum size of glass globes shall not be less than 6 inches in diameter and 5 inches high in the clear.

Scows not otherwise provided for in these rules when being towed by steam vessels on the waters covered by the first paragraph of these rules shall carry a white light at each end of each scow, except that when such scows are massed in tiers, two or more abreast, each of the outside scows shall carry a white light on its outer bow, and the outside scows in the last tier shall each carry, in addition, a white light on the outer part of the stern. The white light shall be carried not less than 8 feet above the surface of the water, and shall be so placed as to show an unbroken light all around the horizon, and shall be of such a character as to be visible on a dark night with a clear atmosphere at a distance of at least 5 miles.

TITLE 41—PUBLIC CONTRACTS

Chapter II—Division of Public Contracts

PART 202—MINIMUM WAGE DETERMINATIONS

MEN'S HAT AND CAP INDUSTRY

This matter is before me pursuant to section 1 (b) of the act of June 30, 1936, Pub. No. 846, 74th Cong. (49 Stat. 2036; 41 U.S.C. Supp. III, sec. 35), entitled "An act to provide conditions for the purchase of supplies and the making of contracts by the United States, and for other purposes," otherwise known as the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act.

On November 11, 1943, the Administrator of the Division of Public Contracts issued a notice of opportunity to show cause (8 F.R. 15873) why the minimum wage determination for the Men's Hat and Cap Industry issued on July 28, 1937, and amended January 24, 1938 and June 12, 1942 (2 F.R. 1335, 3 F.R. 224, and 7 F.R. 4495) should not be amended to provide (1) that there shall be no limitation on the number or proportion of auxiliary workers employed in the Uniform Cap and Stitched Hat Branches of the Industry, (2) that any auxiliary workers in the Industry shall be paid not less than 40 cents an hour or $16 per week of 40 hours, arrived at either upon a time or piece-work basis, and (3) that the term "auxiliary workers" as applied to employees in the Uniform Cap and Stitched Hat Branches of the Industry shall include only those employees engaged in auxiliary occupations which were enumerated and defined in the Notice.

The proposed amendments of the minimum wage determination for the Men's Hat and Cap Industry were based upon evidence before the Department obtained in surveys and conferences held pursuant to a prior notice of opportunity to show cause dated December 10, 1942 and the notice dated November 11, 1943, at which representatives of manufacturers' associations and the trade union representing employees in the Men's Hat and Cap Industry were given an opportunity to express their views.

The above notices of opportunity to show cause were sent to trade unions, trade associations and publications and were published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (7 F.R. 10492, 8 F.R. 15873). No substantial objections or statements in opposition to the proposed amendments have been received.

Upon consideration of all the facts and circumstances,

I hereby determine:

§ 202.11 Men's hat and cap industry. (a) The minimum wage for employees engaged in the performance of contracts with agencies of the United States Government subject to the provision of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act (49 Stat. 2036, 41 U.S.C. Supp. III, sec. 35) for the manufacture or supply of men's hats and caps, including men's white sailor and other stitched cloth hats, men's fur-felt hats, men's uniform caps, and women's hats and caps of similar design and construction, shall be 67½ cents an hour or $27 per week of 40 hours, arrived at either upon a time or piece-work basis.

(b) A tolerance of not more than 20 percent of the employees in any one factory, whose activities at any given time are subject to the provisions of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act be granted for auxiliary workers in the Men's Hat and Cap Industry except that there shall be no limitation on the number or proportion of auxiliary workers employed in the uniform cap and stitched hat branches of the Industry, provided that any auxiliary workers in the Industry shall be paid not less than 40 cents an hour or $16 per week of 40 hours, arrived at either upon a time or piece-work basis.

(c) The term "auxiliary workers" as applied to the employees in the uniform cap and stitched hat branches of the Industry shall include only those employees engaged in auxiliary occupations enumerated and defined as follows:

This determination shall be effective and its provisions shall apply to all contracts subject to the Public Contracts Act, bids for which are solicited or negotiations otherwise commenced by the contracting agency on or after March 2, 1944.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 2d day of February 1944.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION.

[Docket No. G-523]

GODFREY L. CABOT, INC., AND CABOT GAS CORP.

ORDER FIXING DATE OF HEARING AND SUSPENDING PROPOSED INCREASED RATES

FEBRUARY 2, 1944.

It appears to the Commission that:

(a) Godfrey L. Cabot, Inc., is engaged in the sale of natural gas to its wholly-owned subsidiary, Cabot Gas Corporation, pursuant to the provisions of Godfrey L. Cabot, Inc., Rate Schedule FPC No. 1 and Supplement No. 8 thereto. Natural gas so obtained by Cabot Gas Corporation is in turn resold by it to Pavilion Natural Gas Company pursuant to Cabot Gas Corporation Rate Schedule FPC No. 1 and Supplements Nos. 1, 3, and 7 thereto.

(b) Cabot Gas Corporation also sells gas at retail in the communities of Hume, Fillmore and Rossburg, New York, in addition to its wholesale sales to Pavilion Natural Gas Company. The latter distributes and sells such gas for ultimate public consumption in Genesee, Livingston and Wyoming Counties, New York.

(c) On January 6, 1944, both Godfrey L. Cabot, Inc., and Cabot Gas Corporation completed the filing of supplemental rate schedules, together with the information required by the amended provisional rules of practice and regulations under the Natural Gas Act, which supplemental rate schedules are designated, respectively, as Supplement No. 9 to Godfrey L. Cabot, Inc., Rate Schedule FPC No. 1 and Supplement No. 8 to Cabot Gas Corporation Rate Schedule FPC No. 1, providing for increased rates for the sales of natural gas referred to in paragraph (a) above.

(d) In purported justification of the proposed increased rates, Godfrey L. Cabot, Inc., states that the existing rate of Cabot Gas Corporation "was fixed in 1937 when the quantity delivered to Cabot Gas Corporation was more than twelve times the present quantity available for delivery, based upon very large production of gas in the fields in which the Company operates. Increased costs of all items, depletion of wells causing great scarcity of gas and a complete failure of return based on the present price require the increase."

Cabot Gas Corporation, in turn, states that it must have increased rates, because the increased rate proposed by Godfrey L. Cabot, Inc., will cause a corresponding increase in the former's expenses.

(e) By letter of December 16, 1943, Pavilion Natural Gas Company requested that the changes in rates proposed by Cabot Gas Corporation be investigated and that it be permitted to intervene in this matter; on January 24, 1944, the Economic Stabilization Director, by the Price Administrator of the Office of Price Administration, filed a petition to intervene in this matter and requested that a hearing be held and that the proposed increased rates be suspended.

(f) Unless suspended by Commission order, said Supplement No. 9 to Godfrey L. Cabot, Inc., Rate Schedule FPC No. 1 and Supplement No. 8 to Cabot Gas Corporation Rate Schedule FPC No. 1 will become effective as of February 5, 1944, pursuant to the provisions of the Natural Gas Act and the amended provisional rules of practice and regulations thereunder.

(g) The proposed increased rates provided for in the aforesaid supplemental rate schedule may result in excessive rates to Cabot Gas Corporation and Pavilion Natural Gas Company and may place an undue burden upon ultimate consumers of natural gas.

The Commission finds that:

It is necessary, desirable and in the public interest that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rates and that such proposed increased rates be suspended pending such hearing and decision thereon.

The Commission orders that:

(A) A public hearing be held commencing on March 7, 1944, at 9:45 a. m., in the Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C., concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rates, subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, contained in Supplement No. 9 to Godfrey L. Cabot, Inc., Rate Schedule FPC No. 1 and Supplement No. 8 to Cabot Gas Corporation Rate Schedule FPC No. 1.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, Supplement No. 9 to Godfrey L. Cabot, Inc., Rate Schedule FPC No. 1 and Supplement No. 8 to Cabot Gas Corporation Rate Schedule FPC No. 1, insofar as those schedules provide for increased rates other than for the sale of natural gas for resale for industrial use only, be and they are hereby suspended until July 5, 1944, or until such time thereafter as such increased rates shall be made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

(C) During the period of such suspension, the rates of Godfrey L. Cabot, Inc., to Cabot Gas Corporation contained in Godfrey L. Cabot, Inc., Rate Schedule FPC No. 1 and Supplement No. 8 thereto and the rates of Cabot Gas Corporation to Pavilion Natural Gas Company contained in Cabot Gas Corporation Rate Schedule FPC No. 1 and Supplements Nos. 1, 3, and 7 thereto shall remain and continue in full force and effect, except insofar as such schedules may be for the sale of natural gas for resale for industrial use only.

(D) At the hearing in this matter, the burden of proof to show that the proposed increase rates are just and reasonable shall be upon Godfrey L. Cabot, Inc., and Cabot Gas Corporation, as provided in section 4 (e) of the Natural Gas Act.

(E) Interested State commissions may participate in said hearing as provided in § 67.4 of the provisional rules of practice and regulations under the Natural Gas Act.

By the Commission.

Secretary.

COORDINATED OPERATIONS BETWEEN POINTS IN TEXAS

Upon consideration of a plan for joint action filed with the Office of Defense Transportation by Alamo Freight Lines, Inc., San Antonio, Texas, and Red Arrow Freight Lines, Inc., Houston, Texas, to facilitate compliance with the requirements and purposes of General Order ODT 3, Revised, as amended (7 F.R. 5445, 6689, 7694; 8 F.R. 4660, 14582; 9 F.R. 947), a copy of which plan is attached hereto as Appendix 1,[1] and

It appearing that the proposed coordination of operations is necessary in order to assure maximum utilization of the facilities, services, and equipment, and to conserve and providently utilize vital equipment, materials, and supplies, of the carriers, and to provide for the prompt and continuous movement of necessary traffic, the attainment of which purposes is essential to the successful prosecution of the war, It is hereby ordered, That:

1. The plan for joint action above referred to is hereby approved and the carriers are directed to put the plan in operation forthwith, subject to the following provisions, which shall supersede any provisions of such plan that are in conflict therewith.

4. The provisions of this order shall not be so construed or applied as to require any carrier subject hereto to perform any service beyond its transportation capacity, or to authorize or require any act or omission which is in violation of any law or regulation, or to permit any carrier to alter its legal liability to any shipper. In the event that compliance with any term of this order, or effectuation of any provision of such plan, would conflict with, or would not be authorized under, the existing interstate or intrastate operating authority of any carrier subject hereto, such carrier forthwith shall apply to the appropriate regulatory body or bodies for the granting of such operating authority as may be requisite to compliance with the terms of this order, and shall prosecute such application with all possible diligence. The coordination of operations directed by this order shall be subject to the carriers' possessing or obtaining the requisite operating authority.

5. All records of the carriers pertaining to any transportation performed pursuant to this order and to the provisions of such plan shall be kept available for examination and inspection at all reasonable times by accredited representatives of the Office of Defense Transportation.

6. The plan for joint action hereby approved and all contractual arrangements made by the carriers to effectuate the plan shall not continue in operation beyond the effective period of this order.

OFFICE OF PRICE ADMINISTRATION.

[Administrative Exception Order 10 Under Rev. RO 13]

UNITED STATES ARMY

SURRENDER OF POINTS IN FOOD PURCHASES

Administrative Exception Order No. 10 under Revised Ration Order 13. Processed foods. The United States Army, purchasing on its own behalf and as purchasing agent for other Government agencies.

Since March 1, 1943 the Army, in procuring processed foods under Food Distribution Order 22–4 for its own account has been surrendering points for such processed foods computed at the point value existing at the time of delivery. Revised Ration Order 13 requires points to be surrendered on the basis of point values existing at the time of transfer.

The Army is anxious to revise its method of computing the number of points to be surrendered so that, for processed foods acquired after January 9, 1944, it will surrender points equal to the point value existing at the time of transfer. To liquidate outstanding indebtednesses for points for processed foods purchased prior to January 10, 1944, the three central Quartermaster Depots of the Army Service Forces advised all suppliers of processed foods holding contracts entered into by the Army, that such suppliers were to send point invoices to the agency holding the contract for the foods, for unshipped balances of processed foods, purchased by the Army for its own account or for the account of the agencies for which the Army acts as procurement agency for processed foods under FDO 22–4. The instruction told the suppliers to compute the point values for such unshipped balance of processed foods at the point values existing on January 10, 1944. The Army has now requested the issuance of an Administrative Exception Order to authorize that procedure.

To require the Army to adjust its point payments so as to surrender additional points in those cases where the point value was higher at the time of transfer than at the time of delivery, and to require the Army to collect points from transferors in those cases where the point value was higher at the time of delivery than at the time of transfer, would involve the review of the numerous contracts entered into by the Army between March 1, 1943 and January 9, 1944, inclusive.

The Army has already advised the suppliers that points will be paid for processed foods purchased prior to January 10, 1944, but undelivered on that date, at the point value existing on January 10, 1944. Since the information has already been disseminated, and since suppliers have begun to send the required point invoices to the agencies holding the contracts entered into on their behalf by the Army, it would create confusion to recall the Army's instruction. For this reason the Office of Price Administration is willing to permit the Army to operate under the instruction it has issued, and thus relieve it of the need to review the numerous contracts entered into between March 1, 1943 and January 9, 1944, inclusive, which would be the only method of bringing its past practices into conformity with the requirements of the order with respect to point payments for processed foods acquired prior to January 10, 1944. Further, an Administrative Exception Order is necessary to permit transferors in these cases to accept point payment for processed foods on a basis different from that required by Revised Ration Order 13.

Authorizing the procedure described herein will not defeat or impair the effectiveness or policy of Revised Ration Order 13, since it will enable the Army to bring its practices into conformity with the provisions of the order without requiring the burdensome review of past contracts.

It is hereby ordered, That the Army, and the other agencies for which the Army acted as procurement agency for processed foods under FDO 22–4, may pay, and the transferors may accept, points for processed foods transferred prior to January 10, 1944, and undelivered by that date, at the point value assigned to the processed foods on January 10, 1944. For all processed foods purchased by the Army after January 9, 1944, the Army and the agencies for which the Army acts as procurement agency will be required to surrender points computed at the point value existing at the time of transfer as required by section 9.5 (b) of Revised Ration Order 13.

This order shall become effective February 7, 1944.

[Rev. Order A–3 Under MPR 188]

CLAY SILO STAVES, ETC.

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

Revised Order No. A–3 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188. Manufacturers' maximum prices for specified building materials and consumers' goods other than apparel. Applications for absorbable adjustment of maximum prices for manufacturers of particular articles under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

Order No. A–3 is revised and amended to read as follows:

An opinion accompanying this Revised Order No. A–3 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

For the purpose of removing price impediments to supply, the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., may adjust maximum prices for particular articles established under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 as hereinafter provided. Applications for adjustment may be made by the seller or the buyer, and shall be filed in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

The provisions of this order apply only to producers of the articles listed below, under the circumstances and to the extent specified.

(a) Who may apply. An application for adjustment will be entertained in the case of any manufacturer of any of the commodities listed below if:

(1) His operating position and his ceiling price or prices for the article are such that he would qualify for relief under (b) below; and

(2) An increase in his ceiling price will not threaten established ceiling prices at retail, because either:

(i) The article is not sold to household consumers but is used in the supply of a commercial, recreational or professional service, and is an inconsequential cost factor that can readily be absorbed by the purchaser without an increase in the price of that service, or

(ii) The article is sold to a very small number of purchasers (who are purchasers for resale and not ultimate consumers, and one of whom accounts for at least one-third of the manufacturer's entire output of the article), and the purchasers are ready to absorb the adjustment requested in the manufacturer's price without either changing their own resale price or prices for the article (if their selling prices are less than their maximum prices) or using the adjustment as a basis for increasing their maximum prices. Letters from them to this effect must accompany the application.

(b) Amount of adjustment. Any adjustment granted under this order will not exceed the following:

(1) If the manufacturer's entire operation is profitable, an amount sufficient to cover the unit manufacturing cost plus packing cost, and shipping cost where delivered prices are quoted or freight is allowed or equalized;

(2) If the manufacturer's entire operation is being conducted at a loss (or will be so within 30 days), an amount sufficient to cover his total unit cost to make and sell the article.

If the article is sold to purchasers for resale any adjustment granted under (1) or (2) above will in no event exceed the amount the customers have agreed to absorb.

(c) Limitations on purchasers for resale. The amount of the increase granted to a manufacturer under this provision shall not hereafter be considered by the customer in calculating his maximum price for the article when resold by him; nor will any petition or application for amendment, adjustment, exception or other relief made by any wholesaler or retailer of the article be entertained by the Office of Price Administration to the extent that such petition or application is based, directly or indirectly, upon the increase in price granted to the manufacturer under this provision.

(d) Definitions. The term "unit manufacturing cost" means the total of direct materials, direct labor, and manufacturing expenses or factory overhead, applicable to each unit of the article.

The term "total unit cost" means the total of unit manufacturing cost and reasonable general, administrative, and selling expenses applicable to the article, excluding income and excess profits taxes.

Depreciation included in cost shall be at rates which do not exceed those approved by the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Expenses not related to the manufacture and sale of the article will be excluded.

(e) Articles covered. This Revised Order No. A–3 applies only to the following commodities:

(1) Building materials:

Clay silo staves.

(2) Consumers' goods:

Dental supplies.
Household furniture (as defined in Order No. 1052 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188).
Optical supplies.
Freehand blown glassware.
Insecticide dusters and sprayers.
Combs for personal use.
Embossed wood top cork closures.
Gas mantle rings.
Scientific glass apparatus.

This Revised Order No. A–3 shall become effective February 7, 1944.

NOTE: The reporting and record keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Order No. G–6 Under Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122, Amendment No. 2. Solid fuels sold and delivered by dealers. Specific maximum prices for bituminous coal sold and delivered by dealers in the Jackson Area of the State of Wyoming.

Pursuant to the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and § 1340.-260 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122, and for the reasons set forth in the accompanying opinion, this Amendment No. 2 is issued.

1. Subparagraphs (1), (2), and (3) of paragraph (b) are amended by adding 20¢ to each of the per-ton prices set forth therein:

2. Paragraph (e) is hereby revoked as of the effective date of this Amendment No. 2.

3. Paragraphs (f) and (g) are hereby redesignated (j) and (k), respectively, and five new paragraphs designated (e), (f), (g), (h), and (i), respectively, are added to read as follows:

(e) Bureau of the Budget approval. The reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget, in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(f) Records. Every person making a sale of solid fuel for which a maximum price is set by this order shall keep a record thereof, showing the date, the name and address of the buyer if known, the per-net-ton price charged, and the solid fuel sold. The solid fuel shall be identified in the manner in which it is described in the order. The record shall also separately state each service rendered and the charge made for it.

(g) Special service charges. If in connection with a sale and delivery of coal made by you in the area covered hereby you, at the request of the purchaser, perform any one or more of the special services set forth below, the maximum prices which you may charge for such special services are those stated below:

(1) Special service charges:

	Per ton	Per half ton
"Wheel-in" or "Carry-in"	$0.60	$0.35
"Pull-back" or "Trimming"	.25	.15
"Carrying up or down stairs"	1.00	.60
"Oil or chemical treatment"	.25	.15

(2) "Wheel-in" or "carry-in" means to transport coal from the vehicle in which delivery is made or from the nearest accessible point of dumping or unloading and place the same in the buyer's bin or storage space, when the physical condition of the premises is such as to prevent dumping or unloading directly into such bin or storage space.

(3) "Pull-back" or "trimming" means to arrange and place coal in the buyer's bin by rehandling the same for the purpose of filling the bin; and the service charge for such "pull-back" or "trimming" shall apply only to the amount of coal so rehandled.

(4) "Carrying up or down stairs" means, generally, the labor involved in carrying coal up or down stairs for depositing in customer's bin or storage space.

(5) "Delivered" means placed in the buyer's bin or storage space by dumping, chuting, or shoveling directly from the seller's truck or vehicle, or where such delivery to the buyer's bin or storage space is physically impossible, by discharging at the point nearest and most accessible to the buyer's bin or storage space at which the coal can be discharged directly from the seller's truck.

(h) Additional charge for delivering beyond area. For a delivery made to a place beyond the area within which the seller has heretofore customarily made free delivery, an additional charge not in excess of any such additional delivery charge regularly and customarily made in December, 1941, may be added to the specific maximum prices established by this order. A dealer who was not in business in December, 1941, or who if in business during that time made no such extra-area deliveries, may take as additional delivery charge the charge of his nearest competitor who was established in business and did make such extra-area deliveries in December, 1941.

(i) Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1, licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation or order. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

[File Nos. 54-89, 59-25, 54-33]

THE UNITED CORPORATIONS

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 2d day of February 1944.

In the matter of The United Corporation, applicant, File No. 54-89; The United Corporation, respondent, File No. 59-25; The United Corporation, applicant, File No. 54-33.

Notice is hereby given that The United Corporation ("United"), a registered holding company, has filed an application for approval of a plan under section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 proposing action described as necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the act, and for the approval of incidental and related transactions;

The transactions proposed in said plan are further described as a step in compliance with the Commission's Order of August 14, 1943, pursuant to section 11 (b) (2) of the act, directing United to change its existing capitalization to one class of stock, namely common stock, and to take such action, in a manner consistent with the provisions of said act, as will cause it to cease to be a holding company;

All interested persons are referred to said plan which is on file in the office of the Commission for a full statement of the transactions therein proposed which may be summarized as follows:

(1) United has outstanding 2,488,712⅛ shares of $3 Cumulative Preference Stock with a voluntary and involuntary liquidating value of $50 per share. At December 31, 1943, accrued and unpaid dividends on said shares of Preference Stock aggregated $12,443,560, or $5.00 per share. On January 19, 1944, a dividend of $1.25 per share was declared payable February 14, 1944. United proposes to offer to exchange for each such share, up to and including 1,244,356 shares of said outstanding Preference Stock, the following:

(a) 1½ shares of common stock of Philadelphia Electric Company,
(b) ¼ share of the common stock of Delaware Power & Light Company, and
(c) $3.75 in cash.

(2) The offer of exchange is proposed to be made with respect to all rights and claims represented by each share of United's $3 Cumulative Preference Stock delivered for exchange, including any and all rights and claims to accrued and unpaid dividends thereon.

(3) If the provisions of the plan are approved by the Commission, it is proposed that the offer of exchange be mailed to holders of the $3 Cumulative Preference Stock, and that the offer remain open for a minimum period of 10 days after such mailing. If, during said 10-day period, more than 1,244,356 shares of the Preference Stock, to which number of shares the offer is limited, shall have been tendered for exchange, it is proposed that a pro-rata distribution of the securities and cash to be exchanged shall be made among all holders who have tendered Preference Stock, on the basis of the total number of shares of Preference Stock tendered. If less than 1,244,356 shares of the Preference Stock shall have been tendered during said 10-day period, it is proposed that the exchange be made for all shares of Preference Stock which shall have been tendered and that the offer shall thereafter remain open, on a "first come, first served" basis, for an additional period of 60 days which the Board of Directors may in its discretion and upon further notice to holders of the Preference Stock extend for a further 60-day period.

(4) The plan further provides that the offer may be accepted only by the deposit with a depositary to be designated by United of the certificates of the shares of $3 Cumulative Preference Stock to be exchanged. Upon presentation by the holder of certificates of the shares of $3 Cumulative Preference Stock to the depositary for exchange, the depositary will deliver to such holder, as soon as practicable, certificates for the aggregate number of shares of Philadelphia Electric Company common stock and Delaware Power & Light Company common stock, respectively, together with the cash payment, to which such holder shall be entitled under the proposed exchange offer.

(5) It is further proposed that in lieu of fractional shares of Philadelphia Electric Company common stock and Delaware Power & Light Company common stock payments in cash will be made on the basis of the closing market price on a designated day or the average closing market price on three successive designated days on the New York Stock Exchange with respect to Philadelphia Electric Company common stock, and on the Philadelphia Stock Exchange with respect to Delaware Power & Light Company common stock.

United holds 2,022,074 shares of Philadelphia Electric Company common stock, representing 19.3% of said company's outstanding voting securities. By virtue of United's ownership of 6,066,223 shares of the common stock of The United Gas Improvement Company, United expects to receive 303,311⅑₀ shares of the common stock of Delaware Power & Light Company, representing 26.1% of the outstanding voting securities of said company, as a partial distribution of capital by The United Gas Improvement Company, pursuant to a supplemental plan approved by an order of the Commission dated December 28, 1943, and subject to the approval of stockholders of The United Gas Improvement Company at a meeting scheduled for February 29, 1944. If the plan for which approval is sought by United is fully consummated, all of the shares of the common stock of Delaware Power & Light Company expected to be received by United will be disposed of and United's holdings of common stock of Philadelphia Electric Company will be reduced from 2,022,074 shares to approximately 155,540 shares, or 1.5% of the outstanding voting securities of said company. In addition, United's outstanding shares of $3 Cumulative Preference Stock will be reduced from 2,488,712⅛ shares to 1,244,356⅛ shares. Shares of Preference Stock to be received by United pursuant to the exchange offer are proposed to be retired in accordance with the applicable provisions of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware.

The Commission being required by the provisions of section 11 (e) of the act, before approving any plan submitted thereunder, to find after notice and opportunity for hearing that such plan, as submitted or as modified, is necessary to effectuate the provisions of subsection (b) of section 11, and is fair and equitable to the persons affected by such plan; and it appearing appropriate in the public interest and in the interests of investors and consumers that notice be given and a hearing be held with respect to said plan; and

It further appearing to the Commission that all of the evidence with respect to The United Corporation holding-company system adduced in the proceeding under section 11 (b) (2) of the act, designated as File No. 59-25 and consolidated with the proceeding designated as File No. 54-33, being the consolidated proceeding in which the Commission entered its order dated August 14, 1943, may have a bearing upon the issues presented by said plan, and that a substantial saving of time and expense will result if such evidence adduced in said prior proceeding is used in connection with the consideration of the issues raised by said plan:

It is ordered, That the portion of the record of the consolidated proceeding designated as File Nos. 59-25 and 54-33, commencing with the hearing of December 11, 1941, and including all of the record thereafter made in said consolidated proceeding, be, and hereby is, incorporated into the record of the proceeding with respect to said plan, and that the records in said consolidated proceeding and in this proceeding be, and hereby are, consolidated, subject, however, and without prejudice, to the Commission's right, upon its own motion or the motion of any interested party, to either strike such portion of the record seller's truck or vehicle, or where such in respect of said prior proceeding under section 11 (b) (2) as may be deemed irrelevant to the issues raised by said plan, or to add to the record of this proceeding any additional portion of the record in said prior proceeding as may be deemed relevant to the issues raised by said plan.

It is further ordered, That a hearing under the applicable provisions of the act and rules thereunder be held at 10 a. m., e. w. t., on the 7th day of March, 1944, in the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, in such room as may be designated on that day by the hearing room clerk in Room 318.

It is further ordered, That Richard Townsend, or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose, shall preside at the hearings in such matter. ELECTRIC POWER AND LIGHT CORP.

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 5th day of February, A. D. 1944.

Notice is hereby given that an amendment to the application or declaration filed in the above matter has been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by Electric Power & Light Corporation ("Electric"). All interested persons are referred to said document which is on file in the office of this Commission for a statement of the transaction therein proposed, which is summarized as follows:

On October 26, 1943, this Commission entered an order in the above proceedings (Holding Company Act Release No. 4644) authorizing Electric to use the proceeds of the sale of the common stock of Idaho Power Company for the acquisition and retirement of Electric's Gold Debentures 5% Series due 2020. Electric in the present amendment proposes to use a portion of such proceeds to purchase all or any part of the present publicly held 65,167 shares of $6 First Preferred Stock of Mississippi Power & Light Company properly tendered to Electric for such purpose within a period of four months after the date of the order of this Commission made in connection herewith. The price to be paid by Electric for such shares will be $100.00 per share, plus an amount equivalent to dividends at the rate of $6.00 per share per annum from the last date as of which dividends have been paid to the date of tender. In the event that any shares are tendered after a record date for the payment of a current quarterly dividend but before the payment thereof the amount to be paid by Electric for such shares will be $100 per share less an amount equivalent to dividends at the foregoing rate from the date of tender to the end of the current dividend period, and on the dividend payment date Mississippi Power & Light Company will pay the full quarterly dividend to the record holder of such shares on the record date.

It is proposed that Electric will acquire any of such shares of preferred stock of Mississippi Power & Light Company upon the terms and conditions set out above as may be available to it for purchase whether or not such shares are acquired in direct response to the invitation of tenders which will be sent to the holders of such shares.

It is further proposed that the cash for the payment of the amount equivalent to dividends on said shares of preferred stock will be supplied from the general corporate funds of Electric.

It appearing to this Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to said matters, and that said application and declaration as amended shall not be granted or permitted to become effective except pursuant to further order of this Commission;

It is ordered, That a hearing on said matters under the applicable provisions of said act and the rules of this Commission thereunder be held on February 16, 1944, at 10:00 a. m., e. w. t., at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. On such date the hearing room clerk in Room 318 will advise as to the room in which said hearing will be held. At such hearing cause shall be shown why such declaration as amended should be permitted to become effective and such application as amended granted;

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of this Commission shall serve notice of said hearing by mailing copies of this order to the above-named parties and that notice of said hearing be given to all other persons by publication of a copy of this order in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Any person desiring to be heard in connection with this proceeding or proposing to intervene herein shall file with the Secretary of the Commission, on or before February 14, 1944, his request or application therefor, as provided by Rule XVII of the rules of practice of this Commission:

It is further ordered, That Henry C. Lank or any other officer or officers of this Commission designated by it for that purpose, shall preside at such hearing. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of the act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That, without limiting the scope of the issues presented by said application and declaration as amended, particular attention will be directed at the hearing to the following matters and questions:

1. Whether the consideration to be paid by Electric, including all fees, commissions or other remunerations, for the shares of the preferred stocks of Mississippi proposed to be acquired is reasonable and bears a fair relation to the sums invested in or the earning capacity of the utility assets underlying said preferred stocks.

2. Whether the proposed acquisition will unduly complicate the capital structure of the holding company system of Electric or will be detrimental to the public interest or the interest of investors or consumers or the proper functioning of such holding company system.

3. Whether the proposed acquisition is detrimental to the carrying out of the provisions of section 11 and particularly whether it is appropriate for compliance by Electric with the order of dissolution entered by this Commission on August 22, 1942.

4. Whether the proposed acquisition will tend toward the economical and efficient development of an integrated public utility system.

5. Whether the proposed method of acquisition of said shares of preferred stock of Mississippi and the terms and conditions thereof are in compliance with applicable statutory standards and particularly whether they would be fair and equitable to all persons affected thereby.

6. Whether, if the transaction proposed is authorized by this Commission, it is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers to impose any terms and conditions and, if so, what terms and conditions should be imposed.

Chapter IX—War Production Board

Subchapter B—Executive Vice-Chairman

AUTHORITY: Regulations in this subchapter issued under sec. 2 (a), 54 Stat. 676, as amended by 55 Stat. 236 and 56 Stat. 176; E.O. 9024, 7 F.R. 329; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; W.P.B. Reg. 1 as amended March 24, 1943, 8 F.R. 3666, 3696; Pri. Reg. 1 as amended May 15, 1943, 8 F.R. 6727.

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATIONS OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

[Priorities Reg. 3, Direction 7]

REPLACEMENT OF DEFECTIVE MATERIALS OR MATERIALS LOST, STOLEN, DAMAGED OR DESTROYED IN TRANSIT

The following direction is issued pursuant to Priorities Regulation 3.

(a) Purpose. This direction explains how a supplier must schedule delivery of material covered by a rated order where the material delivered is defective or where it is not received by the purchaser because lost, stolen, damaged or destroyed in transit. This direction does not apply to controlled materials. Direction No. 16 to CMP Regulation No. 1 covers the replacement of defective controlled materials and Direction No. 28 to CMP Regulation No. 1 covers controlled materials lost or stolen in transit.

(b) When supplier must replace notice required. When a person places a rated order for material and the material sent him is damaged or defective, or where he does not receive physical delivery of the material because it is lost, stolen, or destroyed in transit, he may promptly notify his supplier and, if the notice is received by the supplier within fifteen days after the material was delivered in the case of damaged or defective material, or within forty-five days after the material was shipped in the case of material lost, stolen or destroyed in transit, the supplier must schedule delivery of the material on the basis of the date the original order was placed. If the notice is received by the supplier after the fifteen or forty-five day period, he must schedule delivery of the material just as though he had received an order for it on the date on which he receives the notice. If the purchaser prefers, he may, instead of notifying the original supplier, place an order for the material with another supplier using the same rating, but the new supplier must treat the order as a new order.

(c) Materials spoiled by purchaser. Materials which are spoiled by the purchaser cannot be replaced under this direction.

(d) What is meant by "in transit." For purposes of this direction, loss, damage, destruction or theft is regarded as happening in transit if it happens before the purchaser receives actual physical delivery, regardless of whether he has title or constructive possession. For example, material in the hands of a carrier is in transit although delivery to the carrier may have given the purchaser title or constructive possession. It is not in transit if the buyer has picked it up from the seller's plant or from the carrier, or if it has been unloaded at his plant. It does not make any difference whether the buyer or the seller has to bear the financial loss.

(e) Class A and Class B products. Although this direction does not apply to controlled materials, it does apply to all rated orders for other products and materials. In the case of Class A or Class B products under the Controlled Materials Plan, there will be times when the manufacturer will have to get a new allotment of controlled materials to make the product. In the case of a Class B product, the manufacturer has the responsibility for getting the new allotment and in the case of a Class A product, the customer has this responsibility.

(f) Exports. This direction applies to deliveries to territories and possessions of the United States or to Canada, but does not apply to materials exported to any foreign country, other than Canada, unless the materials are lost, stolen, damaged or destroyed while in transit within the United States or unless the defect is discovered before the materials leave the United States. Where material is damaged, lost, stolen or destroyed outside of the United States while in transit to a foreign country, other than Canada, or where the defect is not discovered until after the material has left the United States, the buyer's replacement order must be treated like a new rated order.

(g) Frozen schedules. Where a supplier's schedule is a "frozen schedule" as described in Priorities Regulation No. 18, the shipment of materials to replace defective materials or materials lost, damaged, destroyed or stolen must be approved by the War Production Board by an appropriate amendment of the frozen schedule. The supplier must not ship the materials in the absence of such approval, but he has the responsibility for asking the appropriate Industry Division for the approval.

(h) No effect on private contractual rights. This direction has nothing to do with the question of whether the buyer or the seller must bear any financial loss involved as a result of materials being defective or being lost, damaged, destroyed or stolen in transit.

(i) Applications for special assistance. Where a purchaser cannot give his supplier notice within the time limits mentioned in paragraph (b) above, and postponement of delivery will result in a substantial loss of production or delay in operations, he may apply to his Claimant Agency or Industry Division for special assistance. Special assistance will be granted only in exceptional cases where a clear showing of substantial interference with the war effort is made.

PART 1076—PLUMBING AND HEATING SIMPLIFICATION

[Limitation Order L-42, Schedule VIII, as amended Feb. 8, 1944]

RADIATOR SUPPLY VALVES, THERMOSTATIC, FLOAT AND BOILER RETURN TRAPS

The title of Schedule VIII to Limitation Order L-42 (Vapor and Vacuum Heating Specialties) is changed to "Radiator Supply Valves, Thermostatic, Float and Boiler Return Traps" and the schedule is amended to read as follows:

§ 1076.10 Schedule VIII to Limitation Order L-42—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this schedule: "Low pressure" means a maximum steam working pressure of 15 pounds per square inch.

(b) Limitations. Pursuant to Limitation Order L-42, the following limitations are established for the manufacture of the heating specialties specified below:

(1) The bodies of low pressure thermostatic radiator and drip traps, combination float and thermostatic traps, and boiler return traps, shall be of cast iron.

(2) No packless radiator supply valves shall be produced with a metallic bellows or diaphragm.

(3) Nickel or monel metal may be used in the manufacture of low pressure thermostatic radiator and drip traps, combination float and thermostatic traps, boiler return traps, and radiator supply valves, only to the extent allocated or otherwise authorized in Conservation Order M-6-b.

(c) Use of copper base alloys. In the production of bodies for radiator supply valves designed for working pressures under 100 pounds per square inch, any copper base alloy used shall be made without the use of any primary copper or tin and shall be of no higher grade than a maximum of 86% copper and 6% tin. A lower grade alloy than indicated shall be used if practical in a manufacturing operation and satisfactory for service use of the product.

(d) General exceptions. The restrictions of this schedule do not apply to the production of articles or parts not available in the producer's inventory for use in ships, boats, or planes (when required by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, War Shipping Administration, or Coast Guard or by rules and regulations promulgated by the Coast Guard for merchant vessels) or for use in chemical plants, research laboratories, and hospitals (when required by contract specifications other than performance specifications).

PART 3201—MINING[1]

[Limitation Order L-269, as Amended Feb. 8, 1944]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of certain critical materials used in the production of mining equipment for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3201.1 Limitation Order L–269—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Mining equipment" means any complete equipment or apparatus of the types, descriptions, and classifications set forth on List A hereto annexed.

(2) "Repair part" means any part manufactured for use in the repair and maintenance of mining equipment.

(3) "Manufacturer" means any person who constructs or manufactures mining equipment to the extent that he is engaged in such construction or manufacture.

(b) Production and deliveries of mining equipment. (1) On or before March 25, 1943, and on or before the 15th of each succeeding calendar month, each manufacturer shall file in triplicate on form PD–815 a schedule of proposed production and deliveries and a report of the previous calendar month's shipments and orders.

(2) On and after April 1, 1943, each manufacturer shall produce and deliver mining equipment only in accordance with the schedule filed pursuant to paragraph (b) (1) or as the same may be changed by the War Production Board.

(3) With respect to mining equipment, the War Production Board may:

(i) Direct the return or cancellation of any order on the books of a manufacturer.

(ii) Direct changes in the production or delivery schedule of a manufacturer.

(iii) Allocate orders placed with one manufacturer to another manufacturer, or

(iv) Take such other action, as it deems necessary, with respect to the placing of orders for, or the production or delivery of, mining equipment.

(4) Beginning February 1, 1944, except as may be otherwise directed in writing by the War Production Board, a manufacturer need not file Form WPB–2406 with respect to any item of mining equipment on List A marked with an asterisk. Further, the War Production Board may from time to time issue written exemptions relieving manufacturers from the requirement of filing Form WPB–2406 with respect to other items of mining equipment in cases where their production records, together with other circumstances, show such uniformity of production or specialization of orders as to indicate no further need for filing such report; and the War Production Board may also, where circumstances change and again show the need for filing such report, revoke any such exemption.

(c) Repair parts. The War Production Board may direct the quantity and type of repair parts to be produced or delivered by any manufacturer in any calendar month, and it may direct changes in any manufacturer's production or delivery schedule for mining equipment so as to provide for adequate production or delivery of repair parts.

(d) [Deleted Feb. 8, 1944.]

(e) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(3) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to War Production Board, Mining Equipment Division, Washington 25, D. C., Reference L–269.

(4) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(5) Records and reports. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning the manufacture, sale and delivery of and orders for mining equipment and repair parts. All persons affected by this order shall file such reports and questionnaires as may be requested from time to time by the War Production Board, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942. The reporting requirements of this order have received the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

[Table 12 to General Scheduling Order M–293, Direction 1]

AUTHORIZATION TO ACCEPT DELIVERY OF ANTI-FRICTION BEARINGS

In order to review the requirements of substantial users of antifriction bearings, the following specific direction under Table 12 of Order M–293 is issued:

(1) During the period April 1–September 30, 1944 no person shall accept during any one month any anti-friction bearings from a manufacturer or distributor in excess of the following amounts without specific authorization to do so on Form WPB–3333 (as revised January 1, 1944):

(i) 1500 bearings of any one size where they are being purchased for incorporation by such person in his end products or for reshipment with his end products as concurrent spare bearings.

(ii) 500 bearings of any one size where they are being purchased for reshipment to the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration subsequent to delivery of the end product. For instance, this will include bearings bought by such person for the purpose of filling contracts for "second year replenishment" bearings and for similar supplemental spare bearing requirements ordered from him by the procuring Service.

If a person has more than one plant, the amounts specified in (i) and (ii) above shall apply to deliveries to each plant.

(2) Form WPB–3333 must be filed with the War Production Board by March 1, 1944. Any person who subsequent to March 1, 1944 finds that he will require bearing deliveries in any one month during the period April 1–September 30, 1944 in excess of the amounts specified in paragraph (1) of this direction must immediately file Form WPB–3333 submitting such requirements. In submitting Form WPB–3333 in compliance with this direction persons shall state their delivery requirements (for those sizes required to be reported under paragraph (1) of this direction) for the months of April through September 1944, inclusive. In submitting end product production schedules in Section III of Form WPB–3333, applicant shall give such schedules for the months of April through December 1944, inclusive.

(3) Persons who were directed to submit their requirements for anti-friction bearings for the months of March through August 1944, inclusive, by War Production Board letter dated January 7, 1944 are exempt from the provisions of paragraphs (1) and (2) but shall make application in accordance with such letter dated January 7, 1944. However, those persons who submitted their requirements for anti-friction bearings on the original WPB–3333 (dated October 22, 1943) pursuant to War Production Board telegram of October 28, 1943, are not exempt but shall submit the revised Form WPB–3333 covering their requirements for the months of April through September 1944, inclusive.

(4) Authorization by the War Production Board to accept delivery of bearings does not constitute an allocation to the applicant against the bearing manufacturer but simply establishes the maximum amounts which the applicant may accept of those sizes of bearings required to be reported under paragraph (1) above. Applicants must adjust their shipping releases on bearing manufacturers to conform with the authorized amounts.

Issued this 8th day of February 1944.

PART 3290—TEXTILE, CLOTHING AND LEATHER

[General Conservation Order M–356 as Amended Feb. 8, 1944]

SYNTHETIC FIBERS, YARNS AND FABRICS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created shortages in the supplies of synthetic fibers, yarns and fabrics for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3290.326 General Conservation Order M–356—(a) Definitions. (1) "Nylon" means synthetic fiber-forming polymeric amides having a protein-like chemical structure, derivable from coal, air and water, or other substances, and characterized by extreme toughness and strength and the peculiar ability to be formed into fibers (yarns and fabrics) and into various shapes, such as bristles, sheets, etc.

(2) "Nylon waste" means waste, noils and garnetted or reclaimed fibers (including scraps and clippings, generated in the manufacture of thread, fabrics, rope, braiding or other material containing nylon) the total nylon content of which is 95% or more by weight.

(b) Restrictions on nylon. (1) No person shall sell or deliver nylon except as specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(2) No person shall knowingly purchase, accept delivery or commercially use nylon contrary to any restriction of the War Production Board.

(c) Restrictions on nylon waste. No person shall sell, purchase, deliver, accept delivery, process or commercially use nylon waste except to recover nylon flake. No person shall mix nylon waste with any other waste material having less than 95% nylon content by weight.

Export of Fine Rayon Yarn and Rayon Fabrics

(d) Definitions. (1) "Rayon fabrics" mean broad woven synthetic fabrics (over 24 inches in width) made from continuous filament viscose yarn, cuprammonium yarn or cellulose acetate yarn, from viscose or acetate staple fiber, or from combinations or blends containing fifty-one percent or more by weight of any such synthetic yarns. The term shall not include velvets, plushes, and other pile fabrics, upholstery, drapery and tapestry fabrics, and jacquard woven fabrics.

(2) "Fabric producer" means a person who wove, or caused to be woven for him on commission, an average of more than 25,000 yards of rayon fabrics per week during the three months' period ending September 30, 1943. Wherever the words "his total yardage production" or "produced by him" are used in paragraph (e), they refer to the yardage of rayon fabrics manufactured for, as well as by, the fabric producer.

(3) "Procurement orders" mean orders for rayon fabrics placed by the Army or Navy of the United States (including military exchanges and service departments when the order bears the appropriate endorsement referred to in paragraph (c) of Priority Regulation 17), the Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration.

(4) "Export orders" mean, with respect to fine rayon yarns as defined in General Preference Order M–37–d, orders bearing a preference rating of AA–3 or higher, and, with respect to rayon fabrics, orders bearing a preference rating of AA–5 or higher, upon which there is endorsed a certification in substantially the following form:

The undersigned purchaser hereby represents that the item(s) hereby ordered are for export under license number —, and pursuant to General Conservation Order M–356.

Name of person

Duly authorized official

(e) Establishment of export quotas for fine rayon yarn. (1) An export quota system is hereby established for the producers of fine rayon yarn as defined in General Preference Order M–37–d. Such export quotas will be established from time to time by the War Production Board within which quotas the Foreign Economic Administration will be authorized to assign preference ratings. Until further notice from the War Production Board, each producer of fine rayon yarn shall, regardless of preference ratings, each day set aside an amount of such yarn equal to the production of 4% of his active spindles producing viscose or cuprammonium yarn and 2% of his active spindles producing acetate yarn. The number of active spindles producing high tenacity tire-type rayon yarn shall not be included in computing the above percentages. The yarn thus set aside shall be known as "export yarn," and shall be set aside, as nearly as practicable, in such denier sizes as will fill the producer's orders on hand for such yarn at the time the producer sets his production schedule. No producer of fine rayon yarn shall be compelled to export or accept an order for export of fine rayon yarn under export license granted by the Foreign Economic Administration in excess of the export quota so established for him: Provided, That no such producer shall be prohibited from exporting or accepting an order for export of fine rayon yarn in excess of such quota, unless specifically prohibited by the War Production Board.

(2) Disposition of export yarn not booked or delivered. All export yarn set aside from the production of any one month, pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (e) (1) and which has not been delivered or booked during said month, shall be immediately available for sale to any person otherwise eligible to purchase such yarn.

(3) [Deleted Feb. 8, 1944]

(f) Establishment of export quota for rayon fabrics. (1) An export quota system is hereby established for rayon fabrics. Pursuant to such system export quotas will be fixed from time to time by the War Production Board. Until further notice from the War Production Board, each fabric producer must accept and fill export orders for rayon fabrics until they aggregate for the current calendar quarter four per cent of his total yardage production of rayon fabrics (excluding yardage produced by him to fill procurement orders) during the preceding calendar quarter. No fabric producer is required to accept or fill export orders for more than the established export quota, nor for more than fifteen per cent of any particular construction of rayon fabrics produced by him during the current calendar quarter. However, he is not prohibited from doing so, unless compliance with other orders or regulations of the War Production Board would forbid it.

(2) Unfilled export quota to be carried over to next quarter. If a fabric producer does not fill his entire export quota of rayon fabrics in any calendar quarter, the unfilled portion shall be added to his quota for the next succeeding quarter. The portion so carried over which is not filled in such succeeding quarter may be dropped. To illustrate: if the export quota of a fabric producer for the second quarter of 1944 is 100,000 yards and he books or delivers only 75,000 yards during that quarter, the remaining 25,000 yards shall be added to his quota for the third quarter of 1944. If his quota for that quarter is also 100,000 yards, he is required to accept and fill export orders aggregating 125,000 yards during the third quarter. Any part of the 25,000 yards not delivered during the third quarter is thereafter free from the restrictions of this order.

Miscellaneous Provisions

(g) Miscellaneous provisions — (1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, and General Conservation Order M-328, as amended from time to time.

(2) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(3) Reports. Each producer of rayon fabrics shall forward to the War Production Board each week a copy of every export order accepted by him during the week. Each producer of rayon fabrics shall file with the War Production Board quarterly production reports on Form WPB-658-C. This reporting requirement has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(4) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(5) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Textile, Clothing and Leather Division, Washington 25, D. C., Reference: M-356.

Beech	Fagus grandifolia
Sweet Gum	Liquidamber styraciflua
Black Gum	Nyssa sylvatica
Tupelo Gum	Nyssa aquatica
Hackberry	Celtis occidentalis
Poplar	Liriodendron tulipifera
Sycamore	Platanus occidentalis

and all commercial botanical species of the following genera:

Ash	Fraxinus
Basswood	Tilia
Cherry	Prunus
Cottonwood	Populus
Elm	Ulmus
Hickory	Hicoria
Oak	Quercus
Maple	Acer

as well as all other commercial species.

Scaling Rules. All logs are to be scaled according to the Doyle Log Rule. The diameter of the log shall be measured at the small end of the log, inside the bark, at the smallest diameter. Fractions of an inch less than ½ must be counted back to the next lower inch. Fractions of an inch above ½ inch may be counted as the next higher diameter. If the fraction is exactly one-half inch, it shall be considered as of the nearest even inch. (Thus a 13.5" log could be considered as 14", and a 14.5" log must be counted as a 14" log.)

All logs are to be cut to even lengths unless otherwise specifically requested by the buyer. The lowest acceptable length shall be 8 feet. All logs must be cut 4 inches over length to allow for trim. Logs that are not cut at least 4" over length shall be reduced in scale to the next standard lower length.

All unsound and unusable wood must be eliminated from the scale by deduction in measurement. The defects for which full deduction in scale must be made include hollows or large holes, rot, dote, windshake, large or excessive worm holes, damage in felling by drawn splinters, and crooks.

Grading Rules—Clear grade. This grade shall include all logs 24" and up in diameter that are clear of all visible defects.

Select grade. This grade shall include:

(a) Those logs 16" to 23" in diameter that are clear of all visible defects and

(b) Those logs 24" and over in diameter that have 3 clear faces or 75 percent of the length clear in one continuous section.

No. 1 grade. This grade shall include:

(a) Those logs 12" to 15" in diameter that are clear of all visible defects.

(b) Those logs 16" to 23" in diameter that have at least 3 clear faces or 75 percent of the length clear in one continuous section, and

(c) Those logs 24" and over in diameter that have at least 2 clear faces or 50 percent of the length clear in one continuous section.

NOTE: In the clear, select, and No. 1 Grades a center rot or dote of 2" in logs 12"–15" in diameter, 3" in logs 16" to 23" in diameter and 4" in logs 24" and up in diameter will be permitted without degrading the log; however, full deduction in scale must be made for this defect.

No. 2 grade. This grade shall include all logs that are better than a cull and that do not grade as a No. 1 log; minimum diameter 12".

Woods run grade shall consist of hardwood logs 12" and up in diameter as produced from the forest, that are better than culls and from which no selection of large-sized or high-quality logs has been made. If any large-sized or high-quality logs have been removed from the run of logs, the remaining logs must be sold at prices no higher than the #2 grade prices if ungraded, or at the applicable grade prices if graded. When any small sized or low quality logs have been removed from the run of logs, the remaining logs may still be sold at the woods run price.

A cull log shall be considered as one where the net board foot scale after deductions have been made for defects is less than 50 percent of the gross scale. Also, any log not meeting the length and diameter requirement shall be classed as a cull, unless otherwise specifically provided for.

These prices apply f. o. b. cars, f. o. b. barge at towable waters, or for logs delivered to a mill by truck from within 25 miles. If logs are delivered to a mill from a distance in excess of 25 miles, the buyer may add to the above ceiling prices 10 cents per thousand feet log scale for every load mile in excess of 25 miles.

If delivery of logs is taken at any point other than f. o. b. cars at shipping point, f. o. b. barge at towable waters, or at mill by trucks, the buyer must deduct

(a) The cost of hauling logs to the rail siding and the cost of loading on cars if logs are delivered to the mill by rail car,

(b) The cost of hauling logs to towable waters and the cost of loading barges if logs are delivered to the mill by barge; or

WHOLESALE PRICES FOR NEW RUBBER TIRES AND TUBES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation 143 is amended in the following respects:

1. The second and third sentences in § 1315.1502 (b) (2) are amended to read as follows: "The maximum wholesale price under this subparagraph (2) shall in no case be higher than the price determined by deducting a discount of 25 percent for tires other than farm tractor tires, 30 percent for tubes other than farm tractor tubes, and 22½ percent for farm tractor tires and tubes, from the maximum retail price of the tire or tube as fixed by Revised Price Schedule 63.[2] If applying subdivision (i) or (ii) below results in a maximum wholesale price lower than the price which would result from the deduction of these discounts, the maximum wholesale price under this subparagraph (2) shall be determined under subdivision (i) or (ii), whichever is applicable."

2. Section 1315.1502 (b) (3) is amended to read as follows:

(3) New class of purchasers or new seller. If the seller did not deliver or offer for delivery during March 1942 any new tires or tubes other than passenger car, to a purchaser of the same class, or if the seller was not in the business of selling such new tires or tubes during March 1942, the maximum wholesale price shall be determined by deducting the following discounts from the maximum retail prices fixed by Revised Price Schedule 63:

Tires, other than farm tractor tires	25 percent
Tubes, other than farm tractor tubes	30 percent
Farm tractor tires and tubes	22½ percent.

3. A new § 1315.1507a is added to read as follows:

§ 1315.1507a Special prices for brand owners. This section applies to a brand owner whose wholesale maximum prices for new natural and synthetic rubber tires and tubes are out of line with the level of wholesale maximum prices established for brand owners generally. Notwithstanding any other provision of this regulation, the maximum wholesale prices for sales of new natural and synthetic rubber tires and tubes by such a brand owner shall be determined under § 1315.1507 of this regulation. The brand owner must make application to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., as required by that section.

This amendment shall become effective February 14, 1944.

[MPR 266,[1] Amdt. 6]

CERTAIN TISSUE PAPER PRODUCTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation No. 266 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1347.511 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1347.511 Petitions for amendment and applications for adjustment. (a) Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(b) Under the following conditions a manufacturer of any of the commodities covered by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 266 may apply for adjustment of his maximum prices where the maximum price causes him substantial hardship and where the War Production Board certifies by letter to the Office of Price Administration that the commodity involved is necessary, in the quantity actually to be supplied by the applicant, to meet a military or essential civilian need. The amount of adjustment which may be granted will be determined by the Office of Price Administration and will in no case exceed an amount deemed reasonably necessary to insure the applicant's production of the commodity in question, in the light of the applicant's costs of production and his over-all financial condition.

(1) Form of application for adjustment. Applications for adjustment shall be filed in accordance with subpart B of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, with the Office of Price Administration, Code 695, Washington, D. C. In addition the applicant shall set forth the following data:

(i) Statement of the applicant's maximum price, the section of Maximum Price Regulation No. 266 under which such price is determined, the proposed adjusted maximum price, and the complete specifications of the commodity.

(ii) Statement as to the length of time the applicant has been producing the commodity, and the actual production in cases per month for the last six months, preceding the date of filing of the application.

(iii) A record of the applicant's actual costs involved in the manufacture and sale of the commodity is to be given in full detail. These costs are to be given for the total production during each of the last two quarterly accounting periods.

(iv) Statement of the seller's over-all financial condition, including the information required by OPA Form A (Annual Financial Report) for the fiscal year next preceding the filing of the application, and the information required by OPA Form B (Interim Financial Report) for each quarterly period subsequent to the period covered by the A report: Provided, That for cause shown this latter requirement may be waived in whole or in part at the discretion of the Administrator.

(v) A complete statement of the reasons why the applicant believes that he will be unable to maintain his production of the commodity at his established maximum price.

2. Section 1347.515 (a) (1) (iii) is amended to read as follows:

(iii) In the event that the maximum price as calculated above is less than the highest carload price which was charged, on a uniform nationally delivered basis, by the manufacturer during the period of October 1 to October 15, 1941, the maximum price shall be such October 1 to 15, 1941, carload price. Freight practices which were employed by the manufacturer during such period may be continued: Provided, That the manufacturer shall not require the purchaser to pay a larger proportion of transportation costs incurred in the delivery of the toilet tissue than the manufacturer required purchasers of the same class to pay during the period of October 1 to 15, 1941.

3. Section 1347.515 (a) (1) (v) is added to read as follows:

(v) The manufacturer may reduce the chemical pulp content by not more than 15% of the chemical pulp content upon which the present maximum price for his product established by this regulation is based, without revising such maximum price.

4. Section 1347.515 (a) (1) (vi) is added to read as follows:

(vi) The manufacturer may reduce the basis weight by not more than 5% of the basis weight upon which the present maximum price for his product established by this regulation is based, without revising such maximum price.

5. Section 1347.515 (b) (1) (i) is amended to read as follows:

(i) In the event that the maximum price as calculated in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section is less than the highest carload price which was charged by the manufacturer on sales into any particular zone during the period of October 1 to October 15, 1941, the maximum price shall be such October 1 to October 15, 1941 price for sales into the same zone.

6. Section 1347.515 (d) is amended to read as follows:

(d) The retailer's maximum price for toilet tissue which may in no event exceed the ceiling price in effect on November 30, 1943, as established under this regulation, is to be calculated as follows (for unit and multiple sales separately):

7. Section 1347.515 (d) (2) is amended to read as follows:

(2) The meaning of "net cost." "Net cost" as used in the maximum price rule above means the amount the retailer paid for the brand delivered at his customary receiving point, less all discounts and all allowances allowed him, except the discount for prompt payment. "Net cost" should be based on the first sale of such brand of toilet tissue delivered to the retailer in which there has been inserted a copy of this paragraph (d). "Net cost" refers to a customary quantity from a customary supplier and by the customary mode of transportation.

8. Section 1347.515 (e) (1) is hereby revoked.

9. Section 1347.516 (a) (1) (iii) is amended to read as follows:

(iii) In the event that the maximum price as calculated above is less than the highest carload price which was charged, on a uniform nationally delivered basis, by the manufacturer during the period of October 1 to October 15, 1941, the maximum price shall be such October 1 to 15, 1941, carload price. Freight practices which were employed by the manufacturer during such period may be continued: Provided, That the manufacturer shall not require the purchaser to pay a larger proportion of transportation costs incurred in the delivery of the toilet tissue than the manufacturer required purchasers of the same class to pay during the period of October 1 to 15, 1941.

10. Section 1347.516 (a) (1) (viii) is added to read as follows:

(viii) The manufacturer may reduce the chemical pulp content by not more than 15% of the chemical pulp content upon which the present maximum price for his product established by this regulation is based, without revising such maximum price.

11. Section 1347.516 (a) (1) (ix) is added to read as follows:

(ix) The manufacturer may reduce the basis weight by not more than 10% of the basis weight upon which the present maximum price for his product established by this regulation is based, without revising such maximum price.

12. Section 1347.516 (b) (1) (i) is amended to read as follows:

(i) In the event that the maximum price as calculated in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section is less than the highest carload price which was charged by the manufacturer on sales into any particular zone during the period of October 1 to October 15, 1941, the maximum price shall be such October 1 to October 15, 1941, price for sales into the same zone.

13. Section 1347.516 (d) is amended to read as follows:

(d) Retailer's maximum prices. The retailer's maximum price for paper towels, which may in no event exceed the ceiling price in effect on November 30, 1943, as established under this regulation, is to be calculated as follows (for unit and multiple sales separately):

14. Section 1347.516 (d) (2) is amended to read as follows:

(2) The meaning of "net cost." "Net cost" as used in the maximum price rule above means the amount the retailer paid for the brand delivered at his customary receiving point, less all discounts and all allowances allowed him, except the discount for prompt payment. "Net cost" should be based on the first sale of such brand of paper towels delivered to the retailer in which there has been inserted a copy of this paragraph (d); "Net cost" refers to a customary quantity from a customary supplier and by the customary mode of transportation.

15. Section 1347.516 (e) (1) is hereby revoked.

PART 1400—TEXTILE FABRICS: COTTON, WOOL, SILK, SYNTHETICS AND ADMIXTURES

[MPR 508]

RAYON KNIT FABRICS AND THE KNITTING THEREOF

In the judgment of the Price Administrator it is necessary and proper to establish prices for rayon knit fabrics and commission or contract knitting of rayon knit fabrics which differ in some respects from the maximum prices established by the General Maximum Price Regulation. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this maximum price regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended. Such specifications and standards as are used in this regulation were, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of the Maximum Price Regulation No. 508 has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

(b) Lower than maximum prices may be charged. Nothing in this regulation prohibits sales or purchases at prices lower than the maximum prices.

SEC. 2. To what products, services, transactions, and persons this regulation applies—(a) What products are covered. (1) This regulation applies to rayon knit fabrics, which means knitted fabrics:

(i) Made on tricot or circular knitting machines;

(ii) Composed, in the amount of fifty percent or more by weight, of manufactured continuous filament yarn produced chemically from cellulose or with a cellulose base;

(iii) Of a type customarily used in the manufacture of underwear or outerwear.

(2) This regulation does not apply to:

(i) Milanese cloth; or

(ii) Any fabric sold for or of a type customarily used solely in the manufacture of gloves or corsets unless such fabric is specifically priced in the appropriate table of prices in Article III.

(b) What services are covered by this regulation. (1) This regulation covers "commission or contract tricot knitting services," which means the warping and/or knitting of rayon tricot knit fabrics from yarns supplied in whole or in part by the person to whom such fabric when knitted is supplied or delivered.

(c) What transactions are covered by this regulation. (1) This regulation applies to all sales, purchases, and deliveries of rayon knit fabrics other than sales at retail and sales by a person customarily engaged in manufacturing rayon knit fabrics made of rayon yarn produced by such person or by a subsidiary or affiliate of such person.

The term "sales at retail" means sales in small quantities to ultimate consumers for direct personal use or household consumption, and not for resale or further processing in any form.

(2) This regulation applies to all sales, purchases and supply of commission or contract knitting services consisting of knitting of rayon tricot knit fabrics of the types priced under this regulation.

(d) What persons are covered by this regulation. Any person who makes any of the sales, purchases, or deliveries of rayon knit fabrics or performs or receives any of the services referred to in paragraph (b) or (c) of this section is subject to this regulation.

The term "person" includes: an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group; the United States or any government, or any of its political subdivisions; or any agent or agency of any of the foregoing.

SEC. 3. Prohibited practices. Any practice which is a device to obtain or give a consideration in excess of the maximum price is as much a violation of this regulation as a sale, purchase, or delivery above the maximum price and any person who is a party to such practice thereby violates the provisions of this regulation.

ARTICLE II—GENERAL PROVISIONS

SEC. 4. Invoice and record-keeping requirements—(a) Invoice requirements. Every seller shall, with respect to each sale of rayon knit fabrics or commission or contract knitting service, deliver to the purchaser an invoice which shall contain:

(3) The selling price and quantity of each type of rayon knit fabric sold;

(b) Record-keeping requirements. On and after February 14, 1944, every person making a purchase, sale or delivery of rayon knit fabrics, or supplying or receiving commission or contract tricot rayon knit service shall keep with respect to each type of rayon knit fabric or service for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, complete records as follows:

SEC. 6. Conditional agreements and adjustable pricing. (a) Except as provided in (b) below, (1) no contract contemplating the sale or delivery of rayon knit fabrics or the sale or supply of commission or contract knitting service shall be made unless a specific price is agreed upon between the parties, and (2) no contract shall contain any provision whereunder the price agreed upon may be adjusted to an agreed price in excess of the maximum price applicable under this regulation at the date the original contract was made.

(b) In an appropriate situation when a petition for amendment requires extended consideration, application may be made by the seller for authorization to agree with the buyer to adjust prices upon deliveries made during or after the pendency of the petition in accordance with the disposition of the petition. Such authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration to whom the authority to grant such authorization has been delegated. The authorization will be given by order.

SEC. 7. Definitions. When used in this regulation:

(a) "Jobber" means, with respect to any sale of rayon knit fabrics, a person who sells such fabric in the performance of a recognized distributive function[2] and in substantially the same form as that in which he purchased it. The term shall not include any person who is controlled by or under common control with a converter or producer.

(b) "Converter" means a person who sells rayon knit fabrics after having screen-, lacquer-, roller-, or otherwise printed such fabrics or after causing them to be so printed for his account.

(c) "Producer" is a person who manufactures rayon knit fabrics or has such fabrics manufactured for his account and shall include a person who sells rayon yarn to and purchases rayon knit fabrics from a person who knits such yarn or a subsidiary, affiliate, agent, designee, or nominee of the person who knits such yarn.

(d) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall be applicable to this regulation.

SEC. 8. Enforcement. Any person who violates any provision of this regulation is subject to all civil liabilities and criminal penalties provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 9. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1, licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

If the seller requires payment to be made on shorter terms than those specified in this paragraph the maximum prices established herein shall be reduced at the rate of 6% per annum for the period of demanded anticipation.

SEC. 12. Maximum prices for seconds and inferiors. The maximum prices for other than first quality rayon knit fabrics shall be the prices set forth in this Article III less the differentials between representative prices charged by the individual seller during March 1942 for first quality and the respective types and grades of inferior or second quality rayon knit fabrics to the same class of purchasers. In determining which fabrics are inferior or second quality, each seller shall use the classifications which he used during March 1942.

SEC. 13. Prices computed in fractions of a cent. Any maximum price determined under any of the provisions of this Article III must be computed to the nearest ¼th of a cent. If the computation of a price results in a fraction of ⅛th of a cent or less, the price must be reduced to the next lower ¼th of a cent. If the computation results in a fraction greater than ⅛th of a cent, the price may be increased to the next higher ¼th of a cent.

SEC. 14. Maximum prices for circular knit fabrics for underwear. (a) The maximum prices for rayon circular knit fabrics of a type customarily used in the manufacture of underwear shall be the applicable prices per pound set forth in Table I. SEC. 21. Maximum prices for commission or contract knitting. (a) The maximum price for commission or contract warping and knitting of rayon tricot knit fabrics shall be the applicable prices per pound set forth in Table XI.

WARPING AND KNITTING RAYON TRICOT KNIT FABRICS

Reference No.	Yarn and construction	Yarn put-up and twist	Price per pound
1	75 denier Acetate—2-bar.	Oiled cones—regular twist.	$0.30

NOTE: (1) A premium of 2 cents per pound may be added for inferior yarns.

(2) The maximum price for commission or contract knitting of rayon tricot knit fabrics not within the description noted above must be a price in line with the maximum price established in this Table. In-line pricing provisions are set forth in section 22 (f).

SEC. 22. In-line prices. This section provides the methods for determining the prices of rayon knit fabrics and commission or contract knitting services which are not specifically priced in the preceding sections of this Article III.

(a) Authorization of producers' and converters' in-line prices—(1) Currently produced fabrics. Except as provided in paragraph (e) of this section 22, if a fabric which is priced under paragraph (b) or (c) was produced or sold by the seller between July 1, 1943 and the effective date of this regulation, the seller shall, on or before February 28, 1944, submit the information required in those paragraphs. His proposed price as determined in accordance with paragraph (b) or (c) below shall be his established maximum price until he is advised by the Office of Price Administration that it is incorrect. Any delivery made at the proposed price prior to the receipt in writing of notice that the proposed price is incorrect shall not be deemed to be in violation of this regulation.

(2) New fabrics. If a fabric which is priced under paragraph (b) or (c) of this section 22 was not produced or sold by the seller between July 1, 1943 and the effective date of this regulation or has never previously been produced or sold by him, the seller shall submit the information required in those paragraphs.

The seller shall make no sale or delivery of any such fabric until an in-line price has been approved in writing by the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.

(b) Producers' in-line price. The maximum price of rayon knit fabrics sold or offered for sale by the producer of the fabric and not specifically priced in the preceding sections of this Article shall be determined in accordance with this paragraph (b). In computing an in-line price under this paragraph (b) the direct manufacturing cost of the comparable and new fabric shall be determined on the same basis, i. e., where the direct manufacturing cost of one fabric is determined on a commission or contract knitting basis the direct manufacturing cost of the other fabric must be determined on such basis.

(1) Determine the gross profit by subtracting from the established maximum price of the most nearly comparable fabric specifically priced and produced by the seller, the direct manufacturing costs per pound of that fabric (computed on a white basis) as of the date of the in-line pricing.

(2) Divide the gross profit by the direct manufacturing cost of the comparable fabric to give the gross percentage profit.

(3) Multiply the direct manufacturing costs per pound (computed on a white basis) of the fabric being priced by the gross percentage profit of the comparable fabric.

(4) Add the figure resulting from (3) to the direct manufacturing costs per pound of the fabric being priced.

Example: Assume the following facts:

(i) The established maximum price per pound of the comparable fabric is	$1.40
(ii) The direct manufacturing cost per pound of the comparable fabric is	1.20
(iii) The direct manufacturing cost per pound of the new fabric is	1.25

From the above facts the price is determined as follows:

1. The gross profit of the comparable fabric is the difference between (i) and (ii) which is	$0.20
2. The gross percentage profit of the comparable fabric is the gross profit (20¢ divided by (ii) or $\frac{20}{1.20}$ =	16⅔%
3. The gross profit of the new fabric is (iii) times 16⅔% =	$0.2083
4. The maximum price of the new fabric is (iii) plus $0.2083 =	1.4583
to nearest ¼ of a cent = (See Section 13)	1.45¾

(5) If the same type of yarn is used in both fabrics, the same premium for colors shall apply to the new fabric as that applicable to the comparable fabric. If a different type of yarn or a combination of yarns is used, the premium for colors shall be the additional cost of dyeing the particular color classification subject to the approval of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.

(6) A report to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., on Form 666–631 is required when any fabric is priced under the provisions of this paragraph (b). Such forms are available at the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.

(c) Converter's in-line price. The maximum price of rayon knit fabric sold or offered for sale by the converter of the fabric and not specifically priced in Tables VII, VIII, IX or X shall be determined in accordance with subparagraphs (1) through (7) of this paragraph (c).

(1) Determine the gross profit by subtracting from the established maximum price of the most nearly comparable converted fabric specifically priced and converted by the converter the "Cost of acquisition" as defined in subparagraph (7) of this paragraph (c). Where the background of the comparable fabric is not in the same color classification as that of the fabric now being priced, use the established maximum price of the comparable fabric in the same color classification as that of the new fabric.

(2) Divide the gross profit by the cost of acquisition per yard of the comparable fabric to give the gross percentage profit.

(3) Multiply the cost of acquisition per yard of the fabric being priced by the gross percentage profit of the comparable fabric.

(4) Add the resultant figure in (3) to the cost of acquisition per yard of the fabric being priced.

(5) For lacquer printed fabrics, other than screen and roller printed, add the figure resulting from (4) to the appropriate color premium provided for in footnote to Tables IX and X.

(6) Pricing example.

Assume the following facts:

(i) The established maximum price per yard of the comparable fabric for multi-color screen print on colored ground is	95¢
(ii) The cost of acquisition per yard of the comparable fabric is	75¢
(iii) The cost of acquisition per yard of the new fabric is	80¢

From the above facts the price is determined as follows:

(a) The gross profit of the comparable fabric is the difference between (i) and (ii) which is	20¢
(b) The gross percentage profit of the comparable fabric is the gross profit (20¢) divided by (ii) or $\frac{20}{75}$ which is	26⅔%
(c) The gross profit of the new fabric is (iii) times 26⅔% or 80 times 26⅔% which is	21⅓¢
(d) The maximum price of the new fabric for multicolor screen print on colored ground is (iii) plus 21⅓ cents or 80 plus 21.33 which is $1.0133. Reducing that to the nearest ¼ of a cent (see Section 13) equals	$1.01¼

(7) The "cost of acquisition" per yard shall be:

(i) For screen and roller printed knit fabrics, the sum of the following as of the date of the in-line pricing determination:

(a) The established maximum price of the rayon knit fabric dyed white;

(b) The freight paid either to or from the printer which shall not exceed ¼ cent per yard;

(c) The cost of printing, which shall not exceed 25 cents per yard for one-color roller or screen printing, or 30 cents per yard for multi-color screen or roller-printing;

(d) For 40" tricot fabrics only, the cost of screens or rollers not to exceed 2½ cents per yard;

(e) The cost of put-up which shall not exceed ¼ cent per yard.

(ii) For lacquer printed knit fabrics (other than screen and roller printed), the sum of the following as of the date of the in-line pricing determination:

(a) The established maximum price of the rayon knit fabric dyed white;

(b) The cost of lacquer printing;

(c) The cost of tubes, repacking, etc. not to exceed 1 cent per yard.

(8) When any fabric is priced under the provisions of this paragraph (c) the converter shall report for both the new and comparable fabrics the following information in writing to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.:

Supplier's name and address.
Supplier's style number.
Converter's style number.
Type of printing (i. e., screen, roller or other).
Cost of acquisition itemized in accordance with section 20 (c) (7).
Proposed selling price per yard for each color classification to cutters or retailers or both.

(d) Jobber's in-line price. (1) The maximum price of a rayon knit fabric sold or offered for sale by a jobber of the fabric and not specifically priced in Table VI shall be 117% of the producer's established maximum price for sales of the white fabric to jobbers. The appropriate color premium provided for in the footnote to Table VI may be added to the jobber's maximum price of the white fabric.

(2) When any fabric is priced under the provisions of this paragraph (d), the jobber shall report immediately the following information in writing to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.:

Supplier's name and address.
Supplier's style number.
Jobber's style number.
Net cost of fabric.
Proposed selling prices per yard for each color classification.

The jobber's proposed price as determined in paragraph (1) above shall be his established maximum price until he is advised by the Office of Price Administration that it is incorrect. Any delivery made at the proposed price prior to the receipt of notice in writing that the proposed price is incorrect shall not be deemed to be in violation of this regulation.

(e) Where no comparable fabric had been produced or sold. If the maximum price for the particular rayon knit fabric cannot be determined under paragraphs (b) or (c) of this section (22), or paragraphs (b) of section 15, (b) of section 16, and (d) of section 20, the maximum price shall be a priced authorized by the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. In requesting an authorization of a price, the producer of the fabric must submit to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., on Form 666–631 all of the applicable information called for in that form; the converter must submit all of the applicable information called for in paragraph (c) (8) of this section; and the jobber must submit all of the applicable information called for in paragraph (d) (2) of this section. It is not permissible to sell or deliver any fabric which is to be priced under this paragraph (e) until an in-line price has been approved in writing by the Office of Price Administration.

(f) Commission or contract knitting in-line price. (1) The maximum price for commission or contract knitting of rayon tricot knit fabric not specifically priced in Table XI shall be a price in-line with the maximum price set forth in Table XI. The term "in-line with" means having a justifiable relation to such maximum price with commensurate increases and decreases to give effect to the difference in cost of warping and knitting due to the difference in yarn and construction.

(2) When any commission or contract knitting services is priced under the provisions of this paragraph (f), the knitter shall immediately report the following information in writing to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.

(i) Knitter's cost of warping and knitting the construction designated as reference No. 1 in Table XI.

(ii) Knitter's cost of warping and knitting of construction now being inlined, including description of construction.

(iii) Proposed maximum price.

(3) The knitter's proposed price as determined in accordance with paragraph (1) above shall be his established maximum price until he is advised by the Office of Price Administration that it is incorrect. Any delivery made at the proposed price prior to the receipt of notice in writing that the proposed price is incorrect shall not be deemed to be in violation of this regulation.

This regulation shall become effective this 14th day of February 1944.

NOTE: The record-keeping and reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 8th day of February 1944.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Supplementary Regulation No. 15 is amended by adding § 1499.75 (a) (12) to read as follows:

(12) Adjustment of maximum price of integrated producers for 150 denier viscose rayon knit underwear fabric. Any integrated producer may apply for adjustment of his maximum price for 150 denier viscose rayon knit underwear fabric. An adjustment will be granted if it is found by the Office of Price Administration that the maximum price for the fabric is less than the sum of the following:

(1) The ceiling price of the rayon yarn used (less any amounts saved by the absence of selling expense, freight charges, and packing and crating expenses ordinarily incurred by him on sales of knitting yarn); and

(2) The cost of the knitting and dyeing (including general, administrative, and selling expense reasonably attributable thereto).

Any adjustment made will establish as the maximum price for the fabric an amount equivalent to the sum of items (1) and (2) above.

Any application filed hereunder shall conform with the instructions contained in Subpart B of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

As used herein, the term "integrated producer" means a producer who itself or through an affiliated company manufactures the yarns used in producing the underwear fabric.

Payments will be made for participation in the 1944 Agricultural Conservation Program (hereinafter referred to as the 1944 program) in accordance with the provisions of this bulletin and such modifications thereof as may hereafter be made.

§ 701.501 Distribution of funds—(a) State funds. Funds available for conservation practices will be distributed among States on the basis of (1) the acreage of cropland, noncrop pasture land and rangeland, (2) conservation needs, (3) materials and facilities available for carrying out conservation practices, and (4) use of cropland in 1944.

(b) Adjustments. If the total estimated earnings under the program exceed the total funds available for payment, payments will be reduced equitably in States where the estimated earnings exceed the amount available for use in the State.

§ 701.502 Conservation practice allowances, practices and rates of payment—(a) Farm allowances—(1) Farm allowances for one or more practices. Farm allowances for one or more practices may be established in any State or area within a State upon the recommendation of the State committee and regional director and the approval of the Agricultural Adjustment Agency for the purpose of limiting payments, materials or services to the available funds. Farm allowances shall be based upon factors which will provide for the equitable distribution of payments, materials and services among farms, on the basis of individual farm conservation and production needs.

(2) Combination of farm allowances. Producers in any local area may agree in writing, with approval of the State committee, to perform designated amounts of practices which the State committee determines are necessary to conserve or improve the agricultural resources of the community, and where applicable, to combine all or any part of their farm allowances for this purpose. For purposes of payment, practices carried out under such an approved written agreement will be regarded as having been carried out on the farms of the producers who performed the practices.

(b) Conservation practices—(1) Basis for approval. In any State or area the conservation practices for which payment will be made shall be those practices which are recommended by the State committee and regional director and approved by the Agricultural Adjustment Agency as practices best adapted to achieve sound soil and water conservation and use, which will not be carried out in desired volume unless payment is made therefor and which will result in immediate increases in production of agricultural commodities required in the war effort. Practices to be approved will include only those which maintain or increase soil fertility; control and prevent soil erpsion caused by wind or water; encourage conservation and better agricultural use of water; or conserve and increase range and pasture forage; and will increase the production of agricultural commodities required in the war effort. In order to encourage the performance of practices which are needed most on all farms or on groups of farms in a county, the county committee, with the approval of the State committee, may designate from the practices approved for the State or area, those practices which will be applicable on all farms or designated groups of farms in the county.

(2) Practices carried out with State or Federal aid. The total extent of any practice performed shall be reduced for purposes of payment by not less than the percentage of the total cost of the practice which the county committee determines was furnished by a State or Federal agency excluding costs represented by materials or services furnished by the Agricultural Adjustment Agency, equipment furnished by the Soil Conservation Service, materials or services furnished by a State or political subdivision of a State or agency thereof to another agency of the same State, or other costs designated by the Chief.

(c) Rates of payment; recommendations and approval. In any area the rate of payment for carrying out any practice shall be the rate recommended by the State committee and the regional director and approved by the Agricultural Adjustment Agency. Approval of such rates shall be made in accordance with the following provisions:

(1) General provisions applicable to all rates. The rate of payment for each practice shall be determined on the basis of the estimated average cost of performing the practice, the relative need for the practice in bringing about conservation and increased production, and the familiarity of farmers with the practice.

(2) Provisions applicable to specific types of practices. (i) The rates of payment for practices which consist largely of the application of materials shall not exceed the estimated average cost of such materials determined on a farm-delivery basis.

(ii) The rates of payment for engineering and construction practices shall not exceed the estimated average cost of labor, materials, and use of equipment.

(iii) The rates of payment for other practices shall not exceed 75 percent of the estimated average cost of performing the practice, with the exception of those for which a higher rate of payment is justified on the basis of need for the practice in the area, or the lack of familiarity on the part of the farmers with the practice.

§ 701.503 Division of payments. The payment earned in carrying out practices shall be paid to the producer who carried out the practices. If more than one producer contributed to the carrying out of practices, the payment shall be divided in the proportion that the county committee determines the producers contributed to the carrying out of the practices. In making this determination, the county committee shall take into consideration the value of the labor, equipment, or material contributed by each producer toward the carrying out of each practice on a particular acreage, assuming that each contributed equally unless it is established to the satisfaction of the county committee that their respective contributions thereto were not in equal proportion.

§ 701.504 Increase in small payments. The payment computed for any person with respect to any farm shall be increased as follows:

(a) Any payment amounting to 71 cents or less shall be increased to $1.

(b) Any payment amounting to more than 71 cents but less than $1 shall be increased by 40 percent.

§ 701.505 Payments limited to $10,000—(a) Individuals, partnerships and estates. The total of all payments made in connection with the 1944 program to any individual, partnership, or estate with respect to farms, ranching units, and turpentine places located within a single State, territory, or possession, shall not exceed the sum of $10,000.

(b) Others. The total of all payments made in connection with the 1944 program to any person other than an individual, partnership, or estate with respect to farms, ranching units, and turpentine places in the United States (including Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico) shall not exceed the sum of $10,000.

(c) Evasion. All or any part of any payment which has been or otherwise would be made to any person under the 1944 program may be withheld or required to be refunded if he has adopted or participated in adopting any scheme or device designed to evade, or which has the effect of evading, the provisions of this section.

§ 701.506 Association expenses. No part of the payment for any farm shall be deducted for county association expenses.

§ 701.507 Conservation materials and services—(a) Availability. Liming materials, phosphate, seeds, and other farming materials or services may be furnished by the Agricultural Adjustment Agency to producers for carrying out approved practices.

(b) Deductions for materials and services. Wherever materials or services are furnished, a deduction therefor shall be made in an amount determined by the Agricultural Adjustment Agency. If the producer misuses any such material, an additional deduction for the material misused equal to the amount of the original deduction for the material shall be made. The deduction for materials or services shall be made from any payment to the person who obtained the materials or services, but if the amount of the materials or services exceeds the amount of payment for the producer, the amount of the difference shall be paid by the producer to the Treasurer of the United States: Provided, That in any area wherein the regional director recommends, and the Agricultural Adjustment Agency approves, deductions for any deficit for materials or services properly used will be made insofar as possible from payments computed for other persons on the farm with respect to which the materials or services were furnished.

(c) Materials and services in lieu of payment. Notwithstanding any other provision in this bulletin, in areas designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Agency, materials and services furnished and properly used will be in lieu of the entire payment for the farm (1) where the producer so elects with the approval of the county committee in advance of performance; (2) where the only practices performed on the farm are carried out with conservation materials or services; or (3) where the value of the materials and services furnished is within $1.00 of the payment for the practices carried out on the farm.

§ 701.508 General provisions relating to payments—(a) Practices defeating purposes of programs. If the Chief finds that any producer has adopted or participated in any practice which tends to defeat the purposes of the 1944 or previous programs, he may withhold or require to be refunded all or any part of any payment which has been or would be computed for such person.

(b) Failure to carry out approved erosion control measures. Payment will not be made to any person with respect to any farm which he owns or operates in a county if the county committee finds that he has been negligent and carless in his farming operations by failing to carry out approved erosion-control measures on land under his control to the extent that any part of such land has become an erosion hazard during the 1944 program year to other land in the community.

(c) Depriving others of payment. If the State committee finds that any person has employed any scheme or device (including coercion, fraud, or misrepresentation), the effect of which would be or has been to deprive any other person of any payment under the program, it may withhold, in whole or in part, from the person participating in or employing such a scheme or device, or require him to refund in whole or in part, the amount of any payment which has been or would otherwise be made to him in connection with the 1944 program.

(d) Payment computed and made without regard to claims. Any payment or share of payment shall be computed and made without regard to questions of title under State law; without deduction of claims for advances (except as provided in paragraph (e) of this section, and except for indebtedness to the United States subject to set-off under orders issued by the War Food Administrator); and without regard to any claim or lien against any crop, or proceeds thereof, in favor of the owner or any other creditor.

(e) Assignments. Any person who may be entitled to any payment in connection with the 1944 program may assign his payment in whole or in part as security for cash loaned or advances made for the purpose of financing the making of a crop in 1944. § 701.509 Application for payment—(a) Persons eligible to file applications. Except where conservation materials or services are furnished in lieu of the entire payment for the farm and are properly used, an application for payment with respect to a farm may be made by any producer who contributes to the carrying out of approved practices.

(b) Time and manner of filing application and information required. Payment will be made only upon application submitted on the prescribed form to the county office. Payment may be withheld from any person who fails to file any form or furnish any information required with respect to any farm which such person is operating or renting to another. Any application for payment may be rejected if any form or information required of the applicant is not submitted to the county office within the time fixed by the regional director, which time shall not be later than June 30, 1945. At least 2 weeks' notice to the public shall be given of the expiration of a time limit for filing prescribed forms or required information, and any time limit fixed shall afford a full and fair opportunity to those eligible to file the form or information within the period prescribed. Such notice shall be given by mailing notice to the office of each county committee and making copies available to the press.

§ 701.510 Appeals. Any producer may, within 15 days after notice thereof is forwarded to or made available to him, request the county committee in writing to reconsider its recommendation or determination in any matter affecting the right to or the amount of his payment with respect to the farm. The county committee shall notify him of its decision in writing within 15 days after receipt of written request for reconsideration. If the producer is dissatisfied with the decision of the county committee he may, within 15 days after the decision is forwarded to or made available to him, appeal in writing to the State committee. The State committee shall notify him of its decision in writing within 30 days after the submission of the appeal. If he is dissatisfied with the decision of the State committee, he may, within 15 days after its decision is forwarded to or made available to him, request the regional director to review the decision of the State committee.

Written notice of any decision rendered under this section by the county or State committee shall also be issued to each other producer on the farm who may be adversely affected by the decision.

§ 701.511 State and regional bulletins, instructions and forms. The Agricultural Adjustment Agency is hereby authorized to make such determinations and to prepare and issue such State and regional bulletins, instructions and forms as may be required in administering the 1944 program.

PART 1314—RAW MATERIALS FOR SHOES AND LEATHER PRODUCTS

[MPR 145,[1] Amdt. 6]

PICKLED SHEEPSKINS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation 145, as amended, is amended in the following respects:

1. The headnote and introductory paragraph of § 1314.151 (c) are amended to read as follows:

(c) Pickled sheepskins imported by or for the account and risk of a buyer. The maximum prices at which pickled sheepskins may be imported by or for the account and risk of a buyer in the United States shall be:

2. Section 1314.151 (e) is added to read as follows:

(e) Maximum prices for certain brands of South American pickled sheepskins. Notwithstanding provisions of paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section and § 1314.163, the maximum prices for pickled sheepskins of the brands enumerated in Appendix C, § 1314.165, shall be determined in accordance with Appendix C.

3. Section 1314.163 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Imported skins sold after arrival or subject to arrival in the United States. The maximum prices for these pickled sheepskins are prices per dozen skins c. and f. port of entry, including commissions, customs fees, wharfage and all other charges except that the charges actually paid for war risk and marine insurance may be added. In determining the base period price for these skins the seller shall deduct war risk and marine insurance, freight paid from port of entry, and all other charges incurred after the entry of the skins into the United States, but shall include commissions, freight to port of entry, customs fees, wharfage and other charges incidental to discharge at a port of entry, based on the rates prevailing at the time the sale was made. The seller then determines the bracket under Column I within which his base period price falls. His maximum price is the price in the corresponding line under Column II.

4. The headnote and first two subparagraphs preceding the table of § 1314.163 (c) are amended to read as follows:

(c) Pickled sheepskins imported by or for the account and risk of a buyer. (1) The maximum prices at which a seller or agent located in the United States may deliver pickled sheepskins imported by or for the account and risk of a buyer in the United States are prices per dozen skins c. and f. port of entry into the United States, including commissions, customs fees, wharfage and all other charges, except that the charges actually paid for war risk and marine insurance may be added. In determining the base period price for these skins the seller shall deduct war risk and marine insurance, freight paid from port of entry, and all other charges incurred after the entry of the skins into the United States, but shall include commissions, freight to port of entry, customs fees, wharfage and other charges incidental to discharge at a port of entry, based on the rates prevailing at the time the sale was made. The seller then determines the bracket under Column I into which his base period price falls. His maximum price is the price in the corresponding line under Column III.

(2) The maximum prices at which a buyer in the United States may import pickled sheepskins directly from a foreign seller or his agent located abroad are prices per dozen skins c. and f. port of entry into the United States, including commissions, customs fees, wharfage and all other charges, except that the charges actually paid for war risk and marine insurance may be added. In determining the base period price for these skins the buyer shall exclude war risk and marine insurance, freight paid from port of entry, and all other charges incurred after the entry of the skins into the United States, but shall include commissions, freight to port of entry, customs fees, wharfage and other charges incidental to discharge at a port of entry, based on the rates prevailing at the time the purchase was made. The purchaser then determines the bracket under Column I into which his base period price falls. His maximum price is the price in the corresponding line under Column III.

5. Section 1314.164 (a) is amended by deleting the second sentence thereof and substituting the following:

These prices are prices per dozen skins c. and f. port of entry, including commissions, customs fees, wharfage and all other charges, except that the charges actually paid for war risk and marine insurance may be added.

6. The head note and first paragraph of § 1314.164 (b) are amended to read as follows:

(b) Pickled sheepskins imported by or for the account and risk of a buyer. The maximum prices for pickled sheepskins of the brands enumerated in Column A imported by or for the account and risk of a buyer in the United States are specified in Column C. These prices are prices per dozen skins f. o. b. shipping point.

7. Section 1314.165 is added to read as follows:

§ 1314.165 Appendix C: Maximum prices for certain brands of South American pickled sheepskins—(a) Pickled sheepskins sold after arrival or subject to arrival in the United States. The maximum prices for pickled sheepskins of the brands specified in the table below sold after arrival or subject to arrival in the United States are listed in Column A. These prices are prices per dozen skins c. and f. port of entry, including commissions, customs fees, wharfage and all other charges, except that the charges actually paid for war risk and marine insurance may be added.

(b) Pickled sheepskins imported by or for the account and risk of a buyer. The maximum prices for pickled sheepskins of the brands specified in the table below imported by or for the account and risk of a buyer in the United States are listed in Column B. These prices are prices per dozen skins c. and f. port of entry to which may be added the charges actually paid for war risk and marine insurance. Customs fees and wharfage charges are for the account of the buyer. In addition, a buyer may pay a commission of not more than 2½% of the purchase price to a domestic agent acting for the buyer's account.

Chapter I—Interstate Commerce Commission

DEMURRAGE CHARGES ON REFRIGERATOR CARS

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 3, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 5th day of February, A. D. 1944.

It appearing that commodities in refrigerator cars are being delayed unduly in unloading, thereby impeding the movement and most efficient use of refrigeration cars and decreasing the available supply of refrigerator cars for shippers; in the opinion of the Commission an emergency exists requiring immediate action to prevent a shortage of railroad equipment and congestion of traffic, it is ordered that:

§ 95.330 Demurrage charges on refrigerator cars. (a) After the expiration of the free time allowed by tariffs lawfully on file with this Commission, the demurrage charges on a refrigerator car loaded with any commodity which is not unloaded within the free time shall be $2.20 per car per day or a fraction thereof for the first two (2) days; $5.50 per car per day or a fraction thereof for the third day; $11 per car per day or a fraction thereof for the fourth day; $22 per day or a fraction thereof for the fifth day; and $44 per car per day or a fraction thereof for each succeeding day.

(b) Application—(1) Average agreements. Refrigerator cars loaded with any commodity and which have not been unloaded shall not be included in any average agreement, but, except as otherwise provided herein, said cars shall otherwise be subject to car demurrage rules and charges, Tariff I. C. C. No. 3815, supplements to or successive issues thereof issued by Agent B. T. Jones.

(2) Intrastate. The provisions of this order shall apply to intrastate transportation as well as interstate transportation.

(3) Service orders. The provisions of this order shall not be construed to affect the provisions of Service Order No. 70 (8 F.R. 8515) of February 3, 1942, as amended (8 F.R. 8515) or Service Order No. 70-A (8 F.R. 14624-25) of October 22, 1943, or Corrected Service Order No. 112 (8 F.R. 2889) of March 3, 1943, as amended (8 F.R. 4488), or Service Order No. 135 (8 F.R. 9569) as amended (8 F.R. 10941).

(c) Tariff provisions suspended. The operation of all tariff rules, regulations, or charges insofar as they conflict with the provisions of this order is hereby suspended.

(d) Announcement of suspension. Each railroad, or its agent, on or before the effective date of this order, shall publish, file, and post a supplement to each of its tariffs affected hereby, in substantial accordance with the provisions of Rule 9 (k) of the Commission's Tariff Circular No. 20 (§ 141.9 (k) of this chapter) announcing the suspension of the operation of any of the provisions therein, and establishing the substituted provisions set forth herein.
